WEBER STAKE CONFERENCE

Question of Building New Tabernacle for Ogden Brought up—Work of Church Schools.

THOS. ETHERINGTON IS DEAD.

Honored Pioneer and Business Promoter Lays Down Life's Course—Funerals Sunday.

Ogden, Jan. 21.—The quarterly conference of the Weber stake was held at the Ogden tabernacle yesterday with services in the morning and afternoon. President L. W. Shurtliff presiding. The choir with grand organ accompaniment rendered fine music at all sessions.

President Shurtliff reported the stake in excellent condition, the auxiliary organizations are working untiringly along the right lines, and the work being done at the Weber stake academy is being felt for good among the youth of the stake.

Prof. J. J. McClellan rendered "The Pilgrim's Song of Hope" on the new organ.

President A. H. Lund congratulated the people on the securing of the magnificent organ, and felt that now a new organ had been secured a large new tabernacle is necessary to accommodate all the people who desire to attend these meetings. He commended the excellent report given of the conditions in the stake and spoke of the duties and calling of the visiting teachers, whose calling he said was one of the greatest in the Church.

The speaker expressed pleasure in the excellent showing made by the Church schools and the progress being made in the Weber stake in securing more room and better facilities to teach the youth of Zion. He said that the president of the stake should encourage the Church school system. During the past year more money has been expended for the advancement of these schools than ever before and still the demands had not been met. There is an increased sentiment in favor of these schools and all the help that can be extended should be given to improve them. Referring to the religious classes, he said it seemed to him that we are having too many organizations, but he felt we could not have too many organizations to prepare the young people to meet those in the world who are studying hard to overthrow the work of God. It is difficult for one not versed in the gospel and Church history to successfully combat with such people.

He advised careful guardianship of the young as there is a spirit rampant in this land that is drawing the young away from serious thought, study and labor, and while there should be amusements, they should be taken temperately.

The choir sang "Hark, Hark, My Soul."

President Francis M. Lyman was greatly pleased with the choir and the new organ and hoped the musical work would continue to improve. The subject of the duties of teachers he said, is very near to his heart, as all engaged in the latter-day work should be teachers, and they should use their influence for good wherever and whenever opportunity offered. He continued at length on the duties of teachers in the home, among the people to have them live up to the principles of the Gospel and serve the Lord.

Prof. McClellan rendered an organ solo, the choir sang the Doxology and benediction was pronounced by Pres. C. F. Middleton.

At the afternoon services Elder David O. McKay addressed the saints taking as his text "Where is your heart? Is there let your heart be also." He called attention to the treasures God has given the fathers and mothers in their children and the children in their fathers and mothers in their children. He gave a brief review of the condition of the Weber stake academy, and the great need of more room for the 328 pupils now attending. The presidency had authorized the faculty to raise the necessary funds. The Church authorities agreed to pay dollar for dollar not to exceed $10,000 for that purpose. Up to the present time the people have contributed $4,500 and the work will go on just as fast as the money comes in. It is the duty of those in charge not to have one cent of indebtedness on the addition when it is completed, he therefore made an earnest appeal to the people to contribute to the fund that the good work may go on.

The choir sang the "Hallelujah Chorus."

President A. H. Lund advised the people to examine themselves and see if they are keeping the commandments and the covenants they have made, and their mistakes, for while God is gracious and merciful, He demands that His people obey Him in all things. President Lyman addressed the people on the subjects of repentance and faith. It was the duty of the Latter-day Saints to teach the gospel, both by precept and example, to the many people who are coming into our midst. He expressed a hope that the academy would be soon completed and then the people would get together and erect a new tabernacle with a seating capacity of at least 5,000.

President Shurtliff made the closing address, thanking the speakers for their timely and wholesome teachings, and hoped for a large, new tabernacle in the near future.

The choir sang "God is Our Refuge."

THOS. ETHERINGTON IS DEAD.

Honored Pioneer Lays Down Life's Burdens at 70.

