BREVITIES.

Special pleaders—Woman's tears.

Not fare—a friend's cold shoulder.

When you have money all men will speak well of you.

Men who learn to labor and to wait—office seekers.

Absence conquers love, but not so often as presence does.

Employment for a lazy man—a down-hill business.

Airs that young musical misses like best to play—Put-on airs.

It is easier sometimes to cure a ham than to save one's bacon.

A king who rules by spiritual force alone—King Alcohol.

The German population of New York is about 250,000.

A brother of Patti is now a violin player in a New Orleans ice-cream saloon.

Look upward for the grace needed now, and forward for the rest that remaineth.

"I am bound to be good," as the boy said when he was tied up for bad behaviour.

There is no exclusive property in truth. It belongs to him that recognizes it.

The latest thing out is ladies' gaiter boots with twenty-five cent pieces screwed to the heels.

Italy has realised thirty-two million dollars from the sale of church property in eight months.

Vain young ladies are much less influenced by "gems of thought," than by thoughts of gems.

The face of a newspaper reflects the world's; and the world looks in it each morning to see itself.

A translation of Shakespeare's plays and poems into Hindostanee has been published in Bombay.

The flowers fade, the heart withers, man grows old, and dies; but time writes no wrinkles on eternity.

London has the "Champion Female Walker in the World," a mulatto woman, who does a mile in eleven minutes to music.

One of the last generation of Mrs. Partington thinks it not unnatural that a member of an editorial corps should be a dead head.

Garibaldi is said to be distinguished by three prominent traits of character—honesty, unselfishness, and independence.

Actions are immortal; and our deeds now and their deservings hereafter must be the twin companions that walk eternity hand in hand.

Two Vienna editors have lost, respectively an eye and a leg, in a duel about a young actress. Verdict—served them right.

American intercourse with China commenced in the year 1786. A vessel of 350 tons made a voyage to that country during the year mentioned.

"Chewing paper" is the latest invention of the confectioner, intended to take the place of chewing gum. It is made of slippery elm, sugar, etc.

Paris letters say that Adah Isaacs Menken called on a Jewish Rabbi before her death, and renewed her devotion to that faith. She was buried in a Jewish cemetery.

Religion is as necessary to reason as reason is to religion; the one cannot exist without the other. A reasoning being would lose his reason in attempting to account for the phenomena of nature, had he not a Supreme Being to refer to. If there had been no God, mankind would have been obliged to imagine one.

It was stated at a meeting of stock raisers, at Bloomington, recently, that in the northern part of Champaign country there is a tract of about forty acres, on which are now over five hundred carcasses of cattle, which have died of the prevailing disease, and been hauled there.

A blushing young man called at the city clerk's office in Lowell, recently, for a marriage certificate, and in answering the usual questions of "What is your name?" "your age?" "your business?" promptly answered the latter question by saying, "To get married, sir."

Burns wrote this epitaph on a schoolmaster:

"Here lie Willie Michie's banes;
O Satan! when ye take him,
Gie him the schoolin' o' your weans,
For clever deils he'll make em."

A lady, riding in a car on the New York Central Railroad, was disturbed in her reading by the conversation of two gentlemen, occupying the seat just before her. One of them seemed to be a student of some college, on his way home for a vacation.

He used much profane language, greatly to the annoyance of the good lady.

She thought she would rebuke him, and on begging pardon for interrupting them, asked the young student if he had studied the languages?

Student—"Yes, madam, I have mastered the languages quite well."

Lady—"Do you read and speak Hebrew?"

Student—"Quite fluently."

Lady—"Will you be so kind as to do me a small favor?"

Student—"With great pleasure. I am at your service.

Lady—"Will you be so kind as to do your swearing in Hebrew?"

We may well suppose the lady was not annoyed any more by the ungentlemanly language of this would-be gentleman.
