For the add, guide sub strengthen them, so that them was sented in the forst that the scale strengthen them, so that the sca He has sent an ANGEL FROM HEAVEN to utter His message to man, as in the case of Cornelius. Again, He has at times impressed men with His spirit to such an extent that the will of God was such an extent that the will of God was manifested to their minds, so that they could say, like Jeremiab, "Thus saith the Lord!" Also as it was given through Isalah, Maiachi and others of those ancient prophets who wrote their glorious testimony with poetic fire, and sent down to odr age in worlds of beautiful simplicity, their predic-tions concerning the "latter days." God impressed these souls with His prophetic spirit. He sowed the spir-itual seed in the fertile furrows of their minds, and it sprang forth unto life everiasting. It was like Divinity begetting in the mind of man the glorious gift of revelation, to make him more like his Father--God. God chas set the seal of inspiration apon the minds of His chosen servants— men doubtless selected before the world was—and in the fullness of this blessing they have declared in His blessing they have declared in His the events which would come to pass in the world's history. In other cases, such as that of Daniel for instance, the Lord manifested Himself in other ways. On one occasion when Daniel fasted for twenty-one days, eating no pleasant feed, God sent an angel to him, and this angel poitrayed before this spiritual vision. I might say; as doubtless it was his spirit-ual eyes which beheld the things shown him; the grand and beautiful symbolism of the four beasts, which I will not detail here this evening, and with w ich all readers of Scripture are acquainted. In this manner the Lord made manifest the future of the world; thus symbolizing the rising up of the four greatest empires mankind has ever seen, and from which have descended the smaller nations which
