Correspondence.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 11th, 1877.

Editors Deseret News:

I have just received a very interesting letter from one of the missionaries; would you be so kind as publish it in your widely circulating paper, that all who have an interest in the labors of Bro. Young may have the pleasure of reading it.

E. DAVIS.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, Sept. 19th, 1877.

My Dear Brother:

Your kind and welcome letter was duly received. I was very much pleased to hear from you. Was quite surprised to learn that you had been in this part of the world. I fully realize how blessed I and hundreds of my associates have been in having our lot cast in the peaceful Valleys of the Mountains, and thank my God for the same. Before leaving home I thought I had a general idea of the wickedness of the old world, but must say I am greatly surprised at the poverty, debauchery, and total depravity of thousands of the human family. The national sin is "drink," which is the parent to licentiousness and bloodshed. I was in Sunderland the other day, and, in talking with an officer, he stated that to his certain knowledge there were over two hundred and fifty houses of prostitution in that city. I thought if this was a sample of morals in this country they were somewhat defective. I have seen and heard enough to prove to my satisfaction that there are but few men, comparatively speaking, that are strictly virtuous. I have often thought how are the beautiful fallen and they cause even the mighty to fall.

I am determined with the Lord's help to induce a few, at least, to flee from the wrath of God, for it will be poured out without measure upon this wicked and ungodly generation.

I am pleased to inform you that my labors, though humble, have been greatly blessed. We baptized eleven last month in Newcastle. There are a few more nearly ready, but missionary labor is like all other labor, to be successful one must go to the work with all their heart and strength. I fully agree with you, that, it is not the fine flowery discourses that wins the hearts of the honest people, but the simple testimony, and demonstration of the spirit, which is bound to prick the honest in heart. With the world a successful minister must be learned, but with us it is enough to know that he fears God and keeps His commandments; then let him learn all he can, and become a polished shaft, and of such are our greatest men to-day. I am proud of the privilege of preaching the gospel of Christ. Many preach Christ whom he never knew, but we preach by the demonstration of the Spirit of God.

We have had a number of outdoor meetings this summer. I have just returned from a six weeks tour through the Conference. I have been traveling alone on this trip, prior to which Bro. E. D. Wooley, jr., and I were traveling together. I have been appointed to preside over this Conference, hence will not have as much liberty in the future. We have ten branches in fair condition; the largest now numbers over eighty members. They are mostly poor in purse but rich in spirit. My labors are in the counties of Durham, Cumberland, and Northumberland, and we have a large branch in Middlesboro, Yorkshire. You can see there is plenty of room to labor.

I had a very pleasant trip to Scotland ending on the 1st August. Visited Glasgow, spent several days visiting many places of interest, also visited Edinburgh, think it the cleanest and prettiest city I have seen in this country. I hope to see London before coming home. I am in good health and trust you are the same—suppose you are very busy but don't neglect the spiritual for the temporal. Temporalites perish; spiritualities never.

With much love to you all,
Your Brother in the Gospel of Peace,
R. B. YOUNG.

A Remedy for Divorces.

Marry in your own religion.
Never both be angry at once.
Never taunt with a past mistake.
Let a kiss be the prelude of a rebuke.
Never allow a request to be repeated.
Let self-abnegation be the habit of both.
A good wife is the greatest earthly blessing.
"I forgot," is never an acceptable excuse.
If you must criticise, let it be done lovingly.
Make a marriage a matter of moral judgment.
Marry into a family which you have long known.
Never make a remark at the expense of the other.
Never talk at one another, either alone or in company.
Give your warmest sympathies for each other's trials.
If one is angry, let the other part the lips only for a kiss.
Neglect the whole world beside, rather than one another.
Never speak loud to one another unless the house is on fire.
Let each strive to yield oftenest to the wishes of the other.
Always leave home with loving words, for they may be the last.
Marry into different blood and temperature from your own.
Never deceive, for the heart, once misled, can never trust wholly again.
It is the mother who moulds the character and fixes the destiny of the child.
Never find fault unless it is perfectly certain a fault has been committed.
Do not herald the sacrifices you make to each other's tastes, habits or preferences.
Let all your mutual accommodations be spontaneous, whole-souled and free as air.
The very felicity is in the mutual cultivation of usefulness.
Consult one another in all that comes within the experience, observation or sphere of the other.
A hesitating or grum yielding to the wishes of the other always grates upon a loving heart.
Never reflect on a past action which was done with a good motive, and with the best judgment at the time.
The beautiful in heart is a million times of more avail, as securing domestic happiness, than the beautiful in person.
