THE LIVER AND ITS FUNCTIONS.

It has become a well established fact that the vast portion of diseases to which the human family is subject arise in the first place from some disorder of the Liver. This organ is not only the largest, but at the same time one of the most important. The venous blood, on its return to the heart, passes through this organ, and in its passage it deposits an elimination which are necessary for digesting as well as for a cathartic to assist in the removal of waste material &c, any elimination which is neglected that the Liver is liable to get out of order to a greater or less extent, and when this occurs it is impossible for it to purify PROPERLY the blood, excreting all objectionable matter from the blood, but allows it to pass through, carrying with it the poisons of which it should have been purified.

When impure blood the wholesome becomes affected, and no organ can properly perform its function unless it is supplied with PURE BLOOD to maintain its strength. So the Liver, as all important and when out of order the blood is contaminated, tired, worn out, feverish, constipated, with sometimes Sick Headache, Sick Stomach, Sallow Complexion, Dyspepsia and Loss of Appetite, they may be sure their Liver is out of order, and a remedy is needed that will act in relieving the liver of all accumulations, and restore it to healthy action. Strength and Vigor. For all the complaints of this kind there is no medicine that equals DR. R. V. PIERCE'S PRICKLY ASH BITTERS. The result of years of study, experiment and research by an eminent physician. Dr. R. V. PIERCE, its Originator, who, as Chief Consulting Physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., has had unequalled opportunities for testing its virtues in the cure of those chronic diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, Blood and Lungs, to which the human family is subject. As a blood purifier, one of the most active and powerful that can be used, it is unsurpassed. By its timely use many lives might have been saved that have been sacrificed by the use of powerful mineral poisons, and the many quack nostrums which flood the country. Prickly Ash Bitters is not a beverage, but a concentrated vegetable extract, and can be used at all times with beneficial results. It is not claimed as a cure-all, but for derangements of the digestive organs, such as Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Biliousness, Intermittent and Remittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, Bowels, Piles, and all diseases arising from a disordered liver or impure blood, it is a specific. It is a powerful yet safe corrective, acting directly on the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, and Bowels, giving them strength and vigor, enabling them to perform their functions naturally. As a pleasant and reliable tonic for the debilitated, nervous and sick of either sex, Prickly Ash Bitters is unequalled, and is highly recommended by those who have used it. It is not as nauseous to the taste as quinine preparations, and is as acceptable to children as to adults.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS is a medicine of rare merit, not an intoxicating beverage, and hence entirely reliable in its effects when used at all times with beneficial results. It is not claimed as a cure-all, but for derangements of the organs mentioned, it is a specific and a BLOOD PURIFIER ranks above all other preparations. Ask your druggist for it, and give it a fair trial. If he has none on hand, ask that it be ordered for you.

SHOULD THE VOTES BE COUNTED?

ELECTIVE OR APPOINTIVE?

ARGUMENT IN REGARD TO COMMISSIONERS TO LOCATE UNIVERSITY LANDS.

Following is the argument of C. W. Stayner, Esq., before the Utah Commission on the subject of counting the the ballots cast for Commissioners to Locate University Lands in this Territory, which he was requested by them to file for the consideration of the entire Board, before the 20th inst. The grounds therein taken are logica , clear and, we think, irrefutable. The Commissioners now have the matte squarely before them. If they should still decide unfavorably, it will certainly not be from any lack of correct information or plain argument. They will, we should think, give due weight to the equitable considerations adduced in the argument, as well as the legal points so tersely presented, and their final decision, coming as it will from the full board, will be anticipated with some interest by many hundreds of settlers upon lands of the class involved therein:

TERRITORY OF UTAH, County of Salt Lake. } ss.

Before the Utah Commission, the Hon. Alexander Ramsey, Chairman.

BRIEF OF APPLICANT'S ARGUMENT, TO BE CONSIDERED BY THE FULL BOARD.

In the application of Charles W. Stayner, Candidate at the General Election held on August 4th, 1884, to have the votes or ballots cast at said election for Commissioners to Locate University Lands, counted, and certificates issue to the duly elected candidates.

The reasons for a favorable consideration of the above-named application are two-fold in their character; they are both legal and equitable.

FIRST—LEGAL.

This Board is chosen to act as a committee to locate certain tracts of public land, under and by virtue of a special Act of Congress, approved February 21st, 1855. The third section of which act provides that a quantity of land equal to two (2) townships is reserved in this Territory for the establishment of a university, and that said land is to be selected in legal subdivisions of not less than one-half section, and to be disposed of as the Legislature of this Territory may direct.

