In Woman's World.

A dress that involves labor, but fully recompenses one for any amount of time spent upon it, is one of the new shirred gowns that so far have been seen only at the smartest dressmaking houses here and abroad. It has a sort of princess tunic bodyand overdress that reaches a little below the knees and is shirred in closely to the figure at the The bodice is cut out at the throat under an odd-shaped coliarette or empiecement that can be worn semidecollete or with a little chemisette of with a little chemisete of a roundation lining, close-fitting and lengthened with a deep flounce that supplies the underskirt to the tunic. It was effective in a very pale shell-plak tissue—the lower edge of both the over and under skirt worked with over and under skirt worked straight bands of crystal beads. mousquetaire sleeves were cut off at the elbow and finished with wide ruffles of silver Spanish lace. The collar-plece of the dress was of silver tissue worked

a deceptively extravagant sound, for the metallic laces and tissues are not exorbitantly expensive, and the bead-work, for a clever woman, represents no further outlay than the price of the beads, these being easily sewed on to a foundation

The yoke skirt that was looked on a bit doubtfully when it first made its appearance a few months ago has met appearance a few months ago has met with the most unparalleled success both here and abroad. Frenchwomen particularly have caught it up with the greatest enthusiasm, and from all accounts of the French and English races one saw little else among smartly gowned women. A lovely dress in a very fine silk-finished batiste has the tucked and lace-trimmed skirt mounted on a deep voke that reaches down ed on 2 deep yoke that reaches down well below the hips. The tucks—or rather platts—start at the lower edge of the yoke, and are stitched down for six or eight inches. Often the plain water will be enough to move a slightly constipated person, but, if not, a mild medicated water may be taken instead. It is very essential to keep the bowels open in cases of rheumatism.

Uric acid in the system is a poison and it must not be forgotten that poland it must not be forgetten that por-sonous waste matter is also eliminated through the skin. The pores of the skin must be kept freely open and not allowed to become clogged, if we hope to obtain the best results with rheuma-tic cases. A hot bath at bedtime is often very helpful.

HOW TO WALK. The first essential of graceful walking is poise. The weight of the body must be adjusted over the balls of the feet. In correct poise, the chest always leads, the abdomen recedes, the back and head assume their right positions. It goes without saying that there can be no without saying that there can be no grace in a hasty walk. Haste causes irregular and uncertain movements of all portions of the body, detracts from a woman's dignity and makes rhythm impossible.

Activity and right use of the feet are were eating supper, when the child, who had been thinking real hard, looked and said, "Mama, you was born in Idaho and I form—in bearing the weight and propelling the body. When the standing

COAT OF JETTED NET.

The transparent coat is a feature of dressy wear this season. Of course, there is no warmth to such a coat, but its effect over a frock of delicate color is very beautiful. Over this corn-colored satin costume the black lace coat shows to good advantage and the effect is completed by the big hat faced with pale yellow and heaped with par adise aigrettes in black.

was born in Chicago; ain't it funny how we all got together?"

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM.

To cure rheumatism, it is necessary to rid the system of the excess of urle acid; and to do this a proper diet is even more important than the use of drugs, though in very severe cases the latter are not to be despised in conjunction, with the dieting that is absolutely the median and the heel at all. The result is a minority to with the dieting that is absolutely the heel at all. The result is a minority of the median and the heel at all. The Massachusetts General hospital of Boston allows the following diet for its rheumatic patients: Graham or brown bread, white bread (limited to one-half slice daily), corn, granum, rice, milk, eggs, flour, puddings, crackers, beans, peas, all kinds of vegetables except potatoes, tomatoes and aspara-gus, rhubarb, fresh fish, butter, cheese, buttermilk, cream, alkaline waters and toast. Avoid: Red meats, starch or po-tatoes, white bread and sugars.

The sensible use of water, both inernally and externally, plays a large part in the prevention or cure of rheumatism. One or two glasses, either hot or cold, taken before breakfast every morning is excellent to start the ward from the hip, the knee acting in touching first. The weight is so quick-ly transferred that the heel makes no ing gait wholly without dighity or

The position of the feet should be straight. The weight of the body being on one foot while the other is swinging forward, the strongest position of the foot should be taken, which is practically straight. As children are always taught to "turn their toes out" this will surprise many.

The carriage of the shoulders is an important element in graceful walking. Nervousness, self-consciousness and naste show n stiffness of the shoulders also in the aggressive clbows and clasped hands. If the chest is well up and forward, the shoulders will take their natural position and the arms hang at the sides. Forget your shoulders and think only of your chest. ders and think only of your chest.
