

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, SEPT. 3.

Y. L. M. I. A. Reports.

The Stake officers of Y. L. M. I. A. are hereby officially notified to prepare semi-annual Stake reports, carefully, upon printed blanks, and forward them as early as the 15th of September, that a complete and satisfactory report may be made to the general conference in October. Direct the report to Miss Mary E. Cook, 323 E. Third South Street, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Arrested at Upton.

Last evening Deputy Marshal Cannon arrested Conrad Staley at Upton, Summit County, on the charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses. The complaint is made by Henry Siegel, and fixes the amount of goods sold the defendant by Goldsmith & Co. at $70.50. Mr. Staley has a wife and seven children, the youngest of whom, an infant, is dangerously ill. He seems to have been unfortunate in business rather than having any intention to defraud, and under this showing he was permitted to call on some friends in this city for assistance, with the understanding that if he raised the amount he would be discharged.

Returned to Salt Lake.

Prof. White, of the deaf mute department of the University, and his wife and baby have returned from a visit to the east, on which they have been absent about two months. They are in excellent health and spirits and pleased to be again among their Utah friends. Mrs. White's brother-in-law, who has been in the office of the Mowry Car Wheel Company, had been in failing health for some time. When the Professor and his wife reached Ohio, where he was, they advised him to try the climate of Utah. He acted upon the suggestion and has been enjoying the balmy air of Salt Lake for the past month. His health has improved wonderfully and it is believed that his coming here is the turning point in his life. He purposes remaining until he has recovered.

Probate Court.

Proceedings in the Salt Lake County Probate Court yesterday:

In the matter of the estate of Feramorz Little, deceased; petition for admission to probate of a document purporting to be the last will and testament of Feramorz Little, deceased, came on regularly for hearing. Proof of mailing notices of time and place of hearing said petition to the heirs by the clerk made; also proof of publication of notice of the time and place of hearing. M. E. Cummings and Douglas A. Swan, subscribing witnesses, sworn and examined. Order made admitting said document to probate as the last will and testament of said deceased, and appointing James T. Little and LeGrand Young executors, and that letters testamentary issue to them upon taking the oath as required by law, and without bonds, as provided.

Estate and guardianship of Brigham Pyper et al.; bonds to Brigham Pyper, Mary E. Pyper, Margie M. Pyper, and Editha Pyper, by Jane T. Pyper, in the sum of $200 each, filed and approved.

In the matter of the estate and guardianship of Alex. C. Pyper et al. bonds to Alexander C. Pyper, Walter T. Pyper and Genevieve Pyper, by Christina D. Pyper, in the sum of $200 each, filed and approved.

Estate of Dirk Bockholt; order made amending description of real estate.

Estate of S. F. Nuckolls, deceased; hearing on application adjourned to September 7, 1887, at 11 a.m.

Estate of Mary N. Driscoll, deceased; order allowing final account and making distribution.

The following marriage certificates were filed in the office of the Probate Clerk: Watson S. Pierce and Clara M. Glenn; Carl Oscar Olsen and Hulda Mary Elizabeth Neilsen; Carl Edward Neilsen and Pauline Mary Olsen; Benjamin Stephen Chapman and Eliza Ellen Young.

CACHE VALLEY.

Items of Interest in the North—Onelda Stake Presidency.

Diphtheria has broken out in James Clawson's family, Providence.

Mr. Woodard, of Franklin, was arrested on the charge of unlawful cohabitation by deputy marshals on Friday last.

Joseph E. Wilson, a well known resident of Logan, has gone into the nursery business. He purposes visiting various settlements this fall to take orders for trees of different kinds and especially for forest trees.

On Tuesday a thirteen year old boy, Daniel Talbot, of Lewiston, was thrown from a horse, which resulted in the breaking of his arm just above the wrist. The injured boy was brought to Logan by his friends, and his arm attended to by Dr. Ormsby, who rendered the necessary surgical aid, and at last accounts the boy was progressing favorably.

