FUNERAL OF AUNT JANE DAVIS

Unbranded Bees: Humorous Reply in Damage Suit—Complications in Hawkins Estate.

Ogden, March 13.—The American car in the race from New York to Paris is expected to arrive in Ogden tomorrow. The car passed Green River, Wyo., at 2:45 yesterday afternoon, and is considerably ahead of all the other automobiles. A delegation of Ogden and Salt Lake automobilists will meet the driver of the car in this city and extend a hearty welcome. The car will be given an overhauling in this city at Becrafts, ready for the trip west through the desert. Linn Mathewson, who is now driving the car from Denver to Ogden, will turn it over to Harold Bunker here. They will be given a dinner at the Weber club. The stop in Ogden will be short.

FUNERAL OF AUNT JANE DAVIS

Aunt Jane Davis was laid peacefully to rest by the side of her deceased husband, William Davis, in the Ogden city cemetery yesterday afternoon. Many relatives and friends assembled at the Third ward meeting-house to honor her memory. The services were conducted by Bishop James Wetherston. The ward choir rendered the selections, "Rest for the Weary Soul" and "Testing Now Faithfully." Mr. Anderson sang, "I

STATE MENTAL HOSPITAL.

County Horse Show April 15.—New Theater.

Provo, March 13.—The state mental hospital's governing board met in regular session at that institution yesterday.

The bids for the construction of the proposed annex to the south wing, to be used as a toilet building, were considered too high, being more than the appropriation would cover, and in consequence were rejected.

Movement of patients for the month of February was reported as follows: Number of patients Jan. 31, 171 males, 160 females; total, 331.

Number of patients admitted February, 9 males, 6 females; total 15.

Number of patients under care and treatment, 180 males, 186 females; total 366.

Number of patients discharged: 4 males, 2 females; total 6.

COUNTY HORSE SHOW.

The date of the annual horse show has been set for April 15. The committee, J. W. Farner, J. P. Van Wageningen and Webster Hoover, who have charge of this exhibition, will complete the arrangements for the care of the horses when they arrive. On the evening of April 14, all visitors will be treated to a Dutch lunch.

The Rex theater has opened to the public one of the neatest houses in the state, under the management of W. S. Bradbury. The interior has been remodeled, making it absolutely safe to the public.

The Sunday school of the Fourth ward will present, tonight, the drama, "Above the Clouds," for the benefit of the treasury.

Professor A. C. Lund is preparing for presentation to the public the amusing comic opera, "Bocaccio," when the opera loving public will be given a rare treat.

SPRINGVILLE.

SCHOOLS AND PUBLIC BLDGS.

Are Death Traps Without Adequate Fire Escape—Obsequies.

Special Correspondence.

Springville, Utah Co., March 11.—Since the recent fire in Ohio, where so many children were burned to death, people are agitating and discussing the question and the conditions of the local public buildings, and schoolhouses. All of these according to the general opinion, are unsafe in case of fire, none is provided with any convenience of escape other than the main entrance.

In case of fire it would be almost impossible to avert a great disaster. Springville has four "modern" schoolhouses, all two stories high, with a heating furnace in the basement.

Most directly under the stairways where will be found the coal, wood and other stuff that would add fuel to a fire. The upper story of the city hall, which is used as a theater hall, is simply a fire trap with only two narrow stairways leading from the same door. The only exit from a dancing hall on the third floor of a business block is a long but wide stairway. The two last named places have been condemned by the present city officers as unsafe for such large crowds as usually gather there.

People begin to see the danger of furnaces in basements. Some of the school teachers are getting nervous and the fire drill which has been neglected is being put in practice. Chairman Huntington of the school board favors the erection of an annex to the basements of the school thus placing the furnaces away from the school buildings. The people would be very willing to bear the expense of such a change to insure the safety of the teachers and their children. It is to be hoped this will be done and that no more school buildings will be built with the furnace under them and that those considered unsafe will be condemned.

NEW CANNERY ENTERPRISE.

Parties at Mapleton and Springville have organized a new cannery company which will be ready for operation this fall for the fruit crop. Many acres of peaches are being planted at Mapleton in the wind-belt of Hobblecreek canyon.

lams Pendered, "Sister, Thou Wast Mild and Lovely," and George O.

Elder Joseph Stanford, Judge A.

R. Heywood, Bishop Robert Mc-

Quarrie, Pres. C. F. Middleton and

Bishop Wetherston feelingly told of the amount of good done by the deceased in the pioneer life of Ogden, in assisting others, and of her true devoction to her religion. Her many noble characteristics endeared her to many. Many beautiful floral tributes covered her resting place.

