A Cry of "Stop Thief!"

The morning newspaper which so poorly championed the Liberal cause in the recent municipal contest outHerodes itself today by publishing a ridiculous two-sensational scandal stories columns and a quarter in length alleging "glaring frauds in connection with the recent election."

"The story, so inlaid in a Tribune representative," across from an intelligent Mormon laundry is not known. It is necessary, however, that the paper's "high contact" has come to town again and that in the garb of many maiden she succeeded in deceiving its reporter, a sad very, sad fact, indeed. The whole story is too absurd for serious consideration and reveals the animus of honest assertion. It is a matter of general comment that the election of Tuesday last was the fairest held in the city in several years. All talk to the contrary is simply galaxy nonsense.

Tabernacle Services.

The speakers at the Tabernacle yesterday were Elder O. F. Whitney and President George Q. Cannon, and the subject of their remarks was the Law of Tithing. The discourses will appear in full in next Saturday's issue of this paper.

W. W. WILSON'S DEATH.

He Received From a Blow or Kick During an Altercation.—An Arrest.

WM. W. WILSON was injured in an altercation with James G. Jack, and his death occurred about a week ago in Salt Lake City from inflammation of the bowels, caused by a distension of the intestines, resulting from a kick or fall while in a row, says the Mail: Manager. Dr. W. H. Going, of Ephraim, was called and apparently had the patient in a fair way toward recovery when a relapse necessitated a surgical operation being performed. Dr. W. J. Hadley was also in Salt Lake City on Saturday, where the operation was performed. He continued to get worse till naturally nothing, when he died.

The story was shipped to Manti and interred in the city cemetery on Thursday. A large congregation of relatives and friends attended the funeral at the tabernacle and followed the remains to their resting—place. Wilson was a young man, well to speak in the community, and his sudden ending casts a gloom over the city. As a mark of esteem twelve young men acted as pall bearers, and carried the casket to the cemetery. The family have the sympathy of the entire community. The death is the more lamentable because the injuries inflicted were said to have been unintentional and none are more sorrowful than the one who was engaged in the trouble which probably occasioned the fatal result.

James G. Jack had a hearing before Justice Joseph Judd on Thursday, on the charge of voluntary manslaughter. The charge was made because of the unfortunate trouble that occasioned the death of William Wilson. After an examination of a few witnesses the justice held Jack in $1500 bonds for his appearance before the grand jury. The bonds were furnished. J. W. Bingham, O. F. Goddard and John Beck being the bondsmen. Jack was set at liberty pending the action of the grand jury.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE.

Interesting Report of the Five Quorums of the Elders and at Scofield, Sevier County.

Salt Lake Herald, June.

Scofield, Sevier County, Utah, November 5, 1893.—It would be most difficult the means of giving valuable paper to hear a little from the people of the country remote in the little state family found assistance here in the Sunday school, and by the 25th and 26th inst.

Conference convened at the Scofield Academy hall at 10 a. m. On the stand were Assistant Superintendent Geo. Goddard and Superintendent T. C. Griggs of Salt Lake City, the latter presidency and several of the ward superintendents and officers.

Conference called to order by Assistant Superintendent George Goddard, who called for reports of attendance for the first time with the Scofield school was in its first session. After preliminary exercises, Elder Griggs. Then, standing, welcomed the Scofield school workers congregation for the first time in a Sunday school conference in the state and expressed his great pleasure that we are favored with a visit from one of the leading workers in the Sunday school cause. Elder George Goddard, one of the general superintendents, and also the secretary, Elder J. C. Griggs, representing the General Sunday School board. He said that the program as printed had been arranged in detail with the understood that we could.

Supt. T. C. Griggs addressed the assembly in a very interesting manner, complimenting the great intelligence of the Sunday school cause, the report, growth and present magnitude, and remarked that it is recognized by the heads of the Church as one of the principle organizations of the Church.

Supt. Geo. Goddard spoke to the young in his usually happy style, imparting good counsel. He advised the young boys to cultivate their voices by learning to sing, as it may prove a great benefit to them in more ways than one, and commended his remarks, as he is a singer, by singing a song "Work on the Lord's vine, work" congregation joined in the chorus. Appointment and benediction.

2 p.m.—After the opening exercises, Rose Supt. Geo. Brinkley made a general report of the condition of the Sunday school interests in Scofield. He reported five organizations, with an average Sunday attendance of 200. The superintendent and his associate are with the schools in circumstances will permit, and enjoy their labors. The graded system has been adopted in some of the schools, which are now in a healthy and steady condition, generally well attended by the children. Officers and teachers are as earnest workers as we will be found anywhere, and in the union the ward organizations up to follow the directions in the general circular issued by the Sunday School Union.

Reports were then rendered by the superintendents of Scofield First and Second wards, and Centered ward Sunday schools.

Supt. Goddard then made a few remarks commending on the reports rendered, giving some valuable counsel on school discipline and government, concluding by singing, "Hold the Fort."

Annabella, Monroe and Brooklyn schools next reported.

Supt. T. C. Griggs next addressed the congregation. He gave some good instructions, how to create increased interest in the Sunday school, and said the Sabbath school is the great nursery of the Church. Teaching and practice should not be at variance. He was pleased to note one superintendent reporting that nearly every attendant of the school reserving the Word of Wisdom.

Closing song: "Let us all speak kind words of each other."

Stake president of the Primary association, Sister L. Higgins, next spoke very interestingly in behalf of the interests represented in the Sabbath school. She reported that in the Glenwood Sunday school the mutual interest is one of the leading features, aiding in giving an elevated tone to the entire school. The effect produced is simply surprising, subduing the noisy element under to gospel influence.

An evening session was held at which Elders Goddard and Griggs entertained the meeting by relating to a graphic manner incidents of personal experience in various directions.

Sunday.—Conference resumed at 10 a. m. After the opening exercises, Supt. G. Goddard interested the young ones with a few interesting remarks.

Elders, Joseph, Scofield and Hammond schools were then reported.

In response to call made by the superintendent, a number of little girls headed the Articles of Faith in concert. Also a large number of little girls and boys repeated in concert the Lord's prayer.

"Oh, my Father," was next sung by the congregation.

Supt. T. C. Griggs spoke upon the management of schools under the graded system. He said the reports rendered testified that here as well as in many other places, recommendations are necessary to create the different departments as required by the graded system. He explained the object of the call made on the annual collection to the general fund and also fixed the benefits arising from the same, commended more liberal collections obtained through the envelope and use of cards in the schools; explained how incentive act is often unintentionally discouraged; singing should not be confined wholly to the choir.

Supt. Goddard next spoke in his usually entertaining and conversational way to the little ones (if whom there was a goodly number present) commended the little ones who so readily responded to the superintendent's call without any preparation in repeating the Articles of Faith and the Lord's Prayer, and exhorted his remarks in a song call to "A Home."

2 p.m.—After the opening exercises and the administration of the Sacrament the meeting was addressed by Bro. Ann, Supt. J. W. Dixon and L. D. Hansen, also by Bish. T. Broadhead, who all expressed their satisfaction and pleasure at being present at this the first Sunday school conference in the stake and being favored with a visit from two of the principal workers in the Sabbath school cause and to listen to their good counsel. Instructions and words of encouragement, and hope we would not soon forget them.
