With Lord Dufferin on the board of directors were Lieut.-Gen. Gough-Calthorpe, who was colonel of the Fifth Dragoon guards and Lord Edward William Palmer-Clinton, master of Queen Victoria's household, son of the fifth Duke of Newcastle. When the crash came Lord Dufferin was severely censured for his connection with the Wright companies, but in a frank speech to the stockholders of the London & Globe he declared his position and won the sympathy of his countrymen.

Much American money was lost in the failure of the Wright companies. There was a great outcry against the attitude of the authorities in not prosecuting Wright and his fellow directors and a petition was circulated on the London stock exchange signed by many influential men demanding the prosecution of Wright.

"If war is declared," the Vedomosti further asserts, "the question of Manchuria could be settled forever by its annexation as a conquered country."

IN HUMANITY'S NAME

I Ask You to Tell Me a Sick One Who Needs Help.

No money is wanted. I ask simply a postal card stating which book to send. I will do all the rest, and accept all the risk. I will send you my book. I will arrange with a druggist near by that he may take six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. He may take it a month at my risk. If it succeeds, it costs $5.00. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself. And the sick one's mere word shall decide.

I do that so that those who need help will accept it. I have what those sick ones need. I have what they need. I make my offer so fair that no sick one can neglect it.

You may think it too fair to be possible, but I do just as I say. I have furnished my Restorative to hundreds of thousands in this way, and 10 out of each 40 have paid gladly, because they were cured. I willingly pay for the rest.

It is a remarkable remedy that makes such a quick recovery. I have spent my lifetime on it. It is my discovery, and the only known treatment that strengthens the inside nerves.

The common way is to doctor the organ that is weak, but that way brings at best but temporary results. My way is to bring back the nerve power which alone operates every vital organ. I give to each organ the power to do its duty, and there is no other way to make weak organs well.

I fall only where organic trouble-like cancer—makes a cure impossible. Such are rare.

My book will convince you, for it is clear. Almost any sick one who reads it will know that he can get well.

Simply state Book 1 on Dyspepsia, which book you Book 2 on the Heart, and address, Book 3 on the Kidneys, Dr. Shoop, Box Book 4 for Women, 13 R. A. C. in, Box 5 for Men (sealed), Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured with one or two bottles. At druggists.

TESTIMONY IN FULLER CASE.

Eight Witnesses Examined For the State and One For the Defense.

LIEUT. CLARK ON THE STAND.

Tells of Visit to Miss Gill's Room and Of Her Inability to Identify Her Assailant.

Eight witnesses for the state and one for the defense were examined this morning in the case of the State vs. Thomas R. Fuller. The state did not rest its case but merely permitted the attorney for the defense to examine Lieut. And G. Clark, so that he could leave the city. Lieut. Clark testified that he went with three of the soldiers to Miss Gill's room. Fuller was one of the soldiers, but the young lady was unable to identify any of them as her assailant. He stated that it would take a man at least 30 minutes to walk from the University to the fort, and that it would require several minutes more for him to walk from the scene of the crime. That being true, Fuller would have a pretty good defense if he can prove that he was at the fort 10 minutes after the car arrived upon which he left the city.

Lieut. Clark told of the search made by the local officials to locate the guilty party. He said that several of the soldiers had buttons of their regiments at the time the search was made by the officials. He stated on cross examination that the button found at the scene of the crime had a small piece of cloth attached to it which fitted the glove which was gone from Fuller's coat.

After the "News" report closed yesterday afternoon, C. L. Hamman and S. W. Anderson were chosen as the referees for the case. The case, District Attorney Elchorn made the opening statement for the state and Miss Gill was then called to the stand and told of the assault upon her. She was asked to identify the person who had been with her at the time of the assault. Her identification of Fuller was not positive, although she was reasonably sure that he is the guilty party.

The other witnesses who testified for the state this morning are Dr. W. T. Gleason, Emil Schneider, Fred Schneider, George Buckle, Mrs. Escher Buckle, Mrs. John Wright, George C. Buckle and William Wright. They testified as to hearing the screams of Miss Gill, of taking her into the house, of notifying the police and of the nature of her injuries.

At this afternoon's session Dr. Luelia E. Miles was called to the stand by the state to give expert testimony. W. H. Hatteroth, who lives in the neighborhood of the scene of the crime, was then called to the stand and examined as to his knowledge of the affair.

NOTABLY BURNED.

Little Ray Penrose Injured by Falling Into an Open Grate.

