

and make the concern a co-operative affair, and that four hundred cows will contribute to the supply of lacteal fluid. Mr. Williams' farm is right on the line of the U. P. railroad, and Ogden may expect shortly a supply of first-class cheese from the Williams' factory."

Mad "Justice."—W. Hepworth Dixon, in a letter from this city, last December, to the Edinburgh Review, commends intellectual opposition, with truth and fact, history and science, to "Mormonism," but says he wishes it were possible for him to do the same of the course pursued by certain of the U. S. judiciary here. Says Mr. Dixon—

"These lawyers seem to think their duty lies not in dealing out justice to everyone without regard to his opinions, but in 'putting down' the views adopted by an overwhelming majority of the people of this Territory. Such work is not the function of a magistrate. Justice may be blind, but she is never mad. A fanatical soldier is a dangerous man, but he is not so monstrous a perversion of ideas and endowments as a fanatical judge. The bench should be above suspicion; and after the whole of McKean's decisions for more than eighteen months had been overruled by the Supreme court in Washington, it is a marvel that he should have been allowed to keep his post. But here he sits to-day, dealing out the same sort of 'justice' as that so sternly handled and rebuked by Chief Justice Chase."

A Little Unpleasantness.—Yesterday afternoon a man entered a First South Street auction house to purchase some Shaker socks, when a small scene occurred.

"You can haf three pairs for von half dollar."

"Can't you let me have four pairs for that much?"

"Oh yes, I kess so," said the knight of the hammer sarcastically, "I cood let you haf four pairs for dat; I cood let you haf five pairs; yes, without any drouble I cood let you haf six pairs, but I won't sell you noting. You don't can pay noting in dis shitore; dats fat ish di matter. Now you get out ov here, putty queek. I don't vant noting to do wit a man like you."

The too exacting customer got to the door and invited the respectable auctioneer to take a turn on the sidewalk, and if he had ten heads on him, he would put a considerable amount of damage on each of them.

The auctioneer responded not to the call, but called into requisition the services of the officers of the law, and the matter coming before Justice Pyper, that functionary imposed a fine of $10 on the customer who wanted four pairs of socks for half a dollar.

Mr. Fuller's Lecture.—Mr. E. N. Fuller delivered his original lecture, on "Journalism," last evening, to a large audience in the 10th Ward Schoolhouse. He glanced at the invention of moveable types by Gutenberg, then at the casting of metal types, then compared the wooden screw Castor press with the beating balls of printing's first century, to the rapid ten-cylinder Hoe and the complete both side printer of Bullock. The novelty of feats performed by the telegraph in reporting news ahead of time and the wonderful combination of resources that newspapers employ to gather news was spoken of. The partisan spite manifested against newspapers in the Fort Lafayette episode was denounced and the free, independent, yet gentlemanly course of well-bred journalists was compared with the low, vulgar and blackguard policy of sensational sheets; and a patent fact was submitted which would eventually win. Local events and policies of journalism in our courts and daily life were glanced at, and facts were given why the whole interest of the people should always be advocated on the great and grand groundwork of our glorious Constitution.

A vote of thanks was given the lecturer at the close, and we would suggest for some others of our lycæums to ask the gentleman to favor them with hearing it.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, FEB. 20.

Coming Early.—The Denver Democrat says that grasshoppers have already made their appearance in that region.

Served Him Right.—The young fellow, mentioned in last evening's NEWS, who stole ten dollars from an aged couple in the 8th Ward, was brought before Justice Pyper last evening and fined $50. Being unable to pay his fine, he was committed, to work it out on the public works.

Good Hopes.—The S. F. Chronicle of Feb. 18 indulges in a quarter of a column of comment upon the Governor of Utah and the situation here, which comment, as it is based upon false premises, is not worth much. The Chronicle, however, is kind enough to hope that "Mr. Axtell will make a tolerably good governor."

Telegraphic.—Yesterday, by the enterprise of the Deseret Telegraph Company, we were enabled to send a dispatch to this city from York, at which place there is no office. Wm. Bryan, the operator of the line at Nephi, came up to the end of the track, carrying with him a pocket instrument, by means of which the message to the NEWS was sent over the wires.

