DESERET EVENING NEWS: SATURDAY, APRIL 7. 1906.

A PRINCESS GOWN.

The gown seen in the cut is a stunning princess model evolved from champagne voile. A vandyked trimming carried out in lace insertion between tiny tucks adorns the skirt, and the same effect is used on the bodice. Brown velvet outlines the V, neck, trims the sleeves and forms a pretty harness girdle.

Spring Millinery at Z.C. M. I.

Right now the subject of millinery is uppermost in the mind of every woman, and right now Z. C. M. I. is showing all the pretty hats that any lady could have even dreamed of. Our creations for Easter wear are simply charming-they embody types of surpassing beauty-Fashion's most favored styles. Authoritative conceits, emanating from the most distinguished artists are now displayed, in a splendid and most varied profusion.

> We ask you to consider this a personal invitation to come and see the exhibit, which includes all that is original and beautiful, from the most elaborate ideas to the simple styles designed for general and traveling wear. Bring the girls with you, too. We have just what will suit them.

The "Phipps" and the "Gage" models are among the really correct things for spring and summer, 1906. Two of them are shown on this page. There are hundreds of other equally pretty hats here. The color effects, both in trimmings and material, give a beauty to this display that cannot be overlooked by refined feminine taste. Special prices are being made to prospective customers for our beautiful line of pattern hats, which will be sold before they have a chance to become shopworn.
