A hot shovel held over furniture removes white spots.
 Mr. C. R. Savage has returned from his visit to the East.
 The boy who was kept after school for bad orthography said he was spell bound.
 A mutual reward will be paid to the finder of the lost manuscript of "Garrigue." Apply to this office.
 Bishop Sharp, who went south as far as Milford with President Taylor and party, returned to the city yesterday.
 Smallpox is still prevalent at Montpelier, Bear Lake Valley. The other settlements in that part of Idaho are quarantined against that town.
 No vehicle drawn by more than one animal is allowed to cross this bridge in opposite directions at the same time. A notice posted on a bridge in Providence, R. I.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

High Council.—The High Council will meet in the Council House on Friday evening, June 21, at 7.30 o'clock. W. W. TAYLOR, Clerk.
 Progressing Slowly.—Brother Jedediah Sheets, son of Bishop E. F. Sheets, one side of whose lower jaw was removed by an operation, a short time since, is progressing slowly, the improvement being as rapid as could be expected, considering the nature of the ordeal through which he passed. He was out yesterday for the first time since the operation.
 More Street Railroad.—Yesterday Sept. Arnold of the Street Railroad, returned from a very successful business trip to the East. He purchased the iron for the proposed branch line to run along First South Street from the Continental Hotel to the depot of the Utah & Nevada railroad. The material will arrive within a few days, and work on the extension will be begun as soon as it reaches here. He purchased two new cars, which are to be placed on the route between the Warm Springs and the First Ward.
 That Case of Drowning.—On Saturday, we mentioned the accidental drowning of a young man named George Simpson, in Bear River, on the 11th inst. It appears that he and Mr. Donald McAllister, were attempting to ford the river on horseback, to look after some cattle on the opposite side, when they found the water too deep, and the swift current washed both men from their saddles, and McAllister, being a good swimmer reached the shore. The other was swept down by the stream and drowned.
 Bad Tidings.—The Enquirer states that Mrs. A. P. Newell, of St. David, Coconino County, Arizona, who has been on a visit to her relatives in Provo City, received the following startling telegram:
 Tombstone, A. T., June 18, 7.30 p.m. Mrs. A. P. Newell, Provo. Newell has been killed by a horse. Have brought him to Tombstone hospital. Faint hopes of his recovery. Skull badly fractured. If death ensues shall I take him to St. David for interment.
 GEO. LAKE.
 Mrs. Newell has been thrown into great distress by the terrible intelligence. She has telegraphed for further news and sent instructions, should the worst fears be realized, to have the body placed in a metallic casket and forwarded to Provo.

The President and Party.

President Taylor and party, which left this city at 9.55 a.m. on Sunday, consisted, besides himself, of First Lieut. George C. Cannon, Elder F. M. Lyman, of the Quorum of the Twelve, Bishop John Sharp, Elder Geo. Reynolds, Elder John Irvine and four ladies.
 Reached Nephi at 10.30 on Sunday, and held meeting at 11 o'clock. Left Nephi at 2.30 p.m., arrived at Deseret (152 miles from Salt Lake) at 6.30, held meeting at 7 p.m., and again the following morning (Monday) at 10 a.m. Thence the party proceeded to Milford. They held meeting yesterday (Tuesday).
 When heard from yesterday the party were in good health and the weather was lovely. All the people of Deseret turned out to welcome the Presidency at the depot.
 Primary Indication.—There has been a great deal of talk about establishing mammoth iron-works at Gunnison City, Colorado. A gentleman who visited that town a few days ago informs us that all there is to show for the said iron-works on the subject consist of four pieces of rock lying upon the proposed site.
 A noticeable peculiarity of the place is a mammoth hotel, a fine structure, needing but one element to render it a complete success—boarders. These being wanting gives even that institution a haggard hue. From the picture drawn by our informant we are afraid Gunnison is another instance of the billious effects of primary indication. "Drawing the long bow in business" is poor policy, always resulting in disappointment, and all things ultimately find their legitimate level.

Relief Society Re-Organized.

