OGDEN NEWS.

OGDEN, JAN. 14, 1901.

DESTRUCTION BY WATER.

Great Landslide in Ogden Canyon Does Much Damage.

Obsequies of G. K. Bannister and Cornelius Osborne - New Bishopric in 3rd Ward - Beet Contracts.

Some time yesterday morning the network of the overhead shaft of the Utah Light & Power company spread, causing a big landslide to come down the mountain at the mouth of Ogden canyon, carrying away the bridge over Ogden river and damaging the retaining wall of the Utah Light & Power company. The bridge is situated about a quarter of a mile up from the mouth of the canyon. Immense boulders weighing several tons dashed down the mountain side, crushing the bridge to mountain side of the river, and twisting the bottom of the river, and twisting the heavy steel girders in almost every imaginable shape.

The overhead shaft is situated on the line of the power company's pipe almost directly above the bridge, and about five hundred feet above the river bed, was considered a substantial piece of work, but the immense pressure of the water in the pipe caused the cemented rock work to give way and the overhead shaft to fall in torrents, dislodging the monstrous rocks in its wake, lodging the bottom of the canyon with such great speed that the heavy steel bridge was crushed so that it lay in ruins. The bridge is almost entirely built out of steel, and cost about seven hundred dollars. The roadway was also blocked, stopping all traffic, and the canyon had to be guarded to keep the people from going up and down because of the great danger there was from the monster boulders which continued to roll down the mountain side every few minutes during the entire day. The bridge did not interfere with the power company's line, but the break being in the overhead shaft and not on the main pipe did not stop the flow of water to the power plant. The damage to the overhead shaft is a great difficulty and can be repaired with little difficulty, but the road and bridge will take several days to repair.

Just as soon as the news of the disaster was received in Ogden Commissioner W. O. Wilson with a number of men went up to the scene of the accident, and Commissioner Wilson will begin work this morning for the erection of a temporary bridge across the river, and traffic will not be delayed more than one day.

OBSEQUES OF C. K. BANNISTER.

The funeral services over the remains of the late C. K. Bannister, in the Reed hall parlors yesterday, were simple, but impressive. These consisted of hymns, "Abide With Me," sung by a quartet of the choir, and followed by a brief scripture reading by Rev. E. J. Goshen, a close friend of the dead man, and who afterwards delivered a very touching words of farewell, the choir sang, "Lead Kindly Light," and the body was conveyed to the city cemetery, where it was placed in a receiving vault. It will probably be sent to Illinois for final interment.

WHAT SHALL WE EAT

To Keep Healthy and Strong.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best in securing the claims made by vegetarians and the claims made by meat eaters. As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutritious in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grains.

Dr. Julius Remus, in his subject says: Numerous persons run down in health and of low vitality should eat plenty of meat. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily strengthened by the use of the famous Dr. Cassell's Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three or four hours, leaving the mal-digestion also contained in Stuart's Tablets cause the perfect digestion of starchy foods, like potatoes, bread, etc., and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets because they supply the pepsin and diastase necessary to perfect digestion, and any form of indigestion and stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach will be overcome by their daily use.

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspepsia should eat plenty of meat and insure its complete digestion by the systematic use of a safe, harmless vegetable medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsines and diastase, which actually perform the work of digestion and give the absent gastric juices, and to rest and to furnish the body and brain with the necessary nutriment. Cheap cathartic medicines masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures are useless for relief or cure of indigestion because they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food and the sensible way to solve the riddle and give the indigestion is to make daily use of a safe and effective remedy which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles, and all this can truly be said of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

All druggists throughout the United States, Canada and Great Britain sell them at the uniform price of fifty cents for full treatment.

lection of Bishop Keeler to the office of counselor to President John. Bishop Snow is a son of the late Apostle Erastus Snow.

Apostle Woodruff spoke briefly of the growth of the work of God, as evidenced by the necessity for dividing the Stake and urged the Saints to support the brethren in the various Stakes.

The brethren, who had been appointed and sustained for the various Stake offices and Bishop Snow, each addressed the congregation, promising to do their time and ability to fulfill the duties of the offices to which they had been called and asking for the prayers, confidence and support of the Saints.

President Smith was the next speaker. He said that the spirit manifested by the congregation and the unanimity with which the brethren had been sustained was a testimony to him that the selections for the various offices had been prompted by the Spirit of God. President Smith spoke of the duties and requirements of the brethren who had been called to these responsible offices, and encouraged them to strive for the Spirit of God and to cultivate a spirit of humility, long suffering, patience, kindness, love and sympathy, that they might be faithful to the people; to meet together often and seek the Lord in prayer, that union, confidence and love might characterize their labors and intercourse with one another and with the Saints.

President Smith stated that the Presidency of the Utah Stake would be given one week to select members and alternates for the new High Council to be organized. And counseled President Page to select his counselors and subalternates from the members of the Presidency of the Church, and if they were acceptable, to advise with them and select members of the High Council and alternates for the south Stake. The same counsel was given to President Chipman and his counselors as to the north Stake, and to President Page, who was counseled to pursue the same course in regard to the counselors of the Fourth ward Bishopric, and to advise with the Presidency of the Stake and Apostle Smoot in the matter.

