

NUISANCE FOUND BY DR. STEWART

Asked City Council for Permission to Employ Teams and Men.

AN INVESTIGATION ORDERED.

Place Referred to is on Fourth South Near Jordan River—Meeting Presided Over by Black.

At the meeting of the city council last night Health Commissioner Stewart demonstrated to the satisfaction of the few councilmen present that he knows a nuisance when he sees it. He called their attention to a nuisance which exists on Fourth South street near the Jordan river, and asked the permission of the council to hire teams with which to fill up the slough complained of. He also called the council's attention to a protest filed in the health office against the city dumping ground on North Temple street and asked that the sanitary committee and board of health investigate the matter. His communication stated that the protest was attached to the letter but Recorder Moreton was unable to find it and hence it was not read to the council. Only eight members of the council were present at the meeting last night, which was presided over by Councilman Black.

POSTAL SAVINGS.

A communication was received from John Goldreit, chairman of the committee which is stirring up a sentiment in favor of the establishment of postal savings banks by the government, in which he asked the city council to adopt the following resolution endorsing the plan:

Whereas, repeated failures of savings banks involving small savings of taxpayers and others have demonstrated the necessity of a system by which such savings can be made absolutely secure, and

Whereas, this question has been solved in other countries by the institution of postal savings banks which have been proven to be effective in the encouragement of thrift and economy among the people, therefore, be it

Resolved, That in favor of the establishment of a postal savings bank in the United States and urge upon Congress the speedy necessity of the enactment of laws for that purpose.

The matter was referred to the finance committee.

Health Commissioner Stewart called the council's attention to an excavation on Fourth South street near the Jordan river made during the past summer by Frank Mellen who has been hauling sand from the place. Water has accumulated in the excavation and has become stagnant, thus creating a nuisance. Mellen has been arrested for creating a nuisance and the case is still pending. The commissioner asked permission to hire teams to fill the hole up and thereby abate the nuisance. The council voted to allow the collection from Mellen. The council granted the request and the nuisance will be abated.

Dr. Stewart also submitted a communication for the council to consider at a number of residents against the city dumping ground on North Temple street west of the Jordan river. The matter was considered by the board of health and it decided to pass it up to the city council to see what can be done towards securing a new dumping ground. The matter was referred to the sanitary committee with the mayor and board of health associated.

RALEIGH COMPLAINS.

Street Supervisor Raleigh called the attention of the council to the practice of the gas and sewer contractors of unloading their pipes in the gutters thus blocking the same and causing the heavy storms thereby causing much damage to the streets and lawns. The supervisor stated that he had called the contractors' attention to the matter several times but they had failed to remedy the evil hence he asked that the council take some action regarding it. The streets committee will make an investigation.

Chief of Police Sheets sent in the appointment of H. J. Curran as a policeman to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Patrolman J. E. Evans. The appointment was confirmed.

City Recorder Moreton reported that during the month of August the receipts in the criminal division of the city court in fines and forfeitures amounted to $1,794.25. The receipts of the civil division of the court amounted to $141.75 and the receipts of the juvenile court amounted to $12.

Drop by drop the offensive discharge caused by Nasal Catarrh falls from the back of the nose into the throat, setting up an inflammation that is likely to mean chronic Bronchitis. The certain, rational cure for Catarrh is Ely's Cream Balm, and the relief that follows even the first application can be told in words. Don't suffer a day longer from the discomfort of Nasal Catarrh. Cream Balm is sold by all druggists for 50 cents, or mailed by The Bros., 25 Warren street, New York.

AFTER MULVEY.

City Council Considers His Absence At Rehearsal of Play.

The city council last night had a session devoted to fun at the expense of Councilman Martin E. Mulvey. The war made against a city official on the grounds that he devotes time to private enterprises, was used as the excuse for landing Mulvey on the charge of working a graft on the Press Club of Salt Lake. Mulvey is cast in the Press Club show, and has been absenting himself from committee meetings during rehearsals. He was absent last night, and Councilman Fernstrom voted into his reputation and standing with the following resolution:

Whereas, A resolution is now pending in this council providing that no city official shall devote any time to private interests while working for the city, and whereas, the city council is now engaged in business of vital importance at Salt Lake City, requiring all the time and attention of its members; and

Whereas, It is understood that a certain member of this council is now endeavoring to appear in public on Thursday night of this week when it is very essential to the city's welfare that all the committee be engaged in the transaction of city business; and

Whereas, Rumor has reached this council that a member of this body is about to engage in the production of certain jokes and humorous insinuations that will reflect gravely upon the dignity of this council and said jokes are known as "The Old Bedstead,"

Whereas, It is understood that by placing in the production of said jokes a member of this council will have a single with members of the newspaper profession, a further reflection upon the character and integrity of the council; and

Whereas, It is understood that the

HAY FEVER

"Having used Peruna for catarrh and hay fever, I can recommend it to all who are suffering with the above diseases. I am happy to be able to say it has helped me wonderfully."

