

VICTIMS OF GREAT BRIDGE DISASTER

They Number at Least Seventy-Five and May Considerably Exceed That.

LESS THAN 20 BODIES FOUND.

Many Americans Among the Dead—
Searching Investigation of the Disaster to be Instituted.

Quebec, Aug. 30.—With the first break of dawn a half dozen government and Quebec Bridge company's tugs began a search of the St. Lawrence river for the victims of last night's catastrophe. The toll of death caused by the collapse of the great cantilever bridge numbers at least 75 and may reach 85. Up to an early hour today less than 20 bodies had been recovered. The terrific weight of the great steel structure falling from 180 feet above the surface of the river crushed the bodies of many of the workmen in a frightful manner and it is feared many will never be found. Many of the dead were Americans brought here by the Phoenix Bridge company of Phoenixville, Pa., which had the contract for the iron work on the bridge.

SOME KNOWN DEAD.

Among the known dead are:
B. A. Gansel, general foreman for the Phoenix Bridge company.
Chief Engineer Birks.
Fireman Davis of the bridge switch engine.
John W. Halley, fireman.
Jim Idah, Indiana foreman.
About 30 Czechoslovakians employed as laborers.
Victor, James and Henry Mardy, brothers of New Liverpool, Quebec.
Wilford Protoux of New Liverpool, Quebec.
Sephrian La France, Quebec.
Early this morning rowboats were sent out to examine the superstructure showing above the water near the shore, to ascertain if any of the workmen were imprisoned in the mass of twisted iron work. None were found alive. Just below the surface of the water two bodies were seen, but it will be impossible to reach them until the tide goes out. Both the local and Dominion authorities have taken steps to investigate the cause of the disaster and if possible, to fix the responsibility. Some of the workmen expressed the belief that the pier gave way under the tremendous strain of the overhanging steel work. Mr. P. Davis of Ottawa, the contractor who built the piers, made a hasty examination last night, however, and reported them to be in good condition, although the steel superstructure had fallen upon them.

ENGINEER'S ESCAPE.

A locomotive and several freight cars loaded with lumber were moving out on the bridge just before the structure collapsed. Engineer Jess went into the river with his engine, but was picked up 300 feet below the bridge. Fireman Davis perished. Engineer Jess was removed to Levis hospital, where he rapidly recovered from the effects of his plunge into the river. According to his story the steel work overhanging the river was the first to show signs of weakness. After the first sign of danger Jess shut off steam, but his locomotive continued to move toward the end of the bridge, which had begun to totter, and a moment later the engine went into the river.

Several engineers visited the scene today. It was widely said that there had been miscalculation of tensile strength in some spot. That weak spot had given way under the strain of hundreds of thousands of tons of steel, and this had at once upset the balance of a portion of the structure and caused the collapse. The number of dead, as stated at the office of the Phoenix Bridge company today, was 18 Canadians, 28 Indians and 17 Americans, but the officials would not venture to give out any names just at present. They also state that five Canadians, four Indians and three Americans are injured. The Quebec Bridge company officials place the number of dead at 78.

SEVENTY-NINE KILLED.

Although 24 hours have elapsed since the Quebec bridge fell into the St. Lawrence river, three score bridge workers are still held in the meshwork of debris at the bottom of the river. At the roll-call this afternoon 79 men failed to answer to their names and were not among the injured at the hospital. Fifteen bodies are at the morgue. Of the total of 78 dead or missing 16 were skilled American mechanics. Some bodies can be seen below the surface, tightly wedged in a mass of steel.

REMARKABLE RESTORATION OF A WOMAN'S EYESIGHT.

Philadelphia, Aug. 30.—"Once I was blind, but now I see." Happily does Mrs. Susanne Freeder of 930 North Twenty-ninth street, apply this to herself, while scores of friends marvel that the aged woman, who for 14 years past has suffered total blindness, is again blessed with sight.

An unintentional but severe blow over the right eye by a toy gun in the hands of an affectionate grandson, is responsible for the recovery of Mrs. Freeder's sight.

Mrs. Freeder, the grandmother, who is 80 years old, was sitting in the room and, although totally blind, smiled indulgently at the boy's antics playing soldier.

Suddenly, after a particularly swift and close circle, he commanded "shoulder arms," and accordingly swung the gun to his right shoulder. In so doing, he struck the aged woman over the right eye.

