

CONFERENCE OF SALT LAKE STAKE.

Interesting Meetings Held in This City Yesterday Morning
And Afternoon.

REPORTS AND TIMELY ADVICE.

President Lund Urges Saints to Settle Their Own Differences—Elder Penrose Speaks.

The quarterly conference of the Salt Lake stake of Zion convened yesterday meetings being held in the Assembly hall at 10 a. m. and in the Tabernacle at 2 p. m. The stake presidency presided.

The morning meeting began by the singing of the hymn, "Hark, listen to the trumpets." Prayer was offered by Elder William J. Newman.
The choir further sang, "School thy feelings."

President Nephi L. Morris was the first speaker. He admonished the saints to be united in their efforts and to encourage a spirit of sociability. He said he wanted the stake to be of a homogeneous character. The bishops should visit the people, to the end that kindly feelings and good fellowship would prevail continually. Boundary lines, he said, were but imaginary and they should not militate against proper social intercourse one with the other.
He urged those rich in worldly possessions to help those less fortunate in this respect.

Mrs. Clara S. Williams, stake president of the Relief Society, reported the progress of the organization in good condition and said that the society was receiving the hearty support and co-operation of the bishops. She invited the sisters to visit the association rooms, which had been nicely furnished for their benefit.

Mrs. Lucy W. Smith, stake president of the Young Ladies' association, reported the progress of the organization in good condition. She said that the association was receiving the hearty support and co-operation of the bishops.
The fourteenth, sixteenth, twenty-second and center wards were reported by their respective bishops as in good condition.

The authorities of the stake were then presented and unanimously sustained. Among them were the home missionaries, who are as follows: En-manuel Delachewer, George T. Badger, John W. Bond, Jr., Edwin Butterworth, Arthur J. Bishop, Henry B. Elder, John Elkins, Willard Farnes, Thomas J. Howell, John Kingdon, Walter J. Lewis, Jr., George V. Morris, J. F. Eugene Morris, John G. Nebeker, Edwin W. Parry, J. Caleb E.
Pugh, Enoch W. Reese, Alfred C. Rees, John T. Reynolds, Ira R. Rudy, Arthur H. Taylor, Moroni J. Thomas and John H. White.

President Anthony H. Lund was the closing speaker of the session. He urged that the saints settle their differences among themselves, rather than bring under the necessity of carrying them to the First Presidency. In this way much vexation of spirit would be avoided and home rule would prevail in the wards and stakes of the Church.
After singing the anthem, "Lift Up the Voice in Singing," and benediction by Elder C. B. Badger, the conference adjourned till 2 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session was held in the Tabernacle, the body of the house being well filled.
The choir sang the hymn:
Softly beams the sacred dawning Of the great millennial morn.
Prayer was offered by Elder William Asper.
The choir further sang:
Come, Great Lord, descend and dwell, By faith and love in every breast.

Elder George R. Emery of the stake presidency was the first speaker. He urged the divinity of the work in which the Latter-day Saints are engaged, and said he knew it was true for the Lord had revealed it unto him. Elder Emery stated that he was born and reared in this city and knew from experience that the Latter-day Saints were a good people, and that the reason they had embraced was indeed the power of God unto salvation. The Gospel was what it had ever been—a code of principles, true, could be benefit mankind. It was given by the Father for the exaltation of His children. Its principles were the principles of truth and would save all who would obey them.

The speaker reviewed the first principles of the Gospel, and emphasized the words of Peter to the multitude on the day of Pentecost: "Repent and be baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost, for the promise is unto you and unto your children, and as the Lord our God shall call. That declaration was true, could be borne record of by thousands of men and women in those valleys. They had found them to never fail.

Elder Emery said that in the Salt Lake stake of Zion, as now constituted, there were many faithful Latter-day Saints. The stake had a membership of 5,207 souls, these comprising 1,849 families. Of this number there were 2,241 tithing-payers and 482 who were not tithing-payers, but who should be. When the stake was organized there were 71

ELDER CHAS. W. PENROSE.

Elder Charles W. Penrose next spoke.
He said he, too, rejoiced in the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and in the privilege of bearing his testimony to the people.
Dealing with the term "Gospel," Elder Penrose said that there was but one Gospel, although there were somewhat different versions of that Gospel. It was preached by Jesus Christ and His Apostles, and although they might have used different language in expressing it, its principles were the same, delivered according to their respective styles of expression.

Elder Penrose said there could be but one Gospel. This was expressed in the words of Christ when he said there was a straight and narrow way which led to life, and a broad way which led unto destruction. The term "Gospel" meant good news, or glad tidings, which good news came when the lowly Nazareth was born. He came to save the world from death and sin, and to bring hence His message was one of good news to the nations, a message of salvation to all men upon the earth.

Elder Penrose said that this self-same message was being borne by the Latter-day Saints today. It was the old Gospel brought back again—restored to earth through the instrumentality of a Prophet of God. It was contained in the New Testament and had reposed there for centuries, although not properly understood. Nor could it be understood till God revealed Himself, for no book published could convey the same meaning to all men. Their contents required expounding—they had to be set forth according to the Spirit which prompted their first utterance.

In this connection Elder Penrose pointed out the need of inspiration, that men would be able to differentiate between right and wrong. Not all that had been written as Scripture was true, for it was written only according to the understanding of its author, and not always under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. Books, at best, said the speaker, were merely the work of man.
It was the spirit that gave life, and it was only by the spirit that men would be guided aright. The New Testament proclaimed the essentiality of the ordinance of baptism, but the book could not baptize, neither could it bestow authority to baptize; God Himself must confer this right upon men.

