OSTEOPATH BILL

PASSES SENATE

Williams, One of Its Former Champions, Votes Against It.

REPUBLICANS CARRY DAY.

Party Members Line-Up Upon Initiative and Referendum—Now Numbered Among Defunct Senate Bills.

The two most important steps taken yesterday by the senate were the passage of the bill licensing the osteopaths and killing the measure providing for the initiative and referendum. The former bill, No. 121, passed by a vote of 10 to 7, and now the osteopaths will have to wrestle with the house. Senator Williams, who has been one of the staunchest friends of the bill, turned front completely yesterday and opposed its passage. He said he had been thinking the matter over and concluded that it was dangerous to allow osteopaths to practise in this state without having to pass an examination, so he would vote against the bill to protect the public.

DOCTORS IMITATE MINISTERS

Propose to Hold Secret Sessions—Can't Stand Morning Reports.

The Salt Lake Medical society attempted to hold a special meeting at the Kenyon last night, but on the assembling of the honorable members, it was discovered that the meeting was illegal, as the constitution of the society requires written notice of a special meeting, whereas this one was arranged for by "phone." So there was an adjournment. The doctors are proposing to emulate the Ministerial association and exclude reporters from the meetings of the society, as reports of the same that get into print mornings are enough to paralyze a medical dictionary, and practitioners of long standing are made to say things that would make a horse laugh. The doctors are in consequence very much mortified, and propose to furnish reporters with information through the secretary of the society, who will write out translations of the learned essays, and see that the morning papers no longer confound the hepatic duct with the pancreas, the occipital frontals with the gluteal processes, or the laryngeal muscles with the vermiform appendix. The doctors agree that when the average reporter of immature years starts out to write up a report, say of a patient on the necrosis of the mastoid process, the result is a kaleidoscopic jargon enough to frighten a Hindoo idol; and one physician last evening told the secretary of the society, who once represented him as speaking eloquently on "the peritonsitis of the peritonsium." The Salt Lake Medical society does not intend to have any more such performances.

CITY COUNCIL

OPPOSES BILL

Names Committee to Combat Provisions in Senate Measure.

The city council last night placed itself on record as strongly opposed to the amendment to senate bill No. 63, as proposed by the Salt Lake county commissioners, and appointed a special committee to meet with the senate committee this morning and fight the amendment. It is provided by the amendment that Salt Lake City should care for the indigent poor placed under sentence by the city board of health, which charge has heretofore been placed upon the county. The committee appointed to oppose the amendment before the senate committee is as follows: J. J. Thompson, vice president; H. Davis, black and city attorney Nye.

HEATH'S REWARD.

The police and prison committee's report in regard to a suitable recognition of Patrolman Heath's bravery, was slightly amended by the council last night. As the report now reads, Mr. Heath will receive a gold medal valued at $250, the $50 gold medal being dispensed with. He will also receive a copy of resolutions engrossed on parchment, bearing the signatures of the mayor and president of the council; his hospital expenses will be paid by the city; during his disability his salary will go on just the same; and he will be given what practically amounts to a life job in the department.

PLANS FOR RESERVOIR.

The committee on finance and waterworks, with the city engineers as technical advisers, reported favorably upon Hewlett's resolution, providing for taking steps towards the construction of a storage reservoir for the city of Salt Lake, and recommended that the city engineer be authorized to prepare plans and estimates of the reservoir at a cost not to exceed $200. The report was adopted.

PROTEST AGAINST BUILDING.

G. A. Gibbs and a number of other residents in the vicinity of Fourth West and North Temple streets called the council's attention to the fact that the Oregon Short Line Railway company is building a large building in the center of Fourth West street at North Temple street, thus obstructing the view of the railway tracks and making it very dangerous to passers-by. The petitioners entered a protest against the construction of the building at that point, and also entered a strong protest against the practice of allowing cars to stand on the street and obstruct the passage. A communication was also received from the street cleaning committee, stating that the building of the building, in the way that he notified the company to move the same or stop work, which it refused to do. The matter was referred to the committee on streets with instructions to report next Monday night.

HALVERSON RE-APPOINTED.

City Treasurer Morris submitted the appointment of John Halverson as license inspector. Mr. Halverson is the present inspector, but in order to receive the benefit of the increase in his salary, recently granted by the council, he had to be re-appointed. The appointment was confirmed.

The department payrolls for the last half of February, amounting in all to $22,225, were submitted to City Auditor Reiser and referred for approval.

TWO GOOD MATCHES

ARE IN SIGHT

Chance for McCarthy and Young

Gibbs to Meet Here,

THOMPSON AFTER CHRISTY.

Former Believes He Can Beat the Latter in a Twenty Round Contest—Jack Is Willing.

Manager Sauer of the Salt Lake Athletic club has two good matches on for this month, that is arrangements for them are now being made and it is believed that nothing stands in the way of them. Young Gibbs, a colored boxer who lost to Mose La Fontaine in June recently, has written to Manager Sauer asking for a match. Hardly had the communication been received before another came from Jerry McCarthy who was seen here last winter in a contest with Jack Donnelly. Manager Sauer immediately sent word to the pair that they could have a match on the 16th and offered good terms to them. He instructed them to answer immediately and a reply is expected hourly. Both men are well known to fight followers throughout the western country; both are clever boxers, have clean records and ought to put up a lively go.
