The officers of the Primary associations met on Saturday in the Assembly hall, immediately after the close of the afternoon session of the general conference.

Sister May Anderson welcomed the sisters and hoped the session might be a profitable one.

Sister Sarah Stewart, president of the Ensign stake Primary associations, gave an instructive talk on the subject, "God could not be everywhere, so He made mothers."

Sister Stewart spoke of the importance of the proper care of children and the responsibility devolving upon mothers and teachers in Primary. She said there is a spark of divinity in every child, and the place of mothers and indirectly of Primary workers is to so guard that spark that it may illumine the world.

After the benediction by Elder Wm. C. Winder, a long line of carriages followed her remains to their last resting place. The grave was dedicated by Bishop Jas. C. Hamilton.

FOUR MONTHS IN JAIL.

Sentence Imposed by Judge Diehl on One C. B. Hulster This Morning.

C. B. Hulster, who was arrested several days ago on the charge of passing two bogus $10 bills, was before Judge C. B. Diehl this morning for sentence. Hulster was convicted of the offense and it was apparent that he had passed the bills knowing them to be fraudulent. Judge Diehl sentenced the man to serve four months in the county jail. Hulster was taken to the county jail by a deputy sheriff and he will have ample opportunity to think over the folly of his actions.

Sister Ella Jeromy, president of the Salt Lake stake Primary associations, read a paper on the subject, "People seldom improve when they have no model but themselves to copy after." She said how necessary it was for Primary workers to have proper ideas to copy after that they might be able to give to the children ideals that will help them to improve mentally and morally, and that a real love for the gospel might be implanted in their hearts.

UNIQUE SHIPMENT.

Homer Davenport Negotiates Purchase of 27 Arabian Horses.

New York, Oct. 8.—Twenty-seven Arabian horses, 10 mares and 17 stallions, were landed yesterday from the steamship Italia. They have been on the way from Aleppo, Syria, since Aug. 24. This importation is said to be the largest of the kind ever made and is the result of the only trade ever issued to an American. Homer Davenport negotiated the purchase. The animals, he says, represent the only strictly desert bred thoroughbreds ever brought to this country.

A chorus composed of members of the general board, under the direction of Prof. Stephens, sang three selections from the Primary Song book, illustrated by the children.

Sister Edith Hunter, president of the Pioneer Stake Primary associations, spoke on "An ounce of cheerfulness is worth a pound of sadness, to serve God with." She said too often we forget that cheerfulness goes hand in hand with duty. Christ's admonition to His saints was "Be of good cheer." Even though the life of Jesus was a painful one, yet wherever He carried peace and cheer.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—Tonight sees the farewell of "The Wedding Day" by the Salt Lake Opera company. Popular prices will rule and with the number of country visitors yet in town, the brilliant performers of the local company should be greeted by another fine audience. In all likelihood tonight marks the last appearance in Salt Lake City for a number of years.

Viola Gillette and her big production of "The Girl and the Bandit" are due at the Salt Lake theater tomorrow night.

Sister Josephine Woolley, president of the Liberty stake Primary associations, talked on the subject, "Obedience alone gives the right to command." She also spoke of how Christ's life and work teaches obedience and said the only safe plan to follow was to be obedient to those placed over us. If we expect the children to be obedient to us then we must be willing to follow the instructions of our leaders.

President Winder spoke for a few minutes saying he was pleased with the work that was being done and realized that a great responsibility devolved upon the pioneer workers in training and guiding the children in the home and in the church.

The meeting closed by the chorus singing "We Ever Pray for Thee."

Benediction was offered by Sister Zina Y. Card.

MRS. HELM AT REST.

Impressive Funeral Services Over Remains of a Good Woman.

Impressive services were held over the remains of Mrs. Rachel Helm in the Mill Creek warehouse Saturday afternoon. The house was filled with sympathizing relatives and friends, and the many beautiful floral tributes, which covered the casket testified of the esteem in which the departed was held. The pallbearers were Ben J. Helm, Ray Anderson, Daniel Mitchell, Chas. Mitchell, Edgar Mitchell, and Glen Mitchell. Eulogistic and comforting words characterized the brief remarks made by the many speakers; all testified of her worth to her family, her saint-like characteristics, and her influence for good among those with whom she came in contact.

Bishop Jas. C. Hamilton presided over the services, and appropriate music was rendered by a select quartet. The pieces rendered were, "Sister, thou wast mild and lovely," "Not half has ever been told," and "Fading away." The lady speakers were Sisters Eliza Saxliker, Frances Hanson, Nellie S. Cornwell and Margaret Spencer, sister workers in the Relief society. Each spoke of her happy disposition, her value as a neighbor, and a mother, as testified to by the beautiful family she had raised. They told of her visits among the sick and the afflicted, encouraged the children to follow her example.

Bros. F. P. Carlisle and Jos. R. Carlisle styled Sister Helm's life as one of purity, honesty, humility, and unselfishness. Elder Thos. W. Sloan, and Bishop T. C. Miller characterized her as one of God's nobility. Bishop's Jos. A. Cornwall and Jas. C. Hamilton spoke of the unity in her home, and said a Lyric—The old time popular play "The Orphan" is being offered at the Lyric this week and up to date the "Standing room only" sign has been hung out. On Saturday afternoon and evening the popular little playhouse was packed to its utmost capacity and scores of people were turned away. Although the play was produced more than 30 years ago it seems to have lost none of its popularity. The presentation by the Lyric Stock company is in every sense good. Honors are divided between Miss Pitt and Miss Roberts as the orphans. The latter's portrayal of the blind girl Louise, is worthy of great praise.

