

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Seventies' Meeting.—Notice is hereby given, that the regular meeting of the Seventies will be held in the Council Room, to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, at 7 o'clock.

Robert Campbell, Clerk.
 Salt Lake City, Oct. 19, 1880.

Coal Promised.—We are glad to hear that the coal companies will be able to supply the city with coal in the future.

Heavy Snow.—During the last storm a foot of snow fell in the canyon, and all the stock passing there had to be driven at a slow and laborious pace.

Pleasant Voyage.—The company that left here on the 15th inst., for New York, via the steamer "Albatross," arrived safely at New York on the 18th inst.

Unruly Sabbath Breakers.—We are informed that on Sunday last a number of young men went to the Church Farm, on the Jordan river, for a day's hunting and fishing. They were at first playful, but finally became unruly and two of them, in a fit of rage, fired their guns, killing a number of the game.

A New Tract.—The "Plan of Salvation" is the title of a new tract, written by Elder John M. Brown, and published at the Juvenile Instructor Office. It treats of the three vital questions: Where we come from, why we are here, and where we go after we leave this life. It is well written, nicely printed, and may be read with profit by all. Price 3 cents.

Smash Up.—An alarming accident occurred in City Creek Canyon yesterday afternoon, but the termination was not serious. A wagon and team belonging to Counselor H. H. Wells, started on a runaway from the Empire Mill toward the city, and collided near the water works with the light delivery wagon of Woods and May. The shock threw the driver of the latter vehicle, a boy named Edwards, out into the road, scratched and bruised him considerably, and badly damaged his wagon. The other wagon was knocked into the creek and also broken, and one of the horses hurt. The boy Edwards lay insensible until the driver of the large wagon, who had been thrown out when his animal started at the mill, came to his assistance. Dr. Bennett was summoned but it was found that no bones were broken.

Destructive Fire.—The Logan family's residence, on 7th street, between 7th and 8th streets, was destroyed by fire on Thursday evening last. The house was a two-story building, and was occupied by the Logan family. The fire broke out at about 8 o'clock, and spread rapidly, consuming the entire structure. The cause of the fire is not known.

The Wymans.—A very good house greeted the first appearance of the Wymans last evening, and from the applause and laughter called forth it was plain to see that the great majority of the audience enjoyed the entertainment. It has been some time since the eccentricities of the German character were portrayed upon our stage, and the acting, singing and dancing of the Wymans, therefore, struck the right chord in the public breast. Mr. Wymans is a very good singer, reminding one forcibly of the celebrated Emmett, and is the Dutchman in very word and deed. His wife is a petite blonde, vivacious and sprightly, a fine dancer and good singer. We have seen better artists than Mr. and Mrs. Wymans before our footlights, but that is saying nothing to their discredit. Of the play of "Yakie," we are in no wise enthusiastic. It does not rank with the first musical sensations of the day, though it has some fine scenery and effects, is original in plot and contains some new humorous sayings, but the plot is very weak. In fact the whole thing is a bundle of sensations, put together in a style not any too artistic. It has quite a number of incongruities, left to the auditor for self explanation, and these mar the interest of the piece considerably. In most sensational dramas it is customary for the villain to be measurably successful until the close of the play reveals his dark designs, and his punishment is promptly administered. In "Yakie," the villain is foiled at the close of nearly every scene, and almost becomes an object of sympathy from having no chance to fairly expose pose himself, and do something deserving of the disasters that overtake him at every turn. We do not think the author does himself any credit by announcing "Yakie" to the world as his "great play." In respect to the acting, some was very good. Mr. Norris, who played the husband in the farce and the villain in the play, is unquestionably a talented actor. His facial play is fine, and he has a graceful carriage. One or two of the ladies are also fair players. The performance upon the xylophone was excellent, and the professor well deserved the encore he received.

To-night, "Black Diamonds," by a Chicago author, will be presented. Mr. Wymans will then have a chance to exhibit his "burnt cork" comedies.

Gone to Rest.—We have received an extended obituary of Elder Wm. M. Richards, of Greenville, Beaver County, a notice of whose death appeared last evening. Elder Richards, as stated yesterday, joined the Church in Wales, in 1840, regardless of persecutions then raging, and in 1849 was ordained to the office of a priest. A year later he was made an elder and became first counselor to Elder W. S. Phillips, then presiding over the Rhymney Branch of the Church. He afterwards presided over this branch and subsequently over the Merioneth, Montgomery, Shire and Carmarthen Conferences, successively, and in 1854 emigrated to Utah, arriving in Salt Lake in time to attend the October Conference of that year, after which he went to Cedar City and resided there three years, laboring hard to institute a manufactory of iron. In 1857 he removed to Beaver, and three years afterward to Greenville, four miles west of that city, which he made his home until the day of his death, and presided over the Saints of the settlement. He leaves a large family and numerous friends to mourn his loss, and is spoken of as a man of sterling integrity, a true Latter-day Saint. Volumes could not say more.

