NEWS OF THE DAY.

IN the lower House of Congress, yesterday, there was considerable discussion in relation to a bill to authorize the government to send official invitations to foreign nations to take part in the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia, on July 4, 1876. The bill was finally passed, but it transpired during the debate that Congress would most likely be asked to appropriate eight or ten millions in aid of the project.

Financial relief and the resumption of specie payments were again under discussion in the Senate. Senator Merriman made a speech, in which he expressed himself in favor of the establishment of a grand national bank, with a capital of a hundred millions, in twenty-five dollar shares. He hoped that all the greenbacks would be redeemed by; and that specie resumption would commence on the 4th of July, 1876.

The Louisiana legislature have unanimously passed a vote in favor of an amendment to the State Constitution limiting the State debt to fifteen millions, and taxation for all purposes to twelve and a half millions.

The Iowa legislature met several days ago, but owing to the equal balancing of parties, all efforts to organize the House have failed, owing to the inability to elect a Speaker. Yesterday the 186th ballot was taken, the result being a tie, as in each preceding ballot.

The Farmers' granges are progressing in Wisconsin and Georgia, as well as in many other parts of the Union. In both the above named States, State granges have just been held, two hundred and seventy subordinate granges being represented in Georgia, and three hundred and fifty in Wisconsin.

The U. S. Senate has confirmed the nomination of Mr. Waite, of Ohio, for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The British government will prosecute parties who conspired to procure a British register for a French bark destined to carry munitions of war to the Carlist in Spain.

The British agricultural laborers, under the leadership of their champion, Joseph Arch, are beginning to clamor for the suffrage. A deputation of them, led by Arch, waited upon Premier Gladstone yesterday, and expressed their wishes. The Premier expressed sympathy, and advised them to patiently wait.

Tidings have reached England of prevalent and very fatal sickness among the British troops on the Gold Coast.

Professor Goldwin Smith, in lectures in England, is explaining and praising the common school system of the United States.

A campaign against the Carlists in Valencia has been commenced, by General Domínguez, the Conqueror of Cartagena.

The German parliament is summoned to meet on the fifth of next month.

The popular German poet, Hoffmann, died yesterday, aged seventy-five.

After the close of the session of the French Assembly, at Versailles, yesterday, one of the deputies challenged Gambetta to fight a duel.

The Samana Bay company have negotiated a loan of five millions in the London market.

The French government has forbidden the sale of the well known Paris newspaper L'Opinion Nationale.

Today's London dispatch says that a dense fog hangs over the city, and that Panpa Rosa, the celebrated songstress, is seriously ill.

A million dollars damage to shipping and other property, was done at Buffalo, N. Y., this morning, by the moving of the ice in the river which drove shipping and everything before it.

CONSISTENCY—THAT JEWEL.

IN a special message to the Legislature, his Excellency Governor Woods recommends that body to adopt the method of admitting the minority to representation; that is, to office, in the legislature and the municipal organizations of the Territory. The minority have now equal representation with the majority, that is, each has the suffrage, the same privilege of voting for whom it pleases to fill offices elective by the people to represent the voters in the legislative and municipal bodies. To give the minority office as partisans, would be for the majority to vote for the minority's candidates, which no majority would do.

We can see only two legitimate ways whereby the minority could obtain office—first and best by the minority offering better candidates than the majority can find, and satisfying the majority that such is the case; and second, by the adoption of the method of cumulative voting, which, however, is a makeshift as yet but sparingly and experimentally in use. Majority voting is the almost universal rule of voting throughout the civilized world, yet solely to please the turbulent minority of this region, regardless of the wishes of the majority, Governor Woods evidently would have Utah adopt the new and experimental method instantaneously.

As regards the subject of cumulative voting in the abstract, we have nothing further to say or to con to-day.

The Governor thus urges his appeal for office for the minority, for office because in his message representation for the minority is actually equivalent to office for the minority.

"It is but just that all citizens should have a voice, directly or indirectly, in the making of the laws for their government, and in the management of the public revenues. Where the majority rule obtains, ordinarily, the minority, yielding to the power of numbers, are excluded from all participation in the conduct of public affairs, and as effectually ignored, except in the payment of taxes, and bearing the burdens of government, as though they did not exist."

"The correction of this evil, by allowing the weak against the domination of the strong, is absolutely necessary to the perfection of the government."

