WEBER STAKE CONFERENCE.

This evening has closed the two days' Conference of the Weber Stake of Zion. The meetings were held in the Tabernacle at Ogden. Shortly after 10 o'clock on Sunday morning the proceedings were called to order by President L. W. Shurtliff. There was a good attendance.

After singing by the choir and prayer by Elder Richard Ballantyne, President C. F. Middleton made the opening address. He was pleased to report the Weber Stake as being generally in a good condition. The presidency of the Stake are thoroughly united in all things pertaining to their calling and the High Council is united with the presidency, and all are laboring for the good of the people. The Bishops and counsel are energetic and alive to the interests of the people in their several wards. The quorums, with few exceptions are complete, and the associations and institutions and the Church members are in general good standing. He believed that with very few exceptions all desired to do the will of God.

President B. H. Roberts delivered an instructive discourse on the restoration of the Priesthood, the organization and order of the Church, the institution and object of conference meetings, presenting in a clear light how all business in these assemblies should be done by common consent.

The benediction was pronounced by Apostle A. H. Cannon.

In the afternoon the Sacrament was administered and the general and local authorities of the Church were heartily sustained in their several positions. The vote was unanimous.

Presidents John J. Kimball and Seymour B. Young gave some excellent instructions on the duties of the Saints towards each other and to God, the necessity of forbearance and the absolute duty of the brethren forgiving each other their trespasses, of humbly confessing their sins before God and before each other.

On Monday the Saints came together and received further instructions. Apostle A. H. Cannon delivered a powerful discourse on the evils politically, civilly, morally and socially which affect the nations at the present time. He spoke earnestly on the necessity of the Saints observing the Word of Wisdom which was given by revelation from God for the physical as well as the spiritual salvation of His people. He also dwelt at some length upon family government, the proper conduct of husbands and wives, of children and parents to each other in order that harmony and peace may reign in the families of the Saints.

The conference was also again addressed by Presidents Young, Kimball, Flygare and Shurtliff. Their instructions were pertinent, timely, valuable and highly appreciated by the audience.

The statistical report showed that there were in this Stake: one Apostle, five Patriarchs, 607 Seventies, 231 High Priests, 839 Elders, 84 Priests, 189 Teachers, 457 Deacons, 6117 members, 8530 officers and members, 3484 children under eight years of age, total of souls 12,014. Five wards were not fully represented numerically. There were sixteen new adult baptisms, 141 children baptized and 134 children blessed since last report.

There are in the Stake 3335 families out of which 386 individuals are drawing support.

The Sabbath schools of the Stake number 27, with 557 efficient teachers and officers, and 4724 pupils. Superintendent R. Ballantyne represented the schools in good condition, making good progress in their studies. Many improvements are about to be inaugurated in these institutions which will tend to the more rapid advancement of the young among the Latter-day Saints in a knowledge of the principles of the Gospel.

JUAB STAKE CONFERENCE.

The quarterly conference of the Juab Stake of Zion was held at Nephi July 16 and 17. Present on the stand, the Stake presidency and Bishops, also Elder Andrew Jensen, of Salt Lake City. At 10 a. m. President Paxman called the conference to order, and, after the usual opening exercises, addressed the Saints, exhorting them to faithfulness and good works; the Saints meet together in these conference that they might leave their worldly affairs in the hands of the Lord and attend to His worship. We are a favored people. He counseled the Saints to be one and not to let their political views create a division among them. There was no reason that it should.

Bishop N. P. Rasmussen of Levan spoke upon the object of the Saints gathering to Zion, and the great work that is yet to be accomplished.

Elders Wm. W. Allen and George Gardner occupied the remainder of the morning, dwelling upon the restoration of the Gospel with the gifts and blessings, and bearing powerful testimonies to the truth of the work.

At the afternoon meeting the Bishops reported their respective wards, after which Elder Andrew Jensen addressed the conference. His discourse was listened to with rapt attention. He referred to the rapid growth of this people, said that the Stakes of Zion now numbered 32, and contained 600 wards. Zion is growing and we are growing with it. He spoke of the trials through which the Saints had passed, and when the history of each Stake shall be written by future historians the history of Utah will be the most interesting. The importance of keeping Stake records was interestingly explained by the speaker.

In the evening there was a general Priesthood meeting which was well attended. President Paxman and Elder Jensen were the speakers.

Sunday morning was devoted to the Sabbath school. An interesting and pleasing programme was rendered by the Nephi Sabbath school, and short and appropriate speeches were made by President Paxman, Elders John Beck and Andrew Jensen.

At 2 p. m. Counselor Jas. W. Paxman presented the general authorities of the Church and Stake, also a number of names were presented to be ordained High Priests. They were all unanimously sustained.

Elder John Beck then addressed the conference and dwelt upon the responsibility of parents looking after their sons and daughters, bringing them up in the fear of the Lord, seeing that they select for their companions those who have a desire to keep the commandments of God.

Elder Jensen referred to the restoration of the Gospel and the keys of the different dispensations that have been delivered in our day to the Prophet Joseph. The speaker then gave an interesting account of his recent visit to the East, and his travels in Far West, Kirtland, Nauvoo and Adam Ondi Ahman; also a brief account of the driving of the Saints from these places.

One feature of our conference deserving special mention was the excellent singing by the choir, under the leadership of Prof. Morris.
