

IN THE WORLD OF WOMEN

NOTABLE UTAH WOMEN.

The week has been comparatively busy in a social way—a number of delightful affairs having taken place. The meeting of the Federation of clubs has, however, monopolized a large share of the time and attention of frequent entertainers and the social functions given in honor of the club women have been amongst the delightful affairs of the week. The reception given at the residence of Mrs. Priscilla Jennings on Wednesday was a most brilliant and enjoyable affair, and with the delightful luncheon given by Mrs. Arthur Brown yesterday and the smaller one by Mrs. King on Thursday helped to make the season a red letter one in the history of the Federation.

Amongst the elaborate events of the week was the card party given by Mrs. James Neils on Monday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Robert I. Coleman who has recently returned from a European tour. The function was given in Mrs. Neils' rooms in the Dooley block, which were artistically arranged with oriental and Indian rugs, draperies and pottery harmonizing with the unique decorations of flags of all nations and of scarlet hearts which festooned the ceilings and lined the walls in pretty designs, making a most picturesque setting for the brilliant event. Hearts figured as tallies and scores and the flags of China, Japan and America were awarded as prizes. The winners of these last were Mrs. Belle Gammel, Mrs. Kenneth Kerr and Mrs. Wantland. Assisting Mrs. Neils in receiving were Mesdames O. B. Hewitt, R. H. Officer, J. E. Bamberger, Sol. Siegel, Wantland, Harriet Rose, Daggett, T. F. Beatty. About sixty-five guests enjoyed the delightful affair.

On Thursday evening Miss Mabel Gardiner and Daniel B. Dunne were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gardiner, 723 Fifth street, by Bishop Heber C. Iverson. The rooms were beautifully decorated in pink and white carnations, cosmos and chrysanthemums being used with artistic effect. The bride party stood in the parlor under a canopy of green vines starred with flowers and with a great floral bell pendant in the center. In the dining room were pink and white dahlias—the table being strewn with ferns and having a center piece of pink and white chrysanthemums. Florist E. J. Williams had charge of the floral decorations. Punch was served in the sitting room, the bowl being overhung with aspidochloa and dahlias, and pink and white cosmos adorning the rest of the room. Miss Gwendoline Starley presided at the punch bowl. Miss Temperance Penrod was bridesmaid and Roy Williams was best man. The bride was prettily gowned in dainty white satin with trimmings of applique and renaisance and carried bride roses. The bridesmaid wore a gown of pink organdie with accordin pleating and ribbon trimmings and carried roses. During the evening the Deseret Orchestra, under Prof. S. Donelson dispensed sweet music, and a vocal and instrumental program was rendered by Miss Irene Schettler, Mr. John James, Mr. Ell James, Mr. Donelson, Mr. W. C. Parr and others. The room was filled with young couple were numerous and beautiful. The guests were:

Gunn, Mr. Wm. Parr, Mr. T. W. Croghan, Mr. E. Hadley.

Mrs. Katz and the Misses Katz entertained at a reception on Wednesday in honor of Miss Davidson. The parlor was decorated in pink, cosmos being the flowers used, and the lights shaded in pink.

In the dining room pink and white were the colors used, the table being spread with Battenberg cover, with a bowl of white chrysanthemums in the center, and tall candelabra in pink carrying out the scheme. Miss McCubben and Miss Afton Young and Miss Jeanine Young assisted in the dining room, and Mrs. George Nye and Mrs. Wm. Reid served punch in the hall. Coffee was served by Mrs. Jennings and Mrs. Edward Perry. Olsen's orchestra dispensed choice music during the afternoon.

Miss Jacketta McCune entertained at an elaborate card party last night at her residence on East South Temple street. The rooms were beautifully decorated with autumn flowers and a large number were present to enjoy the evening.