HAWKINS ESTATE COMPLICATION.

On June 4, last year, Mrs. Elizabeth

Hawkins died at the home of Mrs.

Nellie West, who was supposed to be her adopted daughter. When Mrs.

Hawkins died, she left no will, but her sisters stepped in and took possession of her property, which is valued at $1-75. When the names of the heirs to the estate were named in the petition for the appointment of an administrator, Mrs. West's name was not included. The young lady, who knew no other mother but Mrs. Hawkins, has now consulted attorneys T. R. O'Conolly and A. R. Heywood, who ask that the entire estate be distributed to their client, Mrs. West, and that those named in the former petition as heirs, be not allowed any portion of the estate.

UNBRANDED BEES.

In the case of E. D. Vest against the Southern Pacific, an amended answer is filed. The suit was brought by Vest to recover damages for the loss of honey bees being shipped from southern California to Mendon, Utah. The answer sets forth that Vest was sent along with the bees as keeper, that if any of the bees were lost it was his fault. The answer is rather amusing, as it sets forth that the bees which left the car at Fresno, California, when the train stopped and at other points en route, did not return to continue their journey, but according to natural instincts mingled with other bees, and being unbranded and not having special marks by which to be distinguished from other bees, could not be arrested and brought back, therefore ask that the action be dismissed.

ANSWER IN LABEL SUIT.

The Standard Publishing company has filed its answer in the label suit brought by Atty. C. C. Richards to recover $10,000 for alleged defamation of character, caused through the publication of certain articles in the Standard and Examiner. The answer is lengthy and sets forth numerous charges against Mr. Richards, and contains a number of newspaper clippings.

DISTRICT COURT CASES.

In the matter of the estate of Alexander D. Ross, who died at Ogden, April 29, 1907, petition was filed by his widow, Elizabeth Ross, asking for the appointment of Grant Syphers as administrator. The estate consists of stock in the Wilson Canal company and personal effects valued at $500.

In the matter of the estate of Dar-thula C. Stephens, incompetent, between 66 and 70 years of age, petition was filed by her brother and sister,

J. W. Shupe, and Sarah J. Taylor, pray-of Harriet Johnson Whiting, wife of James E. Harrell, and daughter of County Treasurer Mont Johnson, were held today at the Latter-day Saints meetinghouse, Bishop Loynd of the Fourth ward, was in charge. A choir sang a number of beautiful selections.

The speakers were Supt. N. K. Neilson of Springville schools, Bishop Neilson of the Second ward, Provo, and James E. Harrell, all of whom spoke in the highest terms of the noble character and kind disposition of the deceased. The Robinson Bros' quartet furnished two beautiful selections. The floor offerings were grand, and the house was crowded with sympathizing relatives and friends. A long line of buggies followed the remains to the Evergreen cemetery.

The deceased was 24 years of age, having been married over a year, leaving besides her husband her little babe to be cared for by loving hands, and a circle of friends to mourn her untimely death.

SMITHFIELD.

COMMERCIAL CLUB LAUNCHED.

Veterans Feted—Farmers' Institute—

Hill-Bingham Nuptials—Births.

Special Correspondence.

Smithfield, Cache Co., March 11.—

Mr. A. J. Merrill has just enlarged his furniture store and doubling its capacity. E. N. Miles, Jr.'s new implement house is a credit to the town.

Last Monday evening about 75 leading citizens met in the Hilliard Operhouse and organized the Smithfield

Commercial club. Banker G. Y.

Smith was chosen president.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Last Friday evening musical talent from the A. C. gave the people of Smithfield a musical treat. Perhaps no single event in a long time has done as much as this to stimulate musical talent here. This was the closing event of a very successful farmers' institute.

This spring 100 acres of apple orchards will be planted here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper W. Noble and Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Coleman are rejoicing over the arrival of babies at their homes.

The Rev. Mr. Fuller delivered a very interesting lecture on temperance here last week. The tabernacle was well filled with attentive listeners.

HILL-BINGHAM NUPTIALS.

Parley P. Bingham, Jr., and Susan

Hill were married in the Logan temple last Wednesday and a wedding reception was given the same evening at the home of the groom's parents.

Bishop W. L. Winn's new home is almost finished. He will move into it this month.

VETERANS FETED.

Today is Old Folks' day here. This morning at 11 the old folks and a few invited guests met in the tabernacle and listened to an excellent program. Between 13 o'clock and 2 they feasted on the best city could produce, after which they were taken to the Hilliard Opera house, where they witnessed the "Cheerful Liar,"