Mrs. Freeder uttered a loud cry of pain, while the lad, frightened and penitent, fell at her feet, begging forgiveness.

No further attention was given the matter, but on the day following the accident Miss Nina Freeder, the aged woman's daughter, noticed that she seemed to be walking with a firmer step. She apparently knew just where she was going, and experienced no difficulty in locating things.

"Yes," replied the old woman, with calmness, "I have regained my sight. I did not want to say anything about it. I am afraid the blindness may come back."

HISTORIC DENT FARM SOLD.
St. Louis, Aug. 30.—The historic Dent farm of 435 acres, outside the city limits, has changed hands for $75,000. The log cabin occupied by General Grant still stands.

COURIER JOURNAL BUILDING DESTROYED.
Louisville, Ky., Aug. 30.—The Courier-Journal building at Fourth and Green streets, in which are located the plants of the Courier-Journal and Evening Times, was destroyed by fire early today. The structure was five stories high and occupied half a block. The fire started at the top of an elevator shaft, supposedly from defective insulation of electric wires, and spread with great rapidity.

Editorial and editorial forces of the Courier-Journal stuck to the building in the hope that the blaze would be subdued and they could issue the paper. They were caught napping with fire at all exits and had to be taken out of the building and if possible, to fix the responsibility. Some of the workmen expressed the belief that the pier gave way under the tremendous strain of the overhanging steel work. Mr. P. Davis of Ottawa, the contractor who built the piers, made a hasty examination last night, however, and reported them to be in good condition, although the steel superstructure had fallen upon them.

ENGINEER'S ESCAPE.
A locomotive and several freight cars loaded with lumber were moving out on the bridge just before the structure collapsed. Engineer Jess went into the river with his engine, but was picked up 300 feet below the bridge. Fireman Davis perished. Engineer Jess was removed to Levis hospital, where he rapidly recovered from the effects of his plunge into the river. According to his story the steel work overhanging the river was the first to show signs of weakness. After the first sign of danger Jess shut off steam, but his locomotive continued to move toward the end of the bridge, which had begun to totter, and a moment later the engine went into the river.

SEVERAL ENGINEERS VISITED THE SCENE TODAY. It was widely said that there had been miscalculation of tensile strength in some spot. That weak spot had given way under the strain of hundreds of thousands of tons of steel, and this had at once upset the balance of a portion of the structure and caused the collapse. The number of dead, as stated at the office of the Phoenix Bridge company today, was 18 Canadians, 28 Indians and 17 Americans, but the officials would not venture to give out any names just at present. They also state that five Canadians, four Indians and three Americans are injured. The Quebec Bridge company officials place the number of dead at 78.

SEVENTY-NINE KILLED.
Although 24 hours have elapsed since the Quebec bridge fell into the St. Lawrence river, three score bridge workers are still held in the meshwork of debris at the bottom of the river. At the roll-call this afternoon 79 men failed to answer to their names and were not among the injured at the hospital. Fifteen bodies are at the morgue. Of the total of 78 dead or missing 16 were skilled American mechanics. Some bodies can be seen below the surface, tightly wedged in a mass of steel.

REMARKABLE RESTORATION OF A WOMAN'S EYESIGHT.
Philadelphia, Aug. 30.—"Once I was blind, but now I see." Happily does Mrs. Susanne Freeder of 930 North Twenty-ninth street, apply this to herself, while scores of friends marvel that the aged woman, who for 14 years past has suffered total blindness, is again blessed with sight.

An unintentional but severe blow over the right eye by a toy gun in the hands of an affectionate grandson, is responsible for the recovery of Mrs. Freeder's sight.

Mrs. Freeder, the grandmother, who is 80 years old, was sitting in the room and, although totally blind, smiled indulgently at the boy's antics playing soldier.

Suddenly, after a particularly swift and close circle, he commanded "shoulder arms," and accordingly swung the gun to his right shoulder. In so doing, he struck the aged woman over the right eye.

Mrs. Freeder uttered a loud cry of pain, while the lad, frightened and penitent, fell at her feet, begging forgiveness.

No further attention was given the matter, but on the day following the accident Miss Nina Freeder, the aged woman's daughter, noticed that she seemed to be walking with a firmer step. She apparently knew just where she was going, and experienced no difficulty in locating things.

