General Superintendent of Pennsylvania Warehouse and Safety Deposit Company.

Philadelphia, March 6.—Charles T. Moloney, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Warehouse & Safety Deposit Company, cashed what is alleged to be a forged check for $7,000 on the Girard National bank on Saturday. The check bore the name of A. Bright, treasurer of the Pennsylvania company, and William Rommel, secretary of the company. It was presented in the bank by Moloney, it is said, to pay the bill of the Girard National bank, which he had cashed for him. The bank, however, refused to cash the check, and Moloney, who paid the money without a receipt, was forced to return it. The board of directors of the bank today considered the matter. A director said that the $7,000 was not refunded to the company, although he admitted that the check was "legally responsible for the money."

It does that invariably, and the results are permanent. I speak from a lifetime's experience with diseases that no common treatment cures. It will make you well all over.

A Month on Trial.

Simply send me this coupon or write me a postal card, stating which book you need. I will then mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Senor Silva, in a lengthy speech, quoted figures to prove that even if the allegations made that the sugar trust and other interests would benefit under the reciprocity treaty were true, the result could not be otherwise than beneficial to Cuba.

It has been asserted that the sugar and tobacco industries will make additional profit under the treaty of $6,000,000 annually.

TELEGRAMS FROM AGUINALDO

War Department Publishes His Correspondence.

FOUND BY CAPT. R. T. TAYLOR

They Show That the Insurgent Leader Leaned Strongly Upon Others For Advice.

Washington, March 6.—The bureau of insular affairs, war department, has just published a pamphlet of 46 pages giving the telegraphic correspondence of Emilio Aguinaldo from July 15, 1898, to Feb. 28, 1899, the period just preceding the fall of Manila and following the outbreak of hostilities between the United States forces and the insurgents. These telegrams were discovered by Capt. John R. Taylor, Fourteenth infantry, among a mass of papers captured from the so-called insurgent government. They are sufficiently complete to show that the insurgent leader leaned strongly upon others for advice and counsel, that there was serious opposition to his authority even among his own people, and that an attack upon the Americans at Manila had been fully decided upon before the outbreak of hostilities on Feb. 4, 1899, and that in the event of a struggle, Aguinaldo would have been a successful general. The telegrams would have been a valuable asset to the insurgent government, but they were captured by the American forces and their officers.
