came together, the engines rose right up in the air, and then fell over to one side, and four cars on the freight, and side, and four cars on the freight, and three cars on the apsenger trains, were crushed like egg shells. Immediately after the collision as the passengers and uninjured trainmen recovered their senses, big bonthes were lighted and active efforts made to succor the wounded and rescue those in danger of course induce. Mise Howell booked further injury. Miss Howell looked after her brother's injuries, and then took an active hand in doing everything a woman could do on such an occasio and made herself generally useful. She says the dead were dreadfully mangled and crushed, so that it was slokening to look at them. The special with the surgeons was on the spot as soon as h was possible to get them there, but i was 17 hours before travel could be resumed. She does not believe there were any persons left under the wreckage, as has been reported, and to her best knowledge and belief the responsibility of the dreadful accident lay with the crew of the passenger, rather than the freight, as the passen-ger was I hour and 50 minutes late, and its crew misread the order relative meeting the east bound extra at the siding.

and Miss Howell were brought Mr on to this city yesterday afternoon and they will remain at the Wilson for a week, as they are much pleased with the town, and wish to see the city and surroundings before continuing on to Los Angeles, their destination.

SALT LAKER'S ACCOUNT.

Manager W. A. Overback of the Western Moline Plow company has re-furned after a six weeks' absence in the east, and was on Union Pacific t No. 1 that followed the in falce wo 3 on the night of the Asusa nocident. He said it was one of the worst fail-road wrecks he ever saw, and the way the remains of the poor railroad men-and mail clerk were mangled was something horrible. The bodies seem-ed to be all out to paces, legs heads, and the bodies of within the second ed to be all cut to praces, logs ut and arms crushed, and vitals torn out and scattered. One poor fellow, a brake-inan named Comstock, had his jaw knocked off, his nose shoved up into knocked on, his nose shocked up his head, an arm cut off, legs broken and mangled and his insides torn out. He was a dreadful sight. Mr. Over-beck says that the freight cars were filled with walnuts, raisins and fruit which were scattered all over the right of way. The nuts were quickly gathered up by the Italian laborers leaded their pockets, and managed to make quite a meal.

ANOTHER VERSION.

Among those who were on the train E. Ferrebee of Murray, Was W. was on his way home from the east. Morris Block of Kansas City, who is now nursing an injured wrist at the Southern hotel, tells the story of the accident in the following words:

Pain in Stomach

It has been said that a healthy person doesn't know he has a stomach.

How unhealthy the dyspeptic must be!

He feels as if he were all stomach, and one thing that makes him feel so is that pain at the pit of the stomach-sometimes an "all-gone feeling"; sometimes a "burning sensation." "I suffered from pains in my stomach and could not eat. An old gentleman told me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and after the use of four bottles I gained my appetite, and I was soon completely cured, so that now I feel like a new man. On no account would I be without Hood's Sarsaparilla in my house." HENRY CALLAN, 71 Commercial St., Portland, Me. "I had to be careful what I ate or I would suffer terrible pains from indigestion. Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I can eat anything that anyone can and without pain. My son, who was run down, and had no appetite, was cured by this medicine." MBS. AMY A. WHITE, North Harrison St.,

"Please take care of my little one, while I go and look after my other three little ones."

There was absolutely no clue to the identity of the infant. It was about 9 o'clock that Mr. McKeever answered a ring at the door bell and discovered the child on the doorstep. He at once took the little outcast inside and notified the police by telephone. The little one was wraped in a woolen shawl and was plainly dressed. Officer Taylor went to the McKeever residence and took the infant to the police station, and there trouble be-The baby had been provided with a bottle of milk with rubber attachment, but said attachment "blew out," sprung a leak and refused to work. One of the officers made a rush for the drug store across the street and laid the case before Mr. Dodge, the proprietor. The latter at once fitted up the necessary apparatus and the infant was soon slumbering peacefully.

Yesterday it was turned over to Mrs. Stickney of the Home Finding association where it is being cared for. It will likely be given to some kind family to be adopted. While the child was at the station, Desk Sergt. Pratt was forced to "turn down" many offers to take the child.

MISS TAYLOR DEAD.

Passed Away Suddenly Last Evening Of Congestion of Brain,

Miss Nellie Taylor, daughter of Stanley Taylor of this city, died suddenly last evening, of congestion of the brain, at the age of 23. She was taken ill Friday evening with headache, but no uneasiness was felt until Sunday, when Dr. Allen was summoned, and he found the trouble a fatal one. Her demise is greatly deplored by a wide circle of admiring friends, and she will be much missed. The funeral will be held from missed. After a delay of several weeks, John I. Dooly, the owner of the present postoffice building, today commenced the work of changing the doors of the postoffice so that they will swing outward and thus comply with the build-ing ordinances of the city. Building inspector Lewis notified Mr. Dooly several weeks ago to comply with the or-dinance, but the matter has not been attended to until the present time.

A sad case of destitution was brought to light yesterday, when it was ascer-tained that the white wife of John Car-ter, a colored cook, was lying in a shack at the rear of 213 east First South, dy-ing of paralysis. Living in the same shed with the couple is a young girl who is said to be the granddaughter of the woman. The surroundings are pitable and the most ordinary comforts of civilization are conspicuous by their absence. The husband is crippled by rheumatism and unable to work. In the meantime the city authorities claim that it is a county case, while the county officials affirm that relief should come from the city.