Yesterday afternoon a re-organization of the Relief Society of the Seventh Ward, made necessary by the death of the late president, Sister Alice Needham, took place at the meeting house. Bishop Thorne and Counselors presided over the meeting. The officers now are: President, Mrs. Mary Alice C. Lambert; Counselors, Mrs. Harriet Woodbury and Mrs. Annie Dinwoody; Secretary, Mrs. Mary Alice Woodbury; Assistant Secretary, Mrs. Ellis Broadbent; Treasurer, Mrs. Mary Alice Lambert. The officers were set apart to their positions by the Bishop and Counselors. Addresses were delivered by several of the brethren and sisters present.

Bicycle Trip to Ogden.—Yesterday Pres. George J. Taylor, Capt. D. L. Davis; Wm. Wood Jr., Fred Pierce and George Thatcher Jr., took a trip to Ogden by bicycle. This is the largest club run that has yet been made in a day by the Salt Lake Bicycle Club, and, excepting Mr. Taylor's run to Provo, the longest trip that has ever been made in Utah. The distance traversed must have been in the neighborhood of forty-five miles. The club members designed to start at 4 a. m. in order to get over some of the roughest of the road in the cool of the morning; but some of the boys, overleapt themselves and the riders of the silent steed did not meet until about 5 a. m. They pushed along at a moderate speed to the highest point of the road just beyond the Hot Springs, when they dismounted and took a few moments rest, just as the sun was coming over the Wasatch Mountains. The next run was made to Centerville, where each took a glass of water (which, excepting milk, is the best of all beverages for a long run, anything alcoholic having a weakening effect). A little further on they found Bro. Geo. Chase up and stirring. He insisted on turning the club loose on the milk-mans of his cool dairy. Some members of the club indulged to the extent of two glasses, but the excuse offered was that it was genuine cow's milk, with plenty of cool cream on the surface. The road from there to Farmington was tip-top, and the boys bowed along at the rate of about twelve miles an hour, and arrived at 7.10, having made the 18 mile run excluding stops in about an hour and a half. The boys were jubilant and rolled down into that little town without touching their pedals. Here breakfast had been ordered the day before, but the message miscarried and this involved a loss of two and a half of the crisp hours of the morning, which, considering the road before them and the heat of the day, they could not well spare. The breakfast was a good one when it came, and was appreciated—especially the strawberries and cream. By this time the sun was well up and his rays were pouring down upon them with great intensity.
 In order to avoid the Sand Ridge it was resolved to follow the mountains to the mouth of Weber Canyon. The only redeeming feature of this road was an abundance of fresh, cool water which ran across the road in considerable streams about every mile, otherwise, for bicycles, the road was simply unbearable, being hilly and sandy and much longer than the lower one. When they reached the Weber River they turned sharply to the left and ran down to Riverdale, against a fearful west wind which was so strong at times as to compel a dismount. (This would have been avoided but for the detention at Farmington.) They stopped occasionally all along the road from Farmington to Riverdale for water and brief rests, taking their time. They took dinner at Bishop Cook's, which detained them about an hour and a half, and at Weber Bridge about half an hour was lost in fixing the crank of one of the machines which had met with misfortune. They then rolled into Ogden, where they arrived about 4.30 p. m. Ran around a little, viewing the city, being chaperoned by Mr. Henry Tribe and his brother, and others who tried to make it pleasant for them and urged them to stay over night, but this was not in the programme and they came down on the Utah Central at 6.10. Only four harmless headers were indulged in, one by Mr. Thatcher and three by Mr. Pierce, who rode a machine larger than he was accustomed to.

Tenth of the Series.

The tenth book of the "Faith Promoting Series," has just been issued from the Juvenile Instructor office. It is entitled "Sketches of Biography," and is of intense interest to every believer in the latter-day dispensation. It opens with a "Sketch of an Elder's Life," giving the experience of Elder John Tanner; then follow "Incidents of Experience," Daniel Tyler; and "Newel Knight's Journal." The book narrates scenes and circumstances of a soul-stirring character, and no person infused with any degree of the faith of the Gospel can arise from its perusal without having that faith increased, and feeling a determination to be more faithful to God in order to enjoy similar exhibitions of His power to those detailed. The impression made by the little work also tends to create a determination to exhibit fortitude and patience under difficulty and to profit by the experiences of life, especially those passed through in connection with the Church of Christ as established in these days. The book should be placed in the hands of every young person in the community, and its perusal will be of decided benefit to older people.