—Mayne E. Smith.

MISS MAYNE SMITH.

44 E. Mound Street, Columbus, Ohio.

HAY FEVER is endemic catarrh. It is caused by some irritating substance in the atmosphere during the late summer months. It is generally thought that the pollen of certain weeds and flowers is the cause of it.

Change of locality seems to be the only rational cure. The use of Peruna, however, stimulates the nervous system to resist the effect of the poisonous emanations and sometimes carries the victim through the hay fever season without an attack of the disease.

A large number of people rely upon Peruna for this purpose. Those who do not find it convenient to change their location to avoid Hay Fever, would do well to give Peruna a trial. It has proven of priceless value to many people.

Unwritten record of this city council is to be exposed at the presentation of "The Old Bedstead" on Thursday night of this week, therefore

Be it resolved, That this council is unalterably opposed to being made the butt of jokes by newspaper men, that it is beneath the dignity of this council to allow any of its members to become involved in any such nefarious practice as called for by the production of a play, that it is the sense of this council that no member thereof shall at any time be allowed to rob the city of the time to which it is justly entitled and give it to an inferior corporation or organization.

The speech of Councilman Fernstrom supporting his resolution was a warm one, and when the Press Club officers learned this morning what a commotion their play is causing they were sorry, the house was sold out yesterday, so that they can't avail themselves of the free advertising furnished by the council.

Whereas, Black agreed with Fernstrom that the charges were serious, and then the father of the resolution unbundled himself again, declaring that he objected to a member of the city council mixing with a crowd of newspaper men.

The resolution failed to pass, and Martin stood under by standing up for the newspaper bunch. His counter resolution, which was passed, is as follows:

Whereas, An honored member of this council has allied himself temporarily with the Salt Lake Press club in order to take part in their biennial production at the Salt Lake theatre Thursday night; and

Whereas, The regular committee meetings of the city council are usually held on Thursday night; therefore, Be it resolved, That the council dispense with the committee meetings this week and attend the production of "The Old Bedstead," lending all the sympathy and encouragement to those in the cast, and bestowing particularly for the councilman from the Fifth ward, it being understood that every boost will result in upholding the enviable reputation of this city council.

NEWSPAPER MAN ON NOVEL JOURNEY

Charles K. Jackson, "Tramp" Correspondent for Hearst Papers Here.

WAS IN THE RUSSO-JAP WAR.

Did Not Look Like a Hobo Until "Bill" Glasmann of Ogden Tore His Clothing.

Charles K. Jackson, special correspondent for the New York American and the Hearst papers, arrived in Salt Lake last evening, riding on the "blind baggage" of the Oregon Short Line passenger train. He left New York a week ago last Saturday, and rode to Chicago on the Empire State express, strapped to the mail car next the engine. From the Windy City to Omaha he rode in similar fashion, and came in over the Union Pacific, missing the Los Angeles limited wreck of yesterday morning by 24 hours.

Mr. Jackson does not look like a tramp, in fact would appear to be a prosperous citizen, but for the fact that William Glasmann in Ogden desired to get a souvenir from him, and during the process nearly ripped the coat from off his back.

IN RUSSO-JAP WAR.

The war correspondent who went through the Russo-Jap war and incidentally spent two and a half weeks in prison in Tokio is attempting to travel around the world without spending a cent. So far he has been successful. He had a good supper and breakfast at a main street restaurant, and also slept well at the Ogden as a favored "guest." Mr. Jackson is a comparatively young man, and is known among the "boys" on Printers' square as "Happy," the tramp correspondent.

He is not traveling a hobo because his employers are unable to get transportation for him since the new rate bill went into effect, but simply for the reason that he believes that this mode of travel will enable him to furnish weekly letters to his papers, written from a novel standpoint. Shortly after his arrival in Ogden yesterday he was taken in hand by J. C. Leggett, who introduced him to Albert Scowcroft. One of the first things Mr. Scowcroft did was to present him with a cowboy hat. Then they took an automobile tour of the city and visited the Hermitage, where Billy Williams gave them one of his famous hand-outs.

GOING TO FRISCO.

This trip was badly smoked up on the trip to Salt Lake behind one of the big Hartman locomotive, but "Happy" arrived smiling and proceeded to hunt up a place to stay. He went into Young's cafe and remarked to the night manager, "I am awfully hungry, haven't got a cent and am willing to wash dishes for a meal." The result was that he got a good dinner without the formality of waiting with the cookery in the kitchen. He then broke the news to the staff, and was invited to make the place his headquarters during his stay in town. The last seen of Jackson this afternoon was over on the tabernacle square with notebook in hand. He then stated that he was going to make a break for San Francisco this evening with the object in view of beating his way across to Japan, and then from there around the world. He believed that he will get back to New York next February.

