

WITH A BIG LEAD IN SECOND PLACE.

Salt Lake Has Won Two Straight Games.

LOBSTERS ALSO STEP UP.

Mr. Griffin is Now Thinking Seriously About Getting That Pennant Means Business.

Well, it's beginning to look different. Salt Lake has scrambled into second place, with a lead on the Bambergerites. Will they head off the Lobsters? The way they tell it Saturday, in the game with the Farmers, leads one to think that they can pull out first place with the big per centage. Griffin has been thinking about it, that's evident. Even the Sledge club takes an adjournment on that question, and it is quite generally agreed among the tool artists that the White Wings are now in the game seriously and with earnest intent. Up to last Saturday they had played some good ball and some bad, but they were through with their jockeying for a fair start, and have begun to break in on Father Griffin's little Kensington up there at the head of the column. Mr. Griffin has taken it under advisement. The two new men taken under the protecting white wings certainly made good, and their home here is permanent, if they choose to make it so. Elmer Meredith, the south paw, who erstwhile beat the leather for Denver in the Western League, is, perhaps, the more valuable addition of the two; but they will reach help Griffin very materially to win that pennant. And that seems to be the idea now—win that pennant!

MINERS SHUT OUT.

White Wings Trim Park Orphans Convincingly.

There was never any doubt as to how yesterday's game with the Miners was to terminate—it was only a question of how big the score would be. Only a few went out to see it, after consulting the mercury, and so far as the lads from the slopes were concerned, they didn't get a run for their money. Yes, it was a shut out, dearie, and the homeless Miners didn't even approximately score. Here how it was:

EASY FOR OGDEN.

Lagoon Tribe Had It Rubbed In Smartly.

At the Junction City yesterday there were large and enthusiastic crowds on the part of the Lobsters, that was all. The Bambergerites had pulled their cork in the second inning, and had no more to say. Mister Borchers assisted in the undoing of Simon's agriculturalists, to the great glee of a large and considerable crowd of 1,000. His eye blazed, and his twirling had the Persis whirled to the mast. There wasn't much more to it, except that Jimmie Brierley, formerly with the Cheyenne Indians, was a debutante with the Gimlin crowd. He made good, all right, for a man who virtually stepped on the train to the ball field. Here's the score:

A GREAT GAME.

Saturday's Contest with Lagoon was Right Good Ball.

That was the game that gladdened the hearts and made the welkin ring with shouts of joy—that game which the White Wings played the Bluebirds at Mr. Walker's field on Saturday. Five to three was the score, and the five was on the right part of the score board. Meredith was in the struggle all of the time, and he batted some puzzles over the stone. He is a south paw, and he will do, Hickey, the other new man, crasped four chances out of five, but it happened that his error was costly, and there was a rush to the tool house. Prof. Williams, from Babylon, made a neat capture of a difficult liner hot from Hollingsworth's willow, and got his salary raised $20 in consequence. And say, Bill Morrow was there with a beautiful catchment. He rolled up a couple of doubles and a neat sacrifice, together with plucking a nice cluster of five long, thin twisters.

concerned on the departure of Meredith and Hickey from the Colorado metropolis. The two men are among the best that ever got around a piece of horse-hike for Denver, and naturally the cause of the departure of several spots among the Queen City fans. No prosecutions will be made until there comes a result to the suits against Bradley and Kostol.

John Chapman got in from Butte Saturday night to train for his race with Charlie Turville on Tuesday night. Chappie is authority for the statement that the Butte track is coming money, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. He is looking well, and ought to ride a speedy race with the Philadelphia pace hanger.

Harry Gibson will not make his appearance until Friday night. "The Baby" is a prosperous looking lad of 95 pounds, sterling, and can ride like a whirlwind. After he gets unnumbered, the records will go a smashing. He is better at following pace than he is in competition. Once he gets near the rear of a motor cycle, it is impossible to shake him. He is going to do things, they say—those who know.

LONDONERS ARE CHARY.

But Think that Constitution is No Match for Herreshoff Boats.

New York, July 8.—The London correspondent of the Tribune says: Although chary of drawing any final deductions from the telegraphed reports of Saturday's yacht race, the opinion in London is that the Independence is no match for the Herreshoff boats. It is as much slower as the race indicates. Mr. Lawson's protest against the exclusive action of the New York Yacht club will find few supporters in London, nor will there be any disappointment at the failure of a boat of such an undesirable type.

RAPID FIRE SHOOTING.

Interesting Competition Inaugurated by Lord Roberts.

New York, July 8.—The program of the Bliley (England) rifle meeting, which begins today, shows the Tribune's London correspondent thinks, that some, at least, of the lessons of the Boer war have not been overlooked. The rapid fire principle has been introduced in many short distance competitions, both for teams and individuals, and efficiency in firing at extreme range is also encouraged. In the latter case the target will be undistinguishable to the naked eye and readily adjustable telescopic sights and artificial rests will be allowed.

The most interesting competition, however, will be that founded by Lord Roberts for snip shooting by teams from sections or companies. The men who are concealed behind breast works will on the sound of a whistle rise, fire and return to concealment, the entire exposure not exceeding four seconds. With the exception of the Canadians the only colonists who have arrived are two men from Cape Colony and one from Rhodesia. Unlike the disastrous gathering of last year, the meeting promises to be a great success, the number of entries showing an increase of nearly five thousand.
