

FOREIGN VIEW OF FINANCIAL CRISIS

German Confidence Somewhat Shaken but No Fear of Protracted Prostration.

PARIS THINKS WORST OVER.

French Writers Critise Current System—In London Banking Checks Strong Note of Optimism.

Berlin, Oct. 27.—The violent financial signal in the United States is regarded here as having passed as quickly as it came up. The great Berlin banks are assuring their customers that the crisis which for a week has gripped New York, is relaxing and that conditions in America are so sound that no deepest consequences can follow. A representative of powerful Holland financial interests, who happens to be here, has gone over to Amsterdam that now is the time to invest in American securities, and many Berlin brokers in their letters to customers advise them to go in for American stocks now, while they are under a pressure that probably is only temporary. It is the large offers made in Europe by American holders that have caused American exchanges to rise to £2, a rate which the Vossische Zeitung's financial reviewer says is without precedent. The demand for transfers, which was due chiefly to the fact that many investors bought American securities in New York in the belief that low prices offered unusual inducements, was so heavy that many applicants failed to get accommodations. The market assumes that the English bank rates will be advanced on Monday, which will follow immediately by an advance by the Reichsbank.

While the crisis has shaken Germany's confidence in a number of American banks and individuals underwriting, there is a widespread conviction that it can not lead to a prolonged period of prostration. The German financial public possesses a large store of optimism regarding the economical resources of the "great republic," which the mismanagement of railroad directors and individual bankers is unable to outweigh.

The Berlin houses, which were remarkably steady during the week, is likely to feel the effects of the crisis in New York more during the next fortnight than previously, because it must resist the tendency to export gold, as exchange is not equal to pay for large purchases of American securities. The few American bonds and programs from private bankers have had a reassuring effect upon the financial community.

Especially does it make a good impression that the leading trust companies, which were exposed to heavy losses, were able to withstand the onset of frenzied depositors. It is believed here that the report from the United States contains little of value for a few days the volume of German buying orders sent to New York will be considerably increased.

Much is being said here about the passing nature of the disturbances, and figures are being recited of the American banks now showing an increased imports and exports. There also is a good deal of moralizing over the need in the United States of government control over the currency and on the necessity for a reorganization of the monetary system so that it will be able to bear the requirements of immigrants and stand sudden gusts of unseasoning panic.

The hour is somewhat nervous over the reported financial crisis in Chile. It is believed, however, that the reports concerning it are too pessimistic. German banks having connections in Chile admit that the conditions there have been bad for some time, but they have no information indicating that the situation has become acute.

PARTS NOT ALARMED.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The prevailing opinion in financial circles here is that the worst phase of the crisis in New York is over if it does not extend to the interior of the country. No skepticism regarding the soundness of the financial and resources of the country or the solid basis of the prosperity, and the utmost confidence is expressed in J. Pierpont Morgan and the corps of bankers at the helm. Measures of relief taken by the clearing house of New York and the Society of the Trust Corporation are also all right. Nevertheless it is recognized that the inability of credit is extremely delicate and that the shock to public confidence constitutes the gravest feature of the situation. French bankers congratulate themselves on the fact that they are practically unaffected by the American crisis. The same was cleared of American bills. Operations in American securities on the bourse amount to substantially nothing and prove that French investors in them are able to hold on.

The financial analysts of the country are in agreement on the ultimate result that is sure to follow than to predictions of the future. They agree generally that the crisis was the inevitable sequence to a period of industrial harvests and President Roosevelt's campaign against corporate abuses. Many also regard it as a mere phase of a worldwide crisis. The lesson they all draw is that the financial situation in New York should lead to a reorganization of the American monetary system, the establishment of a government bank of remission and rediscount, such as exists in England, Germany and France.

Food Poisons.

90 Per Cent of All Diseases the Result of Undigested Purifying Foods.

Men of affairs, women of society and children with active brains are too often sedentary in their habits giving little time to exercise. To this evil is added that of high and irregular living—as a result, the stomach cannot stand the demands made upon it. The abused and overworked stomach does not prepare to do its work of digestion, food taken in becomes torments and the poison penetrates the whole system. The body loses its weight and becomes a prey for the attack of whatever disease it may encounter.

Did it ever occur to you how busy these men of yours is? It only holds these stats, but in one year you burn to base in 2,000 pounds of meat to digest it and prepare for assimilation to the blood. No wonder it rebels when overworked. We crowd it with steaks and pastry, irritate its juices with spices and acids, and expect the stomach to do its work. It can't do it.

All of this layer of the stomach are glands which secrete the juice necessary to digestion. The amount of food into the stomach is the signal for these glands to do their work. The more the food, and the more indigestible, the greater the demand upon them and upon the muscles of the wall adjoining.

Think of the tons of high-seasoned game, investments and amusements crammed into this little four-square mill, and then wonder, if you will, why you are dizzy or nauseated or constipated. Don't blame your stomach or curse your fate that you should be born so unfortunate. Blame yourself and your body.

First, get a small package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, taking one after each meal and at bed time. They are medicine, but a digestive. Your stomach is worn out and needs help, not medicine. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do the work that the stomach fails to do. The power in these tablets is to digest 3,000 grains of ordinary food, so you need not fear that anything you eat will remain in your stomach undigested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will rout the poison because they remove the cause of the trouble. They are nature's own cure for dyspepsia. The host of troubles dyspepsia is father of crime he numbered, for a healthy stomach is the source of all health.

and a change in the methods by which sales and purchases shall be confined to securities.

