WOMAN'S CONFERENCE ENDED.

The Final Session Held Last Night—Work of the Past Year Briefly Reported.

The final session of the conference of the Women's National Suffrage Association was held last night—on the eve of the celebration of the semi-centennial anniversary of the admission of Utah into the Union as a State, and the semi-centennial of the Rev. Anna H. Shaw, the National organizer and lecturer, the Rev. Anna H. Shaw. The meeting was very large in point with prayer by Hon. John T. Caine, and Mrs. Annie Pike Greenwood presided while Mrs. Wells announced the different speakers. The L. D. S. Tabernacle choir, under the direction of Prof. Evan Stephens, rendered a number of the musical selections in a very pleasing manner.

Mrs. Kennedy said that she had been thought by the chairman of a newspaper column and a half long report of what every woman present had said, never mind any announcements pertaining themselves in print or make a spectacle of themselves by speaking. But, honestly, we were in the best of spirits. A good many women present took the opportunity to speak to the audience in their individual capacity and two men spoke in favor of woman suffrage. Many of the ladies present were also interviewed by the newspaper reporters. Consequently the city will be up to-day filled with the news that Susan B. Anthony and Rev. Anna Shaw are in the city, and the women are talking about it on the streets, in the cars, in their homes and in their stores. Women would have had a much greater chance with us.

Then came the valedictory remarks and farewell by Rev. Anna Howard Shaw, who was greeted with a hearty round of applause and who said in substance as follows: The pleasure and privilege of meeting the people of Utah, and becoming acquainted with them, has been a great one to me. I have learned something concerning the Mormon women, and for "Mormon mind" was exhibited would probably be surprised and what misconceptions of conditions in the part of the world existed, and the principles of the government which prevails in the community. Nothing is the prominent, showing "how men do it," was one of the serious things of the past.

At least the conference accomplished something—assisting the women to help themselves, presented by Mrs. Mary Lucas Craig Hamilton, of Colorado.

Whereas, Great gains in the suffrage movement and advancement have made in the last year universally; and

Whereas, The women in the States where they have the right to vote have shown that the liberal American republic might become real love—ready to help that the true interests of politics and government are not in any way injured, but

Whereas, The five states of New York, Oregon, Nevada, Idaho and Utah have demonstrated by actual experience the success of full suffrage for women; and

Whereas, The women of two states already gained full suffrage and five women of one new territory, and school suffrage is enjoyed by the women of twenty-five states; and

Whereas, The men of Utah have risen to build the foundation of their new State upon absolute justice, equality and freedom; therefore be it

Resolved, That the sentiment of this conference is one of profound gratitude to the men of Utah who have so generously and practically assisted in their noble work in the interests of right, and now to all the citizens of this new and glorious commonwealth.

High Council.

The High Council of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion will meet this (Wednesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Why Not?

The following question a correspondent directs to whom it may concern.

Why have not the four pillars that support the four arches that support the eagle at Eagle Gate, been decorated, and a flag placed in each of the eagle's talons and one in its beak.