Death of Sister Faust.

It will be seen by obituary notice in another column that Mrs. Elsie A. A. Faust, wife of Brother H. J. Faust, died yesterday. The deceased was a most estimable lady, whom to know was to esteem and love. Her life was full of vicissitudes, the many trying scenes through which she passed causing the noble qualities of her nature to shine all the more brightly. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved husband and her four children, left to cherish the memory of a dutiful and affectionate wife and fond and loving mother. The funeral will be conducted at 3 p.m., to-morrow, at the 14th Ward Assembly Rooms.

Who Wants a Book-keeper?

Mr. Fred E. C. Copland, a member of the theatrical profession, and reported to be well connected in London, is in this city and very desirous to obtain employment as book-keeper, until he can obtain remittance from his friends. If any of our merchants need assistance in this line it will be a favor to Mr. Copland to give him employment, which he urgently needs. He can give good references. Apply to Mr. Curran, next door to Colorado House, State Road.

Another Number.—Another number of the Woman's Exponent is out. Among its collection of good things is published the address of Belya A. Lockwood, on the "Disfranchisement of the Women of Utah," read before the National Woman Suffrage Association, at Washington, D. C., Jan. 24th, 1893. The number is a good one. Get it.
 The Instantaneous Process.—Mr. Ralph Savage, of the art gallery, is high up in the estimation of the mothers of babies who want good portraits of their fat and sometimes fractious little ones. He has adopted the instantaneous process, by which he makes a negative of a mother's darling in the twinkling of an eye, before the subject can collect the facial muscles for a howl.
 Mr. Ralph is a genuine photographic artist, who has attained his proficiency by hard study, having spent many long evening hours in reading the best authorities on photography, and demonstrating theories by practical experiments.
 A Sudden Death.—About ten o'clock this morning Martha Haiselden, of the Fifth Ward, was seized with a sudden nausea and went out to the back door to vomit. She fell forward upon her knees, when her granddaughter, Agnes Stokes, rushed out to her assistance. She then fell backward, and as the girl raised her head she gasped several times and expired.
 The deceased had been ailing a long time with a severe pain at the heart and a distracting cough. She was aged 74 years and was the wife of Father John Haiselden.
 There being not the slightest doubt that death ensued from natural causes, it was not deemed necessary to hold an inquest over the body.
 The funeral services will be conducted at late residence at 10.30 a. m. to-morrow.

A Young Man Assaults an Old One.

At 7 o'clock last evening, H. F. Williams, an alleged attorney, aged about forty years, and Mr. Mumford, an old and respected citizen, aged over seventy years, had a wordy altercation. During the dispute the alleged attorney, aged about forty, raised a heavy walnut cane and dealt the aged citizen a blow upon the side of the head. Mr. Mumford reeled several steps backward and fell to the ground stunned. The blow was delivered with such force that the cane was broken and splintered. To merely characterize a young and vigorous man who would commit a brutal assault upon a man enfeebled with age as a coward, would be perpetrating an inexcusable piece of flattery.
 Williams was arrested and the case was to come before Justice Spleis this afternoon.

The Willard Drowning Accident.

Brother T. W. Brewerton, of Willard City; Box Elder County, sends, by mail, the following details of the case of accidental drowning, mentioned in yesterday's issue:
 "On Saturday, the 18th inst., about 4 o'clock p. m., George Eli, infant son of Alfred and Mary Ellen Ward, of this place, aged 18 months, fell into the rock culvert in front of their residence and was carried a distance of some 20 rods by the force of the current, and when rescued, although restoratives usually applied in such cases were resorted to, life proved to be extinct.
 "The mother at the time was prostrated on a bed of sickness by a fever, and the sudden shock took deeply on her delicate frame. The parents share the heartfelt sympathy of the ward in their sad bereavement in the loss of so promising a child of the family circle. The little one was consigned to its resting place in the cemetery on Sunday afternoon last, the ceremonies being attended by numerous relatives and friends."