On Sunday an eight year old son of Mr. A. P. Raymond, of Smithfield, was riding through a pasture containing a vicious horse. The horse came up to him and kicked him on the leg, breaking one of the bones below the knee and tearing the muscles from the bones and lacerating the limb quite badly. Dr. Snow put the boy under the influence of chloroform and dressed the wound.

On Sunday last throngs of people from various settlements in Onelda Stake, and visitors from Cache County were seen in Franklin. The regular Sunday afternoon meeting was made a special one long to be remembered by the Saints who were present. The house was literally crowded with people and many were outside by the windows listening to the instructions which were given. There were present, among others on the stand, Apostles John W. Taylor, of Salt Lake City; Elders Geo. O. Pitkin, George W. Thatcher, O. C. Ormsby, Seth A. Langton, of Cache; Solomon H. Hale, Geo. C. Parkinson, M. F. Cowley, Milo Andrus and other leading authorities, Counselors and Bishops of Onelda Stake. In fact every ward of the Stake was represented. The special object of the meeting was the releasing of the Stake Presidency and installing a new one. W. D. Hendricks, the former president, a man highly respected and loved, was situated so that he could not attend to the active duties of his office, and it was therefore deemed wise by the Council of the Twelve that he be honorably released. By a vote of the people he was thus released and George C. Parkinson, a young man of sterling character and well known ability, was nominated for president. He was unanimously sustained by the vote of the people present. Solomon H. Hale and M. F. Cowley, men of integrity, were chosen and sustained as his counselors. In brief speeches these brethren accepted the positions they were called to fill and expressed a determination to do, with the help of the Lord, their duty. The remarks made were instructive, touching upon the beauty of the organization of the Priesthood and of the blessings and powers of the Holy Spirit as enjoyed by the faithful Saints. Apostle John W. Taylor attended the evening meeting and addressed the Saints.—Logan Journal, Aug. 31.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, SEPT. 5.

Fire.

On Friday night a barn belonging to R. T. Barrett, at North Ogden, was burned, the loss amounting to about $200. His four year old son found a match in the street and the little fellow, though not realizing the damage he was working, managed to start the flames.

Kicked by a Horse.

On Thursday, John Spachman, of Pleasant View, was severely kicked by a horse in front of D. J. Evans' place. Spachman was leading the animal, which became frightened and wound the halter around Spachman several times; the horse then kicked him on the cheek, over the eye and on the breast. No bones were broken, but serious bruises were inflicted.—Ogden Herald.

Commissioner's Jurisdiction.

The question of the jurisdiction of U. S. Commissioners in civil cases was brought up before Commissioner Norrell to-day, in the case of Baumgarten vs. Jones & Rehman. The defense claim that the Edmunds-Tucker law, which gives commissioners the same jurisdiction as that held by justices of the peace under the Territorial laws, does not refer to civil cases.

A Long Bicycle Trip.

Mr. C. D. Gray arrived in this city on Saturday evening from Chicago, having ridden the entire distance to Ogden on a 52-inch wheeled Expert bicycle. He left his wheel at Ogden and came to this city by train, not wishing to indulge in the pleasant pastime of wheeling over the sandridge, off his regular route. He will remain here a short time and then, push on from Ogden to California. His cyclometer registers about 1,900 miles by the route he came, and his riding time has averaged about fifty miles per day. Some three or four wheelmen have now crossed the continent in this way, so that such a ride is getting to be an old story.

Names of Immigrants.

Following are the names of the Swiss and German Saints who are coming with the company of immigrants who left Liverpool August 27th:

For Montpelier—Elizabeth Boss. For Logan—Babette Keller. For Ogden—Annie and Paul Jaugg; Conrad and Verena Sutter; Abraham, Solomon and Bertha Bragger. For Salt Lake—Anna Muller; Lina and Johanne F. Moser; Rosa Gem-peler; Therese Renner; Eva Wieland; Anna Kath Odenwalder; Mary P. Brox; Fred. Wilk; Dorothea and Chr. T. Kaiser; Christ. Stumgruber.

