The scene of the wreck was on the down grade on either side of which there was a steep rise. Both trains had put on extra steam to carry them up the opposite hill and when they met at the curve at the lowest point they were the curve at the lowest point may see running at a terrific rate. The passenger train was made up of three coaches and a Pullman, with no baggage cur, the front coach being next to the tender. The freight train was a heavy one. When the trains met, the heavy freight train pushed the pas-senger afgine back into the first coach. senger engine back into the first coach. The tender of the passenger engine lit-erally cut the coach in two in the center and never stopped until it had ploughed fiself half way through the car and its passengers, killing these in the forward end instantly, and mangling all within reach in a most hor-rible manner. Haif a dozen who were not killed outright were so terribly in jured that they died before they could be removed from the debris. Many of the dead ware almost unrecognizable. Arms and legs were dismembered in several cases, and together with bag-gage and pieces of wreckage were tumbled together into a confused mass of bleeding human forms.

The next two coaches were also badly damaged, seats being torn up and win-dows smashed, but in these cars the passengers fared better, all except a few escaping with slight injuries. The Pullman remained upright and none of its occupants were hurt beyond sustaining a severe shaking up. So lightly were the tender of the pas-senger engine and the first coach wedg-ed together that it will take unusual ef-forts to separate them. Today the en-gine stands backed into the coach, the front of which rears up above it, the clothing of some of the victims clinging to its jagged ends and blood spattered over it, a ghastly monument to the dead.

The train crew, with the exception of Brakeman Sidel, escaped miraculously, the engineers and fireman sustaining only minor hurts. The injured were taken to Sedalia and the dead to Warrensburg. At Warrens-burg the coroner immediately set about making preparations for holding an inquest.

HAWAIIAN REUNION.

Two Hundred Guesta Entertained at The Beehive House.

Some 200 people, the members and invited guests of the Hawaiian Missionary society, were entertained at the Beehive House Saturday evening, by President Joseph F, Smith and Mrs. Julina Smith, who were members of the society.

Hawaiian curios furnished considerable fun during the evening. There were musical numbers by Prof. Clive and little daughter, and by a quartet of Hawallan daughter, and by a quartet of Hawallan siris. Miss Sylvia Garff of Ogden rendered a soprano solo that developed a remarkably beantiful volce. Little Ethel Beeseley danced her way into the hearts of the people in a vory graceful manner. Hon. John T. Caine and MF. Wm. M. Waddoups responded to the tonsts: "Poi" and "The Hawalian Language." Hawalian fruits were served. The present officers were continued for a year and what looked like a slate name-ing new officers was smashed. Mattee Noal is president, Will G. mmmmm Amusements

At the Tabernacle Saturdaynight there was a fair turnout to greet Mrs. Lizzie Thomas Edward and the choir. The heavy draught of the Tout concert. and the big opposition at the Theater, no doubt combined to hurt the attendance, but artistically the program was all that could be desired. Mrs. Edward herself, who received a big welcome on her appearance, and who was tendered several beautiful floral offerings, has never been heard to better advantage. She was down for three numbers, but had to increase it several more, owing to encores, and at the close, instead of the "Hallelujah Chorus," she and the choir gave the "Inflammatus," by general request, a aumber in which she always shows to excellent advantage. The familiar "Polonalse," from "Mignon," was brilliantly rendered, and for an encore she gave "The Last Rose of Summer, Her sweet voice told out in ringing style with the choir in the closing num per, being heard plainly above the choi the organ and string quartet. The the regain sang "Utah Hail," but their again sang "Utah Hail," bu many of the male voices were absen and it hardly went as well as on in first presentation. Mr. McClellan wa iown for several organ numbers, and it goes without saying that he was beavily applauded. Mr. Hugh W. Dougall sang "The Toreador," and "On Shining Light," and was called back in both occasions. Mr. Skelton, the rely force a statute of the several well-known violinist, played a charmng solo in excellent style, and also took part in the string quartet, which did ine work in its individual number and m accompanying Mrs. Edward.

There are 15 assignments of error relied upon by the attorney for defendant for a new trial of the case. There are three cited in his brief and argued by him today which are considered the most important and upon which almost the entire argument centered. The first of these is the refusal of the court below to instruct the jury in regard to the testimony introduced to show that defendant had abandoned his intention to rob the two men before the shooting occurred and to instruct the jury as to defendant's rights+After he had abandoned such purpose.

The second is as to the action of the district attorney during the trial of the case in making defendant, over the objection of his attorney, put on the hat and mask that he wore on the night of the crime and, with his gun in his hand, show the jury how he en-tered the car to hold up the men. Such action it is claimed by the attorney for the defense was taken merely to prejudice the jury against the defendant.

The third error of importance it is claimed was the introduction of testimony on cross-examination of defend ant to the effect that he had deserted from the army. Such testimony it was argued was prejudicial to defendant and should have been excluded. The arguments will be concluded this afternoon and the case will be taken under dvisement by the court.

The matter of the application of James H. Clark for a writ of habeas corpus was also argued before the supreme court today. THAT BOGUS PETITION.

Ample Evidence to Keep "Amercan" Ticket Off Ballot.

Late this afternoon it was not known what action, if any, would be taken in the matter of the "American" ticket. Chairman Spry stated that he had not decided what to do in the matter, while County Chairman J. U. Eldredge, Jr., gave it out positively that so far as the county committee was concerned, the "Americans" would be left entirely

"While we have ample evidence to while we have ample concrete to keep the ticket off the ballot." said Mr. Eldredge, "we do not feel to take ad-vantage of a technicality, and have therefore decided to let the matter go as it is. It has come to us since the petition was filed that many whose petition was filed that many whose names are attached state positively that they were never sworn. Mr. S. P. 'Americans" Swallowing Another Dose This Afternoon.