The Chevalier De Vaudrey of William Balfour, the Mother La Frochard of Miss Hartley and the Jacques Frochard of Mr. Frazier were enacted in a most excellent manner. Every part is in good hands and the company is deserving of the crowded house and manifestations of approval it receives. "The Two Orphans" will be repeated every night this week up to and including Friday. There will be a matinee on Wednesday. Going into effect tonight the prices will be 10, 20 and 30 cents for evening performances, and 10 and 20 cents for matinees.

And give his wife a dear paid price—
For the soul's love, the heart's desire,
Daniel, whose wisdom guided care,
The others in their days of care;
And whose unwavering sense of right,
Made justice a rod of might—
Winning by word and deed a claim
To his old, honored title name,
Frazier, the father of three,
A gentler, sweeter spirit—
But stronger with his gifted pen
In fruitful works with hosts of men
Than they perhaps whose frame or mind
Fitted their tasks to sturdier kind.
These the progenitors whom now
We praise and thank, how
We dedicate this emblem here
And know, if now, their spirits near
Gather with us—as chance they might—
It will be pleasing in the sight.
Proudly we gather—proudly place
This tribute on the lands fair face!
And proud we are, since we came
To earth—we bear the good old name
That figured in the early days
With words of love, goodwill and praise.
Proud that our fathers chose to make
The stand that always heroes take,
And braved the dangers of the mobs,
Of kindreds' scorn, of sore heart-throbs,
Of hardship, toil, and famished stress,
For faith in their Faith's rightness;
Proud that our sires are named with those
Who turned the narrow path to a wide
Proud that their wagon followed first
That little group on whose eyes burst
The opening vision of the land—
And with prophetic, outstretched hand,
The Leader spoke: "This is the spot,
Here, if alone, I cast my lot,
To prove that I was not fair among
Those whom the lengthening years have
Sung
And shall sing—to themes of praise—
And though they never knew the rays
That since have beamed upon their name,
In words of love, and flowers of fame,
We trust that somewhere, if not near,
Their spirits yet shall hear
Or in the some better manner, know,
This need of honor which made their fate
For the good path that made the date
Of worth, and honor to the State!"

WHAT THEIR PLATFORM IS.

The Different Planks Submitted to the Convention at the Salt Palace This Afternoon.

Your committee on resolutions respectfully report as follows:

We, the Republicans of Salt Lake county, in convention assembled do declare and affirm as follows:

We re-affirm our approval of the Republican state platform, formulated and adopted at our state convention in Salt Lake City, Utah, on Sept. 20, 1906.

We endorse the successful Republican administration of our county affairs and believe that every voter and taxpayer within the borders of our fair and prosperous county is interested in an honest, efficient, economical and business like administration of our county revenues and maintain that the paramount issue for the citizens of this county to consider is the collection and expenditure of their public monies.

The question of taxation is always a vital one and can be made a light as well as a heavy burden according to the amount of public monies collected and the wisdom which is exercised in their expenditure and we submit for most serious and thoughtful consideration of every property holder within our county the following facts:

In the last seven years in Salt Lake City three political parties have been in power, viz., the Republican party for four years; the Democratic party for two years; and the American party for practically one year. We call to the attention of taxpayers that during the four years of Republican control the city tax levy averaged but 8 1/2 mills; that during the two years of Democratic control it averaged 10 1/2 mills; and that in the one year of American control it is 12 mills; that the average assessed property valuation during the four years of Republican control was approximately $35,000,000; that the average assessed property valuation during the Democratic control was $39,000,000; and that this year of American control the assessed property valuation is $41,000,000. In other words, the attention of the taxpayer is called to the startling and important fact that under Democratic control with an increased property valuation of approximately $5,000,000, the tax rate was increased two mills, that under American party control with an increased property valuation of approximately $2,000,000, the tax rate was increased 3 1/2 mills.

We also call attention to the fact that the claim of the Democratic party and the American party that the reason for the increased tax levy and expenses during their control, to-wit, the public improvement carried on by them, is not true. These facts are, and the records show it, that during the years of Republican control more street paving, and sewerage was done than under either the Democratic or American administrations. It was during Republican control that the streets of South Temple and Second streets were paved to the two railroad depots and thus far not a single block of paving within the city of Salt Lake has been completed by the American city administration.

We call attention of the taxpayers to the fact that the permanent fixed employees of the City of Salt Lake during the last year have been increased over 38 in number, that clerkship, foremaning and other positions have been created and filled when no necessity for their creations existed.

We remind taxpayers that the American party council, of Salt Lake City, has determined to pay $7,500 to the contractors who paved Second South street in defiance of the fact that no Republican council, Republican board of public works, Republican city attorney and Republican city engineer (L. C. Keiser) investigated this claim and rejected it as one which the city was under no legal or moral obligation to pay, and confirmed in this position by the city attorney under the present American party administration.

We submit these few incontestable facts to the voters of Salt Lake county they are part of your public records, and in the face of the same the American party announce that they will give to this county the same kind of administration that they have given to Salt Lake City, in other words, they tell the people in plain words that they will increase the tax levy and with no greater public improvements than in preceding years and no increased work they will increase the county payroll 30 to 40 per cent. Are the taxpayers of this county prepared to accept this kind of an administration?

Under the present city Republican county administration there has been much improvement in the highways of the county. We pledge the Republican party to a continuation of the same. The main highways throughout the county have been lighted with electricity by the present county administration and we favor the continuance and extension of this lighting system so far as the revenues of the county will permit.

A large part of the taxes of this county are derived from small property owners and the policy of our county administration should not aim as will compel the mortgaging or confiscation of the people's homes and property by increased levies and thereby paralyze the industry and enterprises but through increased assessment valuations on new wealth and new property derive sufficient funds to carry on the county government and gradually reducing the effect of placing the premium on enterprise and encourage