"Yes," replied the old woman, with calmness, "I have regained my sight. I did not want to say anything about it. I am afraid the blindness may come back."

HISTORIC DENT FARM SOLD.
St. Louis, Aug. 30.—The historic Dent farm of 435 acres, outside the city limits, has changed hands for $75,000. The log cabin occupied by General Grant still stands.

COURIER JOURNAL BUILDING DESTROYED.
Louisville, Ky., Aug. 30.—The Courier-Journal building at Fourth and Green streets, in which are located the plants of the Courier-Journal and Evening Times, was destroyed by fire early today. The structure was five stories high and occupied half a block. The fire started at the top of an elevator shaft, supposedly from defective insulation of electric wires, and spread with great rapidity.

Editorial and editorial forces of the Courier-Journal stuck to the building in the hope that the blaze would be subdued and they could issue the paper. They were caught napping with fire at all exits and had to be taken out of the building and if possible, to fix the responsibility. Some of the workmen expressed the belief that the pier gave way under the tremendous strain of the overhanging steel work. Mr. P. Davis of Ottawa, the contractor who built the piers, made a hasty examination last night, however, and reported them to be in good condition, although the steel superstructure had fallen upon them.

ENGINEER'S ESCAPE.
A locomotive and several freight cars loaded with lumber were moving out on the bridge just before the structure collapsed. Engineer Jess went into the river with his engine, but was picked up 300 feet below the bridge. Fireman Davis perished. Engineer Jess was removed to Levis hospital, where he rapidly recovered from the effects of his plunge into the river. According to his story the steel work overhanging the river was the first to show signs of weakness. After the first sign of danger Jess shut off steam, but his locomotive continued to move toward the end of the bridge, which had begun to totter, and a moment later the engine went into the river.

SEVERAL ENGINEERS VISITED THE SCENE TODAY. It was widely said that there had been miscalculation of tensile strength in some spot. That weak spot had given way under the strain of hundreds of thousands of tons of steel, and this had at once upset the balance of a portion of the structure and caused the collapse. The number of dead, as stated at the office of the Phoenix Bridge company today, was 18 Canadians, 28 Indians and 17 Americans, but the officials would not venture to give out any names just at present. They also state that five Canadians, four Indians and three Americans are injured. The Quebec Bridge company officials place the number of dead at 78.

SEVENTY-NINE KILLED.
Although 24 hours have elapsed since the Quebec bridge fell into the St. Lawrence river, three score bridge workers are still held in the meshwork of debris at the bottom of the river. At the roll-call this afternoon 79 men failed to answer to their names and were not among the injured at the hospital. Fifteen bodies are at the morgue. Of the total of 78 dead or missing 16 were skilled American mechanics. Some bodies can be seen below the surface, tightly wedged in a mass of steel.

REMARKABLE RESTORATION OF A WOMAN'S EYESIGHT.
Philadelphia, Aug. 30.—"Once I was blind, but now I see." Happily does Mrs. Susanne Freeder of 930 North Twenty-ninth street, apply this to herself, while scores of friends marvel that the aged woman, who for 14 years past has suffered total blindness, is again blessed with sight.

An unintentional but severe blow over the right eye by a toy gun in the hands of an affectionate grandson, is responsible for the recovery of Mrs. Freeder's sight.

STARTING STORY OF ABJECT SLAVERY

A White Woman Held in Bondage For Many Years Near Richmond, Virginia.

SOLD BY FOSTER PARENTS.

These Who Held Her Claim They Took Her in as a Wail and Treated Her Kindly.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 30.—It is almost beyond belief that to the enlightened commonwealth of Virginia a young Anglo-Saxon woman should come out of a county only an hour's ride from the city of Richmond with a startling story of abject slavery and penance since her childhood.

Deserted by her father when a baby, left an orphan at a tender age by a mother who found death a relief from the unequal battle of making a livelihood for herself and her child, sold into slavery by her foster-parents for a small sum of money and an aged horse, kept in total ignorance of her parentage, reared to believe that she was the absolute chattel of the man whom she called master, made to grow into a hewer of wood and a drawer of water, made to fell trees with an axe and to guide the heavy plough across the uplands, the girl in spite of these adverse circumstances, has matured into a comely woman.

