

The most curious instance of a change of instinct is mentioned by Darwin. The bees carried over to Barbadoes and the Western Islands, ceased to lay up honey after the first year. They found the weather so fine, and materials for honey so plentiful, that they quitted their grave, prudent and mercantile character, became exceedingly profligate and debauched, ate up their capital, resolved to work no more, and amused themselves by flying about the sugar houses and stinging the negroes. Human nature.

Men are frequently like tea;—the real strength and goodness is not properly drawn out of them till they have been a short time in hot water.

Those who have promised wheat will please bring in their wheat as early as they can make it convenient, to the tithing store. And all persons who remember their covenants in the Temple in Nauvoo, are requested to donate of their substance forthwith, that the blessings of a poor but grateful people may be showered down upon their heads—always bearing this scripture in mind "It is more blessed to give than to receive," and "He who giveth unto the poor lendeth unto the Lord."
