

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, MAY 4.

Not Killed.—Mr. S. E. Ewing, of the Cliff House, has received dispatches from Sheriff John W. ner, from Gunnison, Colorado, informing him that the reported killing, by cattle thieves, of Mr. J. Brink, is incorrect, and that, in fight he merely received a slight wound in the arm. This relieves minds of the many friends of Mr. Brink, especially that of his anxious wife, now in this city, and in whose behalf Mr. Ewing has interested himself in procuring authentic information regarding the matter.

Copper.—Yesterday we were shown by Mr. S. L. Adams, specimens of copper wire made in the bullion product of the same lode smelter, located near George. The wire was of different thicknesses, drawn by Swaner there, of this city, one grade as fine as the plate could make being about as thin as an ordinary horsehair, showing the excellent quality of the metal, being exceedingly tough. Another specimen was in the shape of a small twisted bar, intended for a paper light, to be presented to President Taylor, whose name is engraved on the side, and that of the donor, S. Adams, on the other.

Over 28,000 pounds of bullion are in this city from the smelter Tuesday. It finds a ready market.

The Accident to E. M. Paxman.—We are in receipt, from J. B. F., a communication giving particulars of the dangerous accident to Edward Moroni Paxman, at the American Fork Canyon toll gate. As the account does not differ materially from what we published last Monday we omit it, but give, from the latter, the following subsequent details:

The young man was taken into a toll house where he remained sensible for two hours, bleeding the nose and ears, and vomiting blood which he had swallowed. Dr. Ike being in American Fork City, as sent for and upon examination found the skull fractured and gave little hopes of recovery. The accident occurring at 5 p. m., he could not be moved until Sunday morning to his father's house, his parents and friends remaining with him all night. On Sunday morning quite a number of young men went up to the toll gate and formed a litter, placed the young man thereon and proceeded slowly and carefully down the rough rocky road. About 2 p. m. quite a number more went up to relieve those who went in the morning, arriving at his home between six and seven o'clock. He is still conscious and feels much better than on Sunday morning prior to starting, and strong hopes are now entertained of recovery.

Brother Wm. Paxman desires to express his heartfelt thanks to the young men who so kindly volunteered their aid in carrying his son to his home, and also to the many friends who responded at the time when their kind offers were so truly needed.

How It Happened.—A great deal of interest has been manifested in this community regarding the recent tragedy on the Ute Reservation. We therefore present the following detailed account of the killing, last week, of the notorious cut-throat and cattle thief, G. H. Stunze, as published by the Gunnison Democrat:

"Sheriff Bowman arrived here Sunday evening, and early Monday morning started a party of men with Deputy Sheriff Brown in one direction, while Roe Allison and himself went in another, anticipating arriving at Hatch's camp in the evening and calling on the gang before breakfast the next morning. Bowman and Allison arrived at Morrison's ranch, eight miles from town, on the Gunnison road, and there, unexpectedly, found the leader of the gang, G. H. Stunze, alias George Howard. Mr. Bowman went into the house to make some inquiries about the ford of the river, when Howard, who was sitting in the house, followed him to the buggy, where Allison was.

Like Western acquaintances (seeing a man once), he shook hands with Mr. Allison. Mr. Bowman, not knowing this was one of the gang, talked about different things, during which time Mr. Allison got out of the buggy and leisurely walked around to where Mr. Bowman was standing, and touched him with his elbow, but Bowman, not knowing whether Allison had done it intentionally, or whether his pistol had accidentally touched him, apparently paid no attention to it, but kept a sharp lookout. Everything went all right until Howard looked into the buggy and saw the guns, and he then immediately pulled his six-shooter half way out of his pocket, and kept his hand on it during the conversation.