Ogden, Jan. 21.—In the death of Thomas Etherington, 1 o'clock yesterday at his home in West Weber from cancer of the stomach, Ogden City and Weber county loses one of its most influential and highly respected citizens, and one who has done much for the upbuilding of this part of Utah. The announcement of his death will bring sorrow to the hearts of hundreds of relatives and friends throughout the entire state.

Thomas Etherington was the son of John and Elizabeth Hemmley Etherington. He was born Nov. 1, 1837, in England. In 1854 he was baptized a member of the Church and the following year emigrated to Utah, enduring all the hardships of crossing the plains and those of the early pioneer life in Utah. He first located in Slaterville, where he took an active part in upbuilding the millitary part of the county, and in 1863 removed to West Weber, where he lived up to the time of his death. He was energetic both in church and public life. For many years he was superintendent of the West Weber Sunday school and served the people as constable. At the time when John Brown's army invaded Utah he served in the militia. At the time of his death he was a member of the high priests' quorum.

Mr. Etherington has taken a prominent part in the livestock business of the state, and was president of the Thomas Etherington Livestock corporation, which was organized only last year with large capitalization. He has been one of the most energetic workers in the Intermountain Fair association, and was one of the company's directors. For years he was president of the Slaterville Creamery company and has been interested in other large enterprises for the benefit of the people.

Besides a loving wife, he is survived by 12 children, 55 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

The funeral services will be held at the Ogden tabernacle Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The casket will be open Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning until 11 o'clock, at his home in West Weber.

ODGEN BAR ASSOCIATION.

Wants Laws Amended to Facilitate Hearing of Cases.

Ogden, Jan. 21.—The Ogden Bar association is greatly interested in the passage by the state legislature of new laws pertaining to transitory actions and venue. At a meeting which was attended by almost every member of the bar in Ogden, the report of the committee appointed one week ago to prepare proposed laws, was received and accepted. The act provides that all suits shall be brought in the venue of actions be amended so as to permit transitory actions arising within this state to be begun and maintained in any county where the cause of action shall arise or where the service of summons may be had on the defendant or one of the defendants; also that the law governing service of summons on corporations should be so amended as to permit

CONFERENCE OF SEVENTIES.

Sunday School Union Officers—District Court—Vital Statistics.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., Jan. 21.—Elder J. Golden Kimball was here yesterday, attending conference of the Thirty-fourth and Forty-fifth and One Hundred and Twenty-third quorums of seventy. A meeting of the presidents of the quorum was held in the forenoon, and a meeting of members in the evening. At the evening meeting, Elders Enoch Jorgensen and Geo. T. Judd were ordained members of the council of the Thirty-fourth and the One Hundred and Twenty-third quorums respectively, to fill vacancies.

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

The Utah Stake Sunday School union held its regular monthly meeting yesterday. In addition to the regular routine work, remarks were made by Superintendent Rawlins and the retiring superintendent, L. E. Eggertsen, and the following committee was appointed to draft a testimonial to former Stpt. Eggertsen: C. Eugene Fletcher, E. H. Holt and Lydia Knudsen. The following officers were sustained: W. S. Rawlins, superintendent; A. N. Taylor, first assistant; C. Eugene Fletcher, second assistant; W. M. Paxman, secretary; Alma N. Johnson, treasurer; George Burles, chorister; Miss Bethune Childs, Miss Pearl Snow, Miss Aretta Young, L. Pearl Snow, Miss Acha Eggertsen, aids.

FOURTH DISTRICT COURT.

George Ferre, convicted of assault service of summons on any railroad, telegraph or telephone company or upon any ticket agent and Prior to now having charge of any property or business of such corporations in such county.

In this same connection President Kimball suggested that some act be passed by the legislature to provide for change of venue in case of prejudicial or biased judges, making it compulsory instead of discretionary on the part of the judge as it now exists.

DISASTROUS RUNAWAY.

