WHAT IS THE USE.

What is the use of trimming a lamp,
If you never intend to light it?
What is the use of grappling a wrong
If you never intend to right it?

What is the use of removing your hat,
If you do not intend to tarry?
What is the use of wooing a maid,
If you do not intend to marry?

What is the use of buying a coat,
If you do not intend to wear it?
What is the use of a house for two,
If you never intend to share it?

What is the use of gathering gold,
If you do not intend to keep it?
What is the use of planting a field,
If you never intend to reap it?

What is the use of buying a book,
If you never intend to read it?
What is the use of a cradle to you,
If you never intend to need it?

Correspondence.

FARMINGTON, March 14, 1868.

Editor Deseret News.—Dear Sir,—Knowing the interest you feel in the education of our youth, I have thought it might afford you, as well as all other friends of education, some pleasure to know the condition of the Sunday School here. We commenced our labors in this department about two years ago, under rather discouraging circumstances. Many believed that the enterprise would fail, as others had done before, but through the blessing of Heaven on the labors of a few faithful brethren and sisters, it has been kept alive ever since. Of late a more decided interest has been manifested by many of our leading citizens, and steps have been taken to encourage parents to send their children where their minds may be stored with those principles that will insure them a life of happiness and usefulness, and an eternal exaltation in the life to come.

Many of our young men are now as anxious to engage in the study of the scriptures as in the common amusements and recreations of the day. We have two large classes of young men engaged in the careful reading of the bible, under the able tuition of Bros. J. T. Smith and H. D. Haight, using as auxiliaries in their studies the Church catechism and Bro. Franklin D. Richards' Compendium. Our efficient co-laborer, Judge Haight, has an interesting class of young ladies engaged in a like course of studies. We have also classes in the New Testament, Book of Mormon, Doctrine and Covenants, &c. A very general interest is manifested in every department of moral, intellectual and religious culture. Our school now has three Superintendents, nine male and five female teachers, and one hundred and fifty scholars, which will soon be swelled to two hundred.

Praying that your labors, and all others that tend to build up the kingdom of God, may be crowned with success, I remain your friend and co-worker in the cause of truth.

JAMES BROOKS.

OREGON MADE STOVE.—Ladd & Tilton yesterday received from the Oregon Iron Works at Oswego, an Oregon made stove, cast directly from the stack or furnace which turns the ore into iron. The stove is properly named "Oregon," being the first cast iron stove made in the State, and is in a cylindrical shape, about three feet in height and twenty inches in diameter, and consists of but four pieces, except the legs, lids and damper. There are no flaws in any of the castings, and the surface of the whole stove has a beautiful appearance, and is as near perfect as if manufactured by works expressly adapted to the business.—Oregon Herald.

The Leader learns that a man was shot at Dale City, Thursday night by another by the name of Slattery, who has been taken to Cheyenne, to save his neck from a mob. Dale City is fast becoming known. Like most frontier towns, it advertises itself extensively by its lawlessness.—Colorado Tribune.
