LOCAL BRIEFS.

Pythian Sisters Dance—The Pythian Sisters will give a ball in Castle Hall on the 22nd inst.

Leave Their Home—Dr. Keogh has leased his home for the winter, and with Mrs. Keogh, has gone to the Fifth Ward Hotel to live.

O. R. Sterling to Talk—O. R. Sterling of San Francisco will address a citizenship class of the Y. M. C. A. next Wednesday, on "The Possibilities of the Board."

Greco to be Deported—Immigration Inspector T. J. Longley has gone to New York in charge of the Berkner, the Greek who is suffering from paralysis, and is to be deported.

Governor Back Tuesday—Gov. John C. Cutler and party will return to this city from Jamestown to-day or Tuesday. The governor will be in his office in the city and county building on Tuesday.

New Apartment House—Architects Ware and Trigunza are completing plans for a 5x80 foot three-story apartment house for Charles Tyng to be erected at Second South and Third East street, at a cost of $20,000.

Lettering Not Complete—The secretary of the M. & M. association wishes that the parties to whom were given blue ribbon decorations of the association during the state fair would return the same to him that the lettering may be completed.

May Heighten Block—David Kellie is considering making seriously the ever increasing competition to increase the height of the D. F. Walker building by two stories, which would make it six stories when the change had been made. Office space is at a premium in this city.

Murray Company to Rebuild—The Murray Mill company, which was burned out early in the summer, will rebuild on State street, near Seventeenth South, with a 10x100 foot brick structure to cost $10,000, which will be equipped with all the latest machinery.

Civil Service Exams—There will be civil service examinations in this city, Nov. 13, next, for foreman in the Bureau of standards, Washington, D. C., at $50 per annum; also, Nov. 29, for blacksmith (choreshoer). In the quartermaster's department at large, $220 per annum, at Fort Meade and Fort Riley.

Utah Standard Oil Company—The Utah Standard Oil company filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state Saturday. The company is capitalized at $1,600,000 in shares of $1 each. The officers of the company are: P. A. Scarsen, N. M. Hamilton, D. D. Tarpey, J. A. Johnson, W. H. Hanson, J. M. Grant, H. S. Anderson, and James J. R. Valentine and James Johnson.

May be Four Stories—While W. C. Lyne is now proposing to make his great warehouse three stories, the chances are that before the building has reached that height Mr. Lyne will call for four stories. The cost of making the change now will be some $3,000, and it would be far more later, and it is almost axiomatic fact that the fourth story will be spoken for before the building is completed.

Insects in Salt Lake City—Lewis Sampson, a well-known sheepman, has bought the Oxford apartment house, 119 west North Temple, from C. W. Midgley, for $40,000, and will remove from Soda Springs, Idaho, to the city. The house on Second Street now owns the Sampson flats at Third South and Third East streets, and the two men have altogether invested some $200,000 in Salt Lake city.

Dean Harris Addresses Inmates—Dean Harris, chaplain of St. Ann's orphanage, addressed the convicts in the state prison yesterday afternoon. He is reported to be very interesting, and the speaker was allowed all the time he wanted. He made special reference to the environment of men exposed to temptation, as largely responsible for the trouble so many become involved in.

County Treasurer Busy—County Treasurer J. A. Gossard is busy to-morrow day, as he is getting ready to be more busy during the eleventh hour rush of tax payers and that is what makes him so busy now. Though taxes are due when the notices are mailed, taxpayers generally wait until the last day or two before making their annual contribution. Only about $30,000 have been paid in to date, and it is expected that within the next three weeks the collections will run over $1,000,000.

High School Party—The Salt Lake High school juniors are planning a "get acquainted" party, and have set Friday evening next at the Eaton gymnasium as the time to hold it. An informal dance will follow the general reception and to insure the attendance of class members no boys will be allowed to select their escorts, but will draw for them, the names of all the young ladies in the class having been placed in a box on just enough slips for one around to the boys of the class. Arrangements are in charge of a class committee appointed by Class President Moyle Gray.

Zion's Savings Bank & Trust Co.—Pays 4 per cent on deposits, safety deposit boxes for rent.
JOSEPH F. SMITH, Pres.
O. C. BEEBE, Cashier.

DESERET EVENING NEWS SATURDAY OCTOBER 21 1907

pathetic and progressive it shall not ask in vain.

"We might mention other work done by this society by special entertainments and contributions from their own members, such as equipping the diet kitchen, feeding the nurses, etc. About $700 has been expended in this way during the year, but this is entirely apart from the charity fund for which the ball is given, and which the women of the association use entirely for the sick and those persons present to them, and whom they find by careful investigation to be worthy of help.

