

MAYOR ISSUES A PROCLAMATION.

In Which He Declares Monday,
April 16, a Legal Holiday.

OBSERVANCE OF ARBOR DAY.

It is Urged That Business Houses of
The City Close on That Date.

Mayor Thompson today issued a proclamation declaring Monday, April 16, as a legal holiday for the observance of Arbor day in the city. It is urged that the business houses of the city close on that day, and that the people observe the day by planting trees and shrubs and otherwise beautifying the city. The proclamation follows in full:

PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, Pursuant to law, his excellency Gov. John C. Cutler, has designated and proclaimed, Monday, April 16, 1906, as Arbor day, and in said proclamation has recommended that said day be observed as a public holiday, and that all citizens "devote the day to the planting of trees, flowers and shrubs and to the beautifying of public grounds and private residences"; and also commended the work of the Civic Improvement League and advised that the exercises of said day include the work of renovating their premises and the beautifying of their homes in every practicable way; and

Whereas, Representatives of said Civic Improvement League and other residents of Salt Lake City have petitioned me to call the attention of the residents of this city to the suggestions contained in the aforesaid proclamation, and to make certain other recommendations in respect to the manner of observing said day; and

Whereas, There is an awakening among all good citizens in regard to civic conditions, and a wholesome and growing sentiment in favor of general improved municipal conditions and a desire to advance the aesthetic as well as the sanitary and governmental situation of our city;

Therefore, In accordance with the petitions aforesaid and with a desire to contribute to the advancement of objects so worthy and important,

I, Ezra Thompson, mayor of Salt Lake City, Utah, do hereby commend to the attention of the residents of this city, the proclamation of his excellency, Gov. John C. Cutler, and earnestly recommend that the suggestions therein contained be fully observed, and to that end and for such purpose, I hereby recommend that all business houses close on said day, and, so far as possible, there be an abstention from the usual daily pursuits; and that all citizens give the day to the beautifying and improving of the city, to the planting of trees and flowers, the cleaning of premises, both public and private, and the renovating of houses and all other improvements;

Nature has done much for Salt Lake City, and with the advent of new railroads, the ever-increasing stream of mineral wealth into our midst, the courage and industry of her residents, it should be the greatest city between St. Louis and San Francisco. To aid in its growth it must be beautiful, and its streets and sidewalks must be clean. To hasten the desired result, every effort possible should be made to beautify the city; its streets and sidewalks should be improved, and maintained at as high a standard as possible; all public buildings and grounds, as well as private residences and premises should be advanced and kept neat and clean; old decayed trees should give way to new ones, and generally whatever will tend to advance, improve and beautify our city should commend the earnest support of all citizens.

I earnestly urge the citizens of Salt Lake City to unite in building up and beautifying our city, that with the coming years its influence and fame may extend.

Dated at Salt Lake City, Utah, April 6, 1906.

EZRA THOMPSON,
Mayor.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY.

OF M. & M. A. Held Interesting Meeting at Barratt Hall.

At a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Manufacturers and Merchants' association, held in Barratt hall yesterday afternoon, ways and means were discussed for the furthering of the cause of home industry in the west, and especially in Utah. Mrs. A. V. Taylor presided, and the speakers were Mathias Thomas, Mrs. Lydia D. Alder, Miss Lydia Holmgren, and Mrs. Mary E. Kelley, secretary of the auxiliary.

Miss Holmgren, who is teacher of domestic science at the L. D. S. university, stated that her own analysis of Utah cooking supplies convinced her that they were often much better than imported goods advertised as the best. Mrs. Alder held that the policy of consuming imported goods was suicidal, and she was in favor of buying Utah goods, whenever practicable.

When speeches were called for from visitors as to plans for their home towns, the following responded: Mrs. Julia A. Richards, Mrs. Maria E. Ward, Mrs. Jane Parsons and Mrs. Annie L. Wells of Boxelder county; Mrs. Melinda Beal of Sevier county; Mrs. Emma Beal, Mrs. Ezra Shoe-maker and Miss Etta Bench of Sanpete county; Miss Zina Card, Mrs. Rebecca Halston and Mrs. Nellie Parkinson of Cache county; Mrs. Louis W. Jones of Utah county; Mrs. Sarah J. Rasband of Summit county; Mesdames Eliza A. Clark, Cecelia Stead, Eliza A. Picher and Judith Welling of Davis

ALL WAS "LOVELY."

At This Morning's Director's Meeting
Of Continental Life Company.

Eighteen directors of the Continental Insurance Investment company met this morning, in the company's offices in the Atlas block in attendance on the meeting which involves to such an extent the future well being of the company. At the time of noon adjournment for lunch, the progress made was hardly more than a beginning, but a "News" reporter who called then, was assured by the officers that the spirit manifested up to date was highly encouraging to those looking for the best interests of the company, and nothing of an unpleasant nature had occurred. In fact every director appeared to be in a placable and conciliatory mood.

BABY WAS OUTSIDE.

Conductor Hung Carriage and Infant
On Back of Car.

An interesting scene occurred late yesterday afternoon on a First South street car, where the conductor had hung a baby carriage on the outside of the rear vestibule, while the woman owning the carriage and several children were helped inside. After the car had gone a block or two, the conductor was astonished by the woman frantically exclaiming, "Where's my baby?" A very impromptu investigation followed, which resulted in bringing the baby carriage from the outside and the discovery of the missing baby tucked snugly inside and entirely undisturbed by the ride in midair. The conductor had not noticed it, and thought the carriage was empty.

INCORPORATION ARTICLES.

A copy of the articles of incorporation of the Journal Publishing company of Ogden was filed in the secretary of state's office today. Its capital stock is $50,000, divided into shares of the par value of $10 each. B. A. Bowman is president; H. W. Gwilliam, vice-president; Ada Wahlen, secretary and treasurer.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

An old time miner was buried yesterday afternoon, from O'Donnell's rooms, in Neil Bonner, aged 65, who was identified in the early mining of the country. Friends came from Eureka, Park City and other camps to attend the funeral. Vicar General Kiely of the Catholic church conducted the services.

plicants for county teachers' certificates would be exempt this year from examination in subjects in which they secured a grade of 75 per cent or over upon condition, however that the superintendents would recommend the applicants as being successful teachers and active members of the county institutions.

The superintendents were also notified that the school boards should be notified at an early date that persons engaged to take charge of high schools must be holders of state high school diplomas and that teachers employed for work in any department of the public high schools must have the required high school credentials.

Some suggestions were made by the superintendents present to the committee on revision of courses of study in regard to any changes they thought advisable. The committee will work on its report for several days yet before it will be ready to be submitted.

DANIELS' DEFIANCE SALE

We Challenge the World to Equal These Bargains
Another Mill End Consignment of Woolens.

In past seasons our mill end consignment sales have met with a most unbounded success from our viewpoint, bringing scores of men, strangers to us, attracted by bargains which we offer or by the knowledge of those secured by friends.

In offering this $20 Made to Order Suit Sale, we are conscious that we are doing something that very few merchant tailor can do.