Elder Penrose explained that in speaking thus, he did not desire to cast the least reflection upon the Scriptures.
The Bible was invaluable—it was beyond price—but above and beyond it was the Spirit which gave men light and led men in the way of truth. This Spirit could be secured through obedience to the laws of God, just as Peter had declared on the day of Pentecost.

The speaker said that the Gospel comprehended more than the first four principles referred to. It embraced all things necessary for the accomplishment of the Father's purposes, and it was designed by God that this Gospel should be restored in the latter days, and men might be brought to an understanding thereof and be led to glorify the Father for His blessings. This restoration had been brought about and men had been commissioned to go forth and preach it, vested with the authority necessary to administer the ordinances among men. These gifts and blessings were for all who would receive them, and they who would do so and abide by the covenants they had made, would have occasion to rejoice and receive a fulness of joy.

Elder Penrose bore a firm testimony of the divinity of "Mormonism," and declared that no power on earth could stop its progress. The Lord had designed that it should roll on and His purposes would be carried out.
The speaker closed with words of exhortation to those present, urging all to live godly lives, to remember the Sabbath day and keep it holy, to receive the name of Deity, to be wise and prudent in their conduct from day to day, and in this way, as the Lord had commanded, go on unto perfection.

The choir sang the anthem, "Let the Mountains Shout for Joy," and the benediction was pronounced by patriarch Angus M. Cannon.

FIRE FIEND AGAIN.

Jennings Must Answer for Burning of Highland Boy Boarding House.

Deputy Sheriff Cowan yesterday again took Alex Jennings into custody and locked him up in the county jail where he will await trial for complicity in the burning of the Highland Boy boarding house at Bingham more than a year ago. Jennings, it is charged, hired two men to burn the boarding house and also the Lehi creamery. The men were convicted at Provo for burning the creamery but Jennings was acquitted of any complicity in that crime.
Since then he has been out on bail awaiting trial on the charge against him in this county, but it was feared that he might jump his bond so he was again taken in charge by the officials.

CONTINENTAL WINS.

Effort to Shut it Out of Montana Fail Utterly.

The Continental Life Insurance company has received the cheering news that the supreme court of Montana has rendered a decision favorable to the local company in the injunction proceedings based on the writing of special board policies. The court decision denies the petition of rival agents and simply quashes the whole project, which was intended to prevent the company from doing business in Montana.

HAS TRIED BOTH

Travel for Health vs. Dieting.

A man who was sent to Europe for his health and finally found cure in a little change in his diet, says:
"I was troubled with dyspepsia for five years and two doctors here in Kenosha that treated me for over a year both told me there was no help for me.
Then I had an expert from Chicago but still received no relief; then followed another expert from Chicago, who came to our house two times a month for four months. He gave me up like all the others and told me to take a trip across the ocean which I did in the year 1899 and came home about as bad as when I started. The doctors told me my stomach lining was full of sores.
Then I began to study my own case and learned of the diet recommended by the Postum Cereal Company so I gave up coffee, pork and all greasy foods and began using Postum Food Cereal. Gradually I got better and better until I am well now as I ever was in my younger days, have no trouble and eat anything fit to eat."

"Sometimes away from home I am persuaded to drink coffee but I only take a sip of it for it tastes bitter and disagreeable to me, but the longer I use Postum the better I like it and the better I feel. I could say a great deal more of my experience with Postum but think this will give everyone a good idea of what leaving off coffee and using Postum can do." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
Look in each pkg. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." World's Fair exhibit, Space 103, Agricultural Building."

The case began early in May, when the agents of rival companies applied to the state auditor to cancel the Continental's license on the ground that it was writing a special contract, contrary to law. The auditor, after investigating the situation, upheld the Continental. Soon after this decision, the governor was petitioned to enjoin the company, as it had not qualified, the principal allegation being that the company had not required its officers to sign the first annual statement, according to law. This was a true allegation and when the attention of the Continental was called to it, the required steps were immediately taken, and the company, which had been forced to withdraw for the time being, resumed business. Then the company was adopted. In the supreme court the state auditor was charged with malfeasance in office and discriminating in favor of the Continental Life, of which he is a stockholder.

On June 15, the attorney-general joined the attorneys of the Salt Lake concern in asking that the charges be quashed and on Saturday it was granted.

HELPING FRUIT GROWERS.

Horticultural Society Doing Everything Possible to Assist Them.

The County Horticultural society met Saturday afternoon with Pres. Burgen in the chair. After the minutes had been read and approved, Mr. Casey reported a favorable reception of his committee with the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing society, regarding premiums on gardens and orchards.
A committee of five was appointed to make an exhibit of fruit at the coming fair.

Upon request of LeGrand Young and R. T. Burton, Messrs. Burgen, Jensen and County Inspector Sorenson were appointed a committee to investigate their orchards.

Robert E. Wilson of Ogden visited the society for the purpose of investigating the auxiliary express station and said that Weber county realized the importance of such a station in the middle counties and would be glad to work in conjunction with Salt Lake county, which, they believed, was working for the interest of the fruit growers.

After a general discussion Mr. Wilson reported the fruit development of Weber county as being very favorable. Reports were made showing outside influences in favor of the experiment station, and the committee was requested to labor along such lines as it desired, to obtain results.

The committee of five above mentioned consists of Messrs. Burgen, Ha-menway, Casey, Wallace and J. Smith.
The society voted thanks to the county commissioners of Weber county and Mr. Wilson for the visit of the latter, after which the meeting adjourned until July 3.

waiter in a Commercial street resort.
He was arrested by Inspector T. J.

He avers that his papers are in the custody of a friend in California.

Yee Wah Toy proved by witnesses that his papers were in a coat that blew out to sea during the tempestuous days on the Lucin cut-off, and he was released from the county jail. But unless Yee can convince the authorities at San Francisco that he is entitled to a new certificate, he will have to go back home anyway.