Although he carries passes from the railroad companies in case of a pinch he is beating his way, for he is prevented by the terms of his contract from using transportation and riding in comfort.

HIS CREDENTIALS.

"With the exception of the run west from Cheyenne I have had no trouble," he said, "Jeff Carr, whose brother was murdered some time ago by tramps, is death on all hobos, and he chased me and some other tramps off the brakebeam several times. Finally I showed him my credentials, and he stowed me away in the baggage car, and I came through to Evanston all right, where my troubles again commenced."

In addition to his passes Mr. Jackson carries many credentials, including letters from W. R. Hearst and Arthur Brisbane.

DEMOCRATIC CONFERENCE.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Dist. Atty. William Travers Jerome of New York, was the central figure in the conference of up-state Democrats, called to meet here today to consider the condition of the Democratic party in the state of New York. It was declared by the sponsors of the conference, leading among whom was ex-Mayor Thomas M. Osborne of Auburn, that Mr. Jerome was present merely as a speaker, not as a party to the conference, and that the meeting was not in the interest of his candidacy or that of any other man for the Democratic nomination for governor.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Can You?

It is a matter each individual must decide for himself. He can be a leader and semi-king if he will, or he can go along through life a drugged clown, a cheap "never of wood or carrier of water."

Certain it is that while the Great Father of us all does not seem to "mind" if some of his children are foolish and stupid, he seems to select others (perhaps those he intends for some special work) and allows them to be thrashed and castigated most fearfully by certain "levelers."

If a man tries flitting with these levelers awhile, and gets a few slaps on a hint, he had better take the hint or a good solid blow will follow.

And what are these "levelers"? With many a leveler that keeps him or her back is just plain old fashioned coffee when it weakens heart, destroys digestion or sets up anyone of the many forms of disease directly traceable to it.

When a man tries to live upright, clear, thrifty, sober, and undrugged, manifesting as near as he knows what the Creator intends he should, happiness, health and peace seem to come to him. Does it pay?

This article was written to set people thinking, to rouse the "God-within" for every highly organized man and woman have times when they feel a something calling from within for them to press to the front and "be about the Father's business." Don't mistake it! The spark of the Infinite is there and it pays in every way, health, happiness, peace, and even worldly prosperity, to break out the habits and strip clean for the work cut out for us. If there would a world, would be properly equipped for the "business," whatever that may be, and coffee is shown to be the enemy in disguise. It pays to quit and use the food coffee—Postum—the reformer is sure and easily established.

ENGLISH SCORED BY HINDU DOCTOR

Said Government Forced Opium Traffic Upon Unwilling Oriental.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE.

Speaker Characterized House of Lords An Institute of Gratology—Complimented This Country.

Dr. Krishna, the Hindu scholar, lectured last evening in Unlay hall before a small but appreciative audience. While the doctor has an excellent English vocabulary, his enunciation is not good and it is difficult to understand what he says in any connected sense. He gave the English government a scorching for forcing the opium traffic on the unwilling oriental, and maintaining an army and great corps of costly officials in India at the expense of the life blood of its people. Dr. Krishna called attention to the fact that in the purely native provinces there was no starvation or suffering to speak of—this is confined to British India, where 40 to 60 per cent of the native's product goes to the English people who tell of the wrongs that are inflicted upon the natives of India, are denounced by the British today as traitors. India is the mother of the arts, the culture and the civilization of the world. The arts and civilization of India thousands of years ago spread to Greece, to Persia, to Italy and to other countries, gradually gaining foothold all over the world.

"We Indians are not barbarous. We have a written history that extends in an unbroken line for 6,000 years. While our temporal or profane history is 6,000 years old, our religious history is even older. You call us idolaters. At the same time the members of the Greek Catholic, the Roman Catholic and the Moravian Catholic churches are not called idolaters when they worship facsimiles of the cross of Christ. What the cross is to the Catholic, the Episcopal and other faiths, the wooden and graven images of the Hindus and Mohammedans are to them—Symbols of something deeper, higher, broader than the mere material form to which they bow. You call us Hindus idolaters because we worship our ancestors. Yet at the same time your homes are filled with the pictures and images of your heroic dead—your Washington, your Lincoln, your Grant. Your living idols, Roosevelt, Bryan and other statesmen have their pictures on your walls. You say you do not worship these pictures and images, but that you respect the men whose lives have been an inspiration to you. The same rule applies to the hundreds of wooden gods of India. You accuse us of ancestor worship, yet you heap beautiful flowers on the graves of your dead. It is all right for the Christians to do this, but for the Hindu to do exactly the same thing and for the same reason, it is all wrong."

Dr. Krishna will lecture on Hindu wisdom next Saturday night, in Unity hall.