Ray Penrose, the 3½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Penrose, was painfully burned while playing in front of an open grate at the residence, 369 east Fourth South, this morning. In some manner the child's waist became ignited and the next instant he rushed screaming through the house to his mother, Mrs. Penrose, with presence of mind, picked him up and threw him into a snowbank outside the door. While so doing, however, she sustained painfully scorched hands. The boy was burned around the neck and shoulders and lost a quantity of hair. However his injuries are said not to be serious. Ray has an unhappy faculty of getting into trouble. Only two weeks ago he undertook to milk a cow with the result that the animal kicked him in the face, breaking his nose and cutting his lip badly.

HEARST'S BOOM GROWS RAPIDLY.

What D. C. Dunbar Says of Candidacy of the Noted Political Newspaperman.

SENATOR GORMAN IS ACTIVE.

Judge Parker is Also Considered—Roosevelt Stronger in the West Than in the Far East.

"I can truthfully say that other Democratic candidates have been started, yes, almost paralyzed, upon discovering how W. R. Hearst has entrenched himself during the past 12 or 15 months."

David C. Dunbar, Democratic national committeeman of Utah, made this declaration this morning. He has just returned from a long stay in the east and is no less informed on political happenings than when he conducted local campaigns in the interest of his party.

Mr. Dunbar is here on business and expects to remain a week or 10 days. During that time he will feel the Democratic pulse as to the presidential nomination and be prepared to act accordingly, when called upon as a national committeeman to take part in the high councils of the party.

"There are three candidates," continued Mr. Dunbar, "any one of whom might secure the nomination. They are Hearst, Gorman and Parker. I do not count today. I diagnose the party's merits of these men, but no matter which one is named, the Democratic party has a stronger chance of carrying the country this year than it has had in 12 years. Cleveland is out of it. It is practically certain that his name will not be mentioned as a candidate in the convention. Harrison of Chicago was never an important factor in the contest, and he refuses absolutely to be mentioned for either president or vice president. Hill, of course, is beyond consideration, for various and obvious reasons. It will be Parker, Gorman or Hearst."

Mr. Gorman would consider the nomination a high honor. He is planning quietly to capture it. But he encounters wonderful opposition in the Hearst boom. For more than a year now, the Hearst wires have been laid, one by one, and they form a powerful cable today. Not only is the wealthy newspaperman strong with the masses, but he is himself a capitalist and considered a clever financier by the money men of the world. He carried off successfully the election of 1900, and Congress by twice the majority that he had ever before been carried, and this was not a district of the masses, to use that well-known term, but his supporters were largely solid business and financial men. It was this fact more than any other, I believe, that started his candidacy. Then, again, he has always been loyal to the party. He did not bolt the free coinage platform, although he did not support that issue when it was first proposed. With-out antagonizing either side, he abided by the convention's action and in an editorial declared his allegiance. Hearst's campaign fund, not only is he extremely wealthy, but his mother has a tremendous fortune and she is ambitious for her son's political success.

"But, as I remarked before, with any one of the three candidates, the party has a great chance of victory."

Mr. Dunbar intimated that this form of election for the present chief executive, he states, is a good deal popular in the east than in the west, and not as popular anywhere, as he was when he first assumed the reins of government.

Mr. Dunbar states that the effect of the Iroquois fire in Chicago was felt more keenly in business circles than a stranger would imagine. Besides the general depression, the effect on the city and the street car companies as the result of the theaters being closed has been marked.

The former Salt Lake is in excellent health and expresses his pleasure at being among old friends once more, if even for a short while.

NOTABLE WOMAN HERE.

Presence of and Reception to Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett.

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, inspector of the Florence Crittenton Homes, and vice president of the National Council of Women, arrived in Salt Lake yesterday and in the afternoon a reception was held in her honor at the home of Mrs. W. B. Douglas, at which a large number of guests were present, including the officers of the local council of women, Relief society and Y. L. M. I. A. and several of the leading men of the city. Among the guests were the Apostle Woodruff, Editor C. W. Penrose of the "News," Bishop O. F. Whitney, Hon. B. H. Roberts, and Dr. W. M. Tanner, the most of whom made remarks during the afternoon.

Mrs. Barrett introduced the distinguished guest in a short but effective speech, describing her first meeting with her in Washington, D. C., and telling of her many evidences of distinguished friendship in the people of Utah.

