DIFFICULTY OF SHIPPING.

In Galveston, the Bead Will Number from 1,500 to 2,000-Danger of Sickness-Situation Better.

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 12 .- Today supplies began to arrive, but so meagro are the facilities that the amounts could not be handled. There are thousands hungry here now; they have something to eat, but the food gives no nourishment. It is soaked with water, and provisions which have been freated to a bath are not very palatable. The provisions that reached here today came from Houston by steamer. but there are so many to feed that they did not go far. A crowd quickly gathered and they were distributed in a short time. Many hurried away with what they got to their families; others got cooked food and ate it where they

The situation does not look so bad The situation does not look so bad now that relief has actually come and more is on the way, but it is not meant to be said that further relief is not needed. This is not a question of a day but of many days. It may be two weeks before a train gets in here,

SYSTEM OF DISTRIBUTION.

There is much neces to be done, he first thing being the establishment of a rigid system of issuing supplies. The nucleus has already been formed the regular soldiers who are still and a number of citizens have and the been sworn in as policemen and are at-tending to the issuing of rations and directing the efforts of the searchers r the dead and injured. As for othing, many have the money to buy and those who have not are being given their necessaries by the relief committee, but more clothing is neces-saty and especially women and children who are the principal sufferers.

The dead are still being searched out and buried, some of them in the sea and some of them on the beach, and still others in the cemeteries. There are no coffins left. People are knocking together pine boxes and getting lum-ber from the ruins of their homes in which to bury their dead. They cannot take them to the cemeteries, so they bury them within what was once their yards, intending to inter them in cemeteries after matters have assumed their normal aspect. The dead who have no relatives left are treated with scant courtesy; there is no time for ceremony and they are put into the sand of the beach or into the Gulf.

CARING FOR INJURED.

The injured are being taken care of as well as could be expected. Physi-cians are on the go all the time. All who were not badly hurt are being put aside temporarily for those who really need the services of doctors or surgeons and these are so many that their num-ber cannot be computed with any accuracy. Of the slightly hurt there are some thousands, as the majority of the people found in the streets have wounds or bruises of some kind. There is as yet no accurate estimate of the number of dead; there is no way in which the number can be estimated, for many of the bodies have floated away, spirit of exaggeration is here and Th man adds a few to the number of the last man talked to.

ut on them. There is no dock here that can accommodate these big ocean going steamships. One or two of them are iding at anchor, apparently unharmed. Of the smaller craft there is little left. A couple of steamers and two tugs are all that can be seen from the wharf, though there may be others which are away at the mainland. Most of the mosquito fleet was smashed into kindling wood.

There are several small boats thrown There are several small boats thrown high and dry on the wreckage of the wharves and one is far out in the rali-road yards. How it got there is a mys-tery, for even the wind that prevailed could not have carried it there unless it got up above the wharves first. Out in the write, there are not been

Out in the water there are a number of wrecks of vessels. Most of the crews have escaped.

ODOR FROM CARCASSES.

The city and island is covered with carcasses of horses, mules, cows, dogs, rats and cats. The odor from these, and from the human bodies, is poisoning the air, and it is a matter of impossi-ollity to dispose of even one-tenth of the bility to dispose of even one-tenth of the putrefying carcasses this week. The number of people trying to leave is great: not all of them want to stay away permanently, but they desire to get to relatives and friends elsewhere to recover from the shock. They want to get to where there is plenty of food and drinking water and medicine and and drinking water and medicine, and may prove as fatal as wind and water.

CALIFORNIA GIVES AID.

San Francisco, Sept. 12 .-- California is sponding quickly and generous Galveston's cry for aid. Already $3,268 have been contributed, including a check for $1,000 sent by the San Franchock for $1,000 sent by the San Fran-cisco theathical managers, in advance of a combined benefit to be given in a few days, the receipts of which are expected to run high into the thousands. The board of trade will im-mediately formered a destrothe wins of mediately forward a draft, the size of which will be decided on today. The Postal Telegraph company will transfer money free of charge to the sufferers. Governor Gage has sent a telegram to Governor Sayers offering all the assistance in his power.

RELIEF TRAIN FROM NEW YORK. New York, Sept. 12 .- The special relief train sent to Galveston by the New York Journal and Advertiser left by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad last night. It was made up of two Pullman sleepers and an express car. In the sleeper were twenty-eight doctors and nurses fully equipped. In the express car were barrels and boxes of the medicine and luxurles that invalids need.

After reaching Buffalo the train will be taken over the Wabash to St. Louis and over the Iron Mountain system to Houston, Texas. ROLLOVER WANTS HELP.

PLACES THAT ESCAPED. New Orleans, La., Sept. 1.-A special to the Tribune from Beaumont, Texas, says

Strange as it is, all things considered, vast as are the stretches of coast coun-try in this section which were storm swept, there has been but a single death reported positively. This statement must not be construed to mean that there was no further loss of life, for there are still many people missing. Whole families took refuge on the ridges of Sabine Pass when the water began to rise. They have not been heard from and while their safety is almost taken for granted here, it cann e stated as a positive fact until the ount of heads is made. The one life lost was that of Jeff Gun-iff, a fisherman at Sabine, known to have been lost. In addition to the possible loss of life at Sabine Pass there is a train on the Gulf and Interstate road which icft Bolivar Saturday about noon and which s detained a mile or so on the other ide of Rollover, which may have additinal casualty news. On this train there are supposed to be all the residents of Bolivar Point and intermediate stations. From meagre advices received here loss to this company. The loss sus-tained by the Gulf and Interstate is far heavier, as from High Islands to Bolivar Point the road bed and all rails are gone. This is a distance of forty miles. Telegraph poles and wires and ties were floated far into the prairies, and the road from Highland on will have to be built over again. The depots of the company at Port Bolivar are also gone. The greatest loss will come in the matter of stock.

It is gathered that there was no loss of life along this line either, but here again definite information is lacking.

Of the thousands of cattle and horses in pastures, which were inundated, not one in ten escaped. One herd of a thousand head was swept out to sea. ment. Battle of Brandywine. West Chester, Pa., Sept. 12,-The 123rd anniversary of the battle of Brandy-wine was celebrated yisterday on the battlefield, where, on September 11, 1777, for the first time, the continental army carried the Stars and Stripes into battle, it having been adopted as the national flag by Congress a few months before

The ceremonies incident to the celebration began at noon, when a salute of thirteen guns was fired. This was followed by a flag raising during which

Cuban News, Havana, Sept. 12-Louis Rivera, fornew in Honduras, who was nominated to represent Pinar Del Rio at the coming constitutional congress, has wired that he will be unable to serve in that capacity as he intends to remain in

Honduras. General satisfaction is expressed at the announcement that Porrero Echa-varia has been appointed commissioner of public schools. This is the chief ad-ministrative position, that of Mr. Alexis