Diphtheria Cases.

Since our last issue two of the children in Mr. Clawson's family, of Providence, have died of diphtheria. There are no more cases in Providence at present. It seems that there was great neglect in not having the cases properly quarantined, and it was not until Thursday that Dr. Ormsby, the county quarantine physician, became cognizant of the existence of the disease, and at once caused a close quarantine of them. It is of the utmost importance to all that such cases be held within bounds. The diphtheria in Providence is said to be of a severe nature, and it is to be hoped that no more cases will appear.—Utah Journal, Aug. 3.

College Opening.

On Monday next the 12th inst., the new academic year of the Brigham Young College at Logan will open. In a recent notice of the college we stated that the faculty embraced W. H. Smart, which was an inadvertence, W. J. Kerr having the department formerly in charge of Brother Smart. The faculty of the institution is as follows:

J. Z. Stewart, President, Theology, Mathematics, Civil Government and Spanish.

Wm. H. Apperley, History, Literature and Principles of Teaching.

Wm. J. Kerr, Physiology, Education, Physics, Book keeping and Drawing.

J. McLaughlan, Phonography and Architectural and Mechanical Drawing.

Miss Nettie Thatcher, Instrumental Music.

Water in East Bountiful.

Allusion has been made two or three times lately, in these columns, to the local agitation in East Bountiful, relative to water for irrigating purposes. The following communication, written by W. D. Major, Esq., of that place, on the 3d inst., has been received with the request that it be published:

BOUNTIFUL, Davis Co.,
September 3, 1887.

Editor Deseret News:

I hear they are going to incorporate the ditch and have one man attend to it and have a dam put in with locks, so that nobody but the watermaster can turn the water on or off. I think this is the best way. As it is now, I find that every Tom, Dick or Harry takes the water out of Mill Creek.

It has been a very dry summer here and many orchards are suffering from the effect of it. I have lately been up the creek and pulled out dains of rocks and sticks and all kinds of rubbish, and have increased the water nearly one-half. If you would only urge the people to turn out and open the springs, they could increase the water. Cattle roaming over the hills obstruct the springs. If the ward would only turn out for one day it would do wonders.

Provo Items.

The dread contagion, whooping-cough, is prevailing among the little ones of Provo.

It is expected that the First District Court will open to-morrow, the 5th.

A number of improvements are going on, especially in the building of residences.

The Utah Stake Conference, which began Saturday morning, closed this evening, after a good season of spiritual food.

Bishop O. F. Whitney gave a very interesting sermon on Sunday morning.

President Smoot made pointed remarks in regard to the youth of Zion, purging iniquity from the Saints, etc.

Home missionaries were appointed for the ensuing year, and the general authorities of the Church and Utah Stake were approved of.

The necessity of educating the children of Zion and keeping them under our control, keeping the Word of Wisdom, and general reform in the Church were subjects principally dwelt upon, a sort of conference of warning.

THREE PERSONS DROWNED.

A Boat Capsizes in a Slough at Snake River.

