

SALT LAKERS IN GOTHAM.

Special Correspondence.

NEW YORK, May 8, 1904.—Bishop George Romney of the Twentieth ward, Salt Lake City, arrived in New York last Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. Romney, and during the week he has been busy visiting local concerns where building material and art works are made specialties. It is understood that a part of his errand to New York was to obtain figures relative to the church building which is under contemplation in Salt Lake, or for improvements on the Temple block. Mr. and Mrs. Romney left on Saturday, the 7th, for St. Louis, where they will spend a week at Independence, Mo., before returning to Salt Lake, Independence being Mrs. Romney's former home. During their stay in New York they were registered at the Herald Square hotel.

Mrs. John Herriek of Ogden and her sister, Miss Josephine West, have been in the city for nearly two weeks. Mrs. Herriek, who is well known in Utah for her excellent china-painting, is here on one of her annual trips in order to keep in touch with the latest methods and incidentally to visit her many friends. She is studying continually under such famous teachers as Marshall Pyles, who is unquestionably the finest china painter in the United States; Mrs. Sarah Wood Safford, well known for her figure work; and Mrs. De Witt, who is very good on conventional work. Mrs. Herriek and Miss West are stopping at the "Marlborough Arms." They expect to leave in a week for Chicago, to visit some of the large china studios in that city. It is needless to state that they will take in the fair at St. Louis before returning home.

Miss Louise Wey, daughter of Mr. Fred Wey of the "Union" office, arrived in the metropolis from Zion a week ago and has already commenced voice culture under Madame von Klenner. Miss Wey will remain indefinitely.

In last week's letter reference was made of the forthcoming production of "The Two Little Sailor Boys" at the Academy of Music, and also to Leona Darnon having one of the leading roles in the play. The piece closed its first week's successful run last night, having been named as a "winner" by all the leading critics. Alan Dale especially praised Miss Darnon's work, and also Miss Lizzie Boyce, who plays the sister-in-law of Miss Margaret Miller, the landlady of the popular boarding house on West Fifteenth street. Miss Evans, who is perhaps better known to her friends out west as Mrs. Mills, played a character role that was one of the hits of the performance. There were also some other pleasing features in the cast which might be well worth while mentioning, they were: Miss Ethel Brandon, once a leading member of one of the old Grand stock companies, and Miss George Wells, who has often been seen at Salt Lake with Frawley. She won much favor with that organization as the home girl in "The Dancing Girl," when Blanche Bates last appeared in the company.

Miss Vida Eccles, who since her arrival last February has stayed at Miss Miller's, on West Fifteenth street, removed to Harlem recently, where she will be the guest for two weeks of Mrs. West Early at 408 Manhattan avenue.

On Thursday evening a very jolly party was formed at Daly's theater to see James K. Hackett in his new play, "The Crown Prince." Mr. Brigham Young, well remembered at Salt Lake through his connection with the old Grand stock company, played a leading part. The party on this occasion was composed of Mrs. John Herriek and her sister, Miss Josephine West and Miss Ida Savage, Vida Eccles and Arta Banta, and Mrs. Lennie Savage Riter. The gentlemen in the party were Messrs. George Barratt, Clyde Squires and J. Wesley Young.

Frank L. Perley's latest production, entitled "A Venetian Romance," was given its first New York hearing at the Knickerbocker theater last Monday evening. In the large cast was Mr. Walter Percival, who won many admirers in Utah through his connection with the second "Coriolanus" company. "Comic opera seems to be his forte, and it is probable he will not appear in the drama again for some time. Another member of the company was Miss Mabel Hite, who created quite a stir in Salt Lake two or three years ago as leading lady in "The Telephone Girl," and also for her sensational marriage during the company's engagement in that city.

Last evening Madame von Klenner gave her last class recital of the present season. The madame has many pupils among her long list of students, and a number took part on this occasion. Her Utah students include Mrs. Luella Ferrin Sharp, Miss Ella Cote, Miss Mabel Clark, Miss Lottie Levy and Miss Louise Wey.

Miss Hattie Young was in town from Yale college for a few days last week taking advantage of a few days' vacation given in honor of Miss Vassar's birthday.

