EXTREMELY DIRECTOIRE.

The best phase of the Directoire mode is usually to be found in tailored garments, two-piece coat and skirts suits or the very smart one-piece tailored dresses, whicheare to be worn this season as pedestrienne toilettes, with handsome small furs. Such dresses, because of the fact that they will be worn without wraps, will be developed in the heavier cloths, serges, cheviots and similar weaves, with beautiful trimmings of braids disposed in military effects and embroideries of conventional design. The sash, as well as fulllength tight sleeves and Directoire revers, will be the distinguishing features of such models

Opera length silk gloves will again be largely worn this winter with short sleeved frocks for every occasion save the most formal. Many of the afterneon costumes are shown with the long tight fitting sleeves. Silk gloves are very popular also for wear when a muff is carired. They do not sweat the hand as a kid giove does. Marie Weldon, fashion editor of the New York Times, has this to say about the glove: "For evening wear there is no doubt that the elbow and short sleeves will prevail as usual, and there-fore long gloves of 12, 16 or 20 button length will be worn. In purchasing silk gloves for evening wear, the long lengths should always be selected, as when properly worn, they go with the as a kid giove does. when properly worn, they go with the abow short sleeve."

Buckles for hat trimming are only a little smaller than the gigantic roses which are now so popular. Some meas-ure fully nine inches on each side, The roses are in dark tones shading through deep rich greens, reds, etc.

New York women, and, in fact, women all over the country, are buying sig underwear in self-defense against the laundries, which ruin dainty mus-lin lingerle. The advantage of the Ital-ian silk is, that it may be washed at ian silk is, that it may be washed at home, and in those houses where no laundress is employed, the usual maid of all work can easily wash the silk underwear with success. The laundries in many big cities have such a press of work, that they cannot give the fine pieces any care in hand-ling. The women are retaliating by combining themselves with the silk

Stew the grapes until they are very soft, then press through a sleve, that all but the seeds and skin may be extacted. To each quart of pulp add a teacupful of cereal and a little salt, and cook for fully three-quarters of an hour in a double boiler. It is better to make this dish the day before it is to be used. In that case it will have time to harden, and may be served cold, in slices, with sugar and cream. slices, with sugar and cream.

THE SLEEPING SICKNESS WHICH MEANS DEATH

How many readers have heard of this terrible disease? It prevails in that far-away country-Africa-especially the Congo district. It is caused by the bite of the tsetse fly. When it bites a person, the sleeping symptoms begin and finally the sufferer sleeps until death occurs.

Contrast this with the peaceful, balmy sleep of health. Is there anything more wearing than to lie awake The absorbing topic in club circles is the Federation meeting at Manti-next week, the prominence of the speakors, and general excellence of the topics chosen for the program caus-ing an exceptional interest in the ses-sion. Each club in the state is sending its full quota of delegates and alter-nettes, and tesides this a large number of outside people are planning to go down with the excursion, the for-mer Federation trips having proved so delightful that many are cager to avail at night, tossing about, nervous, with cold feet, hot head and mercy knows what else? Short of letting the tsetse fly bite us we would do almost anything for relief. How can we prevent it? Mr. George Hayes, of Union City, Pa., writes: "I had lost my appetite, was all run-down, could not sleep nights. I had tried every-thing without relief. Vinol was recommended, and to my surprise, it helped me at once; gave me a splendid eppetite, and now I sleep soundly." What Vinol did for Mr. Hayes, it will do for every run-down, nervous and overworked person who cannot sleep. SMITH DRUG CO.,