Mrs. Barrett then made a most interesting address, including not only the subject of the special work in which she is engaged, but her own personal experiences, her talk holding her in a grip with breathless interest. She was followed by Bishop O. F. Whitney, J. M. Tanner, Mrs. Bathsheba Smith, Apostle Woodruff and C. W. Penrose, all speaking eloquently and forcibly upon the subjects suggested by the occasion.

The affair, in the opinion of all present, was of the most interesting and instructive nature, and will be long remembered by those fortunate enough to participate.

MONEY FROM NEW YORK.

Governor Wells Gets Temporary Loan To Pay Carbon County Strike Account.

Governor Wells will borrow from the National Park bank of New York City, the money necessary to meet the expense of maintaining the state troops during the coal mine strike in Carbon county. The loan will be at 5 per cent interest secured by the state's note given by the governor, and is made outside of the home market as the banks here would want 6 to 8 per cent for the money. A little over $11,000 has been paid the troops from the National Guard fund, which practically uses it for, and $14,000 is still due the soldiers.

The governor is borrowing $25,000 to square up with the troops and return the money borrowed from the National Guard fund. This is considered a safe transaction, as it saves on the interest, obviates calling a special meeting of the Legislature and replenishes the military fund. The note runs until the next session of the Legislature provides for taking it up.

The governor had no difficulty in securing the loan, as the credit of the state is high in eastern money markets. Most of the militia have been paid for, and the first 20 days of their service, the pay after that being according to the regular army schedule. The governor will make a special report on the strike to the Legislature when it meets next January.

SENTRY'S HAT IS FOUND

Revolver Picked Up by Driver of Coal Wagon Who Has Not Reported.

The hat worn by Sentry Devoil, who left the fort with a prisoner a few days ago and allowed him to escape, has been found in the yard at 613 east Fifth South street. Word was sent to the police department this morning that a woman living at that number had found the hat hidden near the fence.

A small boy living in the neighborhood also advised the police that he had seen the driver of a coal wagon pick up a gun from the middle of the street in front of the same place yesterday morning.

When Devoil was arrested he had no hat nor gun, and said that he did not know what had become of them. He said that he had gone out with the prisoner, "to have a time," and the prisoner had got away from him. He thought that the prisoner had stolen the gun and the hat when he escaped. No trace of the prisoner has been found.

ADVICE OF OLD RAILROAD MAN.

Says Before Commercial Club Endorses San Pedro Project it Should Investigate.

A STUDY IN FREIGHT RATES.

Urges That Salt Lake Be Accorded Protection as Against Prospective Los Angeles Invaders.

The morning exhortation delivered this morning by a member of the Commercial club relative to the rate situation present and to come, will undoubtedly echo the sentiments of a number of business men who have the interests of Salt Lake at heart.

"Do not think for a moment that I want to be a knocker, but the fact remains the same that before the Commercial club takes up and passes upon the question of assisting in the San Pedro harbor scheme that it should look well into the matter and be sure that in inviting Salt Lake to help out that Los Angeles is not putting a knife into the hands of Salt Lake and asking her to cut her own throat. The San Pedro line will be a great thing for Salt Lake—providing Salt Lake interests are defended and hedged around so that instead of building up Los Angeles to the detriment of our city both will be assisted. I think that the Commercial club should look well into this thing and secure a guarantee that if Salt Lake helps out heart and soul that she should not be sold to Los Angeles. To illustrate: When the line is completed the freight rates from the Atlantic coast as prevail to Portland, and San Francisco. Under the commodity rate that exists at the present time and has been in force for some time there are certain shipments (it is not necessary to specify) which can be transported from the Atlantic seaboard to San Francisco for $1 a hundred in carload lots. The jobbers in San Francisco can break up the carloads and ship goods back to Ogden for $2.50, making a total of $2.50 laid down in Ogden. The same commodity from the Atlantic seaboard to Salt Lake is $2.50, adding 25 cents from here back to Ogden it makes a total of $3.25, or 40 cents higher than the San Francisco man can do. This is only one instance, there are many others. When the line is opened through to Los Angeles the wholesalers of the City of the Saints will also be able to get into San Francisco and between them back the Salt Lake men clean off the board. At present this is not possible as the San Francisco, Portland and common points rate to Salt Lake is $1.75, the rate to Los Angeles is $1.25, via the Southern Pacific.