Wants to Reform.—To-day Garry O'Sullivan, an old member of the chain gang shovel brigade, was up before Justice Pyper on the old charge of drunk. Garry begged the Judge to let him off this time and he would leave town and go to work. The Justice granted the request, with the condition that if he returned he would give him a double dose.

Caught.—A young man by the name of Householder was arrested about a month ago, for breaking a dog's leg without cause or provocation, but merely "for fun." He was taken before Justice Pyper and released, on his recognizance, he promising to return on the day following at 10 o'clock, but he never appeared. The police found him this morning and took him before the Justice, who fined him $25 for contempt.

Littell's Living Age for Feb. 6th and 13th, are full of interesting and valuable reading. They contain "Physical History of the Moon," "Saxon Studies," "German Home Life," "The Shakers or Girlingites," "Mental Effects of the Cold," "A Vandal Venice," "Literary Partnership of Canning and Frere," "False Economy," "Miss Angel," "Fated to be Free," "Three Feathers," with the usual select poetry and miscellany.

Culbreth Remanded to Custody.—Judge Wheeler yesterday gave his decision in the habeas corpus case of Emmett Culbreth, held on a requisition from the Governor of Utah, charging him with forgery. Discharge was asked on the ground that the provisions of our code under which he is held are in conflict with the Constitution of the United States. Judge Wheeler held that this view was erroneous and remanded Culbreth to custody.—S. F. Chronicle, Feb. 18.

Increasing.—The spirit to inaugurate, operate and sustain home manufacturing enterprises is steadily but surely gaining ground, and will continue to increase, which augurs well for the future prosperity of Utah, yet destined to become one of the greatest commercial centres on the continent of America. This is no idle, prospective glance, for the resources, enterprise, energy, intelligence and skill are here to bring about the desired result, for which an enduring foundation has been laid by the older settlers.

Swinton's Language Primer.—This is the first volume of "Harper's Language Series," and consists of a number of "Beginners' Lessons in Speaking and Writing English." By Prof. William Swinton. 102 pp. 12 mo.

In this work there are 104 lessons and 77 exercises, beginning with the simplest principles and expressions, and being slowly graduated to the longer and compound. It is an excellent primary instruction book for schools and little language learners. For sale at Dwyer's.

Native Races of the Pacific States.—This is a new work by Hubert H. Bancroft, of San Francisco, in five octavo volumes, with maps and illustrations. The contents are as follows—

Vol. I. Wild tribes; their manners and customs.

Vol. II. Mexican and Central American civilization.

Vol. III. Myths and Languages.

Vol. IV. Antiquities.

Vol. V. Primitive History.

These volumes are upon a deeply interesting subject, which, if well handled, cannot fail to be highly interesting. The first volume is published, but as we have not seen it we cannot speak of it more in detail.

The work is published in New York by D. Appleton & Co., and in London by Longmans.

A Little More Soap.—Mr. Chas. Davey has commenced the manufacture of family soap, in the 4th Ward.

Mr. Davey superintended Mr. Maiben's factory when the latter was running that branch of business.

H. H. Wadman & Co. have also commenced the manufacture of an article in that line, in the form of bath sand tablets, which are very excellent for cleansing the hands. The sand used as an ingredient is so fine as to give the purifying property, without being harsh and gritty. We understand that Mr. Wadman has applied for a patent for his tablets. He is procuring the necessary dies to have the tablets moulded into a neat and shapely form.

Utah Central and Utah Southern.—No observant person can very well pass over the line of the Utah Southern railroad from here to its southern terminus without being impressed with the activity and enterprise of the company and its officers. The twenty-five miles south of Provo is, for a new road, remarkably smooth, and the short time occupied in its construction, from commencement to completion, in the winter season, is somewhat of a marvel, shewing that superintendent Feramorz Little, under whose immediate management the work was put through, is possessed of the executive ability which must of necessity be a qualification of a first-class railroad builder, a business in which it is useless for "slow coaches" to engage.

As to the equipments of both roads—the Utah Central and Utah Southern—the most fastidious could surely not find fault with them. The train which carried the party of welcome to meet Presidents Young and Smith yesterday was composed of cars belonging to both lines. One of them was a second class, manufactured at home, by our own Utah mechanics, at the railroad shops, and is just as good an article of the class as is turned out at the car-making establishments anywhere else, and probably considerably better than many of them, being more lofty than the generality of the same class.