One of the men suggested that they go, and Howard, thinking it would be a good chance to get on his horse, volunteered to show the ford, and started to where his horse was hitched. At this moment Allison grabbed his double-barrel shot gun and told him to throw up his hands. He failed to comply, however, and started to run, firing over his shoulder. Mr. Allison fired both barrels at him, which made him look like a spotted fawn, but as that only seemed to quicken his steps, and he had by that time put some distance between himself and the Sheriff, the latter raised his Winchester and fired, striking him in the back of the head and killing him instantly. Both men at once ran to where he was lying, but he was dead before they got there.

The Sheriff soon found out that this was to be the farewell night for the gang in this vicinity, and that they were to meet at this place and have a good time; he and his deputy went to another ranch, about a mile from where the shooting occurred, and arrested one William Collins and a Mexican. About 6 o'clock in the evening they saw three more coming across the river, but before they could get to the crossing the thieves had been to the ranch and inquired where the boys were, and on being informed by the barkeeper that the Sheriff had been there and arrested them, the three men gave them the slip and hid in the bushes.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, MAY 5.

Missionaries on the Way.—By telegram to President John Taylor we learn that Elder Wm. M. Palmer and eight other Elders, who left for their fields of labor on Tuesday morning, arrived at Omaha at 3:20 p. m. yesterday, all well.

Stunze.—G. H. Stunze, lately killed on the Ute Reservation by Sheriff Bowman and Roe Allison, was once in the employ of Mr. Chas. Popper, and arrested subsequently for stealing cattle from that extensive stock raiser.

Not in the Marriage Relation.—I do solemnly swear (or affirm) * * * that I do not live or cohabit with more than one woman in the marriage relation. Governor Murray's official test oath.

So long as certain things are done outside of the marriage relation it appears, according to this official view of the Governor, to be all right. Remarkable times these.

The Veterans.—A novel entertainment is in course of consideration for the "old folks" over seventy. We understand it is proposed to bring them into the city from the surrounding country to join with the veterans of our metropolis for a couple of days in general rejoicing, festivity and interchange of sentiment and friendly greeting.

Doing a Good Work.—Elder John W. Taylor wrote from Rochester, Butler Co., Ky., April 28th:

"Elder Jacob G. Bigler and I have been blessed of the Lord and in our labors have administered the ordinances of baptism and the laying on of hands to 13 persons since April 1st.

The people have been blessed with dreams and various impressions of the Spirit of Truth, and a good work is developing in this locality. Not a few earnest inquirers are warmly searching "the Scriptures."

The little breeze occasioned by the passage of the Edmund's bill has shaken the "mustard tree," and had the same effect as usual, to scatter the seeds of truth.

Elder Walter George Paul arrived here safely last Sunday."

Returned Missionary.—This morning we received a call from Elder Joshua Taylor, of this city, who returned, on Wednesday, from a mission to Tennessee. He left Utah in May, 1881, and labored the first two months in Shady Grove, and was afterwards appointed to take charge of the Cane Creek district, where there is a thriving branch of the Church. There was in that part a very active opposition. Some time since a mob of seventeen men, led by Wits Skelton and two sons, broke up a meeting, and threatened the lives of the Elders. For this conduct seven of the mobocrats, including the three Skeltons, are under bonds to appear to answer to a charge of disturbing a public worshipping assemblage. The same party set fire to and destroyed the stand and benches, which were in a grove, used by the Saints for meeting purposes. Brother Taylor speaks highly of the hospitality of the Southern people, and mentions particularly a Mr. I. T. Garrett, of Cane Creek, who shows great kindness to the Elders.

DEATH OF A GOOD MAN.

ANDREW CHRISTENSEN FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED.

Andrew Christensen, an old and faithful resident of Brigham City, was found dead in his bed, by members of his family, at seven o'clock yesterday morning. The body lay across the bed, partly dressed.

An inquest was held at eleven a. m. when the verdict, "death resulted from heart disease," was rendered.

