

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 14.

BREAKERS AHEAD.

Likelihood of Lively Developments in the Church Cases.

JUDGE ZANE APPEARS FOR THE SCHOOLS.

Lest the Whole Amount be Taken for Attorney's Fees, and Incidental Expenses.

Yesterday afternoon, before Judge E. T. Sprague, two more witnesses, M. Kirkpatrick and C. W. Bennett, testified as to the amount of compensation they thought the attorneys for the receiver in the suits for the Church property should have for their year's services. These witnesses also, were of opinion that $10,000 each, or $20,000 in all was not too much. It was admitted, however, that their firm did not receive half that sum in the D. & R. G. cases, where the amount involved reached into the millions.

The "compensation" claims have been so unusually large as to attract general attention. One prominent attorney suggested "they think they have a fat goose to pluck, and don't mean to leave any pickings." The state of things created considerable interest, especially among members of the bar, and the session of the TERRITORIAL SUPREME COURT, at which the Examiner's report was expected to be made, was well attended this forenoon. Chief Justice Sandford, and Associate Justices Boreman, Henderson and Judd were present.

Considerable time was consumed in reading the minutes of the last session, as the degree of the court in the Church cases was entered in extenso.

This concluded, S. P. Brown, of Colorado, and Lieut. R. W. Young, of this city, were admitted to the bar on taking the prescribed oath.

P. L. Williams asked for the report of the Examiner in regard to the compensation and accounts of the receiver and his attorneys in the suit of the United States against the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He said that so far as the receiver and his attorneys were concerned, they were prepared for the report.

District Attorney Peters arose and stated that he was not now appearing for the government in the case, but for the receiver. He had requested the Attorney General of the United States to send some one to represent the government and that official had designated District Attorney Hobson, of Colorado, but Mr. Hobson had been too busy to come. Mr. Peters therefore asked a postponement of the date of making the referee's report.

Mr. Young joined in the request for delay for the Church attorneys to look at the Receiver's accounts.

At this point Judge Zane arose and asked leave of the Court to appear in the case. The schools of the Territory were interested in the disposal of the Church funds escheated to the government. The United States had no representative here to care for its interests, and he had been employed by the trustees of various school districts to appear on their behalf and state their claims. The judge had been employed just as he was coming into court, therefore he had not made his application in writing. The law says that the Church property confiscated "shall be disposed of by the Secretary of the Interior, and the proceeds thereof applied to the use and benefit of the common schools in the Territory in which such property may be." This being the case, the school districts had a right to be heard in their own interest.

P. L. Williams said he thought the school trustees had no more right to be heard than did the ministers of various denominations or the City Council of Salt Lake City. The Attorney-General of the United States had appeared unconcerned in the matter, and had no representative present. Mr. Williams could therefore see no necessity for a postponement on the grounds stated by Mr. Peters. As to the schools of the Territory, they were entitled to certain proceeds if the property was escheated; then the funds were to be distributed by the Interior Department. He therefore opposed any steps leading to a delay in the Examiner's report.

Judge Sandford—Mr. Williams, you are connected with the school interests of the Territory—Commissioner of Schools, I think. How many school trustees are there?

Mr. Williams—About 1,000. I could not give the exact number without reference to my records; but there are over 300 school districts and each district is a distinct organization with three trustees.

Court—We will hear Judge Zane's petition on behalf of the school districts if he will put it in writing. The case does not appear to be ready, and the court will give further time. Judge Zane will prepare his claim in writing so we can consider it.

Judge Gilchrist suggested that Judge Zane be permitted to come in for all the trustees, so that the matter could be decided for all at once.

Court—If these 1000 trustees desire to come in and present their claims, we will consider that point. We will give till next Saturday, the 24th, for a further hearing of this matter. Meantime the court will take a recess till 2:30 p. m., when Messrs. Sheeks, Critchlow and Varian will act as an examining committee on applicants for admission to the bar.

OBSERVATIONS.

When Mr. Peters made the announcement that he was not counsel for the government but for the receiver, it caused a buzz among the attorneys, but when Judge Zane asked leave to appear for the schools, matters grew decidedly interesting. Messrs. Williams and Peters looked at each other, and the glance indicated that they were not at ease under the proposition. One attorney leaned over and remarked: "I guess others want a hand in this. If Judge Zane gets in he will make that $10,000 business feel pretty sick, and there will be some fun." Altogether there may be some interesting features before the case closes up.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 13.

Bear Lake Bits.

A correspondence from this section of the country says:

"The weather is cold and stormy; very little snow on the ground. Winter has set in early. Bear Lake State Academy opened on the 13th, with George Osmond as principal and Oliver Dunford, counselor."

A Thief Nabbed.

On Saturday night a coat was stolen from in front of Lipman & Co's. The police were notified, and soon after spotted an individual named John Flynn. The latter was arrested, and at the trial this afternoon, he was convicted. The court sentenced him to 30 days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $100.

Baby Drowned.

