

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

G. A. R. Veterans of Salt Lake

After being rejected on account of his age, Maj. M. A. Breeden succeeded in entering the Union army on May 1, 1864, when he became 15 years of age. At this time the important battles had been fought, but there was plenty of rough work ahead even at that late hour. With the One Hundred and Fifty-fourth Illinois infantry he was dispatched to Missouri and Arkansas. There he engaged in a number of light engagements, driving the remnants of the rebel army out of the states. He was mustered out in December of the same year at Camp Butler, Ill. He first attempted to enlist with the One Hundred and Fifty-fourth Illinois in 1862 and again he enrolled in the Sixty-sixth Illinois in 1863, but was rejected on account of his age.

MAJOR M. A. BREEDEN.

FINAL BAND CONCERT.

Visiting Musicians Enthusiastic Over Women's Organization.

There were bands galore on Main street last evening. Held's band with 45 men, the Vermont band, the Ladies' G. A. R. band and the Union Pacific band of Ellis, Kan., were in action bright and early and were not off duty until late in the evening. The Vermonters held the head of the street. Held played opposite the Progress building. The Kansas band was further down and the Ladies held forth in several places. Held's men, later in the evening, gave a concert from the balcony in front of the Rasmussen building. An interesting feature late in the afternoon as well as in the evening, was the consolidation of the Ladies and Union Pacific bands. They played together very well, members of each organization alternating in position, while it was noticed that the corners of the two leaders were interestingly close. Pierson, the Kansas leader, remarked afterwards he would make it all right with his wife, when he got home. Drum Major Hamilton of the red coats also appeared to be much affected. He said he had seen 25 ladies' bands in the course of his wild and checkered career, and not one of them had come up to the Ladies' G. A. R. band of Salt Lake. "Give 'em a way up, notice," he said enthusiastically to a "News" reporter. "They deserve it." Mr. Hamilton has a fascinating moustache, and is evidently susceptible to the charms of the fair sex. The Kansans serenaded the Knutsford hotel during the evening, and with others played before the Commercial club.

LO, HATU COMETH!

Wizard of Wasatch Announces His Advent Tonight at Nine.

After four nights given over to sorcery a message came from the Cave of the Necromancers last night that the evil spirits of the rain and thunder were now under the mystic spell of the Wizard of the Wasatch, and that, well pleased with his work, Hatu will return to Salt Lake tonight and receive the homage of his faithful wards. The message of the august wizard reads:

To All My Wards and Other Faithful Subjects. Greeting—After the battle of the elements, on the evening of Aug. 3, which made impossible our entrance into the city, we properly chastised the rebellious spirits of the air and we have determined to follow our original plan to visit and inspect this part of our domain.

Therefore all wards are warned to be in readiness Saturday evening, to meet us and our personal escort at the Pioneer monument at the hour of 9, to carry out our original order of Aug. 3, as follows:

It is our pleasure to be met at the corner of South Temple and Main streets, whither we shall proceed on our tour, with due ceremony and decorum, southward on the west side of Main street to Fifth South street, where we shall counterattack and return on the east side of Main street to the vicinity of the monument, and there shall deliver our message and such commands as the occasion shall demand.

The following order will be observed in our ceremonial tour of inspection:

First—Four heralds to precede and announce to the multitude the coming of this august assemblage.

Second—Marchal and aides.

Third—An organization of talented musicians will play.

Fourth—The sacred fire, its flares and holy attendant.

Fifth—Our faultless and faithful Janizette.

Sixth—Our august serenity, our slaves and loving spirits, earth, air, fire and water.

Seventh—Two companies of our devoted wards, attired in customary garb, in column of fours.

Eighth—A band of Indians, cowboys, their consorts, other aborigines and denizens of the plains.

The column will march mounted, assisted from any demonstration, preserve silence and our usual air of profound mystery.

Fall not, under fear of the dreadful penalty.

By command of
HATU, Wizard of the Wasatch.
Samuel C. Park, Marshal.

LADIES OF G. A. R. ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Lively Competition for President—Resolutions of Thanks to Everybody.