He was forty eight years of age, lacking a few days. He has been an active member in the community and held many positions of trust. He was postmaster at Brigham City about seven years. At his death he was County Prosecuting Attorney, Auditor and Recorder of Brigham City, and a Notary Public, all of which offices he filled with credit and honor, and gave the best of satisfaction to the community. He has been correspondent of the DESERET NEWS and other papers published in the Territory, many years. He was very modest in his deportment, notably a good and true citizen. The community will miss his services and his genial companionship. He had resided in Brigham City about twenty-five years, and it can be truly said of him, "another good and true man has gone." He leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss. The funeral takes place on Saturday, the 6th inst., at 10 a. m.

We are indebted for the information of the sad event to Brother James Bywater.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, MAY 6.

Serious Accident.—The Enterprise gives the details of an accident that occurred at Beaver on Monday to master Wm. Holt, son of Wm. G. Holt. The boy was riding a plow horse while Mr. J. VanVleet was holding the plow. The singletree broke and thus frightened the animal which became uncontrollable and ran away. The horse fell on the lad, broke his leg, and one of the singletree hooks, ran into his jaw, tearing it considerably as well as badly lacerating his face in other places.

Severely Injured.—A day or two since, Jacob Beck, aged 13 years, son of Mr. John Beck, of Lehi, met with quite a severe accident at that place. He was assisting to unload a car of furniture that had been purchased in the east for the co-op. store, by Bishop Cutler, when a marble slab, weighing about a hundred pounds, fell upon his foot. The member was twisted around into the form of a half circle, and remained in that shape until adjusted by Dr. Wadsworth, who was in Lehi at the time. The lad is improving, though still unable to walk.

In Germany.—We learn that Elder John Q. Cannon, now on a mission in Germany, was taken before a magistrate a few weeks ago, to answer to a charge of administering the ordinances of the Gospel. He was, however, speedily released on the authorities discovering that they had got hold of the wrong man. It was his brother, Abram H. Cannon, who was wanted, he having, a short time previous, baptized a number of new converts to the Gospel.

We are informed it is probable that Elder A. H. Cannon will be released to return with the company that leaves Liverpool on the 17th inst., and, if this be the case, will reach home early in June.

Laudable Enterprise.—Mr. John Beck, of Lehi, is starting a very commendable enterprise in that town. He will immediately begin the erection of a rock fireproof factory building 80 feet wide by 120 feet long and two stories high. Eight hundred perch of rock has already been quarried, and the masons will begin their work at once. In this large structure will be manufactured various classes of furniture, sash, doors, mouldings, and everything else in the building line in the matter of wood work. The design of Mr. Beck is to supply the entire trade of Southern Utah, and his enterprise in starting this home industry is deserving of success.

The necessary machinery will be procured in due time for the factory, and already Mr. Beck has ordered a forty-horse power engine with a boiler of fifty-horse capacity, to be made at the shops of Mr. Thomas Pierpont, of this city.

An Expensive Frolic.—Yesterday, we mentioned that Al. Acord, upon his pleading guilty to complicity in the Salina mail robbery, was sentenced to five years imprisonment in some public penitentiary. Before he was sentenced, he was asked if he had any statement to make. He replied he had a few words to say. The following remarkable explanation was then made by him:

"I started out with another man to have some fun with the mail carrier, N. C. Rasmussen, who had been boasting how brave he was. Rasmussen had just been married and we thought it an opportune time to scare him. There was no intention in my mind either to do him any injury or to molest the mail. The carrier was late, that night, which was the cause of our going so far out of town before we met him. My accomplice had been drinking and was quite drunk when we met the mail. Before I knew, he had cut one sack open and was ravaging its contents; when I saw this, I told him I did not want to have anything to do with such an outrage. He said, 'Well, what are you going to do about it? you are now in with me, and you will have to stand the consequences.' I saw this, cut a sack myself, and told him I should give myself up to the officers. This accordingly did; I am now here to answer for the offense, and I beg for the mercy of the Court."