A team attached to one of the Wright & Sons company's delivery wagons ran away Saturday evening on Twenty-fourth street hill demolishing the vehicle. The delivery boy had delivered a package to one of the residences and was just stepping into the vehicle when the horses took fright something in the road and dashed down the hill but had only gone a short distance when they ran into a telegraph pole. Passersby caught them before they could get loose from the vehicle. The driver escaped without injury.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

The Fifth ward meetinghouse was filled with sympathizing friends yesterday afternoon, who assembled to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of Benl Bernards, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Bernards, who died suddenly Thursday. The funeral services were commenced at 2 o'clock, Bishop John Watson presiding. Some sweet musical selections were rendered by the Holland choir and Prof. J. J. McClellan sang a solo. The speakers were Elders J. W. Volker, E. Neuteboom, H. B. Denkers, P. J. Lammer, W. J. Deley and T. A. Shreeve, who spoke feelingly of the pure, noble life of the deceased, of his love for his aged parents and desire to do good. They comforted the family in the hope of a glorious resurrection. A beautiful floral tributes silently told of the love in which he was held. Interment took place in the Ogden City cemetery, Elder Shreeve dedicating the grave.

All that was mortal of Henry C. Cox was consigned to rest in the Ogden City cemetery yesterday afternoon. At 12 o'clock funeral services were held at Lindquist's parlors. Bishop's Counselor James Hunter presided. Comforting remarks were made by Elders Hunter, E. A. Larkin and Bishop Robert McFarland.

EXPOSED TO DIPHTHERIA.

Through the holding of a public funeral over the remains of the 15-year-old daughter of City Councilman R. M. Jensen of Huntsville a week ago, who, it was supposed, died from group, it now develops that the Church in early childhood, and was well acquainted with the Prophet Joseph. He was with the saints in the early persecutions of Missouri and Illinois, and accompanied President Young with the first pioneers from Nauvoo. His father enlisted with the famous Mormon battalion, and he remained to the care of his father's family and brought them to the valley, crossing the plains in '49. He was married to Harriet M. Young Dec. 31, 1851. He was an Indian war veteran, being a minute man during the Indian troubles from 1849 until 1855. He went on a mission to England in the spring of 1855; on his return he was called to go to the Muddy and when that mission was broken up he settled at Kanab and was bishop's counselor for a number of years. He has been a pioneer all his life, and a faithful laborer.

Scarcely a family has escaped the plague, however there are no serious cases at present.

There have been storms enough to inquire a prosperous new year. Sheep are changing hands at good figures. Mr. E. D. Woolley recently bought the entire flock owned by J. M. Johnson for $1,000. He has a fine staff, Ariz., at $4.50 per head.

The angora goat raisers are quite encouraged over their future prospects, and the cattlemen are looking for good prices, as the cattle are in better condition than for years past.

CHEYENNE, WYO.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

House Passes Bounty Bill—Bill for Chloroforming Instead of Hanging.

Special Correspondence.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 18.—The house this morning appropriated $40,000 for the bounty on predatory wild animals. This is substantially a re-enactment of the law of two years ago.

By a vote of 21 ayes the house also passed a bill which wipes out the $5,000 limit which may now be recovered in case of death by wrongful act, leaving the amount to be now recovered to the discretion of the jury. This bill has been up for several sessions. Many such actions have heretofore been brought in the Utah courts where this limit does not exist.

The house reported favorably on the bill providing for the transfer of all the state penitentiary property at Laramie to the agricultural department of the state university located in that city. This bill was passed last session but was vetoed by the governor on account of an error in its title by the senate.

A bill which has created some comment was introduced by Hoge of Albany county providing for the administration of the death penalty by hanging and for the repeal of all laws inconsistent with it.

ENGINEER KILLED AT ROCK SPRINGS.

A special from Rock Springs states that a Southwestern engineer, who was fatally injured as the result of a collision which occurred here last night in the Union Pacific yards, was killed. The engineer was a freight car. The switch engine and several cars were demolished.

Bad Blood

TOOELE.

DEATH OF BEAUTIFUL GIRL.

Miss Lillian Walters Victim of Appendicitis—Pres. Gowan's Ill.

Special Correspondence.

Tooele, Tooele Co., Jan. 19.—The remains of Miss Lillian Walters, who died on Wednesday last at the L. D. S. hospital of appendicitis, were met at the depot on Thursday by a large number of her schoolmates and friends. The funeral services will be held to-morrow at 2 o'clock at the ward meetinghouse.