A one-year-old daughter of Hartly and Emma Sills, of Fairview, Sanpete County, on the 23rd ult., accidentally fell into a well barrel and was strangled to death. Five minutes before the child was a corpse, she was seen playing around in the door yard with her little sister. The barrel, as usual, was buried in the ground and filled up with water and bran, etc., for pig feed.

Out of Prison.

Fred. Yates, of Millville, Cache County, was brought down from the penitentiary this morning, and after a hearing before Commissioner Norrell was liberated. He has served a term in the penitentiary for living with his wives, and remained thirty days for the fine imposed, as he was unable to pay it.

Third District Court.

Proceedings before Judge Sandford today: United States vs. Archibald Parker; jury had for the defendant. United States vs. D. & R. G. W. R. R. Co. et al.; dismissed as to defendant Tucker; verdict of $1500 against the railroad. In another case, of a similar nature against the D. & R. G. W., a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff. The cases of J. R. Nichols vs. N. B. White et al.; Crescent Mining Co. vs. N. B. White et al.; and United States vs. Charles Wright, were continued for the term, and court adjourned till tomorrow.

Dangerous Fun.

This afternoon three boys, Ben. Elder and two named Judson, were arrested on a charge that would be very serious if the accused were men. It is stated that on the 25th of September last the trio placed a pole across the Salt Lake & Fort Douglas railway track, in the First Ward, and derailed a locomotive. When the boys were taken today they admitted having put the obstruction there, but said they did it just for the "fun" of seeing the pole roll down the track in front of the locomotive until it was thrown off. Elder is 12 years of age, and the others under 10. They evidently had little idea of the dangerous play, they were engaging in.

Obsequies.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Elder Jesse West, Jr., were held in the Sixth Ward meeting-house yesterday. The building was crowded with friends of the deceased, and many were unable to gain admission. Bishop S. M. T. Seddon, of the Fifth Ward, presided, and the opening prayer was offered by Bishop James C. Watson. The speakers were Elder Elias Morris, Prest. A. H. Cannon, Bishop Seddon, Bishop Watson, Elder R. F. Turnbow and President A. M. Cannon. The remarks were in reference to the consistent and honorable life of the deceased, which had won for him the love and esteem of his associates. Incidents were related which showed his integrity to the right under trying circumstances. The speaker expressed the deep sympathy of the people for the bereaved, and offered words of comfort and consolation to the mourners. The closing prayer was offered by Elder Henry Harrow, and a large cortege followed the remains to the cemetery.

At the Park.

Mrs. Byrne was found on a sick bed and her fatherless children in a destitute condition the first of the week, but through the efforts of some kind hearted friends and the aid given a purse was raised and means furnished to relieve the family's immediate wants. It is a case that calls for charity.

Last Saturday evening a serious accident happened on the Crescent tramway. Fifteen employees of the mine boarded one of the ore cars and started to come down town. When about half a mile below the water tank the car jumped the track after speeding along for quite a distance on the icy rails. The brakes were allowed to grip so tightly that the wheels slid rather than turned. It is a wonder that all the occupants of the car were not either killed or more seriously hurt. No doubt the snow into which they landed made a big difference as compared with the hard ground to be dumped on. Jake Ealey got a terrible bruised face and some teeth knocked out; a man named Ed. Chase had three ribs broken; a Fin came out with a broken arm, while the balance received only slight scratches and bruises. After this frightful experience the men went back to the mine for another car and made the trip more cautiously, arriving in town at about 8 o'clock.—Park City Record.

New York, Nov. 17.—Quong Yuen, ostensibly a laundryman, at 300 West Fourth Street, was arrested today. He is charged with smuggling in packages of opium (the duty on which is $80 per pound) into this city from Canada.

President Geo. Teasdale has been taking a very commendable course in relation to the publication of the standard works of the Church. Instead of issuing them with an eye to financial profit he has been producing them solely with a view to their being more widely circulated and distributed. Hence the prices are lower than ever before. This announcement, for instance, appears in the latest issue to hand of the Millennial Star: "A new edition of the Book of Mormon has recently been printed at this office, from the electro-type plates used in the preceding edition. It is printed on good paper, bound in cloth, and we will mail it to any address at the remarkably low price of 25c. It may be obtained also from conference presidents, traveling Elders, or any of our book agents."

The City of Paris was launched on the river Clyde on October 23rd. This enormous vessel is similar in every respect to the City of New York, and both have been built for the Inman Company, with a view to making the trip from Liverpool to New York within six days. The gross tonnage of each is 10,500, the length being 500 feet, breadth 63 feet, and depth 42 feet. Accommodation has been provided for 1,000 people. In the internal arrangements there are several interesting features, including an immense dome in the dining saloon, and complete suites of rooms for families. The vessel is divided by a large number of water-tight bulkheads, without doors, to minimize danger from collisions. The engines are of the three crank triple expansion type, and are fed from the boilers with seventy-two furnaces. The horse-power to be developed is 18,000.
