One of the most pitiable characteristics of the American people, especially the commercial and fashionable; is to strive to visit foreign lands, and to spend their time and money in England and on the continent, while utterly ignorant of their own country. Many millions of money are thus spent each year, and by thousands of our people who have no more idea of the western portion of the United States, than if they had been born ir Europe.

Colorado with its gorgeous mountains and fertile valleys; Utah with its sublime and beautiful scenery; California, with its genial climate, its valleys fat with corn, its hills covered with ten thousand flocks, are, to myriads of our traveled citizens, all terræ incognitæ. And if these fashionable wanderers were interrogated about their own country, they would blush to acknowledge that they were utterly ignorant of its beauties, its wealth, its climate and its wonders.

Not so with the farmers of our land, thank God-the hard-fisted yeomanry, who have at last awoke to their own duties and power, are now marching to the front to retake their just position, to seize upon the government and drive out of its temples the thieves and scoundrels who, in the Cabinet and Congress, have plundered its coffers, stolen its treasures, and turned the Fortunately a much larger area of land was planted in 1873 than 1872, or the discrepancy would have been much greater. In Sanpete county the yield fell short about thirtythree per cent., and Tooele county about seventeen per cent., at Spanish Fork there was diminution, and in Cache county the products were a little over twenty per cent. more in 1873 than in 1872. The crop of hay was 20,000 tons in excess, but the fall in price from $16 to $14 per ton precluded much increase in the total value. Barley, oats and Indian corn, it will also be observed, ty of the line is, as we learn, from commanded less prices. It is worthy of note that Cache county is destined to become a great wheatgrowing country. No less than 300,000 bushels were produced in 1873, nearly half of which was exported to California. The grain is of a very superior quality, and eminently adapted for shipment to foreign countries. It is in contemplation to raise at least double the quantity during the present year Georgetown to run opposition to (1874).

To which is more than certain that an ox we may add the export of bullion and ore, $5,000,000, making a total especially since the Kansas Pacific or $10,382,914.

Within the limits of Utah are two of the largest and finest woolen factories in the West, where the wool is worked up; erected solely by Mormon hands and Mormon capital; one hundred miles of broad gauge railroad, constructed without one dollar of money or an acre of land stolen from the United States; and 120 miles of narrow gauge railway and over 1,000 miles of telegraph-all the work of Brigham Young and his brethren. OXEN VS. STEAM .- The Union Pacific have put on a line of wagons drawn by oxen, between Cheyenne and Longmont. A round trip can be made in from seven to eight days, and the present daily capacifour to five tons per day. The object of this is to try and force the Denver Pacific to give a pro rate on Union Pacific freight, and which is refused because the Union Pacific in turn will not give a western connection. It seems that the ox-line business will not stop here. We understand that the Kansas Pacific propose to put on a similar line between Denver and Central and the Colorado Central. That great class of honest and pure men, to whom the WesternRural speaks, each week, on matters of interest to them, desire to know ere they visit foreign lands, all about their own country-its resources, agricultural, commercial, mineral, manufacturing, and like a band of brothers, are now striving to strike down corruption and political dishonesty wherever they can hit it upon the head. In olden times, ere the great conflagration of Chicago, I used to aid you Mr. Editor, in trying to furnish them with mental food, and now, here, in this beautiful valley, underneath the shadow of these grand old mountains, where the American sage brush desert has been made "to bloom and blossom as the rose," propose to renew my friendship with the Western Rural and its readers, and tell them of all the mineral, commercial, agricultural and manufacturing interests of Utah, and the true history of this wonderful people, the Mormons, and their leader and prophet Brigham Young.

And in doing this, while I shall "set down naught in malice," I shall "nothing extenuate," but speak right on what I do know.

The Territory of Utah lies between the 42nd and 37th parallels of north latitude and 32nd and 37th degrees of longitude west from Washington, and is therefore 300 lic peace and shock the morality of miles long and almost300miles wide.
