Local and Other Matters.

THUNDERSTORM 72 degrees F. in the shade at 1 p.m. to-day. Fine, some clouds.

Subsided.—The waters of the canal passing through the south-western part of the city have considerably subsided, and the residents of that part are very naturally rejoicing thereat.

Change of Name.—By common desire and consent of its citizens, the name of the Pine Canyon settlement, in Tooele county, near Tooele City, has been changed to Lakeview.

Notice to Firemen.—The members of the Alert Hose Company are requested to meet at the Firemen's Hall, at half-past 7 o'clock on Saturday evening.

The Book of Mormon.—On Sunday afternoon Elder W. H. H. Sharp will deliver a discourse, in the 18th Ward, at President B. Young's School-house, on the Book of Mormon. Services commence at 2 o'clock.

Wants Information.—Sheldon Messenger, residing at Morrow Co., Ohio, wants information concerning his grandfather, Adonijah Messenger, who left the part of the country about named, for Utah, thirteen years ago. Address as above.

Twentieth Ward School.—On Monday, May 1st, Brother T. B. Lewis, late of Nephi, Utah County, will open the 20th District School, at the 20th Ward School-house.

Brother Lewis is a teacher of extended experience, has a good reputation, comes well recommended, and we do not doubt that children whose educational training is committed to his charge will be well and properly attended to in that regard.

Plastering Adhesive.—Bishop Archibald Gardner, of West Jordan, informs us he has discovered a simple plan for making plaster adhere firmly to adobe. Last winter, during the hard frost, he did some of that kind of plastering, using very little lime in the first coat, but a large proportion of hair, and subsequently drove shingle or lath into the adobe, and plastered over that. He states that the work is a perfectly solid wall, without the slightest indication of cracking or breaking off. This information may be of some use to parties who object to the use of adobe on account of the liability of plaster to fall from them.

The Robbery Case.—Yesterday Mr. Fung, who was robbed, near the railroad depot, by highwaymen, on Wednesday night, recovered his papers, pocket book, watch and other property, the articles having been found in a lumber yard, where they had evidently been thrown by the thieves, but of course the money, between $400 and $500, was gone.

Last night three men, named respectively Edward Barratt, Albert Hackett and George McKee, were arrested on suspicion of having committed the robbery. Mr. Fung's impression is that Barratt is the party who presented the pistol at his head and relieved him of his money, but is not quite positive that such is the fact.

The three were taken before Justice Pyper this morning, but there being no direct evidence to connect them with the robbery, they were discharged.

An Advocate for Education.—Some time since a Spanish Sanpete sent a communication to this office to stop his paper, as he wanted to use the money he would have to pay for his subscription to aid in erecting a school house. He has a great advocate of the school. The letter was unique, and we published it verbatim in Literatum. Now we are informed that this champion of educational interests was entrusted with certain school funds, to the amount of a little less than a thousand dollars, subscribed by various parties in the place he resided in, and that he is now carrying a school among the heathens, with the money confided to him by his dupes. It appears his love of money has considerably strengthened his enthusiasm on the subject of education. He is evidently a philanthropist whose benevolence is wholly directed to a subject he appears to love better than any other—himself.

The Justice was Right.—A day or two since the NEWS stated that a lad named Wilson, who had been sentenced to due and imprisonment, by Justice Pyper, for stealing money from a post-office box, was taken from the custody of the city authorities, and had been released. Commissioner, at the instance of the special mail agent, and discharged on the ground, we presume, that the offense was not one against the local laws. The city, through its attorney, made a demand for the prisoner, and each side agreed to abide the decision of Judge Emerson, who decides that the boy Wilson was properly held by the city authorities, having jurisdiction in the premises, and the city officers will take upon the marshal the responsibility. So far as the case is concerned there is not much to it, but the principle involved is considerable, for the United States have no more right to encroach upon local prerogatives and privileges than the local authorities have to transcend the legal boundaries by which they are circumscribed.

Address.—The address of Elder James A. Little is Post Office Box 323, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Kanosh in Town.—That respectable old Indian chief, Kanosh, is in town, having arrived yesterday. His people are doing well, and have, on the farm, in Millard County, sowed 140 acres of wheat, in addition, besides corn and other crops. He goes to Ogden tomorrow, to visit his friends there.

Another Poisoning Case.—It has not been generally known that a little boy named Wooten, whose parents reside in Tanner's Row, 14th Ward, died on the 20th inst., from the effects of eating poison grapes, picked up from an adjacent lot. Another little fellow, in the same neighborhood, is now dangerously ill, his recovery being extremely doubtful, from the same cause.