Judge Emerson suggested that it was rather dangerous fun thus to tamper with the U. S. mails; but as the prisoner had saved all expenses by pleading guilty, had told the truth, and had been led to commit the deed by bad company, he would be as lenient as the law allowed him in pronouncing the sentence. The Judge then sentenced him to five years as above announced.—Ogden Herald.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, MAY 8.

Bishop Brough Dead.—We have received, by mail, the sad intelligence that Bishop Thomas Brough, of Morgan City, died at that place at 2:30 p. m. on Saturday, of inflammation of the bowels.

Shot and Robbed.—This morning a man named John Johnson came down to the city in a sad plight. He had been working on the Oregon Short Line Railroad in the north. On Saturday he and a companion were set upon by a number of men and robbed of all they had. In the struggle resulting from the attack, Johnson was shot in the leg, the bullet breaking the bone. He came down, accompanied by his companion in trouble, for the purpose of going into one of the hospitals in this city for treatment.

Releases and Appointments.—From the Millennial Star:

"The following named Elders are released to return to Utah with the May 17th company: Wm. R. Webb, John Cooper, John A. McAllister, George H. Butler, Wm. G. Davis, Willom Butler, Rodney Hillam, W. H. Apperley, U. Butt and Thos. R. Jones.

John Stoddard is appointed to succeed Wm. R. Webb in the Presidency of the Durham and Newcastle Conference, and Stephen Tucker is appointed to succeed John Cooper in the presidency of the London Conference.

President Taylor and Party.—President Taylor and party, who were at Logan, attending Conference reached Ogden this morning, and will arrive in the city this evening.

The Conference was an excellent one. On Saturday morning, President W. B. Preston made a few introductory remarks and the Bishops reported the condition of the people as eminently satisfactory. The remainder of the time was occupied by a discourse from Elder C. W. Penrose.

In the afternoon the meeting was addressed by Apostle E. Snow and President W. Woodruff. On Sunday morning the speakers were Apostle L. Snow and President Joseph F. Smith. In the afternoon discourses were delivered by Apostle F. D. Richards and President John Taylor.

The conference was well attended, particularly yesterday, when the meeting were crowded to excess. During the whole of the afternoon and evening there was a continuous fall of rain.

On Saturday President Taylor visited the Temple and gave some instructions to the brethren in charge regarding the internal arrangements.

KANSAS PRAISING IT.

"While I was in Topeka last Winter, said the Hon. Arthur Edgington, 'I had a pretty rough time of it. I got a bad cold, and, then that not being sufficiently severe, I was also attacked with rheumatism. The pain was in my left shoulder. At times I almost writhed in agony. I tell you sir, that the pain could not have been greater had my shoulder been screwed up in a vise. I was utterly helpless, and felt like I was destined to remain in that condition indefinitely. My friends and a physician were generous in their prescriptions and my room soon became a miniature apothecary shop. But nothing did me any good. One day some one told me I was enduring a great deal of needless pain when I could invest fifty cents in a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil and be cured. I invested in a bottle of the Oil, rubbed it on my shoulder twice, and in two days forgot that I ever had rheumatism. Yes, that is a great remedy, and no mistake. They can't say too much in favor of its healing power."

The above was uttered by Mr. Edgington while sitting in the porch of the La Gonda House, at Columbus, the other evening, and was overheard by an escaped reporter who is traveling over the country incognito. Inquiry developed the fact that Mr. Edgington is one of the most widely known men in Kansas, figuring prominently in politics, and acting as the responsible agent of the Bardstreet Commercial Agency. Upon subsequently making Mr. Edgington's acquaintance the reporter was assured that all he had heard was true, and he was at liberty to use it in the papers.—Oswego (Kan.) Democrat.

BENEFACTORS.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were sceptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.

GALE HAY RAKES.

For a Rake that has the least traps and appliances to manage it, buy the Gale Wood Hub. Two thousand in use in Utah is the best evidence of their merit.
