THE FIRST BANJO.

(Booker's song, from "Christmas Night in the Quarters," by Irwin Russell, Scribner for January.)

Go 'way fiddle!—folks is tired 'o hearin' you a-squawkin'.
Keep silence fur yo' betters—don't you heah de banjo talk'n'?
About de 'possum's tail, she's gwine to 'ceter—lad es, listen!—
About de ha'r what isn' dar, and why de ha'r is missin'.

"Dar's gwine to be a oberflow," said Noah, lookin' so emn—
For Noah tuk the Herald an' he read de ribber column—
An' so he sot his hands to work a-cl'arin' timber patches,
An' 'lowed he's gwine to build a boat to beat the steamah Natch z.

Ol' Noah kep' a nailin', an a chippin', an a-sawin';
An' all de wicked neighbors kep' a-laughin' an' a-pshawin';
But Noah didn't min' 'em—knowin' what was gwine to happen:
An' forty days an' forty nights de rain it kep' a- rap, in.'

Now Noah had done cotched a lot ob ebry sort o' beas'es—
Ob all de shows a-trabbelin, it beat 'em all to pieces!
He had a Morgan colt 'an sebral head o' Jarsey cattle—
An' druv 'em 'board de ark as soon's he heered de thunder rattle.

Den sech a moder fall ob rain! it came so awful hebby,
De ribber riz mum-j tly, an' busted troo de lebbee;
De people all waz drowded out—'cep' Noah an' de critters,
An' nen he'd hired to work de boat—an' one to mix de bitt is.

De ark she kep' a-sailin' an a-sailin' on' a-sailin';
De lion got his d nner up, an' like to bruk de palin'—
De sarpents hissed—de painters yelled—tell, what wid all de fussin',
You c'u'dnt hardly heah de mate a-bossin' 'round an' cussin'.

Now, Ham, de only nigger whut wuz runnin' on de packet,
Got lonesome in de barber shop, an' c'u'dn't stan' de racket;
An' so, for to amuse he-se'f, he steamed some wood an' bent it,
An' soon he had a banjo made—de fust dat wuz invented.

He wet de ladder, stretched it on; made bridge an' screws an' apron;
An' fitted in a proper neck—'twas berry long and tap'rin';
He tuk some tin, an' twisted him a thimble for to ring it;
An' den de mighty question riz: how wuz he gwine to string it?

De 'possum had as fine a tail as d's dat I's a-singin';
De ha'r so long, an' thick, an' strong—des fit for banjo-strinin';
Dat nigger shaved 'em off as short as wash-day dinner graces;
An' sorted ob 'em by de size, frum little E, s to bases.

He strung her, tuned her, struck a jig,—twuz "Nebberer min' de wedder"—
She soun' like forty-lebben bands a-playin' all togedder;
Some went to pattin'; some to dancin'; Noah called de figgers—
An' Ham he sot an' knocked de tune, de happiest ob niggers!

Now, sence dat time—it's mighty strange—dares not de slightes' showin'
Ob any ha'r upon de 'possum's tail a-growin';
An' curl's, too,—dat nigger's ways: his people nebber los' 'em—
For whar you finds de nigger—dar's de banjo an' de 'possum!

Pres't Hayes' Reception by the Union League Club.

NEW YORK, 22.—The President's reception last night, at the Union League Club, was the most brilliant affair of the kind ever seen in this city. Nothing could be more significant than the heartiness of the respect for the President manifested by the 5,000 guests, comprising persons of all shades of political opinion. In anticipation of the President's visit here there has been a suspicious unanimity and co-operation among eastern journals in the Conkling and machine politics interest, inferentially urging him to abandon his civil service theories and pledges in the idea that they are not sustained by public sentiment, and that executive attempts to uphold them, therefore, are useless. The plea is that the temper of Congress is manifestly against the attempt to wrest from members the asserted right to dictate appointments, and that this having been manifested in the New York case the President is absolved from all responsibility to make good the pledges of the Cincinnati convention, especially as persistence in the efforts to redeem such pledges is likely to promote strife in the republican party and thus render it powerless against the common enemy. Those who thus argue seem to assume that the machine politicians are the republican party. President Hayes, however, appears to see tha they ignore the masters without whose votes the leaders are powerless. He manifests no disposition to dismiss Evarts, Schurz and Key, and put himself in the hands of those who have labored with some success to obstruct his fulfillment of the pledges of his letter of acceptance. There are no indications that he considers himself absolved because other party leaders ignore their pledges in the campaign. Besides, he does not consider that a political party can release him from the obligations or pledges made to the whole people subsequent to his nomination. At the same time there is just a shade of possibility that Evarts' private business may compel him to withdraw from the cabinet at no distant day. He will not do it, however, if the President's solicitation can induce him to remain. He may, therefore, stick just as Fish did in Grant's cabinet, for seven years after he had quite determined to retire to private life.

The Chinese Question.

One and perhaps the principal reason why so little progress has been made towards a solution of the Chinese question is the fact that the leaders of Pacific coast opinion on the subject have failed to agree upon a uniform mode of persistent action, except in favor of appeals to the treaty-making power for a modification of the Burlingame treaty. This should be remedied at once. Your best method is to appeal to Congress for legislation to restrict or prohibit Chinese emigration. This is seen here now quite clearly and the friends of California white labor are anxious for vigorous support in the direction indicated. The American precedents are abundant establishing the power of Congress to override treaties by subsequent legislation. There are also several foreign precedents of similar character, which would stop foreign powers from complaining of such a course on our part.

An Old Document.

A copy of the following document has been furnished by the Department of State on application of the director of the mint:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, May 1st, 1806.