M. I. A. CONFERENCE.

In the evening the Mutual Improvement associations met in conference and were addressed by the following speakers: Apostle Grant, Miss Inez Knight; Elder G. H. Brimhall, Mrs. Lillian H. Cannon, Elder J. B. Hickdon, Apostle Teasdale and Smoot and Elder John D. Dixon.

Owing to the approaching removal of President J. D. Dixon to Salt Lake, and division of the Stake taking some of the officers into other Stakes, the Stake Presidency of the M. I. A. was reorganized. President Dixon being released with a vote of thanks by the congregation for his past services.

The new organization is as follows: President, Joseph E. Hickman; assistant, Wm. J. Peterson; secretary, Thomas Cook; treasurer, J. William Knight; musical director, J. R. Boshard; aids: Caleb Tanner, Moses C. Davis and Willis A. Johnson, the latter of Springville.

The Tabernacle choir, under the direction of Prof. Boshard, rendered many beautiful musical selections during the meetings of the conferences, which were highly appreciated by the congregation and the visiting brethren.

BANK IN NEW QUARTERS.

The Provo Commercial and Savings bank opened business today in its new quarters formerly occupied by the First National bank. The building has been entirely remodeled on modern lines. The new home of the bank gives an impression of beauty and solidity. The latter quality is assured by the fact that the institution; to which extent the former is emblematical depends, of course, on a person's bank account and his relations with the bank.

GRANTSVILLE.

OLD FOLKS ENTERTAINED.

Public Meetings and Schools Discontinued on Account of Smallpox.

Special Correspondence.

Grantsville, Jan. 12.-The annual Old Folks' sociable took place last Thursday the 10th inst., but owing to the prevalence of smallpox the attendance was very small compared with other occasions. But notwithstanding the few in number those who attended had a very enjoyable time, and were entertained with a force by the Home Dramatic company in the afternoon, and at 6 p. m. the company sat down to a splendid banquet. The ward meeting, held after which they returned to the Social hall, where they were entertained with songs, recitations and social chat. The brass and string bands furnished the music for the occasion.

SMALLPOX SITUATION.

The Twelve Stake conference commenced here the latter part of this month, but will have to be postponed. This is the second time our conference has been put off on account of sickness.

The grand wedding ball in the hall last Tuesday evening was the scene of gaiety and pleasure. There were three young brides present, dressed in their bridal array, and were the center of attraction. Shocking Death of Edward R. Case

-Root Caves In on Him.

Special Correspondence.

Garrison, Utah, Jan. 11.-Edward R. Case of this place met with a shocking death in the mountains above here a few days ago, and was buried yesterday. He was getting out logs, and while working was encamped in a cabin which had a roof. As the logs which held up the roof were not strong enough they gave way, letting the roof fall in on him. A man named Matthews went past the place after the accident and he notified the people, who investigated and found the body of Mr. Case under the rubble. His back and legs had been broken. He leaves a wife and three small children to mourn his departure.

The furor of enthusiasm over it has boomed their business, as the demand for it is immense. They give free trial bottles to sufferers, and positively guarantee it to cure Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Hay Fever, Catarrh of the Throat and Lung Trouble. A trial proves its merit. Such little pills as De Witt's Little Early Risers are very easily taken, and they are wonderfully effective in cleansing the liver and bowels. F. C. Schramm.

MOAB.

ELOPERS COME TO GRIEF.

Arrest of W. C. Clayton of Pangnitch - The Woman in the Case.

Special Correspondence.

Moab, Grand Co., Jan. 10.-A ripple of excitement was caused in Moab last evening when Sheriff A. J. Young arrested W. C. Clayton of Pangnitch, Garfield county. Clayton had eloped from Torrey, Wayne county, where he was in the employ of Walter B. Lee, a sewing machine agent. It seems that Clayton became infatuated with a Miss Gillespie of Plateau, Sevier county, and they decided to skip the country together. Clayton, however, was not so lucky, as he was caught by Sheriff Young. Clayton was taken to the county jail, and the woman, who was with him, a younger brother of Clayton's had also been persuaded to accompany them, though he is not criminally connected with the case. Sheriff Young received a telegram from Little Grand yesterday afternoon, to the effect that Clayton and Lee, the agent, arrived at Moab during the night, and they will stay with their man tomorrow. The officers would not arrest the woman, as they didn't want her back in that country. Clayton was today trying to make arrangements to have the woman return on the train, as the officers would not permit her to accompany them.

Clayton's wife and children are at Pangnitch. Sheriff Young deserves credit for the skillful manner in which he caught the runaways.

CATTLE LOSSES FEARED.

The stockmen in this vicinity are greatly concerned at the present time at the weather prospects, as the great scarcity of snow and rain is bound to bring a heavy frost and a hard snow. The desert country which is dependent on for winter feed, is almost void of water, there being no snow at all. It seems southeast Utah is passing through one of those rare winters, of which history has recorded but few, in this part of the world.

Chas. MacPherson, inventor of the "oil elevator" water wheel, left on this morning's stage for Westwater, this county, where he will complete the erection of one of his oil wheels. Dr. Darrow Bros.
