

M'CORMICK TALKS ON RUSSIAN AFFAIRS

American Ambassador Says it is Difficult to Realize Calm Prevail in Country.

NO WIDESPREAD DEPRESSION.

People Have Complete Confidence in The Government—Finances in Good Shape.

Paris, Oct. 14.—Mr. McCormick, the American ambassador at St. Petersburg, sailed from Cherbourg for New York on the steamer Deutschland today. Before his departure Mr. McCormick talked with a representative of the Associated Press concerning the general conditions in Russia. He said: "It is difficult for any one not living in Russia to realize the complete calm prevailing notwithstanding the tremendous struggle in which Russia is engaged. St. Petersburg has the same outward appearance as before the war. There is the same social activity, and theaters, cafes and other public resorts are flourishing; business is going on as usual and the people do not show any deep anxiety as to the progress of results of the war."

"I made a trip into the interior, where there was the same calm and absence of warlike emotions and wives weeping as sons and husbands were departing for the front. But there is no complaining, as the simple devotion of the people to their country leads them to be willing to give up members of the family to the cause. This calm is the complete confidence of the people in the government."

"There are some elements of agitation and opposition in Russia, as in other countries, but the great bulk of the people are devotedly loyal to the emperor and government and they have implicit confidence that the ruling powers will take the steps necessary to bring the war to a successful conclusion. Therefore the early Japanese successes were accepted as mere incidents of a slowly maturing plan where, by the Russian army eventually would become triumphant."

Asked concerning Russia's economic conditions, the ambassador said: "I see no evidence that the war is seriously affecting Russia's trade, business or finances. The war naturally disarranges and depresses some lines of business, but this condition prevails no more in Russia than it did in England during the Boer war. There is no widespread depression and nothing like panic sentiment. Russian finances seem equal to all present and future requirements. The status of the latest issue of Russian bonds shows this. Beginning at par they rapidly advanced, despite the early discouragements of the war, until they reached 52 1/2 last Wednesday. These bonds are largely held in the foreign markets, so the steady advance not only indicates Russian optimism, but reflects the opinion of financiers in the great money markets of the world. With such credit prevailing

Russia is not likely to lack ample supplies of war."

Contest Around Renshu.

Tokyo, Oct. 14, 1:30 p. m.—An extended report from the Manchurian headquarters reached Tokyo during the night and was published this afternoon. It records severe fighting during yesterday, and additional Japanese gains.

The contest around Renshu continues to be undecided. Yesterday a force of Japanese cavalry, commanded by Prince Kanin, made a detour of the Russian left flank in the rear of Renshu, and partially scattered the Russian supports.

The report is as follows: "Several attacks of the enemy made in the direction of Renshu have been repulsed. The enemy showed signs of retreat at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Our forces in this direction began the attack early this morning, but the latest stages of the operation have not been reported."

"A large cavalry force, commanded by Prince Kanin, made a detour of the enemy's left flank in the rear of Renshu, and put the enemy's supports in great confusion, by helping our movement in this direction. Kanin's cavalry will again advance toward the rear of the enemy."

"The right column of the right army is now attacking the enemy at Chao-shan. The center column of the same army occupied the surrounding heights of Lienshan and Maeh mountains. The left column is now attacking a remnant of the enemy's force on a height north of Chao-shan."

"The attack movement of the right army, owing to topographical difficulties, is not proceeding as desired."

"The right column of the center army commenced its attack movement at 4 o'clock in the morning against a height north of Huchinkuchatun. At 2 o'clock the enemy's artillery began retreating."

"The right column of the left army occupied Panchiao on the morning of the thirteenth. Its advanced force has already reached Panchiao. This column has been reinforced from the supports now attacking a division of Russians in the rear of Huanghuatun, but the state of the fighting is uncertain."

"Several batteries of Russian artillery posted at Chienhuangchiatun made a stubborn resistance and part of our supports attacked them with artillery. The attack is proceeding satisfactorily."

"The pursuing force of the center column of the left army occupied Lienshan and is now pursuing the enemy toward Koldutun."

Decision on Evidence of Chinese.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 14.—A decision rendered by United States Judge Bellinger in the case of Lee Joe Yen, a Chinese, charged with being illegally a resident of America, decidedly reverses the decision of the United States commissioner, McKee, who would not admit as evidence in a similar case the sworn first statement of Dong Sam. In each case the statement was duly executed under oath. When Commissioner McKee threw out the evidence the government had no appeal. McKee's decision caused widespread comment. The action of Judge Bellinger established a precedent which court commissioners must allow in future.

Marriage of Divorced Persons.

Boston, Oct. 14.—The house of deputies of the Episcopal general convention as a committee of the whole voted 214 to 191 in favor of reporting to the house the canon amendment forbidding the remarriages of any divorced person.

The committee on the state of the church reported to the house of deputies today that it had been unable to define the term "communicant" as requested by the diocese of Albany. Upon the recommendation of the committee a special committee was appointed to report to the next convention on the subject.

A proposition bearing on changing the name of the church came before the house when the committee on prayer book reported that it considered it inappropriate to change the word "protestant" from the title page of the prayer book in view of the fact that the joint commission appointed three years ago to consider a change in the name of the church had reported in favor of making no change at this time. The report was taken up and a resolution to strike the two words from the prayer book introduced by Rev. H. Talbot Rogers, of Fox Run, Pa., Mr. Rogers moved that the resolution be placed on the calendar. This action was ordered, and the matter will be discussed later.

Robert Roosevelt Dangerously Ill.

New York, Oct. 14.—Robert B. Roosevelt, uncle of the president, is dangerously ill in his country home near Sayville, Long Island. Mr. Roosevelt, though 80 years old, is energetic and keenly devoted to outdoor sports, and his illness is attributed to a severe cold contracted during the recent automobile cup race. He was minister to The Netherlands during President Cleveland's first administration.

Jap Securities Benefited.

London, Oct. 14.—Japanese securities on the stock exchange benefited by Oyama's victory. Imperial Japanese securities since 1904 were quoted at 25 1/2. Russians were easier.

Partial Casualty List.

Tokyo, Oct. 14, 2 p. m.—The first partial casualty report of the battle now progressing south of Mukden was received today. Part of the central column of the left army lost on Wednesday one officer killed and six wounded, and had about 200 men killed or wounded.

Archbishop of Canterbury Sails.

New York, Oct. 14.—The archbishop of Canterbury and his party sailed for home today on the White Star liner Cedric.

Berlin Bourse Weaker.

Berlin, Oct. 14.—The tone on the bourse today was weaker, owing to the defeat of the Russian army south of Mukden.

6,000 Fair Passes Eliminated.

St. Louis, Oct. 14.—It has been announced by the department of admissions of the world's fair that approximately 6,000 passes have been eliminated by the system of revocation which was put into operation several weeks ago and recently completed.

Against Sunday Trains.

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 14.—The business committee of the National Congressional Council recommend memorializing the Western Passenger association to run no more Sunday excursions at the meeting of the council today. The resolution was passed unanimously amid great enthusiasm.

Paris Bourse Dull.

Paris, Oct. 14.—Trading on the Bourse today opened very dull, influenced by the reports of the Russian reverses but closed firm. Russian imperial bonds were quoted at 25 1/2 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 25 1/2. The private rate of discount was 2 1/2 per cent.