Robert Patterson, Esq., Director of Mint;

Sir—In consequence of a representation from the director of the Bank of the United States that considerable purchases have been made of dollars coined at the mint for the purpose of exporting them, and as it is probable that further purchases and expertations will be made, the President directs that all silver to be coined at the mint shall be of small denomination, so that the value of the largest pieces shall not exceed half a dollar.

I am, etc.,
JAMES MADISON.

Treasurer's Report.

The treasury now holds $346,277,550 to secure national bank circulation, and $13,988,000 to secure public desposits. United States bonds deposited to secure bank circulation for the week ending to-day $802,000; amount withdrawn $118,000. National bank circulation outstanding—currency notes, $320,253,765; gold notes $1,432,120; national bank notes received for redemption for the week ending to-day, compared with the corresponding week last year; 1876, $3,454,000; 1877, $4,079,000. receipts to-day, $664,000.

Opening of the American Museum.

At the opening of the American Museum the ceremonies were very interesting, and were assisted by a large gathering of New York's most public spirited citizens and the presidents of Yale and Harvard universities. Many distinguished ladies were also present, including the wife of President Hayes. After prayer, and addresses explaining the object of the museum and the necessity there was for it, President Hayes advanced, the audience rising and said: "This structure, owed to the liberality of citizens, is now ready to receive visitors, and I now declare the American Museum of Natural History open." This short address closed the exercises, and the people pressed forward, compelling President and Mrs Hayes to hold an informal reception.

$80,000 Fire.

TOLEDO, O., 22.—There was a fire to-night at 206 Summit Street, occupied by Buckman & Mallet, carpet dealers. Loss on building, $50,000, covered by insurance. The stock was estimated at $25,000; total loss. Insured for $18,000. The adjoining buildings were occpied by Meilink & Co. and Southard & Son, retail furniture. Damaged $5,000.

The Bland Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON, 22.—Members of the 4 per cent. bonds syndicate and other American bankers continue to send here abundant evidence extracted from their foreign correspondence, showing that the discussion of the Bland silver bill has shaken European faith in United States securities much more than the actual fall in the price thus far indicates, and that the passage of any such measure will inevitably cause their return here in large volume, which must affect their depreciation and cause a material rise in gold purchased to pay for them abroad. While the influence of these practical arguments is believed to have been marked in toning down the views of some republican senators who have been dazzled by the cheap dollar heresy, there are many who fear that the passage of the unamended Bland bill is still possible by a two-thirds vote. Its advocates are working like beavers during recess, distributing documents, holding meetings, passing resolutions and doing all possible to stir up public opinion with a view to reaction upon the Senate when it re-assembles, in favor of the unlimited free coinage of silver, and adverse to any amendment to the bill as it came from the House.

Large Herd of Indian Ponies.

DEADWOOD, D. T., 22.—On yesterday the inhabitants of Spearfish Valley were startled by the sudden appearance of a large herd of Indian ponies dashing through the valley. A careful reconnoisance showed that there were no attendants with them, and ranchmen and others started out to capture them. It is the opinion that they belong to a camp of Sioux located on the Belle Fourche.

Three companies of the Third Cavalry, A, B and F, under command of Major Evans, arrived here to-day and proceeded to Centennial Prairie, where they went into camp. Scouting expeditions will be sent out in different directions to determine the location of the Indians who committed the depredations on the northern routes lately.

Wool Market.

BOSTON, 22.—The wool transactions of the week do not indicate a very active market, but there is a confident feeling that prices are as low as they are likely to be for some time to come; inquiry runs principally for X and medium fleeces. White, fine wools are comparatively quiet, holders are not disposed to urge sales. Stocks have recently become considerably reduced and more active, and a better movement is expected after the first of January. Sales include Ohio and Pennsylvania fleece No. 1, XX and above 44 @ 46. Michigan 38½ @ 42, No. 1 and X Wisconsin 39 @ 41. New York, Maine and other fleeces 33½ @ 46, delaine and combing 50 @ 55; unwashed combing 27½ @ 36½; super and X pulled, 30 and 47. In California wool a fair business is doing; sales include 450,000 lbs. at 19½ @ 34 for spring, and 13 @ 22 for fall. Desirable lots of both spring and fall are in fair request. The sales of domestic during the week aggregated 1,065,900 lbs.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Meeting of Parliament.

LONDON, 22.—The Saturday Review thinks it probable that the House of Commons may be asked to make an extra grant for military and naval purposes. The anticipation of the usual period for the meeting of Parliament is in some respects unfortunate though it will probably admit of justification.

The Spectator believes the real meaning of the summons of Parliament is that Lord Beaconsfield desires to encourage the Turks to continue the struggle in the hope of ultimate British assistance, and that Turks will so interpret it; that England when it comes to the point will decline to fight for Turks, who will at last be compelled to purchase peace by withdrawing to their natural home in Asia.

GENEALOGICAL.

To Latter-day Saints who are interested in Genealogical Matters:

By and with the consent of the proper authorities, I have concluded to go to the Eastern States during the present winter, to obtain the genealogies of such Saints as come from there who might desire to employ me. During my recent mission to those parts I acquainted myself with facilities that will enable me to procure genealogies with a fair degree of completeness, and in procuring those of a number of families at the same time, the expense will be but a very small portion of what it would cost each family separately. This is a rare opportunity for the Saints from New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania or Delaware, or Saints whose ancestors were natives of these States, to procure genealogies at a small cost. A circular, stating terms, will be sent on application.

The People of the United States in the Territory of Utah send greeting:

To William Jennings, Alfred Best, Thos. Taylor, Henry Dinwoodey, Bernard Heid, and Zion's Co-operative Mercantile Institution, defendants:

YOU are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff, in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Utah, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county; or, if served out of this county, but in this district, within twenty days; otherwise within forty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint.
