LOCAL BRIEFS.

Christmas Celebration.—The Phillips Congregational Sunday school will hold its annual Christmas celebration next Monday evening.

Donations Requested.—The Woman's league asks for Christmas donations for the children in the detention home. Gifts may be left at Schramm's drug store.

No Issue Christmas.—Patrons of the "News" are hereby notified that in keeping with the custom observed by this paper, The Deseret Evening News will not go to press on Christmas day.

Meeting not held.—On account of the holiday rush which kept many members of the governing boards of the M. & A. association, Real Estate association, and the Commercial club away, there was no meeting last night of the representatives of the three bodies mentioned, to act on the question of maintenance of the Chamber of Commerce exhibit.

To Form Alumni Ass'n.—The move for organization of a Michigan Alumni association which has been on foot for some time, has finally taken definite shape in a call signed by Ashby Snow, W. H. King and others, for a meeting to be held next month to organize an association for Utah. Michigan University has more graduates in Salt Lake and Utah than any other foreign institution, over 100 living in this city.

Find Their Child Dead.—When Mr. and Mrs. David M. Staples, of 254 Valeria Avenue, arose yesterday morning they were shocked to find their daughter, Elizabeth Ann, aged 15 years, dead in her bed. An epileptic fit is believed to have been the cause of death, as the girl had suffered from fits all her life. The parents had no warning of the approaching end, and she had evidently been dead at least an hour when discovered.

Works an Old Game.—There are several persons in Salt Lake City who would like to interview a young man named J. M. Candler, who is said to have come from Atlanta, Ga., and who says his father is a manufacturer of Coca-Cola. Candler has been in the city for some time and made many acquaintances and it is now claimed that he has been raising funds by passing bad checks. It is reported that he went into a hardware store, bought a safety razor for $5, tendered a check for $30. He got $25 in change and it was discovered that the check was worthless.

PROFITS BY EXPERIENCE.

San Francisco Building a City That Will Resist Earthquake and Fire.

President J. E. Cosgriff of the Commercial National bank has returned from San Francisco with a story of the burned business district is not half built up yet; in fact, it will require a generation to rebuild the city as it was. At the same time, the great commercial buildings already rebuilt are constructed with a solidity that is believed to be proof against any earthquakes that may come hereafter. Then citizens and roof tanks are being built for storage of water to be immediately available in case of fire, so it will not be necessary to depend on the city waterworks supply. Oakland appears to have profited by San Francisco's sufferings. Before the fire the former city was mostly a boarding-house for San Francisco business men for Manhattan. But when the big city across the bay lost its commercial trade for the time being, the latter city, through much of the traffic passed over to Oakland, which is likely to retain a fair share of it in the good.

A DANGEROUS OPERATION. is the removal of the appendix by a surgeon. No one who takes Dr. King's New Life Pills is ever subjected to this frightful and dangerous operation. You don't feel them. They cure constipation, headache, biliousness and malaria. 25c at Z. C. M. I. drug store, 112-114 Main street.

THIEVES IN POSTOFFICE.

Thieves and pickpockets are much in evidence at the postoffice and complaints have been made by several persons that the situation became such that it was necessary to have police officers stationed on the premises. A package laid down for a moment on the writing desk by Mrs. Sanders quickly disappeared and was seen to be held by Mrs. H. King reported that as she stood near the registry window, holding in her hand a $20 bill, she was jostled about in the crowd and lost the money.

MISS SWEETHEART DIES WHILE CROSSING OCEAN

Charles Clark of Eureka Receives Shocking News in Dispatch From New York.

New York, Dec. 21.—When the big liner Baltic came into her dock here after having sailed from New York, Charles C. Clark of Eureka, Utah, learned that the woman he had waited years to wed had died while crossing the ocean to join him in the home he had made for both. The girl, Miss Priscilla Hewison of White Haven, England, was stricken with peritonitis soon after the vessel sailed. So rough was the sea that the ship surgeon found it impossible to perform an operation.

First cabin passengers, among them Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, wife of the American ambassador to Great Britain, learned of the romance that had come to so tragic an end, made up a liberal purse and arranged to have the body brought to New York for burial.

Clark and Miss Hewison had been childhood sweethearts and when he came to America several years ago, she promised to wait until he had made a home. Clark came all the way across the continent to meet the young woman and take her back to Utah as his wife.

Mr. Clark, mentioned as being at the pier when the news of his sweetheart's death was brought to him, arrived in port, but was in Eureka, where he received word by telegraph last night of the fate of his fiancée. Mr. Clark, himself a native of England, first met Miss Hewison when both were playmates.

He returned to his native land last summer, when he renewed the acquaintanceship and the betrothal followed. Miss Hewison promised to come to Utah with him, and he hurried to Eureka to make his home. Mr. Clark is one of Eureka's best known men. He is the watermaster of the camp, and has a wide circle of friends here and in Eureka about five years, and before going was engaged in various lines of business in Montana and nearby states. He is prominent in fraternal circles, and is a member of the Grand Lodge of the Elks.

GOOD COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and no mother can afford to neglect the health of her children. A child is much more likely to contract a cough or cold than an adult. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk of a permanent cough. Remedy is the only reliable cough medicine, and few of those who have tried it are not convinced of its value. Mrs. E. F. Starobin of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything else for my children and it has always given good satisfaction. This remedy cures colds and coughs, and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by all druggists."