"The ball is to be given this year November 12, at the New Dancing Academy, No. 12 Postoffice place. Every shop has been made to make it the greatest social event of the season, and the women who are selling the tickets are doing it with the confidence that those who buy will have a double income from the investment—first, an evening of pleasure for themselves and their friends; and, secondly, the money which they have placed in their money when it will be used to best advantage for those who are most in need."

ISAAC D. GREGG BURIED.

After an existence of 10 years surrounded by prison walls, and guarded by armed men, and with no prospect of ever again enjoying a moment's freedom, John Douglas, wife murderer serving a life sentence at the Utah state prison, attempted on Saturday to put an end to his life by suicide. With a knife made from a file which he smuggled from the blacksmith shop, he hacked at his left arm, most severely, and then gashed at his throat. This morning his condition was reported improved. A truly fond Douglass in a pool of blood and prompt medical attention is all that saved the prisoner's life.

KILLED WIFE IN OGDEN.

Douglas was a blacksmith by trade and resided in Ogden. Ten days ago he married a woman and became enraged to the point of frenzy, he seized a shotgun and shot the woman dead. Services were conducted by Noble Grand James McGrath, Rev. D. M. Helmick paid Mr. Gregg an eloquent tribute, paying special attention to the 60 years the old couple had spent together happy and without ever a cross word between them. Gregg was present to take a last look at the face she has been always smiling and hopeful during 60 years. The pallbearers were E. H. Smith, William Wagstaff, Oliver Recore, J. H. Gerts, J. D. McCarthy and W. L. Brumley.

Extracts from Rev. Mr. Helmick's talk follow:

"He had been an Odd Fellow in the world, who died Thursday, was buried yesterday. Odd Fellow's hall was crowded with members from Salt Lake lodges, Nos. 12, 3, 15 and the First. The dead man's services were conducted by Noble Grand James McGrath, Rev. D. M. Helmick paid Mr. Gregg an eloquent tribute, paying special attention to the 60 years the old couple had spent together happy and without ever a cross word between them. Gregg was present to take a last look at the face she has been always smiling and hopeful during 60 years. The pallbearers were E. H. Smith, William Wagstaff, Oliver Recore, J. H. Gerts, J. D. McCarthy and W. L. Brumley.

HACKED THROAT WITH FILE.

"Throughout his life Mr. Gregg maintained the honorable record of a family which had furnished the nation with worthy men. His grandfather fought in the war of the Revolution with George Washington, his father in the War of 1812, and he went through the Civil War.

"He was married in 1847. His wife and six of his seven children survive him. He lived to see grandchildren grow up about him.

BEGGED TO DIE.

When the trusty found I was ill, the latter begged to be left alone. "Let me die," cried the grief-stricken man. "Don't tell the guards. Let me alone; go away if you have any pity for a man who suffers."

Dr. Young, the prison physician, says the man will be crippled for life, as his cords in the left arm were severed. The wound in the neck is also a frightful one. Had the knife gone a fraction of an inch deeper the jugular vein would have been severed and Douglas would now be out of his misery. The man will recover.

How to Cure a Cold.

The question of how to cure a cold with out unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for we all know that the loss of time in the loss of the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Pa., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says of it: "Coughs are the bane of chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all druggists.

CHARITY BALL.

St. Mark's Hospital Issues Appeal for Support for Coming Year.

The St. Mark's hospital association will give its annual ball Nov. 12 next in Academy hall on Market street, to raise funds for carrying on the work of the association for another year. It issues the following appeal for public sympathy and support.

"St. Mark's hospital association of Salt Lake after another year of successful work in behalf of the needy sick, is again about to appeal to the public for money to continue this work, and hopes that the appeal will have the hearty response which it has before received from the good people of this city.

"It may reasonably hope for even more generous gifts, because its needs are constantly increasing as it becomes more widely known, and because it has added one more year of efficient service, and has justly won the approval and confidence of all who have known it.

"This association has spent during the last year $1,300 in the care of the needy sick. It had the very generous special rates at St. Mark's hospital of $10.50 per week for its patients. As this includes nurses' fees and medicines and all other expenses, this means that the association has averaged having under its care and support two or three needy patients all the time the past year.

"Fortunes have been made and lost in a minute's time because one mad had what the others did not have—a little ready cash.

The man who never has a dollar laid away for the rainy day is a slave, for he is constantly under the bondage of those who have money.

You can make a success of saving by starting a small account. You will be surprised to see it grow.