One of the cars, a first class one, imported, is fitted up in most elegant style, the arrangement and embellishments having been got up with an eye to a combination of ease, comfort and beauty. In fact both companies, in the management of their roads, appear to keep largely in view the convenience of their passengers.

An Incident.—It will probably be remembered by some of our readers that Count Von Arnim brother to the gentleman of the same name who lately made so great a stir in Europe, Mr. M. Lindeman and a party of other distinguished Germans visited this city last October. While here they were introduced to Prof. Karl G. Maeser, who kindly piloted them around, showing them the main points of interest in and around the city. In the course of conversation the subject of "Mormonism" was alluded to, and brother Maeser gave a description of his conversion to that system and testified to the truth of its principles. On his return to Germany M. Lindeman wrote a detailed and very excellent and impartial account of his visit here and the circumstances attending it, and among other matters gave the whole substance of Brother Maeser's conversion, &c., as described by himself. The account was published in Die Gaurtenlaube, a paper much read by the Germans in this country. In the article Brother Maeser's full name was omitted, he being alluded to as Mr. M., and now a gentleman writes from New York, stating that he has read the aforesaid article, also some copies of the DESERET NEWS and The Voice of Warning, that being most favorably impressed with the correctness of the principles inculcated in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, he is desirous to find out who M. is, that he may open correspondence with him, with a view to glean more information from him, being a countryman of his, about "Mormonism."

Not being aware that Brother Maeser was the "M." mentioned in the letter, we handed it to him, as the most likely person to know who he was, when we discovered that he was the very identical "M." himself.

This incident shows how a man can sow good gospel seed in Utah, how it may travel to Germany, spread over a large part of the world, by means of the press, reach this country again, and take root in New York and maybe in other places.

Arrival of Presidents Young and Smith.—Presidents Brigham Young and Geo. A. Smith arrived in this City yesterday afternoon, at twenty-five minutes to five o'clock, after an absence, in Southern Utah, of three months and three weeks, they having left this City for St. George on the 29th day of last October. The time of the arrival being generally understood, several hundreds of people of all classes gathered at the depot to welcome the men whose life work and achievements, under the blessing and guidance of the great Director of Destinies, have won the respect and affection of tens of thousands. After the train had run up to the platform, President Young, the venerable leader of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, made his appearance, and, on seeing the large assembled crowd of people, uncovered his head and greeted them, in a few brief and kindly words. First South Street along which the President's carriage passed, from the depot to his residence, was also lined with groups of people, who had come out to see him.

We are pleased to be able to state that the health of President Young is excellent, his residence in the genial South having, under the blessing of God, acted most beneficially upon him, so much so that he is now free from the rheumatic affection with which he was troubled before going to St. George. The health of President Geo. A. Smith is also good, and, in common with many thousands in this City, in whose esteem those veteran pioneers, and exponents of truth, hold a high place, we bid them welcome once more to the City.

As previously stated in the NEWS, a special train of four cars and a caboose had been placed by the officers of the Utah Southern and the Utah Central railroads, at the disposal of the members of the families of Presidents Young and Smith and some invited guests, who, to the number of about two hundred, left the depot in this City for York, the terminus of the line, at 7.20, a number of other gentlemen and ladies, who had been invited, besides those who reside in this City, were picked up at different points on the way, and at American Fork the excellent brass band of that place was taken on board the train and enlivened the trip with harmonious strains of music. When the train reached the terminus, President Young and party were there in waiting, and a short time was spent in an interchange of kindly greetings. The day was fine and everybody seemed to greatly enjoy so pleasant a trip, bent on so agreeable an errand.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, FEB. 22.

Gone East.—We understand that Bishop John Sharp, and his son, John Sharp, Jr., left this morning on a business trip to the States.

Met and Adjourned.—The Third District Court met at ten o'clock this morning, and, without doing any business, adjourned over till to-morrow morning, out of respect to the memory of the great Washington.

Discharged.—Ben Tasker, charged with assaulting and threatening to kill Nathan Hanson, was discharged from custody on Saturday afternoon, the evidence against him being deemed insufficient to hold him.

