

of tons of sand and gravel on a farm, completely destroying the covered portion. The road was impassable for some time.

Cut Off.—We are requested by the Ogden Herald to publish the following:

To whom it may Concern:

"Notice is hereby given that on the 11th of March, 1884, by the High Council of the Weber Stake of Zion, Orville F. Atwood, of the Hooper Ward of this Stake, was cut off from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints for apostasy.

L. W. SHURTLEIFF,
C. F. MIDDLETON,
N. C. FLYGARE,
Presidency of Stake.
JAS. TAYLOR, Clerk.

Desperado Captured.—The Lar- amie Boomerang says that a private letter from Mrs. Reeves to Mrs. J. W. Brown, of that city, dated March 5, brought the intelligence that a noted desperado, who formerly trained with the Jesse James gang, surrendered at Buffalo, Wyoming, on that day. A man who knew Cummings reached Buffalo last week, and gave him away. An officer approached him when off his guard and invited him to surrender. Having no alternative, Cummings meekly gave himself up. The letter states that it can be proved beyond doubt that this is the man. A reward of $15,000 is offered for the arrest of this desperado.

The Wilhelmsen Monument.—From the Scandinavian Star, of a recent issue, we learn that a beautiful monument has been erected over the grave of Elder N. Wilhelmsen, who died in Copenhagen, Denmark, in 1881, while on a mission to that country. A beehive ornaments the lower part of a marble plate, at the top two hands are clasped, and the centre bears the following inscription: "Niels Wilhelmsen, born April 21st, 1824, died August 1st, 1881. A memorial erected by many friends." The work was performed by Elder A. J. Anderson, and the costs were sustained by the Elders from Utah who are now laboring in the Scandinavian countries.

Narrow Escape of a Train.—A gentleman who came down from Park city this morning, tells of an accident which happened to the train between that city and Ogden. It appears they were rounding a curve in Silver Creek Cañon, when the engineer saw a large rock on the side of the track, but his train was too near for him to stop. A boulder about four feet square, weighing several tons, had rolled down from the mountain and lodged so much in the way as to endanger the train, as on the opposite side of the track there was a high precipice.

A section man, in making his rounds, discovered the rock and attempted to pry it out of the way, and had removed it far enough to clear the engine, but it stripped the steps from the cars as they sped past. The track man saved himself by jumping on top of the rock just in time to get out of the way. The passengers were considerably frightened over the accident, while very thankful to escape so fortunately.

ISRAEL CANFIELD.

A GOOD MAN GONE TO HIS REST.

The death of Elder Israel Canfield, which occurred at Ogden on the 11th inst., deprives the Church on earth of one of its veterans and the community in which he lived one of its most useful and highly respected members. The fatal event was the immediate result of a paralytic stroke sustained on the 8th of last February, though his death at the ripe old age of 74 years, was not surprising nor wholly unexpected.

The deceased was the son of Israel and Lucy West Canfield, and was born in Pittsford, Monroe County, New York, on the 18th day of February, 1810. In the year 1826, he moved with his parents to the town of Ossian, Livingston County, New York, where, on March 20th, 1832, he was united in marriage with Miss Annis Bisby. He filled several honorable and responsible offices in the aforesaid County with dignity and honor to himself and with entire satisfaction to his constituents.

He was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on the 14th day of January, 1844, by Elder Wm. Hyde, ordained an Elder in said Church, and appointed to preside over the Ossian Branch. In 1863 he immigrated to Salt Lake Valley, Utah, with his family, and located in Ogden City, Weber County, where he resided until his death. He was elected a member of the Ogden City Council in February, 1869, and occupied a position therein for ten years with satisfaction to all concerned. He was also a member of the High Council, and a faithful home missionary in the Weber Stake of Zion for many years. He filled the offices of County Treasurer and Sexton, several years, with honor and ability.

The funeral services were held on Wednesday, March 12th, commencing at 1 p. m., in the Fourth Ward meeting house, Ogden City, and were conducted by Bishop Edwin Stratford. Elder Joseph Parry offered up the opening prayer, and the congregation was addressed consecutively by Elder D. M. Stuart, Bishop R. McQuarrie, President L. W. Shurtliff, President C. F. Middleton, Elder Joseph Parry and Bishop Stratford. Benediction was pronounced by Bishop N. C. Flygare. The remains were followed to the cemetery by a cortege of over fifty vehicles.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, MAR. 15.

Two Weavers Wanted.—Two power loom silk weavers can find employment by applying immediately at the Silk Factory, City Creek Cañon. One of them must be a man.

Primary Conference.—The Primary Conference of this Stake will be held in the 14th Ward Assembly Rooms, on Saturday next at 10 a. m. Secretaries will please send in their reports immediately to President E. C. Clawson, this city.

For Unlawful Voting.—The only case before the District Court to-day was that of the People vs. Andrew Peterson, for unlawful voting. The offense is alleged to have taken place in Summit County in the year 1882. The only thing done in the case to-day was an attempt to empanel the jury.

Daynes and Coalter.—The above firm have just received a fine set of nickel-plated instruments for the Sixth Ward Brass Band. It is the finest set of instruments ever imported to this country and is a credit to the band and to the maker, Henry Pourcelle, of Paris, for whom Messrs. Daynes and Coalter are agents.

From Marsh Valley.—A pleasant call from Brother W. C. Hawkins, our former agent at Marsh Valley, Oneida County, Idaho, was duly appreciated this morning. He reports affairs as quiet and peaceable at home, the health of the people good and all feeling well. The winter had been hard, but the snow was virtually gone and spring was beginning to manifest itself. Stock was doing well, no losses had been experienced. The worst need at present was a market for grain. Not one death had occurred in the Valley during the winter that he knew of. He reached here yesterday, renewed his subscription to the News, and returns north to-morrow all the better for it.

Bishop Weiler's Birthday.—Yesterday our esteemed and veteran friend, Bishop Jacob Weiler, of the Third Ward, attained his 76th year. Last evening he was made the recipient of a surprise party by about fifty members of his ward, members of the Relief Society and others, led by Counselors John Y. Smith and Thomas Maycock.

The aged Bishop was presented by them in behalf of the party, with a large sitting chair and a cane. They had brought along their picnic, and with festivity, songs, speeches and recitations, whiled away the evening very happily. One prominent object among the many dainties covering the well-spread table, was a large and handsome birthday cake, inscribed with the Bishop's name and age. We tender our sincere congratulations to our veteran friend, and wish him an added lease of life for many years.

Fatal Fall.—We learn from our Ogden contemporary, the Herald, that on Thursday last Martillo Williams and Alma Clifford, two young men of North Ogden, went out of the settlement to a log cabin some distance north on the slope of the mountain. While there, they seem to have become intoxicated. On their way home they started their horses on a run down the rocky hill.

Clifford's horse stumbled and fell, throwing him head foremost on a large rock. He received a severe cut on the head, from which the blood came rushing out. Williams went for aid, after trying in vain to assist his partner on the horse, and the young man was taken to his home in North Ogden where he died, early Friday morning, from the effects of the wound. Alma Clifford was the son of Frank Clifford and was 19 years old. This terrible tragedy should be an impressive warning.

Manning Released.—Jas. Manning, the fellow arrested a week ago to-night and subsequently fined $25 and costs for disturbing the peace and resisting the officers, was to-day released from custody, his fine having been paid by an officer from the Fort. Manning is a soldier, but was dressed in citizen's clothes at the time he and his two comrades assaulted the police. He is a young man and perhaps the bravest of the three, the others having run away and left him in the clutches of the officers.

We cannot give any of them much credit for courage though. Men who will creep up behind a person and pelt him with rocks, as they did Marshal Phillips and Officer Smith, are certainly not the bravest of the brave, and if our country had no better defenders than they—for they were all soldiers—it would be poorly defended indeed. Manning fought desperately, and got a sore head to remember it by, but his two comrades proved the better part of their valor by discretion, and escaped by taking to their heels.

BEAR LAKE.

A PLEASANT CHAT WITH ONE OF ITS DENIZENS.

Brother William G. Kimball, of Paris, Bear Lake County, Idaho, is down from home on his way to Arizona, to "spy out the land." He will leave here next Monday and will probably be accompanied by his brother Moroni, of this city. He states that there is more snow in the region he comes from than has been known in the last seven years. It is from 3½ to 4 feet on the level and drifts in places as high as ten or twelve feet, covering fences, &c., and rendering locomotion very difficult.

Snow plows are in active demand on the railroad. To see them plunging through the drifts with the combined force of two engines in the rear, with the snow whirling about in a blinding cloud, completely obstructing the vision and giving a glorious halo of uncertainty to the outcome of the work in hand, he says is a picture no artist's brush or writer's pen could do justice to.

One day as the snow-plow was coming into Montpelier, it caught up a horse and hurled it some fifteen or twenty feet from the track. Thinking the animal was certainly killed and its mangled remains either lying about in patches on the snow or contributing to a "shower of flesh" in the adjoining county, the men stopped the engines long enough to ascertain the facts, when to their astonishment they saw, through a rift in the snow-cloud, the irrepressible equine quietly trotting on the track ahead, apparently waiting for the second act of the grand bounding feat to begin.

The deep snow had saved its life. The surface upon which the animal trod was two or three inches above the edge of the plow, while the snow-bank into which he was so unceremoniously projected, received him with all the tenderness of a mother or a featherbed. All the trains have two locomotives back of them, and even then they are often blocked. The weather had been very cold, but was milder when our informant left. He arrived here Thursday night, via McCammon, and heard on the cars that a man had been shot at Granger.

Brother Kimball does not believe in the Bear Lake monster, and sternly repels the insinuation that it is fear of this as yet invisible horror that impels him southward. He felt perfectly safe in leaving his family in Paris. He may possibly settle in the south, if the country down there is all it is "cracked up to be." Lots of people from the East are en route to the Coeur d'Alene. This region is in the extreme north-western corner of Idaho, some 700 miles from hereabouts.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, MAR. 17.

Death from Morphine.—A man named J. D. F. Rockefeller died about 6 o'clock yesterday morning, in the old meat market building, from the effects of morphine self-administered. He left a paper confessing that he took it, and stating that he had been cheated out of his property and was troubled in his mind. An inquest held by Coroner Taylor developed the above facts.

Police Court.—On Saturday a young boy named Paddock was arrested on two charges—stealing chickens and burglary. Yesterday he was taken before the District Court on a writ of habeas corpus, sued out on the ground that the defendant was arrested without a warrant. The District Court sent him back to the city officers with instructions that he be released on a bond of $200 for his appearance this morning. This morning he was fined $10 and costs, on the charge of chicken stealing, and the burglary case was continued. Several other boys are under arrest for stealing chickens.

An Interesting Address.—The large congregation which assembled at the 18th Ward Chapel last evening, was addressed by President George Q. Cannon, who had kindly accepted an invitation to be present for that purpose. Without choosing any particular subject the speaker delivered a discourse teeming with interest and instruction, interlarding his doctrinal points with pleasing anecdotes, illustrations and historical items, together with much good counsel and earnest exhortation. His remarks occupied a little over an hour, and were listened to with rapt attention. No synopsis that we can give would do justice to the discourse. It is a matter of regret that there was no reporter present. An excellent spirit prevailed, and all went away feeling that they had been much edified.

Cattle Thieves Caught.—A special dispatch from Silver Reef, received this morning, announces the arrest of three cattle thieves at Virgin City, and their intended incarceration in the St. George jail. The telegram says that some time ago suspicions were aroused that three men, Sweet, Bliss and Stapley, camped at Caanan ranch near Kanab, were there for the purpose of stealing cattle, and a man was sent to watch their movements.

Suspicious were confirmed and men were sent to arrest the thieves, but they managed to evade the officers until the 7th of March, when Bliss was caught. The other two escaped without coats or hats, but soon obtained horses. They were closely pursued and occasionally seen, shots were exchanged several times, but no one hurt. They were finally captured at 1 o'clock this morning in Virgin City, and would be placed in the St. George jail to-day. Sweet is a desperado from Arizona, where there is a reward of $750 offered for him. Bliss and Stapley are Utah boys, Stapley not more than 18 years of age.

Third District Court.—Proceedings before Chief Justice Hunter on Friday evening, March 14, 1884.

People, etc., vs. John A. Flowers assault with deadly weapon, etc., verdict of jury, not guilty.

Admitted citizen—Sylvester Marsh. Charles S. Varian appears before the Court with his appointment as Deputy District Attorney, and subscribes and has administered to him the official oath.

Saturday, March 15.

United States vs. Andrew Peterson, unlawful voting: jury empaneled.

Monday 17th.

Admitted citizen—Orson Platts. People, etc., vs. Joseph Biddlecome, murder; defendant files motion for new trial, and sentence fixed for Friday the 21st.

United States vs. James Stewart, using U. S. mail to defraud; defendant sentenced to six months confinement in the Utah Penitentiary, and to pay a fine of $25.

United States vs. Andrew Peterson, illegal voting; jury trial in progress.

"Utah Gazetteer."—Mr. R. W. Sloan returned from Cache Valley on Sunday evening, having been gone a month. He went to Logan on invitation of the Central Board of the Y. M. M. I. A. of that State, to lecture, and while there interested himself in behalf of the Utah Gazetteer, a work which, in connection with Mr. D. C. Dunbar, of the Herald, Mr. Sloan is compiling, and which is being pushed rapidly ahead. Over 500 copies have been sold in Cache Valley alone, and everywhere the work is meeting with a ready sale and a hearty reception, both on account of the excellent character of the work, and because of the well-known ability of its projectors to fulfill every thing promised by them.

Several things that recommend this work are certainly deserving of some consideration: It is a Utah book, gotten up by Utah parties, fully as able as any imported talent, who live and have an active interest in the Territory, who are known to the people, and every dollar will be spent in the Territory instead of being taken out and thus be a contribution to the upbuilding of outside industry as against home enterprise and energy.

Trip to the States.—Elder Harvey H. Perkins, of West Bountiful, returned on Friday morning, via the D. & R. G., from a trip to Tennessee, Ohio and Missouri, having left here about seven weeks since for the purpose of visiting his relatives in the latter State, and gathering up genealogical data of his family. He went first to Chattanooga, Tenn., in company with Elder B. H. Roberts, and after spending ten days, there, went to Cincinnati, Ohio, and was there during the recent floods.

The water in the river raised 72 feet and 1 inch above low water mark, and did millions of dollars worth of damage, particulars of which have heretofore appeared in our dispatches. He remained in that city three or four days and then started for Missouri. He was accompanied part way by Elder Donelson, who is there on a mission. The city was surrounded by water on three sides, and they were obliged to take a skiff for over a mile and a half down the river to North Vernon, where they took the train for Brunswick, Missouri.

About a mile out from North Vernon they came upon a place where the Ohio River had flooded the track, and the water in places was four feet above the rails. The train of five coaches had four engines, two in front and two behind, and was rushed through the water until a high place was reached, where the train would be stopped to let the water drain out of the cars, and to replenish the fires in the engines, which had been extinguished to the last spark. They fired up with pitch and turpentine, and had to proceed very slowly, and were an hour going three miles and a half. The depth of the water on each side of the raised grade was sufficient to have drowned the train and its inmates had it left the track. But the extraordinary feat was successfully performed.

Brother Perkins was well received by his relatives in Grundy County, Mo., who treated him with every courtesy and consideration, and lent him every assistance in getting the information he went after. He had not seen his uncle, Wm. Anderson, for thirty-six years. He spent two weeks with him and was treated as well as he could possibly be.

He went from there to Chicago and visited the stock yards, a sight of great interest to him as he is a cattle raiser by vocation, and after a stay of 24 hours in that city, returned to Missouri. While in Chicago he also visited one of the meat-canning houses, where they canned that day 800 head of beeves; their daily average was 1,000 head. He left Alpha, Mo., last Monday morning for home, and after a few stoppages by the way, reached home on Friday at 9:30 a. m.

Educational.—The Teachers' Association met on Saturday in the 13th District, with Superintendent John Morgan in the chair. After the preliminary exercises the programme was rendered as follows:

J. D. Cummings told to what extent he relied upon text-books in the school room, stating that he simply depended on them for the information he desired and so far as they were adapted to his method of instruction.

On the subject of elementary drawing, Mrs. Chloe Pratt said that she used drawing partly as a recreation, first taught the pupils to draw straight lines and what objects could be formed by them, and then taught them to draw curved lines.

On the merits and demerits of Independent Readers, Mr. Wm. M. Stewart said that they had no merits worthy of mention, and in this remark he was warmly seconded by some of the teachers. He said they were of an old style and uninteresting, and aroused no thought in the pupil, were deficient in conversational exercises and did not teach on natural principles.

Superintendent Morgan spoke on the duties of trustees, saying that teachers should not act as janitors, but trustees should arrange for the school houses to be cleaned, provide black boards, desks, maps, chalk, outhouses, in fact furnish everything in their power that is needed by the schools.

Mr. Thos. S. Higham then reviewed the exercises to some length, ably pointing out the points and defects made by the speakers, and also of the proceedings in general.

THE ALTA VICTIMS.

THEIR BODIES BROUGHT HERE FOR BURIAL—INQUEST AT SEXTON TAYLOR'S TO-DAY.

Eleven bodies of those who perished in the snowslide at Alta last Friday night, were brought to this city by special train this morning, and shortly after noon were taken to Sexton Taylor's office, where an inquest was held upon them by the Coroner at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The corpses were in good condition, though some discoloration was apparent on some of them, and were carried to town in the boxes provided by the Sexton for that purpose and sent along with the relief party which left here at seven o'clock yesterday morning for the scene of the disaster.

The party, led by Mr. George Cullins, reached Wasatch, eight miles below Alta, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and from that point beat their way in double file through the snow and ice up to Alta, where the bodies lay awaiting transportation. The men divided into two gangs, the first of which reached Alta at 3 p. m. and the other about an hour later.

They found the town literally under the snow, some of the buildings being covered up to their gables, while the whole cañon was blocked up by avalanches which had come down from both sides of the gorge.

After a rest of several hours, the party started on the return trip, leaving Alta at moonrise and dragging the bodies on sledges down to Wasatch. They were met on the way by Mr. Livingston's quartermen, who rendered effective service, and all arrived at Wasatch at two a. m., where the bodies were put on the train for this city.

The heroic party, or most of them, returned at the same time. The bodies will be buried here as soon as the inquest is over, and matters can be arranged for their interment. The inquest is in progress as we go to press.

We learn that the bodies of Mr. Prethero and the young man Richardson will be taken to Provo to-morrow, and those of Mr. Cahlgren and wife will be shipped to Santaquin. Lottie Oleson will be buried from the Sexton's office at 11 a. m. to-morrow. The two Wasson brothers, Mr. Delano and Mr. Crockett will be buried to-morrow at two o'clock, in one lot in Mount Olivet Cemetery and Mr. Lybecker will be buried by the Masonic Fraternity, Argenta Lodge, from his late residence in the Sixteenth Ward, to-morrow.

One of the bodies, Mr. Willard Stevenson, is still under the snow.

Remarkable Escape.

John Kuhn, of Lafayette, Ind., had a very narrow escape from death. This is his own story: "One year ago I was in the last stages of Consumption. Our best physicians gave my case up. I finally got so low that our doctor said I could not live twenty-four hours. My friends then purchased a bottle of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, which benefited me. I continued until I took nine bottles. I am now in perfect health having used no other medicine."

Brown's Bronchial Troches will relieve Brnchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Consumptive and Throat Diseases. They are used always with good success.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate, for Alcoholism.

Dr. S. S. Hullman, Philadelphia, Pa., says: "It is of good service in the troubles arising from alcoholism, and gives satisfaction in my practice."