The Times says: "A rich country like America, which cannot operate without foreign credit, and which is organized from a monetary standpoint, the crisis must serve as a lesson, not only to Americans, but to foreign capitalists, who should refuse to become involved until America gives proof of prudence and wisdom by radical monetary reform."

With a few exceptions, President Roosevelt is acquitted of blame for the crisis. The Journal des Debats says:

"The attempt to throw the responsibility upon President Roosevelt for what has occurred only proves that the abuses he pointed out really existed. The official confirmation of the transfer was bound to result sooner or later, in a catastrophe, and it is to be hoped this will serve as a lesson for the future."

The attempt to throw the responsibility upon President Roosevelt for what has occurred only proves that the abuses he pointed out really existed. The official confirmation of the transfer was bound to result sooner or later, in a catastrophe, and it is to be hoped this will serve as a lesson for the future."

Arthur Raffalovich, a high financial authority, takes a similar view in the Economic Economist. He concludes that the American government to provide a bank of issue which would control the interest rate at the root of the evil, but says that President Roosevelt cannot be a scapegoat for the abuses. The responsibility rests with others, he says.

French bankers do not expect President Roosevelt to act to prevent the present, and anticipate that London will supply a considerable amount.

NO JAPANESE WANTED.

Vancouver Makes Demand on Dominion Government.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 26.—The city council of Vancouver has made a formal demand to the Dominion government that the treaty with Japan be immediately abrogated and asking that a law excluding the industrial and agricultural products of the United States be introduced immediately.

The money market trouble, coming with the admitted general prosperity, seems to bother all pervasive professional critics of American financial conditions, but all are willing otherwise to praise the more prominent institutions for so splendidly withstanding the trials of their coffee.

The situation is described as a rich man's crisis, but a poor man's panic. At the same time it is insisted, that while the unreasoning fears resulting in panic may be assuaged, the crisis remains. The crisis is alleged to have built up a staggering fabric of manipulation and peculation, the broad basis of general prosperity. It is pointed out that prosperity will be cleaner for the removal of rotten superstructure, and in the wreckage caused by the downfall of the gamblers investors will find more of an opportunity for picking up cheap.

"Now is the time to buy" is a note not infrequent in general comment. It is not unreasonable to believe that the comparative calmness with which Europe views the situation may be due to the greater and more reliable dissemination of news. A few weeks ago the world-wide crisis was cleared of American bills. Operations in American securities on the bourse amount to substantially nothing and prove that French investors in them are able to hold on.

The financial analysts of the country are in agreement on the course of the crisis and the ultimate result that is sure to follow than to predictions of the future. They agree generally that the crisis was the inevitable sequence to a period of industrial harvests and President Roosevelt's campaign against corporate abuses.

Many also regard it as a mere phase of a worldwide crisis. The lesson they all draw is that the financial situation in New York should lead to a reorganization of the American monetary system, the establishment of a government bank of remission and rediscount, such as exists in England, Germany and France.

JAPANESE AND NATURALIZATION

Their Government Will Insist on Same Rights for Them That Are Granted Others.

SO SAYS MINISTER HAYASHI.

At Present He Favors Limiting Number of Emigrants to Haif Asked For.

Tokio, Oct. 27, 10:30 p. m.—A delegate from the Japanese residents of San Francisco interviewed Foreign Minister Hayashi today and fully explained conditions in that city relative to the prejudice existing against Japanese. He pointed out that the feeling for exclusion was directed against the undesirable immigrant alone and that American employers welcomed honest Japanese laborers. He requested, on behalf of his compatriots, that the foreign office permit the emigration of 200 honest emigrants monthly through Seattle and San Francisco.

Minister Hayashi replied that at present it was advisable to limit emigration to 100 persons.

He further assured the delegate that everything will be done to protect Japanese interests and at the same time emphasized the importance of stopping anything calculated to injure the traditional friendship of both countries. The government would thereafter, he said, supervise the kind of emigrants allowed to go out.

In answer to a question if measures had been taken to secure the right of naturalization for Japanese, Minister Hayashi replied that as a minister of his majesty's government, he will never encourage the alienation of his subjects, but will insist on securing for Japanese rights equal to those granted to other powers.

Minister Hayashi continued, said that he hoped that after the return of Mr. Itoh, the Commissioner General to America to investigate the subject, and the receipt of his report, definite steps would be taken to find a solution in an amicable and satisfactory manner.

ROUGH LOOKING MEN.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 26.—With $14,000 in national bank notes, concealed on their persons, at the point of drawn revolvers, surrounded by a squad of desperadoes, two rough looking men, headed to the bandits who held up the Great Northern Oriental Limited train near Rondo Station, Mont., on Sept. 12, and secured $46,000 in greenbacks, threw up their hands and were arrested in a Great Northern dining car as it entered this city last night. When searched at the police station the $14,000 was found in their clothing. The descriptions of the bandits exactly fit them. On the paper wrappers around the currency was the stamp of the Commercial National bank of Chicago. The suspects gave their names as E. C. McDonald, 43 years old, and Ed Smith, 33 years old. They said they were miners. They fell under suspicion at Bonner's Ferry, where they squandered $100 in dance halls and saloons last night.