At this hour, 2 p. m., the "Americans" are assembling at the Salt Lake Theater for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee on nominations. The report will be in the nature of a cut said and done with a brilliant talk on the "get together-stay together" order. It is barely possible that "Congress-Hiles may also be called upon nian" for a speech, although up to press time the matter had not been definitely de-startle officers, have world, made pestilential cities and countries habitable, and saved hundreds and thousands of lives; yet, all over our land, physicians and health officers who know these things, are obliged to approach each legislature with apologies for the disturbance they create in asking additions to or amend ments of the laws required by our progreasive knowledge of sanitary tions. Many life saving measures have never been presented for fear of rousing an antager ism which would amend or annul good laws already existing. "But, you will ask, why dwell upon this. My answer is, to show you as intelligent medical men that it is necessary for us to give our legislators a little individual attention, both before and after election, and make them under-stand what they seem so unwilling to stand what they seem so unwitting to concede, that physicians and health of-ficers have but one object in asking for rigid and up to date health laws, the protection of the people. And that while we are willing as physicians to give our time and knowledge of sani-tary matters for the weifage of the tary matters for the welfare of the state, we have a right to expect their hearty co-operation. We should use our influence in municipal affairs as well, and endeavor to secure the election on town boards and in the city council of fair minded men, ready and willing to adopt any measures conducive to public health and safety. Foll-tics, creeds and cuits should have no influence in such a vital question as the alth of the people

"Utah is still far behind many of the states in her health laws, and it is the duty of the state board of health and all auxiliary organizations to create public sentiment and educate the people, so that they will demand not only the best laws, but a strict enforcement of the same. Most health boards and many health officers serve the state without com-pensition, and when remuneration is provided it is entirely inadequate. The ctual labor is great, but the responsiollity is far greater, and it seems rid-culous to think that the great state Utah should appropriate biennially $10,000 for its health service, which affects the lives and fortunes of each one of its citizens, and pays during the same period $20,000 as bounty on coyotes

"The state board of health has no special favors to ask. We have no class legislation to introduce. We merely ask you to aid us by your individual efforts to influence the people of your respective districts to take a broad, high-minded view of this great question of health laws and sanitary rules and regulations, and demonstrate to them if necessary that the promulga-tion and observance of these laws is of more value to them in dollars and conts than any other public question they may be called upon to consider.

"I cannot in this paper, specify the work necessary to be done in this line with our city council and the next Legislature. I present the subject to Legislature. I present the subject t you for consideration and discussion In this discussion you can tell us of the difficulties you have encountered and how we can best aid you in your work; while we in turn may indicate more specifically how the work can be systematized and harmonized for the benefit of all. This, I take it, is the object of our conference; to get to-gether to find out just what is necessary to be done in order to give to the people the best possible service, and thereby gain their confidence and allegiance

With a little more interest and enthusiasm on the part of the public, and a suitable appropriation from the state to meet the exigencies of the work, the scope and usefulness of our present laws could be greatly broadened. During the past year the state board of health has tried to secure more united

'Nor should we fail to acknowledge at this time the invaluable services of our secretary, Dr. Beatty, whose name will always be identified with the health laws of Utah."

Dr. Beatty opened the discussion or the paper and emphasized the necessity of proper legislation which would enable the officers to enforce the health regulations. He also argued in favor of better pay for the health officers of he state, whom he said should be al owed compensation more commensur ate with their duties than is paid at the present time.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

Upon motion of Dr. Phillips of Wellsville, a committee consisting of Dr. Smart, of Springville, Dr. W. R. Calderood of Logun, and Drs. Allen, Beatty nd Bascom of Salt Lake, was appoint ed to draft such resolutions in regard o legislation as is deemed advisable or presentation to the next Legislature Dr. Allen urged that the health of-ficers of various parts of the state call upon the legislators in their respective districts and insist that some new leg-islation be enacted for the benefit of the public health. At the close of his the convention adjourned until 2 clock this afternoon.

OTHER PAPERS.

During the remainder of the session which will be held this afternoon and comorrow the following papers will be read: "Public Health," by Dr. T. B. Beatty: "Water Supply," State En-Beatty: gineer Doremus; "School Hygiene," Dr. S. H. Allen; "Tuberculosis," Dr. Wilcox; "Smallpox," Dr. Jensen of Eph-ralm: "Food and Berry Supply," Dr. alderwood, Logan; "Dutles of Health Officers," Dr. Taylor, Eureka; "Legal Aspect of Public Health," Secy. of State J. T. Hammond; 'Car Sanita-tion," Dr. Steele, R. F. Woodard, state fumigator, will also give a practical demonstration of disinfection.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Bets were freely offered today that the "A. P. U.'s" wouldn't pull 5,000 votes in the state.

Justice George W. Bartch of the su-preme court is mentioned as a receptive candidate for United States senator.

A. S. Campbell, the well known stock broker, says he is not the man by that name who is alleged to have signed the "American" petition. He keeps better company, he says.

Levi N. Harmon and Will Ray will speak at Thurber and Grover, Wayne county, tomorrow afternoon and night, while S. A. King and W. E. Rydalch will speak in Wasatch and Grant C. Bagley and C. L. Olson at Stockton.

Sam King and W. E. Rydalch will expound Democratic principles in Wa-satch county tonight. Levi N. Harmon and Will Ray will speak at Fremont, Wayne county, and Grant C. Bagley and C. L. Olson will be in Tooele county.

In the list of the signers of the petition of the so-called "American" party" is the name of A. S. Campbell. It may be that there are two persons by that nearth has tried to secure more united co-operation between the state and the various local boards of health; uni-formity in quarantine laws and the management of the same; better meth-ods of record of births, deaths, con-tagious diseases, etc., and a better un-