She has now thrown herself on the humane aid of the Virginia people, seeking relief, and the machinery of the law has been set in motion for her redress. The condition of the girl first became known through J. Kent Rawley, a Richmond lawyer, who was retained by friends of the girl. These friends were the horny handed sons of the red Virginia hills, the neighbors of the family with whom the girl had spent all her years, who gave of the tithes purchased by the sweat of their brows that the secret of the mysterious child might be brought to light.

These rallied money which they placed in the hands of the lawyer, with the understanding that he would do what he could to determine the real facts concerning her history.

A humane society in Baltimore, Md., also interested itself in behalf of the girl, sending a representative to Virginia to confer with her and with the attorney, with the end in view of alleviating her then miserable condition. The girl was then rescued from her sorry condition and taken to Richmond, where under kinder conditions and with the courage of personal liberty in her heart, she is maintaining herself by honest labor for which she is receiving the wage to which she is entitled.

The girl, who is generally known as the "white slave," answers to the name of Eleanor. She has never known any other name. Her case soon will be brought to a climax when Attorney Rawley institutes a suit in her behalf against J. J. Cawley, a dairyman, of Chesterfield county, in whose home the girl has spent the better portion of a laboring existence.

Cawley is the man who is alleged to have held the girl in slavery since she was a child. The plaintiff in the suit is 21 years old. Her bill will allege that she was sold to Cawley when a child, for whom she was forced to work without compensation until the intervention of friends secured her release. The young woman is prepossessing in appearance and timid to a degree. She has large brown eyes and an abundance of dark hair.

Mrs. Cawley, wife of the owner of Eleanor, has made a statement in which she denies that the girl was ever regarded as a slave. She says the girl was tenderly cared for and kindly treated. She claims to have taken the girl in when a child for humanity's sake.

The case has two sides. That of the girl has not yet been made known except that she had been held in bondage. Rawley is said to have in his possession affidavits and other evidence which present exactly the opposite view to that presented by the Cawleys.

It is an interesting fact that the suit for the girl was first instigated by the sons of the Cawleys, who claim that they have known of the girl all her life, and that so far as they have been able to determine, she has been regarded as a slave. Certainly this is the general belief in the community in which the Cawleys live.

HAMMERSTEIN WILL BUILD GREAT OPERA HOUSE.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Oscar Hammerstein will build in Chicago a great house of grand opera at a cost of over $1,000,000.

Steps were taken today to secure the site, if the location can be acquired without delay the construction will proceed immediately. Hammerstein having asked that it be ready for opening next fall. The plans of the famous grand opera impresario are for a venture far more ambitious than anything he ever before has attempted.

Hammerstein proposes to give Chicago the finest house of grand opera in America, to establish here a resident company and to keep the house open each year throughout a regular season of 28 weeks. Season & a half been commenced. He is to select a site on the south side or near Michigan avenue not far from Twelfth street. Mr. Hammerstein declares that the building of the grand opera house does not depend upon a doubtful development of plans. He has fully decided upon the move, and that he now holds in reserve by contract several foreign singers who will be located in America to fill positions in Chicago. The plan for the establishment of the company as outlined by Mr. Hammerstein provides for the location here of a permanent company.

The chorus, the ballet and the minor singers will remain in Chicago throughout the season of 28 weeks, but there will be an interchange of the great singers between Chicago and New York.

BURNED HER CARDS.

Mrs. Sims, Woman's Whist Champion, Condemns Card Playing.

riety so much dreaded by farmers and herdsmen. Instead of allowing the pack to be molested, he fired and killed the leader.

The others advanced on him, and before he could be killed he killed three more and wounded two. Then a grim fight against overwhelming odds began. He was alone in the bush, using his rifle as a club. Mr. Kufi disposed of a few more of the brutes, but his weapon broke and he was left with only the two barrels to defend himself. By this time he was fearfully torn and mauled about the neck, arms, thighs, and was rapidly growing exhausted.

Just before he sank to the ground unconscious one large jackal sprang on his shoulders and buried its teeth in his neck, and he remembered nothing more. When he recovered his senses he was in a sheep kraal with four friends, who had saved his life.

They came on the scene as he was falling, and as the infuriated beasts were rushing on him to tear him to pieces a few shots and a combined rush scattered the animals in all directions.

