FUTILE EFFORTS OF THE METHO-DISTS.

During the second day's proceedings of the Utah Methodist mission at the Iliff church, published in the Evening News of the 17th inst., the Rev. E. E. Mock, the presiding elder of the Richfield district, in his report, claimed about 70 converts from the Mormon Church in his district. This is not very encouraging to the Mormon Church if true, but from our experience here in Grantsville we have good reason to doubt the in-formation, which is given for outside effect. The accident happened about 6 p. m. of the above date. Beneath the tree at the south side of their home is a water ditch, in which, for convenience in dipping, had been placed a small tank, about eighteen inches deep. Near this, in the shade of the trees, the pather had been placed a shade of the trees, the mother had been doing the family washing; when nearly through, the father, who had been caring for the child, came and placed him down in the yard, and went off to the barn. The mother stepped to the line to have an entered went off to the barn. The mother stepped to the line to hang out some clothes, when on looking about she missed the little boy, and learning that missed the little boy, and learning it was not with its father, she immediately began to search for him, and in maments was horrified to find a few moments was horrified to find him lying in the tank apparently dead. she frantically snatched him from the water, and with the aid of her husband, and the neighbors, who came to their assistance, did all that could be done to restore life to the little body, but their efforts were unsuccessful. The boy was an exceedingly bright little fellow and the parents have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.