Mrs. V. M. C. Silva, who was once a former resident of Utah and who is well known there for her musical attainments, has been occupied at the Waldorf Astoria in Park, now for a year and a half. She is getting along nicely with her work in this city, and therefore feels that her efforts have been rewarded. Her husband is now in Oregon on the government survey.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Houston, also former Utahns, but who have been making Boston their home for the past two or three years, were in town recently on a flying trip to attend to some business matters. Mr. Houston is interested here. They visited the greater part of their spare moments with Mrs. Mulloy on Amsterdam ave.

Miss Louise Bascom, a last year's graduate of the Salt Lake High school, has been attending the Wellesley college in Massachusetts since last fall. Word comes from there recently that she has been covering herself with local glory in English and in a school theatrical production at the college she won much favor. This will not be surprising news to her high school friends, as she has acquitted herself so creditably in their play last summer, that every one could see that she had natural talent in this line of work.

Miss Sybil Anderson, well remembered at home for her clever playing on the violin, is now living at Plain New York once a week to take lessons. She is studying under Prof. Arnold. At a concert given recently in Mendelssohn's hall by the Women's String orchestra, her name was one of the foremost in the program.

Miss Elizabeth Lamm, also of Salt Lake City is living at Plain New York, and is receiving instruction from New York professors.

On Wednesday evening, at Church headquarters, which was held in the nature of a farewell in honor of Elders Arthur Welling, Lafayette Woods and Wm.

Potter, all of whom received their release during the week. At the above entertainment, impromptu speeches were given, and the good wishes of all were expressed for the safe return to their loved ones at home.

Elder Welling, who has labored the greater part of his mission here in New York, has been one of the most earnest workers ever placed in this conference, and he has through his hard work gained the position of president of the Brooklyn conference, an office he has held for nearly two years.

Elder Woods and Potter have also proven themselves staunch and loyal supporters of the cause, and they, with President Welling, will be greatly missed in the colony. Elders Welling and Potter left last night for their home in Farmington, and Elder Woods remains behind a week to visit friends.

Three new converts to the Latter-day Saints were baptized at Bayonne in Jersey yesterday morning by Elders Welling, Woods and Ball.

Thursday evening, at the home of Miss Lottie Wisconer in Newark, was held an informal gathering in honor of the returning Elders. Those present were: Mrs. Blair, Misses Anna, May and Sophia Clarke and Lottie Wisconer.

The Utah colony is gradually thinning out, and if the members keep on departing at the rate they have recently done, there will soon be very few left. During the week the following have started west: Misses Emma Lucy Gates, Bertha Crawford, Phyllis Thatcher, Gladys Spencer and Mrs. George W. Thatcher, and daughter, Miss Nettie Sloan, and Messrs. Cecil Gates, Irving Snow, Arthur Welling, Wm. E. Wood and Lafayette Woods. Mrs. John Herriek and Miss Josephine West leave next Sunday, as do also Mrs. Lennie Savage Riter and Miss Ida Savage. C. C. ### End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abscess on my right lung," writes J. F. Hughes of Du Pont, Ore., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all Coughs, Croup and Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

A NOVEL PARLOR ENTERTAINMENT.

The English language is not rich in palindromes, say the authorities, but nevertheless there are quite enough of them to form a most successful evening's party upon—as a bright New York girl proved not long ago.

It may save some hostess a trip to the Unabridged to explain right here that a palindrome is a word or sentence which reads backwards and forwards the same.

Everyone knows the famous palindrome sentence by which Adam is said to have introduced himself to his new wife: "Madam, I'm Adam." Then there is the equally celebrated one called the soliloquy of Napoleon. "Able was I ere I saw Elba." But there are not enough of these to form a puzzle series upon, and, in any case, they are more difficult to guess than palindrome words.

These palindrome words, however, make delightful riddles. It is only necessary to put each answer that occurs to the mind to the test of reading backwards in order to determine whether or not it is an answer is correct.

Here is a good set of questions with the answers attached. To prepare for the game write the questions on as many cards as you expect guests:
