LAST SESSION OF RETIRING COUNCIL

Solons Met Last Night and Closed Up Business for Their Term Of Office.

CRUSHED BY SWITCH ENGINE.

Fred Horrup Seriously Injured In Depot Yard—Loses a Leg and is Badly Bruised.

Ogden, Dec. 29.—The retiring city council held its last meeting last night, and closed up the business for their term of office. The most important transaction was the appropriating of $100 for legal assistance to defend Mayor Glasemann and the other city officers, who are made defendants in an action brought by the Ogden Rapid Transit company for the tearing up of street car tracks across the Ogden river bridge a short time before the late municipal election.

Councilman Max Davidson entered a motion for the remittance of the $75 application fee filed by Rudolph Kuchler and P. H. Hendershot, representing the Citizens' Water company when this corporation made application for a franchise to operate a water works system in Ogden. The motion prevailed. This action indicates that the Citizens' Water company will no longer be a factor in the water question of Ogden.

The city auditor was instructed to issue warrants for the remittance of all 1906 licenses that lap into the year 1907. This is done with an idea of paying all liquor licenses start from the first of the new year.

NELSONS NOT DEMENTED.

Fighting Family Have Hearing Before Judge Howell and Physicians.

Ogden, Dec. 29.—Miss Annie Nelson, the woman who, with the aid of her younger sister and brother, gave Sheriff Bailey, two of his deputies and several policemen a hard fight yesterday morning, was examined by Drs. Condon and Coulter and Dist. Judge Howell as to her sanity and adjudged sane, and was ordered by the court to be placed in custody. In the face of the fight put up by the Nelsons when the officers went to their home, this may seem strange, but the physicians and Judge Howell were unanimous in their judgment that while the woman may have a violent temper she is not insane.

The examination was commenced at 5 o'clock last evening and lasted nearly an hour. During all of that time the woman showed signs of great nervousness but to all questions put to her she gave straightforward answers, and there was no indication of insanity.

Miss Nelson's sister, a stenographer, was questioned, and she said that her sister had not been well for over two years and was very nervous and often spoke harshly to her, but that she did not think her sister was in any way insane and she had no fear of her.

Annie Nelson was then questioned carefully as to her actions and told in a straightforward manner that she, with her sister and brother, had come home Wednesday night from a business trip by wagon, that they were cold from riding and after having supper they took some physical culture exercises and made some noise, but did not think they had made noise enough to cause any disturbance. When asked why she fought the officers so fiercely when they came to the house she said, she was so excited and nervous at seeing them that she supposed she did act crazy and cause a great disturbance as well as curse and abuse the officers, but she thought they had no right in her home, and did not hardly know what she was doing in her wild excitement.

NELSONS ARRANGED.

This morning Axel and Margaret Nelson were arraigned before Judge Murphy on the charge of incest. Their bail being fixed at $1,000 and $500 respectively. Miss Nelson secured bail through Frank Grant of the firm of Richardson & Grant, who said the girl used to work for them and had a most excellent reputation. The preliminary hearing will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. M. D. Lessinger has been appointed to defend them.

The heirs to the estate of the late Thomas D. Dee have incorporated what is to be known as the Thomas D. Dee company with a capital stock of $340,000, represented in the interests of the respective heirs. The purpose of the company is to buy and sell the property of the estate and purchase and dispose of stocks, bonds, etc. Mrs. Annie T. Dee is president; Mrs. Mary E. Dee Sharp, vice president; Mrs. Annie Maud Dee Porter, secretary and treasurer. These with Richard B. Porter, Margaret Dee, Edith May Dee Mack and Florence Emily Dee Mack make up the board of directors. Eight hundred shares of the capital stock of the company is held for Rosabelle Dee and Lawrence T. Dee, minors.

ous and perhaps fatal injuries yesterday afternoon in the union depot yards by being crushed under Rio Grande Western switch engine No. 21.

Mr. Horrup was going northward along the R. G. W. track, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets, towards his home, when the switch engine was switching some cars in the same direction. After having sent the cars down an adjoining track the engine started slowly northward, and Horrup was walking slowly along side of the track, but when the engine was within a very short distance of him he stepped right in front of it, evidently not hearing its approach, and before the fireman, who was the only one to observe him, could tell the engineer to stop the engine it had struck the unfortunate man and passed partly over him, crushing his right leg terribly, cutting a bad scalp wound and otherwise severely injured him. The ambulance was sent for and the poor sufferer was removed to the hospital, where the physicians found it necessary to amputate his leg just below the knee. He was very weak from the loss of blood, and little hopes of his recovery are entertained.

OGDEN WITHOUT STREET CARS.

People Compelled to Walk Through Heavy Snow.

Ogden, Dec. 29.—All day yesterday and part of the day before, the Ogden Rapid Transit street cars were out of commission, and the people from all parts of the city had to walk through the heavy snow, which has worked a hardship to many living a long way out. For more than a week the street car service has been badly crippled, and when the cars were running they were very irregular, making it very inconvenient for the public. So Mr. Mattson decided to close down the system for a couple of days so that the boilers and pipes that have blown out could be properly repaired, so that the cars on all the lines can be run regularly and on time. The cars were put into commission this morning.

In a brief discussion before the vote, Mayor Pro tem Roberts urged the amendment be made, and Councilman Decker opposed action on the ground that the matter had been up before the NAVY YARD AT SEVASTOPOL, SCENE OF RECENT MUTINY.

The view of the Russian former stronghold of Sevastopol herewith given shows Admiralty point, which was seized by the mutineers in the recent Black sea troubles. Sevastopol was long regarded as the impregnable spot in the Russian empire, but it was not proof against the schemes of its own mutinous garrison. Since it was stormed and taken by the allied fleet in 1855 it has fallen into decay. By the terms of the treaty Russia was not permitted to rebuild the fortifications, and the garrison in modern times has been reduced greatly.

pany had obligated itself to pay $250 a year for the privilege of doing business. This was in lieu of a license fee, and that company would not be required to pay a license fee under the proposed ordinance. He then took up the history of the Bell Telephone company, which had come as pioneer and worked up the telephone business. He thought his company should be permitted to do business for the remainder of the life of its franchise, which was now only two or three years, under the contract which it entered into when the franchise was granted. When his company applied for a new franchise, which it would, then it would be fair, and it would be expected by the company to enter a new contract, under which some amount would be paid to the city under the new franchise. He also called attention to the improvements made by his company, which added to the taxable property of the city.

The fact that the Bell company had asked for a new franchise, and offered to pay $250 a year, was brought out by members of the council, and the council was of the opinion that treatment of each company was fair under the proposed ordinance. The ordinance was then passed; the annual license fees provided for in the ordinance are as follows: Express companies, $25; telephone companies, $250; telegraph companies, $10 and electric light companies, $250. Councilman Decker voted no, giving as a reason that he opposed charging express companies a license fee.
