The Bonapartists at Work.

PARIS, 22.—The vigorous efforts made by the Bonapartists to turn to their own account, cause much uneasiness. The party is organizing a committee in every department, establishing newspaper organs, distributing political documents and petitions, and urging the restoration of the empire.

There are rumors that the Assembly will adjourn the last of July.

A banquet will be given at Versailles to-morrow, to celebrate the birthday of Gen. Hoche. Gambetta is expected to speak on the occasion.

It is probable that the Assembly will reject all constitutional bills. The republicans manifest joy over the prospect, believing that dissolution will be the inevitable result. The conservatives favor either the postponement of the bills until winter if none of them can be adopted now, or the intervention of President, MacMahon by means of a message holding the Assembly responsible for a failure to organize the powers of the executive.

THE ROW BETWEEN SHERMAN AND GRANT.—On the 19th of June, Gen. Sherman is voluntarily a com-mander. When he has finished his journey and closed the great hall door of his office behind him, he is a nobody. He is a Sam-pson shorn, bound hand and foot and given over to the Philistines. And the President is the Delilah. Sher-man is high-spirited, honorable to a fault, and soldierly. Certain of the influences which surround Grant are petty, envious and jealous. Sherman can not be induced to make a political machine of the army. Certain of these influences are anxious that he should. Sher-man is, without his own seeking, popular with his own men. Cer-tain of these influences can brook no rival of Grant. Thus it comes that there is like good feeling between the two men. Indeed, it is said that they secretly dislike each other. The apparent friend-ship is claimed to be a pretty piece of acting that is the presence of the effects of a quarrel on the one hand and Sherman's keen sense of duty to his superior officer on the other. The result is, it is asserted, an ignoring of Sher-man's wishes in everything. The Secretary of War acts as General, and Sherman is humiliated on every favorable occasion. His re-moval to St. Louis is explained by the statement that he is desirous of ridding himself of the presence of the President.—Washington Cor. Chicago Post.

RESTORING DROWNED PERSONS.—The following "directions for re- storing persons apparently drowned," issued by the Massachusetts Humane Society, should be cut out and posted up by all people who indulge in the pleasure of boat rides, or who have boys who go in swimming, at all seasons.

"Convey the body to the nearest house, with head raised. Strip and rub dry. Wrap in blankets. In- flate the lungs by blowing into the mouth with thumb and finger and blowing into the mouth forcibly, and then pressing with the hand on the chest. Again blow in the mouth and press on the chest, and so on, for ten minutes, or until he breathes. Keep the body warm; extremes of heat and cold are dan- gerous; do not give up so long as there is any chance of success."