"The present rate on first class shipments on the San Pedro is not encouraging. Take Milford for instance. The rate is 22½ cents, while to California the rate is 35½ cents, while to Ogden it is 52 cents. This means a mileage increase over Milford of 52 per cent and a rate increase of 22½ per cent which is to say the least, unusual as railroads generally make a practice of reducing the rate pro rata the further the destination is from the initial point. The rate in comparison with the Short Line for instance, on first class shipments does not show up well. For the same distances there are Idaho Falls (221 miles) and Red Rock (139 miles). The rate to the former is 52 cents and to the latter 52 cents, being an increase of 52 per cent in mileage and 50 per cent in the rate.

"You will probably be told that this rate will be changed. We very much hope so, but the tariff sheets published then are still in effect today.

"Let us help out the new railroad all we can but let us first know where we are at. We require that we have a guarantee that in helping out Los Angeles we are not clubbing ourselves to death. I have been in the railroad business for a number of years and know how these railroads work. However, the commercial club will only investigate it will see the truth of my argument. To build up Salt Lake we must build up our business interests."

RATES FOR RABBIT HUNT.

Short Line to Transport Salt Lake Nimrods to Idaho Saturday Night.

Providing the guarantee is forthcoming the Oregon Short Line will put in a special rate for Saturday night to Downey, Ida., for the benefit of the Salt Lake Nimrods, who are anxious for the hunt with the rabbits. It is the intention to put an extra sleeper on the night train which will be set out on a siding with a baggage car. The rate will be $3.75, including sleeping berth and baggage.

A. H. Neiss and J. E. McGinness, who have the outing in hand, have returned from Downey and will report to the Oregon Short Line passenger department that the guarantee has been given.

Authority for the statement that the country between Arimo and Downey is infested with rabbits and that the farmers have volunteered to provide the necessary slugs and teams and generally take care of the visitors. The sentiment upon these expressed is that the Salt Lake Nimrods bring with them several hundred yards of wire netting and participate in a drive under a guarantee of $2.00 a bag. However, the boys prefer to shoot. An instance of what can be done up there Mr. Neiss took a shotgun with him and while standing in a blinding snowstorm and in a heavy overcoat he shot 27 rabbits without an effort. He claims that had his cartridges not run out on him he would have had 150. He says that there are simply thousands of Jackrabbits in the district and they are eating out the very income roots.

The train will arrive at Downey at 5:55 a. m. Sunday morning, returning leave at 2:05 p. m. and arrive in Salt Lake the same evening.

TOURISTS IN CALIFORNIA.

E. W. Gillett Returns and Reports Prosperous Times in Los Angeles.

E. W. Gillett, general freight and passenger agent of the Salt Lake Route, has returned from a trip to the coast. When seen this morning Mr. Gillett stated that from reports he had seen from the passenger departments of the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe the usual winter tourist season this year would surpass all previous records so long as the present gait was kept up. Los Angeles he reported as being thronged with eastern visitors who are enjoying the sunshine and balmy breezes of southern California. Aside from the lack of good rains the outlook is very promising. Regarding work on construction at the western end of the San Pedro line he says that the huge concrete bridge over the Santa Ana river is completed and trains are running over it, while on the desert in Nevada construction is being pushed with a vim.

Young School Teacher and Railroad Man Form Matrimonial Compact.

James L. Craig, local agent for the Oregon Short Line and the Salt Lake Route, and Miss Maude Lewis, were united in marriage at 3 o'clock this afternoon and after a short reception the happy couple took the train for Kansas City, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The ceremony was performed at the residence of the mother of the bride, 8 Wellington court, between Ninth and Tenth East. Both contracting parties are well known in the community, the bride being a well known school teacher and the daughter of the late Prof. T. B. Lewis. The groom also has a wide circle of acquaintance throughout Utah and Idaho where he is very popular. Indicative of the esteem in which he is held the employees at the freight offices sent an elegant silver set up to the house this morning with their best wishes. From latest advices a crowd of vandals had secured the services of a job printer and a milliner with the result that the baggage destined for Kansas City and the drawingroom on the Pullman were decked with weird legends, ribbons, horseshoes and other bric a brac.

MRS. ANDERSON DEAD.

Wife of Nephew Anderson of Brigham City Succumbs to Heart Trouble.

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, Utah, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Asenath Anderson, wife of Nephew Anderson, superintendent of the Boxelder county schools, died this morning at the family residence in Brigham City, from heart trouble. The funeral will be announced later.

Frank Wellington, an employee of the Southern Pacific shops at Carlin, Nev., had his leg crushed in the shops yesterday and was brought to Ogden this morning and taken to the general hospital.