This act was passed and became law over four years subsequent to the Organic Act of this Territory, and whatever may have been the mind of Congress at the time of enacting section seven of said act, upon which there has been some discussion, and which became law in 1850, that body evidently intended in 1855, that the disposition of these reserved lands, together with their selection, should be entirely under the control of the Legislature. And Congress being silent as to any specific plan by which said lands should be controlled, not having deemed it wise or necessary to limit the legislative power of the Territory, as to the means by which the said sections should be made, the Legislature did, by its act approved January 21, 1859, provide that a board of commissioners, to consist of three men, should be elected at the general election to be held on the first Monday in August, 1859, and annually thereafter, to select and locate from time to time as in their judgment they may deem best a quantity of land equal to two townships, in accordance with the provisions of the third section of the Act of Congress above referred to. This board are not in the sense of any act Territorial officers, they are not chosen to fill any office created under the Organic Act, they are not put under any bonds, their simple qualification is to swear that they will faithfully discharge their duties as said committee or commissioners, and they were evidently intended by the law providing for their selection to act as the agents of the Legislature, in the selection and location of the lands, so beneficently appropriated by Congress in the struggling infancy of our Territory, for the establishment of a university.

The Legislature acted upon special authority in this matter, maintaining in a marked degree the spirit and genius of the act of Congress from which it derived the power to so legislate. The said act became law, and as good a law as any in the statutes of the Territory, by the approval of the Executive in 1857. Every year since that law has had an existence, the Congress of the United States, realizing, doubtless the correctness of the Territorial action, has silently permitted the choosing of said Board, and their duties to be recognized and established of record in the Department of the Interior. The Hon. Secretary having quite recently declared all of the selections of lands for university purposes by said Board, valid, and announced their absolute reservation for the purpose named in the Act of Congress.

While the Hon. Utah Commission are vested with certain executive powers in this Territory, the law from which they derive their powers does not bestow upon them even implied judicial authority to pass upon the validity of any law and much less this law, which Congress has so far sanctioned by its silence, and the acts under which the Government has virtually endorsed through the Chief of the Interior Department. Neither does the law creating the Utah Commission vest them with any legislative authority to annul any act found upon the statute books, and particularly this act which was passed in strict compliance with and pursuant to the law of Congress above referred to. But even if the act under which the Board of Commissioners are chosen, and have acted for over 24 years, were wholly bad and unconstitutional, the powers of the Hon. Utah Commission do not authorize them to render it null and void, or even in opperative, seeing that it does not conflict in any particular with the Edmunds Law, or any provision of repeal involved in Congressional Legislation.

Much more might be said upon the legal status of this question, but we will now proceed to an inquiry and presentation of the equities in the case.

SECOND—EQUITABLE.

During the time which the Act of the Territorial Legislature has been in force, much land has been located by the Board chosen under it; and on various occasions it has become necessary in view of prior vested rights, to make changes in the lands so selected. The law having limited the powers of said selection committee, in regard to the minimum as well as the maximum quantities of land; when a change was made it generally involved a half section, or 320 acres. Should a selection be found to cover ever so shall a fractional subdivision of land already improved, settled or cultivated, as soon as the facts are or were brought to the attention of the Board, their bounden duty required them to relinquish the tract so covered, and unless the land adjoining was unoccupied so as to admit of making up the deficiency in a suitable sub-division, the whole tract thus located would have to be relinquished and a half section found and located somewhere else on the public domain. As long as the Board are chosen according to the statute, and the long established custom recognized by the Department, no legal question can arise to successfully disturb the titles involved, but once allow the Board to be chosen by some other method than that already established, and countless cases may arise involving the titles by possession at least to thousands of acres of land. And what is more deplorable, these lands are not in the hands of monopolists, and in a condition to only affect a few persons, but are very thickly settled; the farms ranging from probably 5 to 25 acres, mostly in the hands of poor men, who have sought this class of land, as the time for final payment would likely be deferred longer than on the other public lands of the United States. Should a Board of Commissioners chosen by some new and unauthorized, or even questionable method, aside from the one hitherto prevailing, undertake, (which the exigencies of the case may at any time require,) to interfere with any of these locations by relinquishment or otherwise, many rights on these lands would be affected, and much litigation ensue; which being entailed upon the poorer and laboring classes, would doubtless result in a dispossession of the working element in favor of the capitalist and speculator. If this be the case with regard to the lands already located, what may we not expect to arise on such lands as shall be in future located by a questionable and unauthorized power. Should such a board proceed to select a half section, and at once twenty or thirty innocent persons locate thereon, what a field for contests and disputes both before the Land Office and the courts would be opened up, by simply making application to enter such lands at the local office, on the ground of illegal location. And although your Honors might be sustained by the Courts, which it is not my province at present to dispute, still the parties most deeply interested would in all probability ere then, have been required to either give up their claims, with all their improvements, or to pay their costs and counsel fees more than their several claims were worth in the market, in order to protect their rights or those which they supposed they were entitled to under the acts of this Board. I do not think too much care can be given to the consideration of this very important subject, fraught as it is with interest to our laboring population, for whom the Government as well as all right thinking people everywhere are continually expressing the deepest sympathy.

For the above reasons, and others which doubtless will suggest themselves to your Honors' minds in considering this subject, I ask, in behalf of myself and all other candidates voted for at said Election, that the ballots then cast be counted, and that certificates of election be issued to the candidates who are found to have been elected.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

CHAS. W. STAYNER, Candidate as Commissioner to locate University Lands at the General Election in the year 1884.
