THE COMPANY IS INSISTENT. Wishes Immediate Action in Order to Improve System—Harriman Interests Touted With for Year.

Vaudeville will be the order of the evening when the council meets in its regular Monday night session tonight. The two matters which will lead for spectacular showing of loyalty to constituents are the franchise for the street railway company and the action on the lighting contract, both submitted by the Utah Light & Railway company.

According to program, Mulvey is to lead the opposition to the proposed franchise. Others who will ally themselves with the returned money from the street railway company and the action on the lighting contract, both submitted by the Utah Light & Railway company.

The proposition of the Utah Light & Railway company is to light the city with luminous arc lights at $60 per light per year. This is conditioned upon the granting of the amended franchise to operate its street railway.

The franchise now before the council relinquishes, on the part of the company, its power rights in Parley's canyon.

The company, by Mr. Bancroft as president, has practically advised the council that it must act tonight if at all. This attitude of the council, backed by some of the councilmen, back of this demand, however, is the fact that the company has been before the council for about 12 months asking the council to pass a franchise permitting the company to spend upwards of $1,000,000 in the improvement of its lines in the city.

The council is blocking its every effort. The council is blocking its every effort. The council is blocking its every effort.

WHAT'S worth doing is worth doing well. If you wish to be cured of Rheumatism, use Ballard's Snow Liniment and you will be well cured.

CHANCE FOR DRAMATISTS. Miner Falls Into Unconsciousness on Track but Awakened and Saved.

George Friesbe, a miner, was pushed off a Salt Lake Route train between Moxpa and Callente Friday morning and in falling had his left foot crushed almost off. He crawled for two miles and then became unconscious. Towards night he came to and hearing the sound of a rumbling train, he crawled to the edge of the track, where he was picked up by a passing train.

THE BEST DOCTOR. Rev. B. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Tex., writes, July 19th, 1907: "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and it has proved certainly satisfactory. The liniment is the best we have ever used for headache and neuralgia."

MR. COX'S SUCCESSOR. Clarence Anderson Will Hereafter Conduct Grand Theater.

After successfully managing the Grand theater for a period bordering on two years, Archie M. IS OF MODERN CONSTRUCTION. Steel, Fireproof Material, Concrete and Other Up-to-the-Minute Features Are Everywhere in Evidence.

The Railway Exchange building at the Burlington corner, Third South and Main streets, is very much the center of industrial activity these days now that the company supplying the facing brick is able to deliver the goods for completion of the two fronts at last as is desired. Owing to the delay, the work had been tied up for some time; but several days ago fresh supplies of brick showed up, and now there will be no further trouble.

The most being made of the fine weather. Double wages were paid the men at the gathering of the weather. As there are indications of good weather for this week, the great building may be nearly ready for the roof by Saturday.

UP TO SEVENTH STORY. The sixth story walls are being finished, and the seventh story will shortly follow. The sixth story fronts are being decorated with terra cotta pinnacles, and handsome copper cornice work will mark the seventh. The building is of fireproof construction. The interior frame work is of best steel, 10x12 inches in size, according to height of the construction. The pillars are steel beams, 10x12 inches enclosed in concrete, which increases the size to 14x12 inches. The idea is to protect the steel from variations in temperature, as these tend in the course of years to so shrink and expand the metal as to change its crystalline structure and weaken its strength.

CONCRETE IS MUCH USED. The floors are of reinforced concrete, the composition being three sacks of cement, four wheelbarrows of sand and eight wheelbarrows of rinders. This concrete is gathered on the ground floor, after being hoisted in by vngons and stored in heaps. Workmen wheel the material to a chute set in the floor where it runs by gravity into a concrete mixing machine in the cellar and operated by a steam plant set up there, the plant running also a hoist on the north side of the building. The concrete is then run into an iron car which is hoisted with its load of about a ton to the story where the flooring is being laid, the hoisting being built up from story to story as the work progresses.

ALMOST LIKE STONE. Architect Neuhausen found that this process gave all the acoustic advantages of solid stone vaulting, with but a fraction of its weight. It is observed at the Railroad Exchange building for lightness and at the same time solidity in the floors. This construction is now being completed on the fourth floor and in a few days, when sufficiently set, the wooden supports or false work will be removed to the fifth story, so that the continuation of operations there. Brick and other material are being hoisted rapidly to the upper stories from the concrete at work on the inside, and every effort is being made to hasten completion of the exterior that the roof may be put on at once. When that is done, the condition of the weather will not cut any particular figure.

Perch climbers are still busy in Salt Lake.