There has been an unusual amount of sickness here this winter, consisting of diphtheria, tonsillitis, typhoid fever and the grip.

President H. S. Gowan is seriously ill with the grip and has been confined to his bed for several days; pneumonia is feared.

Very stormy weather prevailed here last week, there is more snow on the ground now than at any time during last winter, and the heavy south wind has drifted it until the roads are, in some places, almost impassable.

KANAB.

DEATH OF JOSEPH G. BROWN.

Honored Pioneer Closes Eventful Career at 82—Prosperity in Kane.

Special Correspondence.

Kanab, Kane Co., Utah, Jan. 14.—Joseph Gurnsey Brown, an esteemed pioneer, died at his home here Jan. 7 of pneumonia. Deceased was born Nov. 18, 1824, at Newburyport, Mass.

He was with the saints in the early persecutions of Missouri and Illinois, and accompanied President Young with the first pioneers from Nauvoo. ## CARDSTON, CANADA.

SEVEREST WINTER IN YEARS.

Hard on Stock With Short Feed—News Notes.

Special Correspondence.

Cardston, Alberta, Canada, Jan. 14.—For two weeks past Jack Frost and snow blizzards have held sway, until everybody is ready to cry enough! Most of the good people have been kept busy getting coal, rounding up the cattle within the fields and worrying about how much longer it will continue, coal is plentiful, but feed will be scarce as the winter is passed. Reports from the north country are still less encouraging. Much thrashing is still unfinished because of the snow which for health and continuance exceeds anything in the experience of the writer for nine years past.

WEDDING BELLS.

Ben Wood and Miss Fern Bigelow, also Edward Jenson and Julia Hamer, left for Utah last week, the latter couple accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Hamer, the others exactly. The bride alone, Mr. and Mrs. Jenson returning by way of California in early spring time.

BARBER SHOP BURGLARIZED.

Some one burglarized Clark & Brown's barber shop during the week and left one button from his overcoat just where he entered through the transom. The button furnished a clue for some good detective work, with the result that a young man and a woman were arrested on suspicion. A search developed the fact that his coat was missing a button, the one the officer had which the young man and woman, besides the bride alone, Mr. and Mrs. Jenson returning by way of California in early spring time.

On the 13th inst. a little girl came to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jenson. This is the ninth child in the family, seven of them are boys, and all are living.

RAILROAD COMMISSION.

Arkansas Official Reports it a Success in That State.

The Arkansas railroad commission has been a success, according to a letter received at the M. and M. headquarters in this city. In response to the circular letter of inquiry the following reply has been received:

Little Rock, Jan. 16, 1907.

Dear Sir—In reply to your circular letter of the 8th inst., inquiring as to whether our railroad commission has been a success, we beg to advise that we think that it has. The commission in this state has absolute power to make all freight rates, express and passenger rates, and has in fact exercised its power, except as to passenger rates. The statutes of the state provide a set of maximum passenger rates which the commission has deemed low enough. A number of bills have been introduced in our legislature this year looking to the reduction of passenger rates on trunk lines on basis of two cents per mile, and it is probable this rate will be adopted.

Yours truly,

W. E. FLOYD, Secretary.

DID HE SHOOT CAPT. MACKLIN?

Pueblo, Colo., Jan. 19.—United States Commissioner Trimble at noon today said that the negro, Z. T. Andrews, arrested at La Junta yesterday for complicity in the shooting of Capt. Macklin at Fort Reno, Okla., had not been brought before him. He presumed, however, such action would be taken. It was learned that the train in which it was supposed the prisoner was being brought here was several hours late and that it probably would not arrive in time for a hearing of the case today.

LOCOMOTIVE EXPLODES.

KILLING THREE MEN.

Desoto, Kan., Jan. 13.—The locomotive drawing eastbound Santa Fe freight train No. 26 exploded on a bridge near here this morning. The bridge was demolished and the engine and 14 freight cars went into the creek. F. W. Bartlett, engineer; W. W. Dorch, fireman, and H. E. Shaw, brakeman, all of Argentine, Kan., were killed, their bodies being buried under the wreckage.