Celebrating.—To-day, being the anniversary of the birth of George Washington, the Father of his Country, most of the leading places of business have been closed, and the stars and stripes have floated in the breeze from many of the principal buildings. The day has passed off quietly.

Burglary.—Yesterday afternoon, while Brother John Ricketts, an aged gentleman, who resides in the 9th Ward, and his family were at meeting, his house was broken into by thieves, who succeeded in carrying off a gun, an open-faced watch, two silk handkerchiefs, and about fifty dollars in cash. The robbers gained an entrance to the house, by taking a portion of the glass out of a back window and then removing the fastening.

Home Missionary Appointments

for Salt Lake City and county, for Sunday, Feb. 28—

Sugar House—Elders S. A. Woolley and C. J. Thomas.

Taylorville—Elders Thos. Taylor and S. B. Young.

Neff's District—Elders Thos. V. Williams and C. H. Wilcken.

Draperville—Elders Isaac Groo and George Nebeker.

Flooded.—During last night the water broke through the bank of the 20th Ward ditch, causing it to flow into a lot and flood a cellar a short distance north of the school house block. When the break was discovered by Mark Lindsay, this morning, there was two feet of water in the cellar, and the potatoes and other things belonging to the proprietor were in a bad place for keeping. The family not being at home, Mark got the "Wasatch" firemen to pump out the water with their engine. We understand it was a breaking through of the water, under the bank, and not a flooding over, and could not very well be foreseen or prevented, and therefore no blame can be attached to the watermaster.

The Alleghanians.—Waldron's company claims to be the "old original" Alleghanians, Vocalists, Swiss Bell-ringers, and Ladies Silver Orchestral Band, first organized a quarter of a century ago. The troupe has travelled in every quarter of the globe, giving concerts with the greatest success.

The following dispatch from Ogden has been received by the management of the Theatre—

"Feb. 21st.

"The largest concourse of people ever convened in my theatre welcomed the Alleghanians last night. Many families were turned away unable to gain admission. The troupe appear again on Monday evening, and leave on Tuesday morning for your city.

"CHAS. WOODMANSEE."

Sudden Death.—Suddenly, at seven o'clock, last evening, Bro. Wm. Hamilton Packer died at his home at Joseph City, Sevier Co., of heart disease.

An inquest was held at his house before Amos Davis, Justice of the Peace, and a jury.

Mrs. Sarah B. Packer, wife of deceased, was the first witness sworn. The substance of her evidence was as follows—Witness testified that deceased complained of having a pain in his left breast and shortness of breath for some time past. Said that he was unusually well and cheerful, having eaten a hearty supper, had put a few potatoes to roast and was taking them out when he fell back dead, in presence of all his family.

Isabella Packer, daughter of deceased, was next sworn, and she corroborated her mother's statement.

The following is the return of the inquest—

"TERRITORY OF UTAH,
Joseph City Precinct,
Sevier Co., Utah.

"An inquest holden at Joseph City Precinct, Sevier Co., Utah, 16th day of February, A. D. 1875, at 8 p. m., at his own residence, upon the body of Wm. H. Packer, there lying dead, before Amos Davis, Justice of the Peace of said precinct, by the jurors whose names are hereto subscribed. The said jurors upon their oaths do say that he died of heart disease. In testimony whereof the said jurors have hereunto set their hands, the day and year aforesaid.

"TARLTON LEWIS, Sen., Foreman, BEASON LEWIS, CHRISTIAN JOHNSON, Jurors.

"AMOS DAVIS, Justice of Peace."

TWO MEN CLEARED.—Says the New York Sun concerning the Brooklyn affair and particularly the cross-examination of Tilton by Evarts—

"As soon as the court adjourned all of the Tilton lawyers gathered in Mr. Morris' office, and congratulated themselves on the escape of Tilton from Mr. Evarts' hands without serious damage. Said one of them: 'Tilton wiped out his mistakes of last week by an hour's testimony, and he will walk out of the court room a cleared man.'

"A reporter ten minutes afterward met one of the junior counsel of Mr. Beecher, fresh from a consultation. He said with emphasis: 'Mark my word, Henry Ward Beecher will walk out of the court room a cleared man.'