After taking him home, Mr. Kufi's rescuers returned, and found 21 dead jackals, which they skinned. They found him half a dozen of the skins as mementos of the incident.

LURED TO HIS DEATH.

R. F. Singleton of Covington, Ky., Beaten to Death in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 30.—R. F. Singleton, a former magistrate of Covington, Ky., who was found terribly beaten in a Richmond street house in this city last Wednesday, died at the city hospital last night. Singleton was enticed to the house by a woman known to the police as Mrs. Walter West. Arriving there he was set upon and robbed by two men. The police have no trace of the men or the woman.

"R." AND "MISS."

Public Printer Employees Are Ordered To Use These Terms in Future.

Washington, Aug. 30.—It is "Mr." this and "Miss" that at the government printing office these days. No more John or Tom or Maggie. By formal order issued by the public printer the employees are prohibited from being familiar with each other, no matter how well they are acquainted. No explanation is given for the reform.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Wm. D. Gifford

Talks on Teeth

BY REX DENTAL CO.

Good Teeth!

Good teeth are absolutely necessary if one is to have good health.

Unless the food can be properly ground and prepared for the stomach the gastric juices have to do double duty, and in such cases it is only a question of time until there is a bad case of stomach trouble. And there is nothing much worse than stomach trouble. That is sure enough trouble.

About ninety per cent of the people who are suffering from so-called stomach trouble are in reality suffering from teeth trouble.

Give them good teeth and it is only a question of time until the stomach gets back to a healthy condition.

The great trouble in most cases is to find GOOD TEETH.

A plate is at best a substitute. It is better than nothing, but WE know of something better.

We supply teeth without plates! How?

If you have two or more teeth in either jaw we will, with the AL-VE-O-LAR method supply all the teeth which, through ignorance (poor dentistry) or disuse, have been lost, WITHOUT PLATES.

The teeth we will put in will look, feel, and for service, equal those that nature put in your mouth in the beginning.

You will once more have good teeth. Nothing ever discovered in the science of medicine or dentistry is of more importance than this discovery by The Rex Dental Co. It is saving as many lives as all the rest put together. How about YOUR teeth? Are there holes in the line? Would you like to have the gaps filled up and have a full set of good teeth once more? This is our specialty, but we do general dentistry, having a corps of the most skillful dentists to be found in any dental office in the world. They must needs be to do Alveolar dentistry.

A careful consultation and examination of your particular case will cost you nothing if you will come to our offices in Suite 107 Mercantile Annex, and may be the means of saving your life if you have poor teeth.

If you can't come, send for our book, AL-VE-O-LAR DENTISTRY, which explains all about this new method of supplying teeth without plates. The book is free to you.

REX DENTAL CO., Suite 110, Mercantile Annex, Salt Lake City.

Makes Hair Look Rich

LET US TRY

To help you realize some of your ideas about furniture. We like to have people come in here who are INTERESTED in Furniture.

H. DINWOODEY FURNITURE CO.

Public Printer Employees Are Ordered To Use These Terms in Future.

Washington, Aug. 30.—It is "Mr." this and "Miss" that at the government printing office these days. No more John or Tom or Maggie. By formal order issued by the public printer the employees are prohibited from being familiar with each other, no matter how well they are acquainted. No explanation is given for the reform.

"R." AND "MISS."

Public Printer Employees Are Ordered To Use These Terms in Future.

Washington, Aug. 30.—It is "Mr." this and "Miss" that at the government printing office these days. No more John or Tom or Maggie. By formal order issued by the public printer the employees are prohibited from being familiar with each other, no matter how well they are acquainted. No explanation is given for the reform.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Wm. D. Gifford

Talks on Teeth

BY REX DENTAL CO.

Good Teeth!

Good teeth are absolutely necessary if one is to have good health.

Unless the food can be properly ground and prepared for the stomach the gastric juices have to do double duty, and in such cases it is only a question of time until there is a bad case of stomach trouble. And there is nothing much worse than stomach trouble. That is sure enough trouble.

About ninety per cent of the people who are suffering from so-called stomach trouble are in reality suffering from teeth trouble.

Give them good teeth and it is only a question of time until the stomach gets back to a healthy condition.

The great trouble in most cases is to find GOOD TEETH.

A plate is at best a substitute. It is better than nothing, but WE know of something better.

We supply teeth without plates! How?