The above reasoning is really refreshing. The minority in Utah have suffrage, but want office. These are the facts. But there are a few other facts also, which may be taken in this connection. This very minority, so clamorous, not for suffrage, nor for representation, because suffrage means representation, but for office—this identical minority is at this very moment doing its utmost to deprive the majority, not only of office but of suffrage, working every maneuver and pulling every wire to induce Congress to deprive the people of this Territory, and especially those understood as composing the majority, of the right of peer jury trial, of the right to sit on juries, and of the right to the limited franchise which they now enjoy, and to put under the control of said minority every office in the Territory, local as well as Federal, as well as all the taxes. A precious and deserving minority truly.

They ought to have minority representation, that is, office, they had. O yes. Why don't the majority meekly stand back, at once, and let the poor oppressed minority advance to the front, choose the officers they prefer, and dip their itching palms into the tax boxes at their high and mighty pleasure? Why don't the majority "see the thing" at once and cry pecunia? Why don't the majority speedily try their own hands, put the gag into their own mouths, and run about beseeching this honest and unassuming minority to pick their pockets?

If this plausible argument by the Governor is sustained by the minority, their only possible escape from the charge of inconsistency, of double dealing, is for them to use every possible effort they can, not to disturb the majority, but to prevent all such Congressional legislation, and, further, to have provisions made by that body to secure as early as possible a representative voice, for the Territory, in Congress, and the privilege of the election, by the people of the Territory, of the officers of and for the Territory. When the minority have done this, they will be entitled to the credit of being consistent, sincere and honorable citizens. Until they do this, or something equivalent to this, a depreciable air of doubtfulness will surround them, and a kind of doubtfulness, too, which will not justify the giving to them of the benefit of the doubt.

The European Mission.—From the Milwaukee Star we glean the following particulars: Elder James Bywater, in a letter dated Dec. 22, speaks of visiting and preaching in Keokuk, Silsden, Bradford, and Kirkhamgate. Several baptisms were reported at those meetings, and a number of persons were earnestly inquiring.

Elder John Huber, in a letter dated St. Paul, Dec. 16, says: "Elder Keller and Reiser were with him on a preaching tour through the Chaux de Font, the miles distant, thence to Val de Travers, on the French borders, where Brother Reiser had baptized eleven persons a few days previously. They expected to go to the Chaux de Font, the miles distant, thence to Val de Travers, on the French borders, where Brother Reiser had baptized eleven persons a few days previously. congregate there are bunnies, but this, like similar assertions, should be taken cum grain salt (that is, with a big lump of salt). The fact is that while a great many bunnies are seen around in the streets, the largest portion of those who gather on a sunny afternoon on the east side of the street, are men who come out for the benefit of their health, or for their curiosity, or for the reason that they have nothing better to do, and the women come out occasionally for shopping, or visiting, or for show, perhaps mostly the latter, as witness the amount of expensive fabrics they usually carry in their train, the tulips on their heads, and the roses on their cheeks, which latter, look sometimes, if not like the unnatural red, which autumn plants on the perished leaf, at least very much like an artificial red which the druggist manufactures with mortar and pestle. Those ladies who walk out to show and who desire to exhibit their style to a crowd of onlookers, can go down the street as indicated above, and be satisfied that it will be appreciated.

Now a word to the gentlemen who "stand around." When a lady passes, show her the respect due to her sex; do not stare her in the face, and make no insulting remarks. Make ample room for those of either sex who mix business with pleasure and walk on your side of the street, and let them pass. Remember that the world was made for all, and it is not the privilege of all to be gentlemen of elegant leisure. Observe order and decorum in the main business portion of the city, and help to organize a club for the establishment of fights in some out-of-the-way place, and men to whom such pastime is an intellectual treat will soon remove from your midst, as will also the keepers of low groceries, for the new quarters will be the best market for forty-foot-tangle-foot. You can then take a quiet stroll, enjoy the fresh fragrance of the air, or of your Havana, in untroubled serenity, and mark the time, if not according to Pollock's course at least according to the big clock on the corner.

Monroe and Foundation Springs.—Monroe and Foundation Springs.—Credible Meeting-house. Store and other Improvements.—Monroe and Foundation Springs.—Credible Meeting-house. Store and other Improvements.

Editorial Decree.—On Saturday evening last the people of Monroe, Sanpete County, turned out almost en masse to witness "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," by a dramatic company from the neighboring settlement of Fountain Green. The school house was metamorphosed into a miniature theatre, and the play was given in a manner in which the people of all ages. A peculiar feature noticeable among a portion of the younger folks in the audience was a decided disposition to laugh with exceeding heartiness at the more tragic or pathetic portions of the play, while some of the more ludicrous passages caused their faces to be overspread with a serious expression. The most part of the audience, however, was appreciative.