Returned.—Apostle Brigham Young returned yesterday morning from his trip through the south country, upon which he started in company with Apostle Erastus Snow and Elder F. M. Lyman on the 19th of last August. Interesting accounts of their travels and experience have appeared in the News continuously since their departure, from the pen of Elder Lyman, with which our readers are already familiar. Brother Young separated from his companions at Sunset, Arizona, and came home by way of Albuquerque and Denver, on the railroad. He is not looking as well as usual, and has not had very good health during the journey. Brother Snow and Lyman parted at Kanab, and the former went on to St. George, leaving Elder Lyman coming north. Brother Snow, after a visit to his home, again set out and reached this city last evening. Brother Lyman is visiting friends in Fillmore and Provo, and will probably be here about Thursday or Friday. Both of the latter enjoyed good health on the whole of the trip. We bid the party a hearty welcome home.

A Good Suggestion.—It is suggested by Superintendent Goddard, and the suggestion is a good one, that those Sabbath Schools which are to participate in the coming Jubilee are not yet well trained in their singing, hold rehearsals during the week, to prepare them for the grand practice in the Assembly Hall next Sunday morning. It is desirable that but one grand rehearsal be given, and as some of the schools are behind in their practice, the above suggestion is made for their benefit. Other wise it will necessitate another Sunday morning being devoted to the Assembly Hall for the purpose named. We trust all who can will heed this timely hint and act accordingly. Give the children plenty of good vocal exercise, so that the Jubilee will prove a big success.

"Woman's Exponent."—The Exponent for October 15th, came out on Saturday. It is of usual worth and interest. "Pen Sketch of an Illustrious Woman," is continued, and "The Brigham Young Academy," by Zina W. Williams, is concluded. Considerable space is devoted to the Decision of the Supreme Court in the mandamus case, and with "A Leaf from My Diary," (Aunt Jane), a short editorial on the General Conference, correspondence, home affairs, etc., completes the catalogue of prose. The poetical department is represented by "Behold the Dawn," an effusion very appropriate to the times, written by Emily Hill Woodmansee, and a little sketch with no title, included in one of the prose articles above named.

The Cause.—Watermaster Wilcox desires us to say in reply to the statements made in last night's paper for his benefit, that the residents of the 19th Ward Bench and vicinity are mistaken as to the reason why the water does not flow along their ditch in abundance at present. It is due not to its being diverted intentionally from the regular channel, but to the existence of a number of gopher holes near the bed of the stream through which the water has been leaking for some time, and running to waste in another direction. The watermaster is now at work repairing the ditch and the usual amount of the aqueous will soon gladden the hearts of the thirty bench residents. Be patient.

Fire Over the River.—This forenoon word was brought to the fire department in this city, that a fire was raging on the premises of Bishop Nathan Davis, on the west side of the Jordan. A hand engine and hose cart was immediately dispatched to the scene, and this afternoon, shortly before 3 o'clock, the big steam engine was also sent over the river, as the flames were reported to be spreading, and the house, outbuildings and stacks in danger of being consumed. Particulars as to the origin of the blaze and the amount of damage done, have not yet reached us.

Moody and Sankey.—Moody and Sankey, the renowned revivalists, are on their way west. They left Omaha to-day. They will pay Salt Lake a visit and hold meetings, previous to continuing on their trip to the Coast.

The Latest.—The latest number of Puck contains some telling sketches and caricatures. The cartoon of Cinderella is especially fine, and tells the story of Hayes' pacific, prosperous and cleanly administration, the ingratitude of his party, and the vanity of Conkling and Grant. Puck stands A. 1 in the list of the world's comic papers. It can be had of Jas. Dowley, also Harper's Weekly and Monthly, Frank Leslie's Illustrated Family Herald, and all the leading American and English periodicals.

Various Causes. Advancing years, care, sickness, disappointed, and hereditary predisposition—all operate to turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR will restore faded or gray, light or red hair to a rich brown or deep black, as may be desired. It softens and cleanses the scalp, giving it a healthy action. It removes and cures dandruff and humors. By its use falling hair is checked, and a new growth will be produced in all cases where the follicles are not destroyed or the glands decayed. Its effects are beautifully shown on brash, weak, or sickly hair, on which a few applications will produce the gloss and freshness of youth. Harmless and sure in its operation, it is invaluable as a dressing, and is especially valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts. It contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil or color white hair, and yet it lasts long on the hair, and keeps it fresh and vigorous. 85c