From Logan.—We learn from Mr. P. Cranney, deputy sheriff of Cache County, that Thatcher's Mill, Logan, was damaged to the extent of from $800 to $800 early yesterday morning, caused by the giving way of a gate above the mill, letting the water rush upon the building in a great hurry, carrying away the front part.

Mr. Cranney brought with him an insane man, named William Hill, from Richmond, who was taken to the insane asylum to-day.

Twentieth Ward Concert.—The concert for the benefit of Elder R. Maeser, a missionary to Europe, came off last evening in the 20th Ward School-house, and proved a success, both artistically and financially. The house was well filled, with an appreciative audience, among so many good things, and where every one did his best, it would perhaps be unfair to make invidious distinctions. The singing by both ladies and gentlemen was very fine, the choruses especially being excellent, as was also the instrumental part of the entertainment.

There was enough comedy introduced in the singing and speeches to keep the large audience in good humor, and all went home apparently satisfied with their evening's entertainment.

Mr. Joe J. Daynes was conductor, Mr. J. J. Daynes was accompanist. The choruses were led by Miss A. Swan, whose solos might be difficult to excel.

Theatre.—There was a large and appreciative audience at the Theatre last evening, to see the performance of the Georgia minstrels. Judging by their reiterated manifestations of pleasure the spectators must have enjoyed the entertainment.

The exclamation of one lady was, "Wasn't it immense? Let us go every night!"

The entertainment consists of negro "drawing-room" minstrelsy, with "bones," tambourines, and men, banjo solos and concerted songs, choruses, dances of various kinds—acrobatic, clog, etc., comedy, farce, burlesque, jokes and enigmas, etc.

Although some portions of the performance are a little rough, yet the whole is probably perfectly characteristic of negro amusements away down South in Dixie. In some of the scenes the action is uncommonly energetic and spirited.

The music is good, and the accompaniment conducted with taste and skill. It is seldom that a performance in the Theatre elicits so much uproarious laughter.

The minstrels perform this evening and on Saturday evening, and tomorrow at the matinee. The children will no doubt be wondrously amused by the antics of the lambourne and bone men. And that mouth, those mouths! Talk of a hippopotamus!

We may suggest that in our opinion the very creditable "drawing-room" performance was spoiled at its close by the introduction of that bouncing baby business, which might be entirely omitted, with advantage. The concluding "sketch" was also no special attraction, nor equal to other parts of the performance. If these less commendable portions of the performance were exchanged, and their time and place taken up by the more acceptable parts of the program, such as the "drawing room" sketch, etc., the clog, acrobatic and other dancing, the entire performance would be much more satisfactory, in our estimation.

Little Colorado Settlements.—We have perused a letter from Brother John A. Blythe, one of the Arizona settlers, dated at Little Colorado river, April 11th, to his parents in this city, from which we extract the following—
"I arrived here on Sunday, 4th inst. The roads are rough and on the last half of the Little Colorado. I have not travelled through nearly as much sand as I expected. Brother Allen and his company are about 120 miles up the river from where we first strike it. The prospects for a crop are very fair, if the water holds out. The ground here is tolerably good, being a mixture of red sand and clay. Brother Geo. Lake, captain of the 4th division, is camping over the river from us. He is situated about two miles below Sunset Crossing. Himself and company have only been to work four or five days, and so have not made a very big crop. The reason they did not go to work sooner was because they had not selected a place of settlement before. He and Brother Allen and Lake arrived here nine days ago. Brother Ballenger, the captain of the second division, has not arrived yet. It is expected that he will settle on the south side of the river, opposite Little Smith. We are very certain of it. The United Order, to which the settlers are attached, is very active, giving in everything they possess, their labor, time and talent. The mail, passing here, is a week both ways, and is very slow. We are a little south of the San"

Francisco mountain, and about 100 miles east of it. The trees here have not come out in leaf yet, and the prospect is for a month. The weather here is as cold as it is at home. The wind blows terrifically here. Yesterday afternoon we had to stop at the house, on account of it."

Belmont's Trial.
WASHINGTON, 28.—The legislative business was suspended at 12 noon, and the impeachment trial was resumed. The reading of the charges against the accused was continued. The accused, on the other hand, had prior professional engagements and had not time to appear in person. He was represented by counsel, who argued the question of jurisdiction. He asked that the matter be delayed for two weeks from to-day, and that they wait for further postponement. Their only object is to present the question of jurisdiction as its importance demands.

Carpeting of the counsel for the accused.—The counsel for the accused, addressed the chamber. He argued that the managers were attempting to manage the case on both sides. It was not the intention of the accused to appear in person, but he was willing to appear by counsel. He asked that the matter be delayed for two weeks from to-day, and that they wait for further postponement. Their only object is to present the question of jurisdiction as its importance demands.