AN APPEAL TO CHARITY.

Association Calls Attention to Need For Contributions.
The Salt Lake Charity association has issued a call, asking for funds to help the work of the organization. The statement is made that there is urgent need of means whereby suffering and distress may be relieved, and the assurance is given that money, food or clothing contributed to the society will be judiciously expended. The aim of the organization is to care for those who are unable to sustain themselves, and to help those who can work but have no opportunity to help themselves. Following are the officers and directors of the society: Dr. R. B. Beatty, president; J. D. Wood, vice president; J. B. Evans, secretary; B. P. Walker, treasurer; directors: Simon Bamberger, W. Mont Perry, W. V. Rice, E. A. Druehl, Rev. E. I. Goshen, William H. Tibbels.

MEDICINE THAT IS MEDICINE.

"I have suffered a good deal with malaria and stomach complaints, but I have now found a remedy that keeps me in good health. It is called Electric Bitters; a medicine that is medicine for stomach and liver troubles, and for run down conditions," says W. C. Kiestler, of Halliday, Ark. "It cures the blood, tones up the nerves, and imparts vigor and energy to the weak. Your money will be refunded if it fails to help you, 50c at Z. C. M. I. drug store, 112-114 Main street."

MARSHAL SEIZES CHERRIES.

Consignment Bearing Label Proscribed By Law is Confiscated.

A consignment of maraschino cherries recently received by the firm of Riegler & Lindley was confiscated yesterday afternoon by United States Marshal L. H. Smyth. It is alleged by officials of the government, who made a complaint in the premises, that the goods were improperly labeled and act contrary to the provisions of the pure food law passed June 30, 1906. The cherries were grown and packed in California, but the label reads as though they were the product of the local firm. The following are appearing on cases and bottles: "Golden Gate Cherries in Maraschino, Riegler & Lindley, Salt Lake City, Utah." Mr. Lindley disclaims any responsibility for the matter, and the officers believe that the manufacturers are to blame. The goods were placed in storage, and a hearing will be had Jan. 24, to determine who is to be held accountable for infraction of the law.

The social committee was instructed to select entertainers every month for some form of literary or scientific entertainment, and special effort will be made to make the club more influential than ever in the local community. Light refreshments were served and a social held.

POWERFUL SERMONS OF THE UTAH SAVINGS & TRUST CO.

"The Utah Savings and Trust company has been preaching powerful sermons through its advertisements the past year. These sermons on saving have attracted the attention of all classes of the community, and while the Utah Savings and Trust company has been benefited in greater measure, perhaps, than the other banks, and would be a natural and desirable result of its own advertising, yet every institution in the city having a savings department has felt the influence of these well-worded and stirring appeals to the conscience of the people."

The above is a quotation from a letter just received by the manager of the Utah Savings and Trust company from a prominent citizen of Salt Lake City, who is himself director in a bank.

This expression is but one of hundreds of similar nature, and demonstrates that the value in advertising is to become well and favorably talked about.

Although the Utah Savings and Trust company has occupied its present site, No. 235 Main street, but one year, there is scarcely a man, woman or child who does not know its location and the nature of the business it transacts.

Who does not know, for instance, that it is the bank that pays 4 per cent upon savings deposits, and that it issues time certificates bearing the same rate—that it transacts also a commercial banking business, receiving deposits subject to check and that it loans money on real estate and other approved securities? When one is in need of a surety bond, the mind involuntarily turns to the Utah Savings and Trust company, and the place to go to get it; and the very large business the institution enjoys in abstracts and title insurance demonstrates beyond cavil the value of doing business with the public, giving quick and reliable service, as well as the value of careful and skillful advertising.

But that is not all. The Utah Savings and Trust company further enjoys a reputation for character and square dealing which makes it a repository of all kinds of trusts and escrows, lost wills and testaments and the thousand and one other needs of the modern business world for a fiduciary institution.

The building itself is the best and most modern and the most handsome of any in the state, though perhaps not so large as some, but being constructed of reinforced concrete, it is so absolutely fireproof that this fact appeals strongly and favorably to all those careful business men and women who regard the safety of their money as a paramount consideration.

Then the vaults of the Utah Savings and Trust company are better protected by burglar alarms than any others in the West, and this is another fact so well recognized that the company has been forced to order a lot of new lock boxes for the coming year.

The gentlemen who control its affairs are so well and favorably known that it would seem unnecessary to repeat their names, except for the fact that the management is a thorough convert to the great principle of keeping its institution favorably before the public.

Its officers are: W. S. McCormick, president; John J. Daly, vice-president; Heber M. Wells, manager; Thomas W. Sloan, assistant manager; N. G. Hall, assistant manager; John W. Ensign, manager Title Department; and its directors are W. Montgomery Perry, W. J. Halloran, Colonel E. A. Wall, E. O. Howard, all of Salt Lake City, and Frederick C. Jensen of Mt. Pleasant.

And who does not remember that it is located in the business heart?

Through the "News" the Utah Savings and Trust company thanks the public for its generous patronage and wishes all the people of the Intermountain states a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.