With regard to the play, we may say that, considering the meagre advantages of the company it was quite creditable, the actors needing but little assistance from the prompter. There was one young man, however, who apparently had had but little experience in the matter of inhibiting bad whiskey, or who may have been somewhat deficient in the imitative faculty, which was manifest in the unnatural manner in which he stepped around the stage, supposed to be in representation of intoxication. The incorrect delineation, however, may have been more a credit to him than otherwise.

An admirable principle has been adopted by the people of Spring City in conducting the co-operative store of that place. The policy of sharing the dividends with the consumers, or patrons of the store, has been carried out for some time, and with admirable effect. The buyer has a pass book in which the clerk inserts the amount of each purchase. At the end of each half year, stock is taken, and when the amount of dividend is known, it is divided by two, one half going to the stockholders and the other to the purchasers.

most beautiful white sandstone, which abounds in Sanpete. In the settlement now alluded to it is at the very door of the people, who, at the north entrance, and, we believe, within the corporate limits of the city, should not be omitted of a new Court House, which is a very creditable building.

Our town is located on the east bank of the Sevier river, about eight miles above Panguitch, and is a healthy location, with plenty of facilities for a large settlement. We have plenty of farming and meadow land, growing and feeding cattle, and sheep, and also plenty of fish and game. The principal thing we lack is settlement to help develop the resources of the country. We have a good day and Sunday school in successful operation here, also an evening school all of which are well attended. Our little meeting house is also well filled when meeting time arrives. The holidays passed off well here, all seeming to enjoy themselves very much. We had no drunks nor fights, as modern "civilization" has not as yet reached us to a great extent, and it has some of our settlements in the Territory, and we are in no hurry to have it come to us, but it seems to be the duty of the people of the East, that our "friends" who take so much interest in our welfare are determined that we shall have "civilization" soon, if the getting up of bills and the introducing of them into Congress will accomplish it.

NEW YORK.—A cable dispatch states that the Samana Bay Co., has negotiated in London, a loan for five millions of dollars, and as part of the negotiations the company agree to take up the Hartman bonds, which had been repudiated by the Baez government.

A call for a council of the Congregational churches as authorized in an emergency, by Dr. Buddington's church, to advise on the whole subject involved in the recent correspondence by the churches of which the Rev. Storrs, Buddington and Beecher are the respective pastors.

A Havana dispatch says that according to Spanish official reports of the engagement at Los Melones, near Camagney, 650 troops under General Espinosa met 1,800 insurgents, and after a severe fight of six hours and a half the Spaniards retreated, having four officers and fifty privates wounded. Espinosa having been shot off a horse, Cuban advisers say that Espinosa had 1,200 men, only 250 of whom escaped death, wounds or capture.

ROSEN.—At a meeting of iron and steel consumers held yesterday, an association was formed to promote their mutual interests, and resolutions were adopted. With regard to the playing of the Cuban band, the cable gathered on the wharf and hissed as she passed, dipping the flag to Morro Castle and the Spanish vessels.

Immense Damage at Buffalo.
BUFFALO.—The weather and high water caused the ice in the Buffalo river to move about eleven this morning, piling it up in such force against the Pontoon bridge over Ohio street, as to carry that structure, its towers, spanning ten first class vessels down the stream, piling them in one mass against the Michigan street bridge; the bowports of the vessels in their rapid course carried away the lower part of Plympton's elevator and inflicted serious damage to the city and Niagara elevators, and completely demolished the tower of the N. Y. Central R. R. Co.; the loss is estimated at a million dollars. The bridge, which has stood still holds the accumulated mass, but should it give way there is no calculating the damage to vessels and property below. The water is now running into the lake, making the bowports of the vessels in their rapid course carried away the lower part of Plympton's elevator and inflicted serious damage to the city and Niagara elevators, and completely demolished the tower of the N. Y. Central R. R. Co.; the loss is estimated at a million dollars.

Beaver Enterprise Jan. 10.
We learn that the Temple at St. George is progressing finely, the foundation being about completed. A large force of men—probably a hundred and fifty—are working vigorously on the structure, and in the vicinity ring from morning till night with their sturdy blows, and imparting an air of liveliness and cheerfulness to the labor. When finished the building will be an imposing one, the walls being entirely of rock and put together in the most substantial and workmanlike manner; neither labor nor expense will be spared to make it complete in every respect. We understand that it is the intention to have the edifice completed during the summer.

Yesterday Mr. M. R. Wheelwright and Mr. Woodruff, his assistants, arrived in Provo from Salt Lake, bringing with them a large number of the Deseret Telegraph Company. Mr. Wheelwright is one of the best repairmen in the country, and a reliable man in every position he fills. We understand that he will be in the vicinity of Beaver several days, paying their respects to the line, which in places meets their services daily.