At the meeting of the new council of administration with the old council of the Ladies of the G. A. R. in the parlors of the Kenyon hotel this morning, the business of the organization so far as the annual convention for this year is concerned, was cleaned up. The old council which is composed of Mrs. Florence M. Wallace, China, Me., Mrs. Lulu A. Shannon, Bremerton, Wash., and Mrs. Josie Slinker of Jeanette, Pa., turned over the books and other documents of the organization and explained the details of the business.

The final meeting of the organization was held yesterday afternoon at the First Congregational church, when the officers for the ensuing year were elected. The fight for election was about the strongest competition that the organization has ever seen. By a majority of just five votes Mrs. Della Rawlings Henry of Kansas City, Mo., won over Mrs. Margaret A. Stevens of Newark, N. J. Mrs. Henry received 78 votes and Mrs. Stevens 73.

The officers elected were: Mrs. Della Rawlings Henry, of Kansas City, Mo., president; Mrs. Mary Jameson, Marine City, Mich., senior vice-president; Mrs. Mary E. Martin, Seattle, Wash., junior vice-president; Mrs. Catherine De Lacey Roach, treasurer; Mrs. Florence Martin, China, Me., chaplain. The council is composed of Mrs. Mary E. Sullivan of Chicago, the retiring secretary; Mrs. G. Allie Risk of Seattle, Wash.; and Mrs. Hattie Williams, of Emporia, Kan.

Mrs. Nellie R. McMillan, of Leavenworth, Kan., was appointed secretary by the new president. The officers of patriotic instructor and inspector will be filled by the president in the next few weeks.

Mrs. Hannah M. Chamberlain of Albany, N. Y., is announced as a candidate for president next year. She is well known and prominent in G. A. R. circles throughout the United States.

RESOLUTION OF THANKS.

The resolution was as follows:

Resolved, That a vote of thanks be extended to the governor and his staff of Utah, the county officials of Utah county, the mayor of Salt Lake and his board of trustees, and the citizens of Salt Lake City, for the many courtesies extended to us during our convention.

That the thanks of this convention be tendered Reynolds circle of Salt Lake and the ladies who served us such a bountiful luncheon.

That the thanks of this convention be tendered Sister Jean Milton, ex-army nurse and chairman of the committee on decorations, for the many beautiful flowers furnished headquarters and our convention, also to the Lincoln circle of Ogden, for the handsome souvenir badges and to J. K. Davidson for the delegates' badge.

To the citizens' committee for the use of that edifice during our sessions.

TO OFFICERS.

To the officers connected with the tabernacle choir for the tickets for the concert and the many courtesies they have extended.

That our sincere thanks be tendered to the Ladies of the G. A. R. band for their music, and that we also feel very proud to think that this band connected with our order is the only band connected with any branch of the Grand Army of the Republic.

That our thanks be extended to the press for their well written notices of our convention and organization.

That we extend our thanks to the citizens of Salt Lake City in general for their courtesies, their beautiful decorations, and all they have done to make our sojourn in their city a pleasant one.

That we extend our thanks to our national president and all national officers for good work and conscientious rulings.

ADOPTED A WAIF.

In Judge Lewis' court yesterday John S. Hickey of Teasdale, Wayne county, and his wife, Mrs. Mary L. Hickey, were granted permission to adopt a boy, a year old, who was deserted by his mother to hide her shame. The infant was born at St. Mark's hospital and shortly afterward he was taken into custody by Mr. and Mrs. Hickey. The father of the child is supposed to be dead and the mother has left the state. The boy is to be known as Max Lyman Hickey. Mr. and Mrs. Hickey have no children.

THE E. P. CHARLTON & CO.,

5, 10 AND 15 CENT STORE.

The renovation of the Houston block at 251 Main, has recently caused many pedestrians to ask what new business was about to make its home there; and now that the sign is up, the opening passed by, all are pleased to find in our city a link of the great E. P. Charlton & Co.'s stores, which in America and Canada are noted for the bargains they offer for 5, 10 and 15 cents, nothing more. Yesterday before the formal opening, many were admiring the display windows and wishing that the store were open so that particular bargains could be procured. It is quite evident that the establishment is here to stay; and of course the reputation of years is behind the business-like appearance of the place. In fact this makes the thirty-third link in the chain of stores owned by this company in the United States and Canada. Goods are bought directly from the factories and placed at once on the bargain tables of the various stores.

H. P. Hermance, Pacific coast manager, will be in charge until the local manager arrives, a matter of a few days.