If you have two or more teeth in either jaw we will, with the AL-VE-O-LAR method supply all the teeth which, through ignorance (poor dentistry) or disuse, have been lost, WITHOUT PLATES.

The teeth we will put in will look, feel, and for service, equal those that nature put in your mouth in the beginning.

You will once more have good teeth. Nothing ever discovered in the science of medicine or dentistry is of more importance than this discovery by The Rex Dental Co. It is saving as many lives as all the rest put together. How about YOUR teeth? Are there holes in the line? Would you like to have the gaps filled up and have a full set of good teeth once more? This is our specialty, but we do general dentistry, having a corps of the most skillful dentists to be found in any dental office in the world. They must needs be to do Alveolar dentistry.

A careful consultation and examination of your particular case will cost you nothing if you will come to our offices in Suite 107 Mercantile Annex, and may be the means of saving your life if you have poor teeth.

If you can't come, send for our book, AL-VE-O-LAR DENTISTRY, which explains all about this new method of supplying teeth without plates. The book is free to you.

REX DENTAL CO., Suite 110, Mercantile Annex, Salt Lake City.

No need to ask if you want your hair to look rich, healthy, and luxuriant. We know you do! Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, will give it just that appearance. An ideal hair dressing. Ask your doctor about it.

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

LET US TRY

To help you realize some of your ideas about furniture. We like to have people come in here who are INTERESTED in Furniture.

H. DINWOODEY FURNITURE CO.

Public Printer Employees Are Ordered To Use These Terms in Future.

Washington, Aug. 30.—It is "Mr." this and "Miss" that at the government printing office these days. No more John or Tom or Maggie. By formal order issued by the public printer the employees are prohibited from being familiar with each other, no matter how well they are acquainted. No explanation is given for the reform.

"R." AND "MISS."

Public Printer Employees Are Ordered To Use These Terms in Future.

Washington, Aug. 30.—It is "Mr." this and "Miss" that at the government printing office these days. No more John or Tom or Maggie. By formal order issued by the public printer the employees are prohibited from being familiar with each other, no matter how well they are acquainted. No explanation is given for the reform.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Wm. D. Gifford

Talks on Teeth

BY REX DENTAL CO.

Good Teeth!

Good teeth are absolutely necessary if one is to have good health.

Unless the food can be properly ground and prepared for the stomach the gastric juices have to do double duty, and in such cases it is only a question of time until there is a bad case of stomach trouble. And there is nothing much worse than stomach trouble. That is sure enough trouble.

About ninety per cent of the people who are suffering from so-called stomach trouble are in reality suffering from teeth trouble.

Give them good teeth and it is only a question of time until the stomach gets back to a healthy condition.

The great trouble in most cases is to find GOOD TEETH.

A plate is at best a substitute. It is better than nothing, but WE know of something better.

We supply teeth without plates! How?

If you have two or more teeth in either jaw we will, with the AL-VE-O-LAR method supply all the teeth which, through ignorance (poor dentistry) or disuse, have been lost, WITHOUT PLATES.

The teeth we will put in will look, feel, and for service, equal those that nature put in your mouth in the beginning.

You will once more have good teeth. Nothing ever discovered in the science of medicine or dentistry is of more importance than this discovery by The Rex Dental Co. It is saving as many lives as all the rest put together. How about YOUR teeth? Are there holes in the line? Would you like to have the gaps filled up and have a full set of good teeth once more? This is our specialty, but we do general dentistry, having a corps of the most skillful dentists to be found in any dental office in the world. They must needs be to do Alveolar dentistry.

A careful consultation and examination of your particular case will cost you nothing if you will come to our offices in Suite 107 Mercantile Annex, and may be the means of saving your life if you have poor teeth.

If you can't come, send for our book, AL-VE-O-LAR DENTISTRY, which explains all about this new method of supplying teeth without plates. The book is free to you.

REX DENTAL CO., Suite 110, Mercantile Annex, Salt Lake City.

DELINQUENT NOTICE.

THE HIGHLAND MINING & MILLING CO., a corporation, Secretary's office, Salt Lake City, Utah, August 29, 1907. Notice is hereby given that the following described stock, owned by the several amounts set opposite the names of the respective stockholders as follows, to-wit:

Name	No. Cert.	No. Shrs.	Am't.
Geo. M. Bridwell			