OPENING OF THE SALT PALACE.

Stockholders Meet, Elect Officers, and Make Preparations for Season.

MAX A. PETERS, MANAGER.

Num rous Improvements Contemplated—Theater and Lake to be Constructed—Intention of Owners.

"The Salt Palace is ready for business, and it is the intention of the directors from now on to make it the people's popular amusement resort, second to none in the West," said Mr. Max A. Peters, the general manager of the concern, to a "News" man today.

A meeting of the new stockholders was held yesterday afternoon and the officers named in the articles of incorporation, filed a few days ago with the county clerk, were re-elected, as follows: President, J. B. Forbes; vice-president, O. D. Romney; secretary, F. S. Murphy; treasurer, S. J. Lynn; general manager, Max A. Peters. All the officers are well-known business men and their election to the offices named is certain to give general satisfaction. Mr. Peters is widely known and has been very successful thus far.

WILL HAVE A THEATER.

It is the intention of the owners to construct a new theater on the grounds, where light opera and first-class vaudeville will be given nightly during the summer season. Those who have visited Elitch's Gardens and Manhattan Beach in Denver will appreciate what this means, as it is the intention to secure the same attractions here, as there.

FOND OF CHILDREN.

Among the improvements contemplated is the construction of an artificial lake, with boats, etc., beautifying the grounds, erection of swings, seesaws, etc., for the little folks; erection of a place where the agricultural and other products of the State can be placed on exhibition. Manager Peters is naturally fond of children, but since his appointment, like the candidate for political office, his fondness for them has increased ten-fold.

BICYCLE TRACK.

The bicycle track will be ready for racing as soon as the grounds are thrown open. Larger prizes will be offered this year than last, and the management hopes to secure the best talent in the United States.

OPEN IN MAY.

The season will begin about the middle of May, and everything will be then in first-class condition. A force of men was put to work today on the grounds making necessary repairs and putting things in shape for the proposed improvements.

KINDERGARTEN WORK.

Important Meeting Held at the Ladies' Literary Club House.

Yesterday afternoon the annual reception of the Utah State Kindergarten association was held at the Ladies' Literary club house, a large number being present to show their interest in the aims and work of the association. Miss Mary C. May, the president of the association, made an excellent speech, showing the needs of the enterprise and urging all to interest themselves in its encouragement. She stated that the kindergarten work brings out all that is best in the woman as it does in the child, and that the influence tends to uplift character and develop the capacities of the child without strain or overwork.

Prof. W. M. Stewart, of the normal training school, made an equally excellent address, expressing himself as being in favor of making it a part of the public school system.

Miss Lamson gave a violin solo, with piano accompaniment by Rev. Daniel Scott, and Mrs. Hanson sang two of the kindergarten songs. After the program refreshments were served and a pleasant hour passed in informal discussion of the subject. The event was most interesting and there is no doubt that much good will be accomplished by the clear setting forth of the objects and possibilities of the kindergarten as expressed in the excellent talks made at the meeting.

A SUCCESS FROM EVERY VIEW POINT

Co-op. Wagon & Machine Co's Splendid Affair of Last Night.

THE CROWD WAS IMMENSE

Nearly Twenty-five Hundred People in Attendance—Party Not Shared by Mischap.

There must have been nearly 2,500 people present last night at the Co-op. Wagon & Machine company's new building. They went there to take in the sights and to enjoy themselves, and there is no doubt but they did both to their hearts content. The reception and house warming which the big firm gave was the talk of the town this morning, everybody praising the promoters of the affair for the masterly method in which every detail was attended to by some one or more of the sixty employees who were present to vigilantly look after the wants of their guests. There were a few complaints because of loss of rubbers, hats or wraps, but these losses were the result of people helping themselves without waiting for the assistance of the checkers. Mr. Odell has in his office this morning a small "stray pound," where, in owners may be able to find what they have lost if they call upon him.

BUILDING'S STRENGTH.

The building's strength was thoroughly tested last night at times when probably 1,500 people made simultaneous movements during some of the polkas, when it was given a severe strain from such an order of business. The strain was easily met and the strength of the structure was demonstrated beyond doubt.

BIG CROWD.

For the ball there had been issued 1,000 invitations, from which came 649 written replies. The count of people who actually came reached over 2,300, when it was given a severe strain from such an order of business. The strain was easily met and the strength of the structure was demonstrated beyond doubt.

FAILED OF DELIVERY.

"You might say," explained Mr. Odell last night, "that some people came to see the building and to see the polkas, but when it was given a severe strain from such an order of business, the strain was easily met and the strength of the structure was demonstrated beyond doubt."

THE LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Augusta M. Walden relinquished her duties at the Walker cafe long enough for this night to wait on the implement company and its guests. The lady had a very tasty luncheon prepared and fed over 1,500 people. That it was appreciated by the guests was evidenced by the liberal patronage bestowed upon Mrs. Walden's board.

SPLENDID MUSIC.

The music was splendid, Prof. Magnus Olson having enlarged his orchestra to twenty pieces, consisting of three first violins, second violin, viola, cello, two double basses, flute and piccolo, two clarinets, two cornets, two French horns, bassoon, trombone, piano, drums and "traps." Every number went like clockwork as to precision, and the taste displayed was such as to make musicians can use. There was nothing amateurish or indefinite about it.

HAD A GOOD TIME.

Everybody on that dancing floor had a good time, for this night a stretch half the length of a ten-acre block down which they could trip at will—and most of them did, too. To see some of the old times jump sufficiently high to enable them to pick strawberries from the ground, the old war was put in was a "caution." There was no room in that building for a gloomy visage, and every floor was decorated with smiles, flowers and flags. In order to make the evening feel at home, Mr. James Currie was there officiating as prompter, assisted by a young gentleman to give the new style when necessary. Among those who enjoyed the affair were Presidents Snow, Cannon and Smith; Governor Richards; Mr. Whitman, of the Whitman Agricultural Implement Company of St. Louis, and many other prominent men of all walks in life; while Mrs. M. D. Wells, Mrs. George T. Odell, Mrs. A. W. Thompson, Mrs. Seymour B. Young, Mrs. W. H. Bird, Mrs. W. L. Ellerbeck and Mrs. A. W. Howat, acted as chaperones.

CONCERT UPSTAIRS.

On the third floor were Prof. Daynes and the Utah and Orion quartets, who gave musical selections while the people gazed themselves upon the bounteous tables presided over by Mrs. Walden.

AT BUSINESS AGAIN.

It was 1 o'clock this morning when "Home Sweet Home" from the orchestra signalled the closing time, and then the merry laugh of pleasure-filled people ended a most enjoyable night. At 10 o'clock this morning all the decorations were down, vehicles stored away in the previously vacant space, and business was going on as if nothing had happened. The company has now ready the finest display of vehicles and implements ever seen in this State.

SHOWN AROUND.

There was one group of quiet people that wanted to be shown around, and although Manager Odell had promulgated a rule that no "shop" should be talked during the evening, his natural geniality caused him to accede to a request of this kind of people and he showed them through "from cellar to garret." As the different points were reached he explained them thoroughly, beginning with a general statement of the size of the building.