The saddest fatality we have been called upon to chronicle in our journalistic career occurred about five miles west of town on Sunday afternoon last at five o'clock. Mr. Lot Brown and Misses Annie and Amelia Thompson were boating in a small slough cut off by an island from the main channel of Snake River, when their boat capsized and all three were drowned. Dan Cavanaugh, an eye witness to the sad scene, states that the boat was in a leaky condition, and when out about fifteen feet from the island bank the young ladies became alarmed and with screams made a rush to the bow, throwing sufficient weight on one side to capsize the boat and turn themselves into the treacherous water. Mr. Brown and the younger sister, Amelia, after a short struggle, sank to rise no more, but Annie floated, apparently swimming, and when he, (Cavanaugh), reached her after a short run around the head of the slough and seized her, he found her dead, though still floating. An alarm was then given, while the parties hurried to the scene and made diligent search through the night. The body of Brown was not found until about 6 o'clock Monday morning, and that of Amelia about 11 o'clock. Mr. Brown was a rancher living some five miles west of town, and has been actively engaged in freighting between this place and the mines of Custer County. He had no family in this Territory, but it has been said had a divorced wife in the State of Kansas. The Misses Thompson, daughters of Geo. Thompson, were aged respectively 18 and 16, and the very picture of blooming health. They were in town Saturday afternoon, happy and gay, and passed the usual compliments of the day with a News man on the streets. A large concourse of sympathizing friends from town and surrounding country attended the funeral Monday afternoon, and in sorrow and grief, laid the bodies of the young sisters side by side in the same grave.—Blackfoot (Idaho) News.

HIS SWEETHEART IN THE COFFIN.

A YOUNG MAN UNKNOWNLY ATTENDS THE FUNERAL OF HIS AFFIANCED.

A late special dispatch from Jefferson, Ga., to the New York World, says: Jasper Porter, who lives five miles from this city, had an engagement to spend last night at the residence of the parents of his affianced, Miss Ward, living near Walnut Church, in Jackson County, and to escort her to church to-day. He left home yesterday afternoon to keep his appointment. On reaching Walnut Church he found a largely attended funeral in progress, and entered the edifice to attend the ceremonies. Not being well acquainted in the neighborhood, he did not ask who was dead; but when an opportunity was given to take a last look at the deceased Porter fell in line with the rest. On reaching the coffin he saw in it the face of his sweetheart. He broke into loud lamentations, and would soon have been prostrated beside the coffin had he not been carried into the open air by some of the mourners. It is feared that Porter's grief will end in insanity.

OBITUARY.

SMITH.—In St. George, Washington County, Utah, August 17, 1887, William White Smith, son of Samuel and Mary White Smith; aged 70 years, 3 months and 4 days. He was born May 21, 1817, in Willow Bend, Derby, Derbyshire, England. He was connected with the Baptist church until 1850, when he was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints by Elder William Ball. He was ordained a Priest May 25th, 1850, and an Elder, by Joseph Hall, October 13, 1851. He remained in England until 1861, laboring as a Travelling Elder for about eight years. He emigrated with his wife, Jane Taylor Smith, in 1861, and located in the Twelfth Ward, Salt Lake City. He was ordained a Seventy by Elder J. H. Tippets, and joined the 77th Quorum. He was ordained a High Priest in the winter of 1861, by Edwin D. Woolley. In April, 1864, he left Salt Lake City for the south and lived in Cedar City, Parowan and Beaver, afterwards removing to Washington and then to St. George. He was a painter.

Brother Smith labored in the St. George Temple for a number of years, and was working there the day he died. He went to the Temple and was brushing down the walls for whitewashing, when some kind of a fit seized him at about 8 a. m. He was taken home and died about noon.

Brother Smith was a true Latter-day Saint and died in full faith of the Gospel, with the hope of a glorious resurrection on with the just. He leaves two good faithful wives and many loving friends to mourn his loss.—[Com.]

PERKINS.—Patty Perkins Perkins, daughter of the late Fairbairn William G. Perkins and Dicy Ray Perkins, died in the Ward, St. George, on the 16th of August, 1887. She was the widow of William Perkins and also his cousin. She was born in Tennessee, January 19th, 1819; baptized in 1840; came with her father to Salt Lake City in 1849, and was married there to Wm. Job Perkins. Her husband was sent on a mission to the Sandwich Islands and she accompanied him and remained with him until his return to Salt Lake City. In 1861 she, with her father and husband, was called to St. George. Her father, mother and husband died there. She had been sick about eight months and suffered considerably, but in the end passed away like a person going to sleep. She died of cancer in the neck and one side of her face. She passed away full of faith in the Gospel and a hope of a glorious resurrection.—[Com.]
